

LAKEY TO REFORM SCHOOL

NORFOLK LAD CONVICTED OF BURGLARY IN KANSAS.

WILL SERVE TIME IN TOPEKA

Youth Who Was Arrested Here a Little More Than a Month Ago, Has Just Been Convicted and Sentenced at Ottawa, Kan., for Store Robbery.

Ottawa, Kan., March 7.—Special to The News: John Lakey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lakey of Norfolk, Neb., and the lad who was recently brought back here from Norfolk to stand trial for burglary, was convicted today and sentenced to the state industrial school at Topeka.

John Lakey is the lad who was arrested in Norfolk a little over a month ago and who was taken back to Ottawa, Kan., by Sheriff W. R. Cody. His parents live on South Fifth street.

Young Lakey entered a store in Kansas and stole a number of articles. He went under an assumed name at Ottawa. He disappeared after the burglary and was arrested here when a postal card came to the sheriff asking that the lad be arrested and held. He denied his guilt, though he had many of the articles when arrested.

The work will in no way interfere with Mr. McClary's present duties and for that reason he has accepted the appointment. The appointment was made in Omaha by the federal court clerk, and was approved by Judge Munger.

"Stamp all interchangeable, 'not good locally in Nebraska.'" This is the form of a telegram which passenger agents of Nebraska railroads received yesterday, regarding interchangeable mileage books which are being used by commercial travelers. The mileage has been sold for 2 1/2 cents, or $50 for 2,000 miles. Under the new law traveling men can secure tickets for two cents per mile. But there are other complications that may follow. With a ruling that the mileage is not good locally in Nebraska, it is feared those now holding these books may be at a loss, because it is said that there is no law requiring that these mileage books be redeemed. The two cent fare will mark the end of the interchangeable mileage book in this state.

COUNCIL ACTS ON PAVING

RESOLUTION PASSED FOR AVENUE IMPROVEMENT.

FROM FIRST TO SIXTH STREET

Original Petitions, Asking for Paving Only as Far West as Sixth Street, Are Made Basis For Action—Need City Physician.

The project to pave Norfolk avenue was carried through the city council last evening without meeting any opposition. With this action Norfolk took an important step forward along the line of civic advancement. The line of pavement which will soon be under way will reach from First to Sixth streets along Norfolk avenue. This is expected to form a nucleus to which other paving districts will be added in the future.

The meeting of the city council last evening lasted until nearly midnight, the time of the council being largely taken up with the consideration of the proposition advanced by Spitzer & Co. of Toledo for the purchase of the $40,000 sewer bond issue.

Mayor Friday presided at the meeting, which was attended by all councilmen save Haase and Spellman. Sidney Spitzer, representing the firm of Spitzer & Co. of Toledo, Ohio, appeared before the council submitting a proposition for the purchase of the $40,000 sewer bond issue voted by Norfolk last spring. The bonds have never found a market. The proposition advanced was left open to a special meeting of the council to be held Friday morning.

Paving Resolution Adopted.

At a late hour the Norfolk avenue paving matter was reached. C. E. Burnham addressed the council briefly. Mr. Burnham reviewed the movement and said that in order to simplify the situation it had been decided to have only the original petitions brought before the council at this time. These petitions were signed by a majority of the resident property owners holding lots adjoining Norfolk avenue between First and Sixth streets. Mr. Burnham declared it to be his belief that this paving movement would start Norfolk on the upward grade, taking us out of the rut of the country town and placing us in the class of cities. He recounted what might be expected in Norfolk from the experience of Fremont since pavement was introduced there with its tendency to encourage other improvements.

A paving resolution, prepared in accordance with the petitions by the city attorney, was adopted by the unanimous vote of the councilmen present. The resolution provides for the paving of Norfolk avenue, including street intersections, from the east side of First street to the west side of Sixth street. The details of the resolution were left blank to be filled in later. The action taken by the council opens the way for the organization of the paving district and practically insures the paving of the street during the coming summer. Details of the paving are to come up later but it is understood that the property owners favor a brick pavement. This resolution was introduced under the paving ordinance enacted some time ago.

Need City Physician.

A communication received from Dr. A. Bear suggesting the appointment of a city physician was left over to be considered at a later meeting.

Mrs. Margaret Boas presented a claim to the council asking for $90 damages as the result of falling on a defective walk on Second street on June 25, 1906. The claim, which was itemized, was referred to the city attorney.

Mayor Friday at the request of the council announced the appointment of a committee consisting of Councilmen Craven, Mathewson and Kiesau to prepare resolutions bearing on the death of former Mayor Dan Koenigstein.

Toward midnight the councilmen left the city hall, adjourning until 9:30 o'clock Friday morning.

MAYOR FRIDAY DOES NOT SEEK IT

City's Present Head More Than Willing to Pass Office to Another.

"The News can deny that I am seeking a renomination," said Mayor John Friday yesterday afternoon, speaking in reference to statements made by some of his supporters that the mayor would be a candidate before the democratic convention this spring.

"I am not a candidate," the mayor said. "I would be more than willing to pass the office on to someone else. In addition to the trouble which the office brings to the holder, it is making an increasing demand on my time. A few years ago the city's business was rather simple. During the two years that I have been in office the business to be transacted by the mayor has increased greatly. The sewer system, the paving proposition, the matter of floating bonds, these and similar things increase the burden of the office. I have had the office two terms. Let some other man head the city ticket."

Mr. Friday did not say that he would not accept a renomination, but was very emphatic in declaring that he was not an active candidate.

TOO LATE TO STOP PAVING NOW

Remonstrance Was Not Filed—City Council's Act Final and Legal.

Norfolk avenue property owners who were disposed to remonstrate against the paving proposition missed their opportunity at the council meeting. It is now believed to be too late for them to take action. As mentioned in yesterday's News a remonstrance move was on foot Thursday. It was not brought before the council.

The remonstrance was drawn up by W. A. Emery. Up to last evening it had received eight signatures. Regarding this counter petition, Mr. Emery said this morning: "The resident property owners who have signed this protesting petition own a majority of the lots between First and Third streets on Norfolk avenue. Their views are expressed in the petition. The reason that we were not before the council last night was that we wished to secure more signatures. We thought that considering the length of time it takes to pass a city paving ordinance that plenty time still existed to bring our paper up."

The point where the remonstrators tripped up lay in the fact that a city ordinance governing paving had been passed last year in connection with the Norfolk avenue gutter scheme. Accordingly it was not necessary for the council to open up the long course of procedure necessary to pass an ordinance. Acting on the advice of the city attorney the councilmen simply passed a resolution to carry the paving petitions into effect under the existing ordinance. City Attorney Weatherby stated that the steps taken in the paving matter were complete and entirely legal. No further action need be taken in regard to the organization of the district save for the council to give notice of a public council meeting at which the cost of the paving construction will be assessed against the adjoining property.

The text of the remonstrance which the signers failed to bring up in time is as follows:

"We, the undersigned property owners on Norfolk avenue, oppose the paving of said street at the present time for the following reasons:

"The extremely high price of material and labor, and for the further fact that the improvements are crowding one upon the other so fast as to cause a burden on the tax payers.

"We have recently constructed cement sidewalks, cement gutters, and voted bonds for the sewerage system, and we believe that further improvements should be delayed until the cost of material and labor is less, and labor is more in need of employment."

REPRESENTS HIGH SCHOOL

MISS GLENNIE SHIPPEE IN DECLAMATORY CONTEST.

TO UPHOLD NORFOLK'S NAME

Last Year Sam Erskine Won Out in the Declamatory Contest—No Local Contest Was Needed This Year—Twenty-two Others Entered.

Miss Glennie Shippee, a member of the senior class at the Norfolk high school, has been selected to uphold the reputation of the local high school in the annual contest of the North Nebraska High School Declamatory association, an auxiliary organization connected with the North Nebraska Teachers' association. The declamatory contest will be held in the Norfolk Auditorium on the evening of Wednesday, April 3. The teachers' association will be in session in this city for three days commencing April 3.

Twenty-three of the more prominent high schools of the district have entered the contest. Each high school will have one representative on the stage of the Auditorium on the evening of April 3. Last year the Norfolk high school was represented by Sam Erskine, who won first prize in the humorous class.

No Local Contest Needed.

Contrary to the usual custom the local high school did not hold a preliminary contest to determine the school's representative. Sam Erskine, successful last year, did not care to enter the contest again. The choice of the school accordingly centered on Miss Shippee, who is preparing to appear in rivalry with other high school students of northern Nebraska.

Contestants will be divided into three classes, oratorical, dramatic and humorous. No selection can run over ten minutes. The speakers must be bona fide high school students. Three judges selected by the officers of the association award first and second prizes in each of the three classes, basing their decision on pronunciation and articulation, carriage and gesture, memory, expression, and "general effect."

A business meeting of the association is held in the afternoon of the day of the contest.

NEW COMPLICATIONS INJECTED

Supreme Court Street Closing Decision May Affect Politics.

The supreme court decision on the Philip avenue matter seems to have added fresh complications to the city political situation. With the republican ward meetings tonight and the republican city convention of Wednesday calling for quick action, Norfolk republicans are still at sea in regard to their candidates. The sentiment today favors the "drafting" of some responsible business man for the nomination for mayor.

In regard to the democratic side of the election a man very close to the democratic administration predicted this morning that the entire retiring list of democratic office holders would be renominated at the democratic convention. He thought that, including Mayor Friday and Councilmen Crotty and Stafford, none of the men would refuse a renomination.

The latest political news of the day is the flat refusal of Councilmen Kiesau of the Second ward and Mathewson of the First ward to accept a renomination this year. Both councilmen are republicans and both have rendered valuable service on the council. Norfolk voters are likely to insist on them changing their decisions. In the matter of school board material the republican party is much more fortunate. The three retiring members of the board, Dr. Cole, C. J. Hibben and M. C. Hazen are republicans. These men have evinced considerable interest in school affairs, are among the most efficient members of the board and can probably be persuaded to retain their place in the school government.

Another important feature in the latest political gossip is the enthusiastic mention by a number of republicans of B. C. Gentle for the city clerkship. Mr. Gentle is a young married man in Norfolk of excellent habits and ability and many believe he would make a first quality city clerk, and that, the position having gone by default to the democrats last year, the office should be passed around.

Do Not Crowd the Season.

The first warm days of spring bring with them a desire to get out and enjoy the exhilarating air and sunshine. Children that have been housed up all winter are brought out and you wonder where they all came from. The heavy winter clothing is thrown aside and many shed their flannels. Then a cold wave comes and people say that grip is epidemic. Colds at this season are even more dangerous than in mid-winter, as there is much more danger of pneumonia. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, however, and you will have nothing to fear. It always cures and we have never known a cold to result in pneumonia when it was used. It is pleasant and safe to take. Children like it. For sale by Leonard the druggist.

RETURNS FROM SUNNY SOUTH

F. E. Weitz Tells of Roses and Strawberries in Texas.

Conductor F. E. Weitz, of the Northwestern railroad, together with his family, Mrs. Weitz and two children, has just returned from a trip through Texas and old Mexico. Mr. Weitz was called to Pasadena, Tex., by the death of his sister and, while south, took occasion to visit some of the points of interest. He visited San Antonio, Houston, Austin and other points and last Sunday witnessed one of the noted bullfights down in old Mexico. Three bulls were killed in the fight, three horses wounded and one horse-man also wounded. A crowd of 4,000 people went on a special train to witness the battle.

Mr. Weitz says that roses are in bloom in Texas and the strawberry season is just ending. The residents are enjoying fresh turnips, tomatoes and other vegetables.

SAYS WATER MAIN IS TOO SMALL

Gus Graul Tells Why Pressure Was Reduced—Answered Phone.

A four-inch water main was responsible for the lack of pressure after the second hose was put on the high school fire, according to Engineer Gus Graul of the pumping station. Mr. Graul says that there was a full eighty-pound pressure on at the station but the four-inch main was too small to carry water needed for several lines of two-inch hose. He says the same sort of pressure resulted from this small main when the Catholic church was afire and when the cold storage burned. He says the pressure for the first hose was all right in every way.

"If the firemen had shut off the standpipe flow," he said, "and had allowed me to pump a direct pressure to them, I could have given better pressure."

Mr. Graul investigated the reason for delay in telephoning him the alarm. He found at the telephone office that the operator, after calling him, was interrupted by many other calls on the board and had to abandon the water station wire before Mr. Graul responded, in order to answer other calls. When Mr. Graul responded there was no word on the line.

Gus Graul sleeps on top of the boiler at the pumping station and heard the alarm instantly. He climbed down and went straight to the telephone. When he arrived there was no voice to tell him what was wanted. After a time the phone rang again and he received word of the fire. Instantly the alarm was sounded.

The "tenant quest" is the "one big worry" with property-owners—until they become advertisers.
