TALK OF THE TOWN

John Anderson was in town Tuesday from Rosebud.

Wm. Gillaspie was in town a couple of days this week.

Albert Webb is clerking in the drygoods department of the Red Front.

J. E. Thackrey and his friend, Mr. McCracken, returned to Hot Springs Sunday night.

Mrs. Maud Webb returned Saturday from a three weeks visit with Mr. Webb's people at Cedar Rapids.

Claude Jones resigned his position with Clarence Sageser to accept a similar one with W. A. Kimbell Monday.

Work was resumed on the new passenger depot last week and is being rushed along now. The frame work is up and it begins to look like something doing.

Dan Adamson called at our office Monday while in town on business. His wife is a sister of Cole Ainslie who died of typhoid fever at Moscow, Idaho, Oct. 15.

The Red Front Mercantile Co. is having a cooking demonstration with their stoves this week. They are serving hot biscuits and coffee cooked in the store by an expert on their Peninsular Planish steel ranges.

J. A. Sparks returned Sunday of last week and Elden last Friday from Buchanan, Mich., where they had been on account of the fatal illness of their sister, Miss Helen, whose death occurred on Sunday, Oct. 8, 1905, of a lingering illness.

Earl Pettycrew returned last week from a six months stay in Washington, near Moscow, Idaho and other places where he has been gathering information and working to pay his expenses as he went. Earl is well satisfied with his summer's outing.

Grandma Holsclaw has improved some since her accident, and Monday was moved out to her daughter's, Mrs. D. M. Jeffers, a mile west of town. Her son, Dr. John Holsclaw, and wife, arrived last week from Albion, Ia., and are visiting relatives while the Doctor assists in caring for his mother.

A. E. Butler, a special agent of the Farmers Mutual Insurance company of Lincoln visited their local agent, I. M. Rice, last week and drove up on the north table on business. Mr. Butler was surprised to find himself suddenly in an agricultural country amid cornfields, wheat fields and the home of the spuds. He says he's coming back.

S. B. Moberly of Spearfish, S. D., representing a Shenandoah, Iowa nursery, and Wm. DeBorde, representing a Sioux City nursery firm, have a delivery of fruit trees and shrubbery this week at the Club feeding stables. People are beginning to realize that fruit trees can be grown here and soon this country will have out grown the pioneer days and land will go to $20 an acre instead of $5 or $10.

E. B. Quible came down from Merriman last Saturday morning and spent the day in our city getting acquainted with Valentine people. He is making a quiet, gentlemanly campaign, neither assuming nor forward. We believe that Mr. Quible is of the kind that wears well, easy to meet, ready and responsive, one whom you would say with first impression was a man of the people and in harmony with his fellowmen.

Austin & Thompson, have had their blacksmith shop shingled this week and otherwise improved.

P. H. Young brought in a fine bunch of cattle last Monday which he sold to George Storey of Sioux City. There were 78 cows in the bunch which averaged 1020 pounds each, and 29 two-year old steers which averaged 1090. Sam Hudson and J. D. Spall helped drive them to town.

Married.

George F. Jarchow and Miss Blanch Stotts, both of Cody, Neb., were married October 19, 1905, at the Presbyterian manse in this city, Rev. Morgan officiating.

Clyde Childers of Merriman, and Miss Myrtle I. Stewart of Cody, were married at the Presbyterian manse in this city, Oct. 19, 1905. Rev. Morgan performed the ceremony.

THE DEMOCRAT extends congratulations to the happy couples.

Cole Ainslie, Dead.

We received the sad news from Mrs. Ella Ellis last week that her sister, Lizzie's husband, Cole D. Ainslie, died Oct. 15, 1905, after an illness of 3 weeks of typhoid fever. Cole Ainslie was a stout hearty looking man when he left here a few years ago and was well liked by all who knew him. His mother was present at his death bed. His wife and four children also survive him.

Cole Ainslie was married to Miss Lizzie Morgareidge the winter of 1898 and their married life, though short, was happy. Thus the hand of death has rested heavily upon the two sisters whose husbands, in the midst of happiness, have been taken from them and their children.

Crowe-Young.

The wedding of Miss Stella M. Crowe of Merriman to Phylander H. Young of Simeon was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joel W. Crowe, of Merriman, Nebr., on Sunday, Oct. 15, 1905, at 6 o'clock p. m., by the Rev. A. F. Cumbow.

The bride was dressed in a suit of white nun's veiling, and the groom in the conventional black.

After the ceremony the wedding party were ushered into the dining room where all partook of an elegant wedding supper and then all went to church and heard an eloquent sermon, delivered by Rev. Cumbow.

The following morning Mr. and Mrs. Young took the train for Valentine and drove out to their home at Simeon where they begin housekeeping under most favorable conditions. About Dec. 15th Mr. and Mrs. Young will visit the former's home folks at Marshal, Mo., for a couple of months.

Mrs. Young has been a successful teacher in our county for several years and first met Mr. Young at Simeon two years ago in Sept., when she came there to teach the Simeon school, which position she held until last spring.

Mr. Young bought the Morgareidge-Ainslie ranches several years ago and to which he has added several choice quarter sections and now has a fine ranch. He came here from Marshal, Mo., and has made numerous friends by his square dealing with everybody and courteous treatment to all.

His beautiful bride has won a handsome man. Both are young and THE DEMOCRAT can wish them nothing better than that they always remain so.
