GOVERNOR MICKEY RECOMMENDS HOSPITAL ADDITION.

MENTIONS NORFOLK FRICTION

Says That Governor of the State Ought to Have Power to Remove Appointees Without Any Interference From Courts or Other Board.

Governor Mickey, in his message to the legislature just before retiring, had this to say concerning the Norfolk hospital for the insane:

"I deem it important that the chapter of our statutes dealing with the insane be revised, that the three asylums be placed on exactly the same footing, that they be styled respectively the "Lincoln Hospital for the Insane," the "Hastings Hospital for the Insane," and the "Norfolk Hospital for the Insane," that there be no distinction in the character of the patients received at either institution, and that the state be conveniently districted so that each asylum shall receive the patients coming from its own districts. The word "incurable" is almost brutal in its suggestion and it should be omitted from the title of any and all of the asylums.

"I especially enjoin upon you that you see that all appropriations made for the institutions and for various executive departments are specific and clearly defined. Not infrequently appropriations have been juggled with in the past and have been made to apply to expenditures which the legislature never contemplated. As an instance, I have in mind the amusement hall at the Hastings Asylum for the Insane, which was not sanctioned by the legislature and for which no appropriation was made. It was paid for entirely from the maintenance fund of that institution. Similar instances could be cited. This is a method of accomplishing a purpose which should not be tolerated. Possibly the amusement hall, and the other improvements and additions which have been made from diverted funds, were needed, but there is a proper way to meet such needs, and that is by direct and specific appropriation. Any other course will eventually lead to serious difficulty, if not scandal. The spirit of this suggestion is embodied in the closing sentence of Section 3, article 7, chapter 83, compiled statutes, which reads: "Provided, that no addition shall be made to any public buildings without special appropriation of the legislature."

Power to Remove. The chief executive should have conferred upon him absolute authority and power to remove at will any institutional head appointed by him, and his action should not be subject to the review of any court or board. Under our system the executive is responsible for the proper conduct and management of these institutions and that being the case he should be guaranteed the protection which the absolute power of removal affords. My experience teaches me that institutional friction would be reduced to the minimum if it were understood that the executive's order of removal was final. I recommend that the law be amended in conformity with the idea here set forth. Subordinate officers in all institutions should be appointed by the superintendent, subject to the approval of the executive.

"As you are doubtless aware, the Norfolk asylum for the insane has been in operation about two years, since its restoration, and has even now nearly reached the maximum of its present capacity. It must be provided with more room in the near future. I recommend that the basements of the three cottages and of the administration building be fitted for use, thus relieving the rooms above and adding to the capacity of the institution to the extent of being able to care for fifty or seventy-five more inmates. An addition to the storehouse is also needed. This asylum should be made large enough to care for a sufficient number of that part of the state."

ACCEPTS PROSPERITY PASS.

M. D. Tyler Writes a Letter, Asking Conditions of Gift.

In accepting John B. Donovan's "Prosperity" pass, M. D. Tyler of Norfolk wrote the following letter to the Madison Star-Mail:

Norfolk, Neb., Jan. 1, 1907.—Madison Star-Mail, Madison, Neb.—Gentlemen: I beg leave to acknowledge receipt of "pass" for 1907 over the lines of the Prosperity Transportation company and to thank you for the same.

Not having been privileged to use your lines, excepting to a very limited extent in the past, though the maps of this country's history show that by means of your trunk and branch lines you reach every city and hamlet in the land, having travelled only short distances and between small stations, and the pass being silent on some important points, I take the liberty of making some inquiries concerning the conditions, if any, that are attached to the more extensive travel that is now within my grasp.

Does this pass entitle me to ride on all trains, "limited" and "unlimited," or will you continue in the future as you have in the past to have certain luxurious trains for the Rockefellers, the Morgans and the Editors, and other more common trains for the Jane Addamses, the preachers and the lawyers, or will you in the future treat all alike regardless of their worldly wealth or station?

Do you consider this pass as a bribe given by the aforesaid plutocrats to keep themselves in power and enable them to everlastingly "own the government?"

If I should some day be so foolish as to aspire to high office and should actually secure a nomination—the same having been thrust upon me by an admiring constituency—and the receipt of this pass should be charged against me, would it still be a sufficient answer for me to say that it was used merely to send my wife and mother-in-law to a northern climate?

While you and other high functionaries of your system are riding in your palatial car from "That Arcadian land where still stands the forest primeval," to "The continuous woods where rolls the Oregon," and from Wall street to the Golden Gate, may I not also ride unblinded in the "smoker" from Waverlyville to Enola and from Lisbon, where I was so happy and so "pore" to Griggsville's station, where my old friend Hilkey was also so happy and so "pore"?

My first impulse was to indignantly return the pass and make great political capital for the future by means of a "red hot" letter accompanying its return, but saner thoughts soon took possession of me, knowing that, if I return it, it will go to some "dear friend of the people" who will "go way back and sit down" (in the end of the car) before showing it to the conductor. My monitor and guide—sheer necessity—tells me that it would do far less harm in hands where its possessor's mouth will drop manna to the multitude but whose pockets will all the time swell with its substance.

Yes I will keep the pass with whatever of shame and contumely may attach to it and will endeavor to get an occasional ride during the coming year though it may be only on the tail end of a freight train.

Wishing you and your company all success for the coming year, I beg to remain, Your humble servant,

M. D. Tyler.

DAVID CITY PEOPLE BELIEVE MRS. LILLIE GUILTY.

CONDEMN GOVERNOR MICKEY

It is Said That Fully Ninety-Five Percent of the People of David City, Where Harvey Lillie Was Murdered, Have Never Changed Mind.

David City, Neb., Jan. 4.—Rumors that the governor had pardoned Mrs. Lena Margaret Lillie have been going the rounds in David City since the hearing December 25, and the citizens therefore received the news that she had actually been liberated on Thursday with no great surprise, though with manifest disapproval.

Probably 95 per cent. of the people of this county who have formed any opinion at all as to the guilt or innocence of Mrs. Lillie thoroughly believe that she is guilty of the murder of her husband, for which she was duly convicted. It is probably no less true that 95 per cent. of the same citizens would rejoice to know that Mrs. Lillie did not commit the terrible deed and that another should suffer the awful penalty. But the people of this county, who know the facts connected with this tragedy better than those who know only from rumor and hearsay, have never changed their unwelcome conviction, which they were forced to form from the evidence submitted at the trial. There were very few indeed before the trial who believed her to be guilty. The sentiment expressed today on every hand by residents of this city, of all parties and all creeds, is very strong in condemnation of the governor's action, and only severe censure and indignation is his meted.

Telephone lines have been kept busy spreading the news, and residents of the county outside of David City have likewise expressed their feelings and resentment. Talk of an indignation meeting is heard upon the streets, and sober-minded men declare that such acts as this one of Governor Mickey only tend to nourish the spirit of mob law and disrespect for law, courts and established procedure. The governor is the most condemned man of Nebraska in this county.

Two Norfolk Men Who Heard Testimony Censure Governor's Act.

"If I should attempt to discuss the act of Governor Mickey I fear I should be tempted to swear. When I vote for a republican for governor again it will be years after I have forgotten ex-Governor Mickey." These were the words of R. L. Beveridge who lived three years in David City before coming last year to Norfolk. Continuing he said, "I knew that jury to a man and they were what I would call above the average. I knew the judge and attorneys on both sides. The woman had a fair and impartial trial and was rightfully convicted and the decision was sustained by the supreme court. I had no personal interest in the case but I don't believe a pardon should be railroaded through for a guilty person even if signed by all the preachers in the country. Mrs. Lillie was arrested through a statement she made regarding the door having been unlocked from the outside. The lock was taken off and the outer keyhole was found to be filled with cobwebs and dust that had accumulated there for years as the family never used the key except from the inside and the bolts were rusted with crystals of iron that would have shown the impact of a key. The jury before hearing the evidence expected to acquit her. Judge Good himself was convinced of her innocence before the case was presented to the jury."
