Last Monday night the midnight train killed a fine horse for Tom VanBuren.

John Lord was in the city the first of the week and says Simeon is an island now.

Hon. Frank Rothleutner, the Georgia merchant, was in town Monday on business.

James C. Dahlman and Frank Curry came in from their cow camp last Saturday.

John Whittemore, of Cody, spent Sunday in town visiting friends and relatives.

L. K. Travis and Charles McChesney were visitors in Valentine Friday from Rosebud.

Miss Sarah Simpson returned from a couple of weeks sojourn at Hot Springs last week.

Mrs. C. A. Austin left Sunday morning for a several weeks visit with sisters in Chicago.

George Miller rode the Odd Fellow's goat at their regular meeting last Thursday night.

Gordon Burge came up from the ranch Monday and will spend several days visiting in town.

Everett Harvey started for the wild west Tuesday morning but was found before he left town.

Arthur Turnbull is in town. He has been working for the Parmalee Cattle Co., on Soldier Creek, S. D.

Miss Nellie Collett returned from Arabia Saturday night after closing a successful term of school.

E. C. Cole came down from Cody Tuesday on business connected with the county assessor's office.

E. W. Thode was in town Saturday and Sunday, and says that everything is looking fine on White river.

C. H. Cornell is the proud possessor of a bouncing baby boy who arrived Monday morning, June 19, 1905.

Miss Laura Pettijohn left for Lincoln last Thursday morning to take up a course of study in a summer school.

Sam Hudson and Miss Lizzie Hayes of Simeon were seen in town Monday, trading with our local merchants.

Dr. Archer, son-in-law of D. A. Piercy came up from the ranch Monday and left for his home at Grafton this state.

Miss Leta Stetter returned from Lincoln last Friday night, where she had been attending school at the state university.

Geo. E. Hornby returned from Lincoln last Thursday night where he has been attending school at Wesleyan university.

Mrs. Henry Hoenig and daughter, Miss Glen, left Sunday morning for an extended visit with relatives in Wisconsin.

Last Friday was the day that everybody felt good. It was pay day at the fort and our merchants done a rushing business.

Bertrand Jeffers, M. D., returned from Omaha last Thursday night. Bert is now a full fledged doctor and we wish him success.

Mr. and Mrs. Collett left Sunday morning for an extended visit through Michigan and Indiana. They expect to be gone until Oct.

M. F. Clynes came in from his homestead last Saturday and returned Sunday afternoon. Mike says rural life has greatly benefited his health.

R. S. Faddis drove up from his ranch last Friday. At present he is busy erecting telephone lines between different ranches. Harry Harper is superintending the job.

Charles Hudson called at this office on business last Saturday. He says that there has been too much rain and the cold weather has made crops grow very slow.

Work has begun on the new opera house. The old court house is to be remodeled into an up to date opera house. Jas. L. Ashburn has taken the contract for the work.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sparks, accompanied by their son Leonard, returned from the East Sunday morning. Leonard recently graduated from the Michigan military academy.

S. A. Lee has erected a brand new barber pole, painted with all the colors of the rainbow. It certainly had ought to let you know that there is a barber shop across the street.

Mrs. Marjorie Williamson, of St. Louis, is visiting her parents, Judge and Mrs. Towne of this city. Through an oversight THE DEMOCRAT omitted mentioning her arrival last week.

THE DEMOCRAT force has taken a moving streak. The editor has moved his household goods into the Daniels dwelling on Cherry street and Mark Zarr now occupies the rooms above the office.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gould and son John left for the East Sunday morning. Mr. Gould will spend a week in Chicago and Mrs. Gould and John will go on to Boston where they will visit their old home for several weeks.

Last Sunday the Odd Fellows and Rebeccas held their memorial services in honor of their dead. Led by the Valentine concert band the members marched to the graveyard. Six flower girls decorated the graves with flowers.

C. C. Thompson called on us yesterday while in town. He had with him some fine samples of alfalfa, timothy, Kentucky blue grass and wheat grass which he raised on his farm southwest of town. The samples are on exhibition at the 1st National bank.

Last Saturday afternoon the Crookston and Schlagel ball teams met at Crookston and the game resulted in a victory for Crookston, the score being 8 to 3. Up to the eighth inning the score stood 3 to 2 and the game was pretty fast, but the Schlagel aggregation went to pieces in the eighth and ninth. Kelly and O'Rourke for Crookston and Lansing and Beeming for Schlagel were the batteries.

Last Friday night, while taking their regular constitutional about 10:30 p. m., several young men were startled to see someone celebrating the Fourth ahead of time. A high board fence, which never looked good to them before, suddenly took their fancy and they made a hundred in a ten-clip to get behind it. There they watched the celebration in perfect safety. In the meantime the marshal bravely attacked the marauders, and, with much risk to his life, took a pistol away from one and a razor away from another, and unassisted landed all three in jail. The town is to be congratulated on having such efficient police officers who are always on hand when trouble occurs (that is, when it is all over). The young men behind the fence hailed the marshal as their deliverer, because bullets did not look good to them. Let everybody unite in praising our marshal for his brave and heroic deeds. One can venture on the streets at any time of the night in perfect safety with such officers.
