

WILL OPEN UP COAL MINE

SPUR WILL BE BUILT FROM ROSIN TO NORTHWESTERN.

NORFOLK MEN ARE INTERESTED

Directors of the Rosin Coal Mine, in Which a Number of Norfolk Men Are Stockholders, Have Decided to Build Eight Miles of Railroad.

Dr. H. T. Holden and C. S. Hayes returned to Norfolk yesterday after attending the annual stockholders and directors meeting of the Rosin Coal company at Manville, Wyo. Messrs. Holden and Hayes with other Norfolk citizens are largely interested in the Rosin company, which is an incorporated mining company owning coal mines situated between the Cheyenne and Platte rivers in Converse county, Wyo. Dr. H. T. Holden, who was the first president of the new company retires this year, turning the presidency over to F. G. Kloecke of Dodge.

The annual election of officers of the company this week placed the following men at the head of the company's affairs: F. G. Kloecke, president, succeeding Dr. Holden; Sherman Willey, Norfolk, vice president, succeeding C. S. Hayes; J. A. Manorgan, Manville, Wyo., treasurer, re-elected; O. L. Vincent, Manville, Wyo., secretary and manager, re-elected; Dr. H. T. Holden, Norfolk, A. N. McGinnis, Norfolk, Sherman Willey, Norfolk, E. Dietrich, Dodge and Jacob Kaas, Chadron, board of directors.

The directors of the company voted at this meeting to take the necessary preliminary steps toward constructing an eight mile spur of railroad to connect their mine with the Northwestern at Lost Springs, Wyo. Dr. Holden thinks that the mine will be connected with the railroad by September and that active operation of the mine will follow in a month or two. During the past year a six foot vein of coal has been followed some 310 feet into the divide but active mining operations have been postponed until connections with the Northwestern should make shipments practical. The Northwestern has given its consent towards having the spur from the mine connected with its line.

The weather man drove home his prediction for a drop in the mercury by means of a keen northwest wind which arrived on schedule time and sent piercing chills through human-kind. People who had hoped that spring was here and that the last coal of the season had been fed into the furnace, wore disappointment on their faces when flakes of snow and sleet swept through the early morning atmosphere. The weather forecast is for fair weather and continued coolness, with warmer air for Saturday. The temperature during the night got down to twenty-four degrees in the shade and ice would have frozen but for the vehement breezes.

The annual convention of the Elkhorn Valley Association of Congregational churches will be held in Norfolk April 30 and May 1. There are thirty churches in the district and it is expected that at least thirty representatives will be here. The meetings will be held in the First Congregational church of Norfolk, with sessions during the daytime and in the evening. Efforts are being made to secure speakers of reputation. On one evening Miss Margaret Thompson, professor of literature in Doane college, will speak on "The Spiritual Element of American Poets." Rev. W. J. Turner, pastor of the First Congregational church here, and other local church folk interested in the coming meetings, are trying to get H. K. Warren of Yankton as one speaker. A representative from the Santee Indian agency will be present, if present plans can be executed.

Saturday the Faucett-Carney-Hager company will be "at home" to the people of Norfolk at the company's candy factory on Norfolk avenue. The factory is open from 8 a. m. to 6 o'clock in the afternoon. Between those hours Saturday the company throws its plant open to the Norfolk public, affording its guests of the day an opportunity to witness every detail of the interesting process of candy making. Saturday is "visiting day" held to acquaint Norfolk people with the new industry that came to the city with the new year. It had been the intention of the management to hold such a visiting day sooner, but the first ten weeks of the new company's time has been taken up in the effort to meet the early rush of orders. Now that the organization of the business is more in hand they are ready to show their factory to all who accept their invitation Saturday. Visitors will be given souvenirs of the day.

LINING UP FOR BASE BALL

NORFOLK HIGH SCHOOL TEAM WILL PLAY GAME.

NUCLEUS FOR OFFICIAL TEAM

Local Fans Hope That the High School Nine, Now Organized, May be Made Into City Club Before Season Ends. First Game April 27.

Norfolk at the present time centers her hope for interesting baseball sport during the coming season in the high school nine just rounding into shape for the spring games. It is also quite possible that the high school team may later form the nucleus for a city nine that will carry out a regular schedule during the summer months. The high school team has good material, can play good ball in its own name and is entering into practice with enthusiasm.

"Skeet" Hoffman captains the high school nine and the following men line up for play: Hoffman, c; Estabrook, p; Faucett, 1b; Erskine, 2b; Hauptli, ss; Blakeman, 3b; Oxnam, lf; Clark, cf; Stafford, rf; Tindall, Johnson, Durland, substitutes.

Playing with the Pierce high school in Norfolk on Saturday afternoon, April 27, the local nine will open their home season. Norfolk is also in correspondence with the Columbus, West Point and Neligh high schools for games. The game with Neligh last Saturday having been stopped by rain at the end of the fifth inning with the score standing 8 to 7 in Norfolk's favor, the local students are anxious to arrange a second game with Neligh.

It has been suggested that the Norfolk "Brownies" will be resurrected later in the season with the high school nine as a basis. Local fans say that they will not be content unless Norfolk is supporting a semi-professional team before the summer season closes.

An early season game between the Norfolk high school and the Norfolk business college nines was scheduled for Friday afternoon at the fair grounds.

DISTRICT COURT ADJOURNS

May 27 is Set for Next Session—Court at Neligh Next Week.

District court at Madison was adjourned last evening by Judge Welch until Monday, May 27. The district court jury was excused to report on that date. Judge Welch will open court in Antelope next week but may find time to come to Norfolk to take the testimony that is to be heard here in two district court cases.

The appeal to the supreme court taken from the verdict in the Forrest Ellis case will carry the cases against the three other former hospital attendants over to another jury term of the court. If, as Ellis' attorneys allege, the grand jury returning the indictments against the hospital attendants was illegally impaneled, and the supreme court sets aside the Ellis verdict on these grounds, the decision of the higher court would have a direct bearing on the companion cases. After the Ellis verdict was in yesterday, the suit brought by the Newman Grove state bank against the Dimock Mfg. Co. et al. was given to the jury. The jury returned a verdict for $100 and interest for the bank.

Following the adjournment of the district court Attorneys Mapes and Tyler, who with W. V. Allen, handled the Ellis defense, and County Attorney Koenigstein and Attorney Barnhart of the prosecution, returned to Norfolk. Judge A. A. Welch stopped in Norfolk on his way to Wayne. Court Reporter Powers came up from Madison. Forrest Ellis, now of Pender, was also in Norfolk last night returning from Madison.

Battle Creek.

J. E. Sanders had bad luck again. Friday night the mill dam washed out once more, but he can supply his trade with all the flour they want, as he has a large stock on hand.

Wm. Carrico is visiting with his son, J. P. Carrico, in Cherry county. James McMichaels, aged about 62 years, died here at 2 o'clock Thursday morning, of a complication of diseases. He was a retired farmer, and came here about ten years ago from Omaha. The funeral will be held from the M. E. church Friday noon, conducted by Rev. R. J. Callow. He leaves a wife and other relatives here. Edward Warnecke was here the first of the week from Long Pine visiting relatives and friends. Frank Fox is here this week from Newport.

Amos Meyer is here from Emma, Mo., hunting a location. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gabelman and little daughter of Green Garden were visiting here Saturday and Sunday with W. B. Fuerst and family. Shelby Moffett was up to Stuart the first of the week making preparations to move his family down here.

Mrs. A. Osborn moved into L. B. Baker's house west of the Best hotel Wednesday. Rudolph Eden, a book-keeper in the Citizens National bank at Norfolk, was visiting here Monday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eden, and other relatives.

ow Grove Tuesday. Geo. Seelke shipped two carloads of stock Monday to Omaha.

W. H. Palmer was here the middle of the week on business from Fremont. Julius Glandt was here from Meadow Grove Wednesday.

BRINK READS NEWSPAPERS.

Supposed Slayer of Girl, Now Insane Inmate, Writes Clear Letter.

The following letter has been received by The News from Frank Brink, supposed slayer of his sweetheart, Beatie Newton, and now an inmate at the Norfolk insane hospital: "Norfolk Hospital, Norfolk, Neb., 4-12-07.—Sir. Please send copies of The Daily News dated April 10th, 11th & 12th. And oblige. Please put them in a separate package and address to me at the hospital.—F. M. Brink."

It is apparent that Brink's brain-storm has sufficiently subsided to allow him enjoyment in reading what the papers say about him.

FIRE THREATENED HOME

HEAVY LOSS IN RESIDENCE OF C. C. GOW.

STARTED FROM THE FURNACE

Fire Which Originated in the Basement of the Handsome Home of C. C. Gow Did About $1,000 Damage on First Floor Before Checked.

[From Saturday's Daily.] A fire starting in the basement of C. C. Gow's residence and gaining such headway that it threatened to leave the fine home in ruins, was successfully fought by the Norfolk fire department Saturday morning. Mr. Gow's loss through fire, smoke and water will amount to over a thousand dollars. Insurance protection was carried.

Starting above the furnace and spreading rapidly, Saturday morning's fire had assumed alarming proportions before the fire department was able to reach Mr. Gow's residence at 201 North Thirteenth street. The fire was discovered by members of the family shortly after 8 o'clock. The blaze had evidently caught from the hot air furnace.

The fire was in the center of the residence, passing from the basement to the first floor. Handicapped by a dense fog of smoke, the firemen protected the upper stories and drove the flames back to the basement. Members of the Mast, Queen City and West Side hose companies and the Pioneer hook and ladder company were at the burning home a very few minutes after the alarm had sounded. By quick and efficient action they limited the loss, which threatened for a time to run into several thousand dollars.

Mr. Gow's loss was hard to estimate. The basement was a mass of flames. The walls and furniture of the first floor were burned and scorched, other damage resulting from the flood of water. The exterior of the building was not damaged. Mr. Gow's home is a handsome two-story frame residence built at an original cost of about $5,000. Insurance carried on the house amounted to $2,500. The furniture loss was covered by insurance.

Accidents Near Verdigre.

Verdigre, Neb., April 16.—During the last week a series of accidents and narrow escapes took place. Frank Slusher, bridge foreman of the Northwestern railroad, while pulling a bolt with a pinchbar slipped and fell from a bridge north of here, landing on his side on a pile of rocks ten feet below, fracturing five ribs and otherwise being badly bruised up. He was taken to Norfolk. On Thursday John Holan, sr., aged 82, while driving home from town, met with a runaway and upon reaching the farm yard the wagon box was thrown from the running gear, dashing the occupant violently against the corner of the chicken house. Two ribs were broken and some bad bruises inflicted, but no internal injuries resulted. James Tikalsky, in attempting to ford Verdigre creek near his father's home drove into a bed of quicksand and but for the prompt aid at hand might have lost his team and his own life.

CHARGED WITH FORGERY.

Albert Ruth, Who Has Left Wisner, is Claimed to Have Done It.

West Point, Neb., April 16.—Special to The News: A complaint was filed yesterday in county court by Andrew Speich of Wisner against one Albert Ruth, charging the latter with the crime of forgery. The charge is made that Ruth forged the name of Speich to a promissory note for $100 and negotiated the same at the First National bank of Wisner, Ruth being the maker of the note and Speich's name appearing as surety. The act complained of was committed early in 1906 and has just come to light. In the meantime Ruth has moved to parts unknown. He left the country several months ago, presumably for Texas. Efforts are being made to locate him.

Neligh Won Game.

Neligh, Neb., April 15.—Special to The News: The Neligh high school baseball team went over to Albion last Friday and defeated the boys of that city to the tune of 5 to 2. The Neligh team showed a decided improvement over the recent game with Norfolk, and Captain Coker promises that with proper coaching his aggregation of ball tossers will this season show a decided increase of games won over last year.

WE MAY GET UNION DEPOT

UNION PACIFIC WILL GIVE IT SERIOUS CONSIDERATION.

COMMITTEE SEES MR. MOHLER

Vice President and General Manager of Union Pacific Says He Will be Glad to Entertain Proposition From Northwestern for Union Station.

"The Union Pacific will be glad to entertain a proposition from the Northwestern looking to the erection of a union station at Norfolk, and we will give it very serious consideration," was the announcement made by A. L. Mohler, vice-president and general manager of the Union Pacific railroad company at the close of an interview held in Omaha on Wednesday with the depot committee of the Norfolk Commercial club.

Members of this committee, consisting of A. J. Durland, Geo. D. Butterfield and W. N. Huse, met by appointment the general manager of the Union Pacific at 11 o'clock Wednesday forenoon, and presented the matter of a union station, showing from charts the location of the various depots in this city and the magnificent distances between them, and representing that the erection of a large union station centrally located would be very pleasing to the people of Norfolk.

Mr. Mohler gave close attention to the proposition, and while he did not agree with the committee as to some of the details, yet he was unquestionably interested and the committee gained the idea that if the officers of the three roads entering Norfolk can agree upon location, division of cost and expense of maintenance, that the Union Pacific will not be the one to stand out against the wishes of the people of this city. Positive assurance was not given but Mr. Mohler promised very careful consideration of the matter when it is presented by officials of the Northwestern system.

This is the second time the committee had made the trip to Omaha to confer with Mr. Mohler on the union depot proposition. The first time the committee did not find Mr. Mohler in his office, having been suddenly called to Chicago after an appointment had been made to meet him, on account of the impending strike.

As the committee views the situation, there is a good prospect that Norfolk will secure a creditable union station during the present season. The city depot of the Northwestern was burned over a year ago and since that time the passenger business of the road has been conducted in a little old worn-out baggage car. The Northwestern has announced that a new depot will be put up this season, and Mr. Gardner said in an interview with The News a few weeks ago that it was up to the Union Pacific as to whether there should be a union station or not. In the meantime the Union Pacific has been making an estimate of what it will cost to rebuild their station in this city, showing that that road has concluded that better station facilities are needed here, and now when the matter of a union station is presented, Mr. Mohler practically duplicates the Northwestern's proposition by putting it up to the Northwestern.

Under the circumstances, it would not seem impossible to get the two roads together on the proposition. It is a matter that all of Norfolk is interested in, and the Commercial club will undoubtedly pursue the matter as long as there is a prospect of bringing the desired result.

NO BATTLE CREEK RACES

NEW OWNERS OF TRACK THERE WON'T LEASE GROUNDS.

MEETING THERE CALLED OFF

Dates in the North Nebraska Short Shipment Circuit Will Have to be Rearranged as a Result of Cancellation of Battle Creek Dates.

Neligh, Neb., April 13.—Special to The News: The race track at Battle Creek has been sold and the new owners refuse to lease it to the association for the races this fall. This has led to the cancellation of the Battle Creek dates of the Northwest Racing circuit, and may result in the change of other dates, including Neligh.

The above report was confirmed by a telephone message to Battle Creek. The meeting there for the coming summer has been called off. This will not affect Norfolk's race dates, as Norfolk comes first, but it may affect some of the others, including Pierce, Creighton, Spencer, Stanton, Madison, Neligh, O'Neill and Madison.
