CHANGE THEIR MINDS

FUGITIVES WON'T RETURN TO NEW YORK WILLINGLY.

Attorneys Will Make Desperate Efforts to Keep the Brother-in-Law and Sister of Nan Patterson Out of the Toils of the New York Law

A Cincinnati special says: That J. Morgan Smith and wife would resist extradition to New York where they have been indicted for conspiracy with Nan Patterson, Mrs. Smith's sister, was made evident Friday afternoon.

It is alleged in the writs that the Smiths are held without warrant; that no charge has been placed against them, and that there is no authority in law for the detention of either husband or wife.

When arrested Thursday the two were simply "on suspicion," but Friday, when it was thought a writ of habeas corpus would be sought, Chief of Detectives Crawford filed in police court an affidavit charging Smith with being a fugitive from justice.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Report in Paris that Russian Ruler Shot Himself.

A Paris special says: An unofficial rumor from St. Petersburg was published here on Thursday to the effect that Emperor Nicholas made an attempt to commit suicide and wounded himself in the hand. The rumor further says that the emperor's design was frustrated by the intervention of his mother, the empress dowager.

The Shanghai correspondent of the Petit Journal states that Chinese bandits have cut the Chinese eastern railway at several places, preventing the arrival of Russian reinforcements.

Officially the authorities at St. Petersburg continue to deny that Russia has made any proposals to Japan. This is literally true, as Russia has only made known the negative conditions, leaving the intermediary to convey these conditions on its own responsibility to Japan.

Diplomats in St. Petersburg are convinced that something is in progress, but none of those in a position to know will acknowledge they are aware of what is being done.

The Novoe Vremya Wednesday, for the first time, admitted the possibility of negotiations for peace, commenting on the efforts of the British and French to prove that peace is advisable both for Russia and Japan. The Novoe Vremya declares that the payment of indemnity by Russia is utterly out of the question, as it would be a question tending to build up the strength of Japan, and that Japan is not in a position to claim indemnity. The paper asks whether diplomats, "who did nothing to prevent the war, now will turn their attention to bringing it to a close on terms advantageous to both combatants."

Mrs. Caroline Jones, aged 72 years, of Wellsville, Kan., was attacked at a sanitarium at Ottawa during the night by some unknown person and perhaps fatally wounded. Her skull was fractured with an ax and her body was horribly mutilated.

The mutilation of the body was similar to that in the Nickum murder case in Topeka last year, when Mrs. Nickum, who kept a boarding house, was mysteriously murdered and the body fearfully slashed. No motive for the attack on Mrs. Jones is known, and there is no clue to her assailant.

DOMINGO IS WELL PLEASED.

Action of United States Government Has a Favorable Effect.

San Domingo advises state that the news of the acceptance by the government at Washington of the proposition of the Dominican government that the United States assume control of the finances of that republic, with the view of settling aside a portion of the revenues for the payment of its debts, pending definite action on the part of the American senate, has had a most favorable effect.

The opinion is expressed that the action taken by the authorities at Washington will change the situation completely.

No Railroad Pool.

The proposed pool of western railroads, says a Chicago dispatch, for the division of convention business moving between Chicago and the Pacific coast, has collapsed. WRECK ON GREAT NORTHERN Train Strikes a Rock in Boulder Canyon.

A Great Northern passenger train westbound from St. Paul was wrecked just east of Basin, Mont., Thursday afternoon, presumably by the engine striking a rock that had slipped down the mountain side. The train was running along the canyon of the Boulder River when the engine struck the obstruction. The locomotive was thrown from the track, landing in the nearby river, badly wrecked. Engineer John Webber was instantly killed and Fireman Davis had an arm and a leg crushed. Only the engine and tender left the track, the passengers escaping with a severe shaking up. Traffic was delayed several hours.

A Winnipeg, Man., special says: The third section of a Canadian Pacific home-seeker's excursion train is reported to have been derailed.

A wrecking crew and doctors have left Rat Portage for the scene of the wreck. The last report says none of the passengers was seriously injured.

The following is the official statement of the Canadian Pacific Company: "Thursday morning a colliery extra train, westbound, consisting of twelve coaches, was derailed near Dryden by a broken rail. Eight coaches were derailed and several passengers cut and bruised, none seriously."

The locomotive of a freight train on the Mexican Central exploded near Ciudad Juarez, Mex., killing Fireman Sim Sanders, blowing him 200 feet away, and fearfully injuring Engineer John Santano, all of Chihuahua.

MINERS TO STRIKE.

Sixty-Five Thousand to Quit in Pennsylvania.

The operators and miners of the central bituminous district of Pennsylvania, after being in conference in Altoona all day continuously since March 16 endeavoring to agree upon a wage scale to go into effect April 1, adjourned finally without coming to an agreement.

The failure to agree means a suspension of work by the 65,000 organized miners of the district at the end of the month. When the joint scale committee met Wednesday the operators stood up on their proposition for a 10 per cent reduction of the first half of the approaching mining year, and the present scale, based on 42 cents for pick mining for the second half of the year. The miners' ultimatum demanded a renewal of the present scale for the full year. No agreement being possible, the scale committee adjourned finally.

STATE OF NEBRASKA

NEWS OF THE WEEK IN A CONDENSED FORM.

Omaha Street Car Crew Held Up—Take Nothing but Company Money—After Securing the Cash Men Disappear, Leaving No Clue.

When the street car on the Dodge Street line reached Thirtieth and Bristol Streets, Omaha, Sunday night at 12:30 two men, with masks and with revolvers, surprised Conductor D. A. Hood and demanded his money. With uplifted hands Hood was compelled to stand and let the men relieve him of all the cash he had in his pockets and also a revolver.

"Have you any money of your own?" asked one of the men.

"A little of it belongs to me," he replied. "$2.75."

"We want only the company's money," the man said, and he handed the conductor the amount he claimed as his own.

One of the masked men then examined the revolver, and removing all the cartridges, said:

"I guess that gun isn't very dangerous now, so you can keep it, too."

Apparently no attention was paid to the motorman. There were no passengers on the car.

Keeping the car men on the anxious seat by threats of what they would do if any attempt was made to move until told it would be all right, the masked delicately backed off into the darkness and disappeared.

As speedily as possible the car was run back to the barn and word sent to the police station with as good a description of the robbers as the car men could give. The whole affair occupied only a few minutes and the conductor was so busy doing what he was told to do that he was unable to give anything but a very general description of the men. Their disguise and masks prevented an accurate description, excepting that of height and general size of the men.

Detective Pattullo and Officer Dan Baldwin promptly went to the scene of the robbery and endeavored to get some trace of the highwaymen, but no trace of them could be found. They had a good start and evidently had the whole affair carefully planned.

MUST APPEAR FOR TRIAL.

Declaration of State's Attorney Regarding Smedley Case.

Then he went to Denver with her.

Smadley claims he thought his wife was rich and Wells was the guardian of her estate.

QUARREL ENDS IN KILLING.

Father Sees Son Stabbed to Death, but Unable to Assist Him.

As the result of a quarrel in Butte Wednesday a fatal affray occurred three miles west of Badger Thursday afternoon. Myron Irwin, Bob Rumsey and the Carins quarrelled Wednesday and Irwin and Rumsey are reported as saying they would fix Robert Carins when they caught him on the other side of the river. A prairie fire Thursday afternoon near Irwin's ranch brought together two crowds and Robert Carins, being separated from his crowd, was held by Rumsey while Irwin stabbed him twice. One thrust struck his heart, the other entered the abdomen. He died in thirty minutes.

Carins' father saw the affair from a distance and when the assassins finished they jumped in a buggy and started toward Dunsmuir, with Carins, Sr. in pursuit, but he was called back to assist his dying son.

The sheriff of Holt County has been notified and a posse of friends of the dead boy is in hot chase. Should they catch his slayer it is very likely a lynching will follow.

THE KIRKMAN CASE.

When the court martial which is trying Capt. George W. Kirkman, met Tuesday, witnesses for the defense were called. The prosecution rested its case on Saturday evening, sensational evidence bearing on the relations between the accused and Mrs. Chandler having been given by a large number of witnesses. While the proceedings are conducted in absolute secrecy and nothing is permitted to leak out as to the details of the evidence, it is known that a very strong case has been made against Kirkman. The captain, however, insists that he is able to make a complete answer to all the charges. He will conduct his own defense.

Gets a Rhodes Scholarship.

Tax Commissioner Fleming has just completed a tabulation to show how the new revenue law has affected the different classes of real and personal property in the state during the first year of its operation, 1904, as compared with the results achieved by the old law the year previous. He has multiplied the assessments so as to bring them to a full valuation and finds that the assessment on "invisible" personal property in the state has been increased from $96,391,584 to $121,620,800, or nearly doubled. This classification includes bonds, stocks, warrants, money, credits, mortgages, franchises, annuities and royalties, shares of stocks and property of corporations, stock of banks, diamonds, jewelry, etc. Mortgages account for $22,500,075 of the advance and credits about as much, money $5,000,000, royalties and annuities, $70,000, and diamonds and jewelry about doubled or raised to a total of $453,950. Bonds, stocks and warrants decreased about $100,000. The visible personal property, such as merchandise, household goods, farm machinery and implements, live stock, and the like, increased from $170,534,526 to $217,946,195. Railroads, including franchises, kept pace with the advance the old figures being $165,709,676 against $230,887,810 in 1904. Land jumped in assessed value from $721, 114,488 to $887,195,815, most of the advance being on improved farm lands which went from $128,000,000 to $515, 000,000. Unimproved country lands went down from $34,000,000 to $67,000,000 and city property, including both improved and unimproved lots, increased from $19,000,000 to $29,000,000. The total figures show that on a full valuation basis all property in Nebraska was assessed at $1,477,450,480 in 1904 against $1,130,750,275 in 1903.

If all the appropriation bills pending before the governor and legislature are enacted into law the total appropriation for the twenty-ninth session, exclusive of the temporary school funds, will amount to $3,858,978.74, and after deducting the aggregate of temporary university and other special funds, $770,712.96, and the estimated general fund receipts $2,819,244.71, a net increase is shown in the state debt of $269,021.07, bringing the total state debt up approximately to $2,500,000. The total appropriation two years ago amounted to $3,700,280. Of the appropriations made this year some, such as the $200,000 for the kindergartens, and the live stock pavilion, advocates of the measure claim they should not be classed as liabilities in the strict acceptance of the term but Gov. Mickey takes the view that they are nothing else. They do not exceed the general total and figure ultimately as nothing but obligations.

Having lighted all hopes thus far for anti-railroad legislation by killing off every bill of that character which has come up for action, the lawmakers are not inspiring any great expectations for the passage of any of the railroad commission bills, one of which properly drawn, the public had longed to have enacted into law. Cady's principal bill has passed the senate, that is true, but as its way through the house is more devious and complex it manifestly is fraught with greater uncertainty. Senator Cady is doing his utmost, with the aid of a few other members, however, to secure the final passage of this measure, and has hopes of success. If he does win, that will be the only law enacted by this legislature even bordering on freight rate legislation.

The legislature snatched time from a busy day Friday in which the last vestige of a railroad rate bill was obliterated, to fix Thursday noon, March 30, as the time for final adjournment. A joint resolution to this effect was adopted by the house and senate. This does not, however, make it positively certain that the twenty-ninth session will adjourn sine die at this hour, for as is the case with nearly all legislatures when the time comes to quit, many measures are likely to be on hand and the tradition of stopping the clock is liable again to be brought into vogue. However, the members as a whole seem quite anxious to get through just as soon as possible.

The state is about $2,000 better off as a result of the discovery by Deputy State Auditor Anthes of some bookkeeping in the office of the auditor. Incidentally, Custer County is to the bad just this amount and an inquiry from the county clerk of Custer County regarding the amount of money that county had paid to the state for the support of Albert Merschinger, insane, led to the discovery.

While Thursday, March 30, has been fixed as the time for final adjournment of the legislature, conditions indicate and members believe the end will not come before Saturday. This is because of the large volume of work yet to be done. However, aside from the various appropriation bills, few pending measures are of more than passing moment and as has been said on several occasions, the state would not suffer if the bulk of these remaining bills were allowed to perish for want of action.

The Christian Science bill in the senate provoked a series of earnest speeches, some of which became acrimonious at times. The Christian Scientists, who have given the bill their utmost attention and been constant in their attendance at the capitol in their plan to defeat it, were largely in evidence. The measure was recommended for passage by a vote of 17 to 11.

Clarke, of Douglas, in the house Friday opposed the senate amendments to the McMullen Christian Science bill, which exempts osteopaths from examination in materia medica, practice of medicine and therapeutics. He held these amendments imposed on Christian Scientists the duties from which they exempted osteopaths and therefore made the bill class legislation. Anderson, of Douglas, also spoke against the amendments. The amendments were amended by a vote
