GENTRY BROS. SHOW.

The World's Best and Biggest Collection of Trained Animals Coming Soon.

The name of Gentry will be handed down to posterity as the greatest educator of the dumb brute during the 19th and 20th centuries. No other man, living or dead, has ever been able to accomplish half so much with dogs, ponies, monkeys, elephants and camels as have the four talented brothers who own and operate the four largest trained animal shows in the world. Animal actors will do that in this city which ten years ago even would have surpassed the comprehension of the most enlightened and best posted individuals in this country on animal education. Even the Gentry Brothers themselves have been repeatedly surprised at the marvelous results they have attained and when the statement is made that the only exhibition of this kind on earth will be witnessed here when the Gentry Bros. give their exhibition, there is no fear of the statement being challenged and no fear of the public failing to acquiesce. Gentry Brothers are making a feature of their street parade this season, and when the beautiful pageant passes along the principal streets of this city, Friday, Sept. 8, 1905, all those who delight in the beauties of gorgeous displays should witness it. Like the rest of the performance the parade is larger and grander than ever, and every adjective used in praising it is not misused or misapplied.

Jack Frost made his first visit Sunday night, Sept. 3rd.

D. A. Hancock gave his neighbors a treat last week in the shape of a mess of fresh pork.

Mesdames Kuskie and Hamar went to Valentine last week, remaining over night. Mrs. Hamar brought out a washing machine.

Mrs. Sorby's daughter, Mrs. Robert Skinner, and some old neighbors from near Springview were visiting at her home recently. Mrs. Sorby and her daughter, Clara went home with Mrs. Skinner.

Our young teachers should remember in teaching "good form" that kindness is the foundation of all good manners. "Howe'er it be, it seems to me, 'Tis only noble to be good. Kind hearts are more than coronets, And simple faith more than Norman blood."

Many who take an interest in the Valentine schools would be delighted to read weekly the happenings and progress in the high school and other grades. We remember with pleasure Miss Leta Stetter's items, and hope someone as able will turn reporter this winter. [It is the intention of this paper to publish weekly school notes of our high school and the first installment may be found in this issue.—ED.]

EAGLE.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Mabel Helzer departed Monday morning for Park College, Mo., where she starts in for a full college course.

The high school boys all showed good sense by coming in from the hay fields in time to enter school the first day.

School opened Monday with an enrollment of 250 pupils. The enrollment will probably reach 275 by the close of this week.

Bernice Keif, of the class of '05, passed through Valentine on the train Friday morning enroute to her school near Rushville, where she will teach nine months.

We have just received our new books for the beginning Latin class and we believe they will be a great improvement over the old ones which have been in use here for the past ten years.

Bessie Schifferns is the only member of the class of '06 who was not in her place Monday morning. We understand that she is in the country with a sick friend and that she expects to be here in a few days.

It seemed, during the summer, that there would be more students wanting places to work for their board than there would be places; but it turns out that there are still a few families wanting girls to work for their board and go to school.

Misses Mutz, Driscoll and Mutchmore have rooms with Mrs. Elmer Bristol and are taking their meals with Mrs. George Harden. Misses Friend and Nelson have a room with Mrs. Chas. Anderson and are taking table board at the Valentine house. Miss Pettijohn is, of course, boarding with her parents. Prof. Watson is rooming at his home and taking his meals wherever he can find them.

The following non-residence are in attendance: Herbert Jones of Cody, Misses Frances and Dora Grewe of Nenzel, Misses May Barnes and Myrtle Richardson and Cecil Barnes of Newton, Mae Gunderson of McCann, Lillie Grooms of Sparks, Ina Spratt, Ernest Palmer, Liza Hobson and Hattie Gaskill of north table, Anna Ashburn of Sparks, Bessie Gaskill of down the river, and Hilda Green of Crookston.

SPITEFUL.

Kate—Do you think it's true that people catch anything through kissing? Madge—Oh, I don't think so. See how often you've been kissed and you've never caught anybody yet.
