TALK OF THE TOWN

P. H. Young was trading in our city last Saturday.

B. J. Hoffacker was in the city the first of the week.

C. J. O'Connor was in town the latter part of last week.

Boyd Kirkwood sojourned in town several days the past week.

The class of '04 V. H. S. had an enjoyable reunion at the home of D. W. Collett last Thursday evening.

Hep Shockley came in from the O'Connor ranch Monday morning and spent several days visiting friends in town.

Miss Maud Stotts, who has been visiting friends in town the past week, returned to her home in Cody last Tuesday.

James H. Quigley and Jake Stetter went up to Cody the first of the week to receive the last bunch of the O'Connor cattle.

George Cyphers came down from Pine Ridge to spend Christmas at home, and returned to his work as carpenter a few days later.

Dr. B. F. Jeffers and bride departed Monday night for home at Kirwin, Wyo., where the Doctor has a furnished home awaiting their arrival.

John West returned to his home at Woodlake last Saturday after working in town several weeks. He is back now and clerking in the Home Bakery.

Miss Myers, a cousin of Mrs. W. F. Bullis, returned to her home in Illinois yesterday morning, after spending ten days here visiting relatives.

Alfred Lewis returned to his studies at Lincoln last Saturday. Misses Maggie Robinson, Myrtle Pettijohn and Leta Stetter went down Monday morning.

J. J. McLean and family have moved into their new house, recently finished, and now reside in their own home, a two story cement block house of seven rooms.

Religious services will be held in Bethel hall in Valentine for the colored people, Sunday, Jan. 7. Rev. Waterman of the M. E. church will preach and all colored people are urged to attend.

The Misses Viertel, who have been attending St. Mary's academy at this place, left Friday night to spend Christmas vacation, with their parents at Crookston this state.—O'Neill Independent.

The week of prayer will be held as a union service between the Presbyterian and M. E. churches beginning next Monday night at the Presbyterian church and alternating every other night with the M. E. church.

James C. Fowler and Miss Eva Ashburn were married at the home of the bride's parents, James L. Ashburn and wife, Dec. 25, 1905, at high noon. A large company of friends witnessed the ceremony after which they were ushered into an adjoining room where a sumptuous feast was spread.

Dr. C. V. Holsclaw was brought up from Woodlake Monday night, suffering from erysipelas in his nose and face, having become infected while doctoring his father last week, it is supposed. He is being taken care of by his brothers Wesley and Fred, and Dr. Compton his attending physician. The case seems to have immediately assumed a serious condition and there seems to be little hope for his recovery unless there is a change for the better soon.

Rev. Royal D. Waterman went up to Rosebud Agency Tuesday morning to officiate at the marriage of Miss Georgia DeBell and Mr. Orville Lee Miller. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's father, Dr. DeBell, at 5:30 in the evening, in the presence of relatives and a few friends. These popular young people will make their home at the Agency.

John M. Tucker, of Valentine, Nebr., and Mrs. Stella McQuesten of Woodlake, Nebr., were married at the home of the bride, Thursday evening, Dec. 28, 1905, Rev. W. F. Herman, pastor of the United Brethren church of Johnstown officiating. The groom is the county attorney of Cherry county. After the ceremony a bountiful repast was served. The Mr. and Mrs. Tucker departed for their new home at Valentine on the midnight train. Their many friends wish them a long and happy life.

Obituary.

Rev. Samuel Woodson Holsclaw was the first child born to John and Tabitha Holsclaw near Louisville, Kentucky, August 20, 1829, and thus was 76 years, 4 months and 9 days old at the time of his death, which occurred at his home near this village, Dec. 30, 1905.

On December 27, 1842, Mr. Holsclaw was married to Miss Rebecca Conyer in Dearborn county, Indiana. In 1854 they removed to Monroe county, Iowa, remaining there until April, 1886, when they came to Valentine, Neb., where they have since resided, excepting three years which was spent at Springview where Mr. Holsclaw served the M. E. church as pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Holsclaw had seven sons and a daughter, all of whom are living except the eldest son. Mrs. Holsclaw preceded Mr. Holsclaw to the spirit world less than two months ago. A large circle of relatives and friends in this community and others mourn the loss of this good man.

In his early life he was converted to Christ, and for many years he has been a faithful servant of the Master, serving as a minister of the Gospel, and doing much to spread Bible holiness. Here at Valentine he preached the first sermon ever preached by a Methodist, and first organized the Methodist society. He had served in the capacity of a pastor of the church in a number of other places in Iowa and Nebraska. Being prominent in the movement of reform in the morals and society of our land his loss will be felt.

Rev. Samuel W. Holsclaw died at his home west of town last Saturday morning of erysipelas after an illness of only one week. His sickness was serious from the first, since he was getting old, and the recent death of his wife had grieved him much. During his illness he talked of her in his delirium and seemed to be with her at times.

The funeral was held Monday at 2 p. m. in the M. E. church which Rev. Holsclaw built several years ago. Rev. Royal D. Waterman and Presiding Elder A. R. Julian conducted the services. The body was laid to rest beside his wife who had so recently gone before him, and there they sleep together as they had lived in life.

Catholic Church Announcement.

On Sunday next, mass will be said here at 10:30 a. m. Catechism class at 3 in the afternoon.
