

NEW DALLAS TO GET ROAD

BONESTEEL HEARS THAT THIS WILL BE DONE.

THE CONTRACTORS HAVE BID

It is Reported in a Bonesteel Paper That Contractors Have Been Looking Over the Field for Some Time and New Extension Will Result.

Bonesteel Pilot: We have been reliably informed that railroad contractors have been in our midst for the past few weeks and that they were here for the purpose of looking over the lay of the land west of Gregory to the Tripp county line, with the view of bidding for the five miles of grading which the Northwestern proposes to build this spring for the convenience of the public during the great rush for land in Tripp county.

We also understand that all bids have already been forwarded to the company's headquarters and that action will be taken on them immediately and the contract awarded.

This, if it be true, and there seems to be no doubt but what it is, will make the new town of Dallas the terminus of the Northwestern extension west from Bonesteel, at least during the present year. It is expected that as soon as the company has reaped the benefits from the Tripp county opening, that they will immediately start operations and construct a road through Tripp and Myer counties and connect with their Rapid City-Pierre line at Phillips, a town located directly west of Midland. With this connection it would give the company a direct line between Sioux City and the Black Hills country, and shorten the route about seventy-two miles. The Newcastle-Niobrara line, which is now being constructed, will also assist in shortening the route between these points, it having been figured out that when both these connections are made Sioux City will be 118 miles closer to the Black Hills country. This will undoubtedly be the main line of the Northwestern between these points, and will be a great boon to the people of this section of the country, as it will put them closer and give them better service to good markets.

As a natural sequence to the extension of the road so as to push through Tripp and Myer counties, and give us a direct outlet to the Black Hills country and Sioux City by a much shorter route, will come the location of the division point at Bonesteel. This must follow as the city will be most favorably located as to central position and this means material growth and prosperity for Bonesteel and the surrounding country. The railroad officials will not quibble or split hairs over the division location. With them it is a business proposition that must and will best conserve to their interests in the dispatch of their business as well as in accommodations so far as track facilities and the acquiring of property goes for the improvements the road must necessarily make for the work that falls to the division town.

It will not be long before Bonesteel will be in it most effectually as a railroad town, and with patient anxiety will our citizens watch the work of completing the network of extensions which will bring to us a great prominence and population.

Bonesteel citizens should congratulate themselves for the reason that their town is so well located and practically assured a division point.

A suit has been begun in the Norfolk district of federal court. It is the first one under the new judicial division law. Joseph L. Deloney of Jefferson, S. D., is the defendant and the suit is brought by District Attorney Goss to cancel patent to land filed on by Deloney in Brown county. The government alleges that the land laws were not complied with and that Deloney failed to live on the homestead or to make the necessary improvements. The land involved amounts to a quarter section.

Vice President W. A. Gardner of the Northwestern railroad will make a trip over the Nebraska and Wyoming division of the company's lines this week. He will probably leave Chicago Wednesday evening, passing through Norfolk Thursday noon. He will make trips to Landers, Wyo., and returning to Norfolk, will then go north to Gregory, S. D., to look over the new Rosebud extension. He will be accompanied on the trip by General Manager Frank Walters of Omaha and General Superintendent S. M. Braden of Norfolk.

Mr. Lawrence Evert and his company arrived in the city yesterday to present "We Are King" at the Auditorium tonight. When this company was here last fall the basement of the theater was very damp and the first quest of the players this time was in search of the dressing rooms, to find if all the water had gone. They found the dressing rooms not only dry, but newly furnished and fitted up. Mr. Evert spent the day resting. He declared that he was glad to have an opportunity to return to Norfolk and that he believed he should enjoy this visit more than the last. He is a splendid young actor and "We Are King" is an extraordinarily clever play which Norfolk will very much enjoy tonight.

Richter said that "a timid person is frightened before a danger, a coward during the time, and a courageous person afterward." The proper time for a merchant to get scared about a store crisis is after it has been passed safely—through a "nervy" and courageous campaign of advertising!

Sometimes a "price-cutting" is the best solution of a store-tangle; and then the people who read ads. "cash in" and "take their profits."

NAME JOHN KAY AT NELIGH

WELL KNOWN HORSEMAN WILL RUN FOR MAYOR.

JENKINS REFUSES TO ACCEPT IT

It is Supposed That Mr. Kay Will be Endorsed by the Other Caucus Called For This Evening, But Not Sure Platform of Nominees.

Neligh, Neb., March 18.—Special to The News: A fair representation of the voters of Neligh attended the "law and order" caucus held at the court house Saturday evening.

B. J. Ryan called the meeting to order, after which W. T. Wattles was elected chairman and O. A. Williams secretary. On the first informal ballot for mayor, J. C. Jenkins received 25 votes, John S. Kay 14, and 18 were scattering. In behalf of Mr. Jenkins, who was out of the city, Charles H. Kelsey, in a few well chosen words, stated that the present mayor had personally told him that he would absolutely refuse to accept the re-nomination for a second term. After the second ballot was announced it was moved and seconded that John S. Kay be the unanimous choice of the convention for mayor. This was carried by an overwhelming vote.

The rules were suspended and Wm. B. Lambert was nominated for city treasurer. The same action was taken on the city clerk, Rob't. Wilson. Both nominees have held these respective offices for a number of years. John M. McAllister was re-nominated for police judge, and on the suspension of rules the present incumbent, W. L. Staple, was re-nominated for city engineer. T. H. Brenton was the choice for councilman from the First ward and R. S. Payne from the Second.

E. E. Beckwith, O. A. Williams and Will Baker were the committee on resolutions, which in the main upheld the present Sunday closing ordinance, the removal of hitching posts from the principal street, the enforcing of the dog and occupation taxes and the building and maintaining of permanent sidewalks and crossings. These resolutions were adopted by a unanimous vote.

What action will be taken by the caucus called for this evening is merely a matter of guess work. It is presumed, however, that Mr. Kay will be endorsed, as also Mr. Lambert and Mr. Wilson, if the entire caucus would be endorsed.

C. B. DURLAND IS NAMED

DEMOCRATIC CITY CONVENTION SELECTS CANDIDATES.

BALANCE OF TICKET RENAMED.

Democrats Just Got Under the Wire in Time to Officially File Their Ticket With Clerk—Congratulated Themselves on Action.

(From Monday's Daily.)
Democratic city ticket:

For mayor, Charles B. Durland.

For city clerk, Julius Hulff.

For city treasurer, J. E. Haase.

For police judge, I. G. Westervelt.

For city engineer, H. Salmon.

For members board of education, Albert Degner, S. G. Dean, Thomas Shively.

Caucus nominees city council:

First ward, Ed Braasch.

Second ward, E. B. Kauffman.

Third ward, Julius Degner.

Fourth ward, Pat Dolan (endorsed).

Charles B. Durland was nominated for mayor of Norfolk by the democratic city convention meeting Saturday evening at the city hall. Saturday afternoon Mr. Durland yielded to the importunities of his friends and permitted them to place his name before the convention. As forecasted by The News he met with no opposition in the convention.

The democratic gathering proved to be an enthusiastic convention and was marked by an unusual amount of democratic harmony. While somewhat oppressed by this harmony the delegates managed to relieve the occasion by frequent indulgences in humorous sallies.

The convention was called to order by Chairman H. E. Gerecke of the city central committee. An organization was effected by choosing Herman Gerecke chairman and Julius Hulff secretary.

After Herman Winter, Albert Degner and Carl Wilde had performed the duties of a committee on credentials, the convention proceeded to choose a city ticket. On motion of H. C. Matrau formal nominations were preceded by oral nominations and an informal ballot.

Dr. Bear Makes Speech.

For mayor Dr. Bear presented the name of Charles B. Durland in an eloquent speech to the delegates. He said that Mr. Durland would give Norfolk a clean, fearless, honest and thoroughly business-like administration if elected. His words were greeted with applause.

Mr. Durland's name being the only one presented to the convention, an informal ballot showed the following vote: C. B. Durland, 31; John Friday, 3. Mr. Durland was declared the unanimous nominee of the convention for mayor.

Other Nominations.

After a motion by Dr. J. H. Mackay to renominate the present occupants of the clerk's, treasurer's, judge's and surveyor's offices had been declared out of order, the convention took up the office of city clerk. Julius Hulff was renominated, the informal ballot standing, Hulff, 35; Carl Wilde, 1.

For city treasurer Dr. Mackay presented the name of City Treasurer Julius E. Haase. C. S. McCaslin the name of Carl Wilde. After Mr. Wilde had withdrawn his name the informal ballot resulted: J. E. Haase, 34; Carl Wilde, 3. Wm. Widaman, 1. Mr. Haase was declared nominated.

On motion of Dr. Bear the rules were suspended and H. Salmon was declared the unanimous choice of the convention for the office of city engineer. Mr. Salmon holds the office at the present time.

On motion of Dr. Mackay, I. G. Westervelt was unanimously renominated for the office of police judge.

The ward committeemen selected by the several caucuses were endorsed by the convention and authorized to fill vacancies.

For School Board.

The gathering then adjourned as a city convention and, keeping the same organization, proceeded to nominate members of the board of education for the Norfolk school district. It being necessary to nominate two candidates for terms of three years and one candidate for the unexpired term of two years, the delegates chose to nominate the candidates one at a time.

The names of Albert Degner, F.W. Koerber and S. G. Dean being presented for members of the school board the vote stood: Degner, 20; Koerber, 4; Dean 3. Dr. Bear having refused to permit his name to be used, a ballot to nominate a second member resulted: S. G. Dean, 32; Dr. Bear, 5. Messrs. Degner and Dean were declared the nominees for the three year terms.

Thomas Shively of the Junction was nominated by acclamation for the unexpired term of two years.

Congratulates Itself.

On motion of Dr. Mackay the convention then took formal action congratulating itself on the character of its deliberations and on the quality of the ticket selected.

Notes of the Convention.

Chairman Gerecke before calling the delegates to order suggested that the convention petition the city council to submit the closing of Philip avenue to a vote of the people at the coming election. He characterized the present depot situation as a disgrace to the city and thought that an expression of public sentiment would tend to clear up certain matters. The convention, however, did not act on the suggestion.

Dr. Mackay's naive resolution calling on the convention to "congratulate" itself took the delegates by storm.

Chairman Gerecke is strongly opposed to any thing that even smacks of "machine" methods. Saturday evening he wanted all oral nominations dispensed with, the delegates to stand on an equal footing and bring out their own candidates on an informal ballot. The convention, however, wanted to hear the nominating speeches.

Saturday evening was the last day under the law in which convention nominations could be filed with the city clerk for insertion in the official ballot. The democrats got under the wire with little time to spare.

Creamery Industry.

The creamery industry in Norfolk will have the special care of a new corporation backed by Norfolk business men. The Norfolk Creamery company, organized for the purpose of bringing to Norfolk her proper share of the creamery business of Nebraska, is about to place its business on a firm basis preparatory to future growth. During the present month the business will be installed in its new quarters in the Witter building on Norfolk avenue.

The appearance of this new industry in Norfolk with every prospect for a substantial growth carries with it the retelling of the old story of the old story of the natural advantages of this city as a business and shipping center of northeastern Nebraska and the germ of the creamery business once planted here could not help but develop and call for public attention.

The Norfolk Creamery company was born in the milk supply house opened in this city by W. F. Petty in December, 1905. Mr. Petty secured the small frame building opposite the postoffice. He made a business of buying milk and cream and retailing it about the city. He started making butter in a small way. He soon had the opportunity of making more butter than he had facilities to put up. The business outgrew his establishment. It outgrew his capital. It called for reorganization on a larger business basis. Local business men took hold of the scheme. They formed a creamery company to take over the business that had grown too big for the city milk supply house with its limited resources.

The Norfolk Creamery company was organized two months ago. The capital stock was placed at $10,000 and papers were prepared to incorporate the new company under the state laws. The company was backed by some of the most substantial business men in Norfolk. Its list of officers is as follows: President, J. W. Ransom; vice-president, W. A. Witzigman; secretary, George D. Butterfield; treasurer, D. C. Herrington. S. H. Anderson, who has had experience in the creamery business, will act as general manager for the house on the road. W. F. Petty who pushed the business from the start, will be the local manager of the plant. He has had many years experience in the business.

The Creamery company took over the business of the milk supply company on January 7, 1907. From its present inadequate quarters it is supplying milk and cream to some 250 customers, making a thousand pounds of butter a week and giving employment to five men.

The Witter building on Norfolk avenue will be occupied by the creamery beginning probably a week from Monday. Just now the building is being thoroughly overhauled for its new use. An office room is being arranged, a churning room is being constructed in the basement and the building as a whole is in preparation for the new machinery to be installed.

The Norfolk Creamery company will start out on the basis of the business already built up during the past year by the milk supply house. It will probably start by making some 1,500 pounds of butter a week, with a capacity for at least 1,000 pounds a day. Cream is already shipped to Norfolk from as far north as Bonesteel. The new creamery will offer a market for cream that can be supplied from a score or so of counties adjacent to Norfolk. There is an unlimited market for butter. After supplying the demand in this territory, large supplies of butter can be sent profitably east to Chicago or west to the coast.

The capacity of the local creamery will be whatever the business will make it. Judging from the experience of towns like Columbus, it is possible to safely predict that within three years the Norfolk creamery will be turning out more than five or six thousand pounds of butter a day and giving employment to perhaps a score of men.

Norfolk has not had a creamery since the Harding Creamery company moved to Omaha seven years ago. At that time there was a tendency to concentrate the creamery business in the large centers. With the coming of the cream separators now in nearly every farm home, it is no longer necessary to maintain expensive separating stations at shipping points. This is one factor working to the advantage of the smaller towns. Norfolk's location as a shipping center in the heart of this section of the state opens up an encouraging future for this new industry.

A lot of women would adopt the raw food system of diet, no doubt, if they thought the bear in the family would stand for it.

PLAYING SOLDIER BOY IS KILLED

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT OCCURS AT VERDEL SUNDAY.

FRANK HANZLIK IS THE VICTIM

INSTANTLY KILLED BY WINCHESTER BULLET IN HEAD.

HE WAS POPULAR YOUNG MAN

Student in the Verdel High School, Popular For His Manly, Modest Manner, Frank Hanzlik Meets Tragic Death Out in the Woods.

Verdel, Neb., March 18.—Special to The News: While out hunting with two playmates yesterday afternoon Frank Hanzlik, the fifteen-year-old son of Frank Hanzlik, was shot and instantly killed.

At the time of the accident the lads were playing "soldier" and in some way the gun belonging to one of the other boys was discharged, the full charge striking young Hanzlik in the forehead, literally blowing his brains out.

Mr. Hanzlik is a wealthy and influential farmer living two miles south of Verdel.

Young Hanzlik was a student of the high school here and was much loved and respected for his manly, modest way.

The accident occurred about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. It seems that the boy who was shot, together with a younger brother and Andrew Clausen, about the same age, were out in the woods.

Clausen Says Boy Shot Self.

Young Clausen claims that Hanzlik shot himself while the young Hanzlik boy says that the three were playing soldier and that the Clausen boy, who had a Winchester, made a charge on the Hanzlik lad, raised his gun and fired a bullet through his playmate's head, causing instant death.

Both families are highly esteemed here and the accident is a shock to the whole community.

E. E. COLEMAN BUYS INTEREST

Will Re-engage in Hardware Business With Mr. Weaver.

E. E. Coleman has purchased a half interest in the hardware business of W. W. Weaver. The name of the firm under the new organization will be Weaver & Coleman. Mr. Coleman, who recently returned to Norfolk from a winter's visit to California, will be actively associated with Mr. Weaver in the management of the business. He was formerly engaged in the hardware business at the same establishment. The new firm is composed of two progressive and experienced business men and will strengthen Norfolk's retail business. Chris Anderson is assisting in the inventory of the stock which is being taken today.

MILLER NAMED AT STANTON

BEST ATTENDED CITY CONVENTION EVER KNOWN.

LIGHT FRANCHISE A FACTOR

Mr. Miller Was Nominated After it Was Stated That He Believed an Option Should be Retained on Plant. Councilmanic Ticket There.

Stanton, Neb., March 18.—Special to The News: The Citizens party met in mass convention here Saturday night for the purpose of nominating a mayor and two councilmen. A great deal of interest was manifested. There were just 200 votes cast for mayor. The result of the vote for this office was that Levi Miller received 107 and John Schindler received 93 votes. This was supposed to be a victory for the advocates of an extension of the electric light franchise. However, the position of the nominee on the subject as stated by his friends on the floor of the convention was, that he believed an option should be retained by the city to purchase the plant at any time during the ten years that it was able. This of course was a material modification of the issue which was first presented.

In the matter of councilmen, there was practically no contest in the east ward on this matter, it being understood that both of the candidates were opposed to extending the franchise. In the west ward C. C. Mayer, an announced anti-extension candidate, was selected over Joseph Gratton, who was understood to be favorable to an extension.

This was one of the best attended caucuses that was ever held in the city of Stanton.

Politics at Ainsworth.

Ainsworth, Neb., March 18.—Special to The News: There will be a contest here for election honors. The no-license ticket is as follows: R. S. Rising, W. D. McAndrew, Walter Moseley. The license ticket is: Walter Williams, Charles Howe and J. E. Stauffer. All candidates are good business men.

Your "spare change" will finance a campaign of want advertising.
