

WHAT THE CLASS WILL DO

NORFOLK HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES ARE DECIDING.

GIRLS WILL TEACH SCHOOL

The Seven Young Men Have Planned Various Careers For Themselves, Including Law, Medicine, Journalism, Banking, Etc.

With commencement week definitely assigned to the past, another graduating class from the Norfolk high school is preparing to answer the class day question of "What next?" A majority of the graduates of the year have already made definite plans for the immediate future and many of the boys at least have their minds fixed on some kind of life work. Twenty young women and seven young men graduated from the Norfolk high school last May.

Three-fourths of the young women of the class expect to teach school for at least a year. Those who will join the teaching profession in northern Nebraska are Misses Matilda Herrmann, Agnes Flynn, Glennie Shippee, Eleanor Mueller, Edith Barrett, Lizzie Schram, Nola Walker, Georgia Blake-man, Erna Wilde, Anna Mueller, Margaret Hamilton, Nellie Flynn, Rebecca Duggan, Geneva Moolick and Lida Squire.

Ten of the graduates are in attendance at summer schools preparatory to taking up their teaching work in the fall. Those who are absent from Norfolk this summer are: Misses Edith Barrett and Lizzie Schram at the Fremont normal; Misses Rebecca Duggan, Eleanor Mueller, Erna Wilde, Glennie Shippee, Anna Mueller, Margaret Hamilton, Agnes Flynn and Nellie Flynn at the Peru state normal.

The girls whose plans do not contemplate teaching are Misses Mellie Bridge, Elsie Johnson, Edith Estabrook, Lois Gibson and Gretchen Huff. At least two expect to attend school in the fall. Miss Mellie Bridge is thinking of Oberlin college while Miss Lois Gibson is considering the Boston Conservatory of Music. Miss Gretchen Huff leaves Norfolk in a short time for her new home in Los Angeles.

At least four of the boys are planning to continue their education in the fall.

Sam Erskine expects to enter the literary department of the state university.

Lawrence Hoffman will be another University of Nebraska student. His aim is to study medicine.

Ross Tindall will attend Wesleyan university at Lincoln preparatory to taking a course in law at the state university.

Elmer Hardy will probably attend some school of engineering.

Will Hauptli has a banking career in mind and has been obtaining an insight into the banking world at the Citizens National bank.

Boyd F. Blakeman has a position in the office of the Chicago Lumber company in Norfolk.

Harry Rix at present is at the home of his father north of Norfolk.

The school picnic of Christ Lutheran church next Sunday afternoon will be held at Pasewalk grove. The picnic marks the close of the school year for the school children, next Friday being the last day of school for the year.

Reports from Rapid City say that while the Northwestern trains are all repaired since the flood, there is a long stretch over which trains can only run at a very slow rate and as a result it will be a week before the Black Hills eastbound trains are running on schedule time.

Sunday afternoon Rev. W. J. Turner took a number of the children, who had participated in the children's day program in the morning at the First Congregational church, to the Norfolk hospital where part of the morning's program was repeated for the benefit of the patients.

John Jussett, who had been an inmate at the insane hospital here, has returned to his home and family near Ainsworth. A letter from Mrs. Jussett to The News says that her husband has gained much in health and that he appreciates the good treatment and kind attention received at the hospital here.

C. H. Krahn and other residents of Madison avenue near the South Fourth street intersection are complaining because of a very strong and repugnant odor emanating from the building occupied last winter by the Norfolk Creamery company as a milk house.

Now that summer heat has come on, people living in that vicinity declare that the stench is almost unendurable, the odor permeating into homes of the neighborhood. Mr. Krahn says that he has appealed to the city authorities for relief, but that his appeals have been in vain.

The state Sunday school convention is in session at Hastings for the next three days. Mrs. Mary Osborn, representing the Sunday school of the First Congregational church and Mrs. O. R. Meredith, representing the Sunday school of the Christian church of Norfolk are among those in attendance.

A birthday reception was given Monday afternoon by Mrs. Josephine Hull at her Norfolk avenue home in honor of her mother, Mrs. Force, whose eighty-second birthday occurred Sunday. There were thirty-five guests in attendance to congratulate Mrs. Force, who also received many little gifts and an abundance of floral remembrances. A dainty luncheon was served, followed by an impromptu musical program.

Judge A. A. Welch was down from Wayne Monday, hearing a motion in the case of Frederick Schlumbum against the American Beet Sugar company. Schlumbum originally brought a damage suit for personal injuries sustained, asking for $16,740.80 against his employers, the beet sugar company. The case was later compromised for $250 and this settlement Schlumbum's attorneys, E. P. Weatherby and Allen & Reed, seek to have set aside that their attorney fees may be protected.

The attorneys allege that they agreed to bring the case on a percentage basis and that the settlement was not fair to them. It was agreed yesterday that the demurrer to the attempt of Schlumbum's attorneys to reopen the case should come before Judge Welch on written briefs.

NOT TO AFFECT NORFOLK.

Treasury Call For Money Has Not Extended to Local Depositories.

An order of George B. Cortleyou, secretary of the treasury, calling in $20,000,000 public deposits made by Secretary Shaw last fall might take $100,000 out of the banks of Norfolk in case all the government funds in deposit in Norfolk should be asked for. Local banks, however, have not received notice from the treasury department and a general call for the local deposits is not expected.

When Secretary Shaw made government deposits last fall he said that they would be called in February 1, if they should be needed; but no need arising they have been allowed to remain.

Uncle Sam has $100,000 in his credit in Norfolk banks. Local bankers say that any withdrawal of government deposits from Norfolk, whether partial or entire, would have no effect on the local market for money.

MUSIC CLASS GRADUATES

ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES OF CONSERVATORY.

FOURTH OF RECITAL SERIES

A Large Audience Greeted the Music Students Who Participated in Commencement Exercises at the Auditorium Last Night.

With a large audience despite the threatening weather and with a program that was received with evident approval and awarded several encores, the eleventh commencement of the Norfolk branch of the Western Conservatory of Music was held last evening in the Norfolk Auditorium. Incidentally it was the fourth of a series of excellent recitals given by the music pupils of Mrs. Cora A. Beels.

Miss Edyth Nelson of Pierce was the graduate of the school this year. Miss Nelson's certificate of graduation was presented in a short appropriate address by Rev. W. J. Turner, pastor of the First Congregational church.

Special rewards for class attendance and faithful and successful work were also presented last evening. Those who received the rewards this year were: Margery Bodwell and Gladys Pasewalk, who have not missed a lesson in the past year, and Agnes Zutz, who has not missed a lesson in three years.

The commencement program last evening was participated in by many pupils from away as well as by Norfolk music students. Several post graduate students also appeared on the program.

Among the numbers which pleased were violin solos by Julius Huff with Gretchen Huff as accompanist and Marion Gow with Nellie Schwenk as accompanist. A clarinet selection was played by Thomas Schlecta of Pierce with Miss Edyth Nelson as accompanist.

Single numbers were played by Edyth Nelson of Pierce, Oscar Schavland of Madison, Nellie Schwenk of Norfolk, Clara Berner of Norfolk, Belle Turner of Pierce and Nellie Grant of Madison.

Others who took part in the evening's program were: Emma Lane, Elsa Gildea, Grace Hill, Ruth Beebe, Lydia Brueggeman, Vera Hayward, Emma Brueggeman, Lillian Degner, Helen Friday, May Schwenk, Leota Leach, Lloyd Pasewalk, Reuben Kean and Pearl Reese of Norfolk; Harold Diers, Mina Antisdal, Margaret Long and Ward Rubendall of Madison; Lloyd Mohr, Adah Chivers and Leona Morey of Pierce; Ethel Weatherhait and Dorothy Green of Hoskins.

The program of the evening was well balanced, every number reflecting credit on the musicians and the instructors connected with the Norfolk intermediate branch. The evening closed with a burlesque entitled "The Sleight," a musical joke. The following took part:

Piano—Edyth Nelson, Nellie Schwenk, Oscar Schavland, Oscar Fechner; triangles—Lloyd Pasewalk, Adah Chivers; metallaphone—Leona Morey, Harold Diers; Pops—Elmer Beeler, Carl Zutz; whipsnapper—Grace Brande, Gladys Pasewalk; trumpet—Ward Rubendall; bells—Lloyd Mohr, Margaret Long; castanets—Agnes Zutz, Louise Schavland; zobos—Adah Chivers, Leona Morey; drum—Harold Elley; sleigh—Ida Boeckelman.

SUMMER HERE WITH RUSH

SUNDAY SAW MERCURY AT 94 DEGREE POINT.

STRAW HAT SEASON IS "ON"

Norfolk Was Glad That the Hottest Day of the Season Thus Far Came on Sunday, a Day of Rest—Picnic Had Cool Spot.

[From Monday's Daily.]

Summer opened the season last week in northern Nebraska, the thermometer registering ninety-three degrees Saturday and pushing up to ninety-four Sunday. After many weeks' delay real genuine "hot weather" came on Norfolk with a rush.

By common consent the straw hat season was declared "on" and for the first time this summer Norfolk streets contained a liberal percentage of straw hats of many degrees and shapes.

Most people in Norfolk Sunday were properly thankful that the day was a day of rest, affording an opportunity to become acclimated to the new summer season. Many drove out into the country, fishing parties on the Elk-horn became popular and demands on the livery stables were exhaustive as the hot day were on.

There was one large cool spot in Sunday's sweltering atmosphere. Out in Freythalers' grove the school children of St. Paul's Ev. Lutheran church held their annual picnic, the picnic marking the close of the year's school work. The picnic day in the woods was not alone for the school children for several hundred people spent the greater part of the day in the grove. More than a hundred teams were tied in and about the grounds.

Services were held in the grove Sunday morning. In the early part of the afternoon a special program by the children was given, more than a hundred children taking part. The Concordia band from Hadar attended the picnic and participated in the program. Games and contests for the school children filled the latter part of the afternoon.

Next Sunday the annual children's picnic of Christ Lutheran church will be held. The Norfolk band will furnish the music.

The gross receipts of the picnic were $236.

The weather man promises continued warm air.

PRISONER TURNED LOOSE.

Chief Decides There is No Evidence to Hold Young Man On.

A young girl, apparently under eighteen, distracted beyond reason and with her clothes covered with dirt, was found by a Norfolk hack driver east of the city at 11:30 o'clock Sunday evening. The hackman's attention was called to the girl by the girl's companion, a young fellow in a buggy. The girl would not approach the buggy or the young man and it was more than an hour before the hackman could induce her to enter the hack and be driven to her home in Norfolk. The girl was still distracted to the verge of nervous prostration when the night officers called at the home of her parents. Her companion of the drive was arrested later at a local hotel and placed in the city jail over night. Monday morning the young man, a resident of a neighboring town, was released by Chief Flynn, without further ceremony, and without presenting the case to the court, the chief declaring that there was nothing to it.

TRAIN SERVICE DELAYED

BLACK HILLS SURPLUS WATER INTERFERES BADLY.

A NEW CLOUDBURST AT CODY

Wires Are Torn Down by the Storms and One Train Was "Lost" to Dispatchers' Office—First Train From Deadwood Since Friday, Arrives.

Heavy rains and washouts in western Nebraska continue to seriously interfere with train service, the flood of water reported in the Black Hills country putting all west Nebraska trains hours behind the schedule and tying up equipment.

Thursday night a cloudburst near Cody, Neb., took the wires down and added another washout to delay Northwestern traffic.

Trouble on the Deadwood line continued, no Deadwood trains coming over the main line of the Northwestern Thursday.

At 11 a. m. Friday morning an extra train arrived from Long Pine, where it had been made up to handle the passenger service.

The Chadron morning passenger east was not posted to arrive until late in the afternoon. The Deadwood passenger regularly due at noon was not expected until in the early evening Friday. It represented the first passenger from Deadwood to Norfolk since Wednesday. Where bridges are still out in the Rapid City line it was announced that passengers would be transferred.

General Manager Walters and Engineer A. A. Scheuck left Norfolk Thursday evening for the scene of trouble.

While the wires were out Thursday one Deadwood train was "lost" to the headquarter office for some twelve hours. Broken wire connections has augmented the trouble from washouts.
