

HOPES FOR YANKTON ROAD

SENATOR GAMBLE SAYS SIGNS ARE ENCOURAGING.

HILL IS NOW DOWN IN TEXAS

Senator Gamble Says That, While No Railroad Project is a Sure Thing Until Rails are Built, He Has Hopes for This Plan.

"The Yankton & Southwestern railway project, which contemplates running a line from Yankton to Galveston by way of Norfolk, is progressing in an encouraging way. While no railroad project is a sure thing until the rails are laid and trains running, there seems reason to hope that the Yankton & Southwestern may materialize."

"This was the way in which United States Senator Robert J. Gamble of South Dakota summed up the situation with regard to the railroad line which Norfolk hopes to see built through this section, north and south. Senator Gamble was in Norfolk yesterday afternoon, having left Secretary of War Taft at this point, and he was willing to discuss to The News the chances for the proposed new line of railroad."

"Mr. Hill is at present in Texas and doing splendidly with the project," said the senator. "I am a director in the company and we have hopes that the project may materialize. Mr. Hill assures us that when the time comes for cash-needs, the money will be forthcoming from Cincinnati parties whom he says he will interest in the proposition."

ALL THE LITTLE TAFTS.

An Anecdote of "the Hugest Statesman of His Time."

Saturday Evening Post: Secretary Taft, hugest statesman of his time, took a yellow car in Washington to go to the capitol.

He nearly filled the seat, but at Thirteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue a small boy got on and timidly sat down beside the gigantic secretary.

The small boy wore what was obviously a suit of clothes made over for him from his father's clothes. He was rather proud of it too, for after riding a block or two he said to the secretary: "My mamma made me this suit out of one of papa's."

"Indeed!" said the secretary, "I think it is a very pretty suit."

The small boy looked the big secretary over. "Say, mister," he said, after the survey was completed, "how many of your little boys has to wear your clothes?"

CRAWFORD FOR THE SENATE.

Senator Gamble Says His Candidacy is Practically Announced.

"While Governor Crawford has made no formal announcement, it is generally understood that he will be a candidate for the United States senate to succeed Senator Kittredge from South Dakota."

This statement was authorized to The News by Senator Robert J. Gamble of South Dakota when he passed through Norfolk yesterday enroute to Yankton after having spent a couple of days with Secretary Taft. Senator Gamble said that the faction of the republican party in South Dakota to which he and Governor Coe I. Crawford belong, won everything in sight last year in the face of strong opposition, and that the organization is in excellent shape now to win the senatorial toga from Kittredge. Governor Crawford and Senator Gamble belong to the faction known in South Dakota as the "insurgents," while Senator Kittredge is known as a standpatter.

The trip to Fort Meade and back with Secretary Taft was a frigid one for the South Dakota politicians. There were Governor Crawford and Senator Gamble, Senator Kittredge and Federal Marshal Seth Bullock. The two senators stared at each other in icy politeness all the way.

United States Marshal Seth Bullock looks like the true Deadwood pioneer. He is tall and slender, has a sharp nose and a long moustache.

Harper-Walker.

With the First Congregational church where the ceremony occurred beautifully decorated with flowers and fern leaves and with more than 100 friends present in the church auditorium, Mr. J. Earle Harper of Clearwater and Miss Nina E. Walker of Norfolk were married a little after 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. Rev. W. J. Turner, pastor of the church, officiated.

As the guests came into the church they were greeted by strains of music. The wedding music was played by Miss Fannie Norton at the piano and Mr. Julius Hult at the violin. Before the wedding ceremony Mrs. C. E. Greene of Plainview sang a delightful solo.

The ring service, always impressive, was used. The bridal party advanced to the altar as Lohengrin's wedding march was played. When Mr. Harper stepped to the altar, he was attended by Dr. Herman Walker of Omaha, the bride's brother, as best man.

Messrs. J. C. Stitt, Leo Pasewalk, B. C. Gentle and John Bridge as ushers led the advance of bridal party to the altar. Miss Mary Hardy as flower girl followed, carrying in an American Beauty rose the wedding ring. Miss Nola Walker as maid of honor and Miss Laura Durland as bridesmaid carried pink roses. They were prettily gowned in white.

The bride walked to the altar with her father, Mr. M. C. Walker.

Miss Walker was gowned in a beautiful Persian lawn trimmed with Valenciennes lace. She wore a veil caught up with orange blossoms and carried white roses.

The wedding ceremony, short and impressive, was spoken by Rev. W. J. Turner, Mr. Harper receiving his bride from the father. The bridal party left the church to the music of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Immediately after the wedding a reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harper was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Walker. Here the bride and groom received best wishes and congratulations. A three course breakfast was served to forty guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper left at noon on a short wedding trip by way of Lincoln. They were accompanied to the station by many of the guests of the wedding.

The bride and groom of Tuesday's wedding have been prominent in Norfolk society. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Walker of this city. Miss Walker graduated from the Norfolk high school in the class of 1898 and for several years past taught in the Norfolk schools. She has grown up in Norfolk and has been one of the city's most charming and popular young women.

J. Earle Harper is a native of Plainview. For several years previous to last March he was with the Kiesau Drug company in Norfolk. During that time he organized and operated the Harper Medicine company, building up a creditable business. Last March Mr. Harper left Norfolk, purchasing a half interest in the M. C. Bressler drug store, the only drug store at Clearwater. Mr. Harper is an energetic and successful young business man and is popular with a large number of friends here, who believe he has a fine future before him.

Battle Creek.

Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock Mr. Carl Flister and Miss Lillie Fenske were united in holy matrimony in the Lutheran church by Rev. J. Hoffman. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fenske, sr., one mile east of town. The groom is an industrial and hard working young German, who came here about sixteen years ago from the old Vaterland. The bride is an accomplished young Battle Creek woman and the third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fenske. The new couple will go house-keeping on one of Mr. Fenske's farms near town.

We had splendid showers of rain in this vicinity Monday afternoon.

TRIPP LANDS NEXT YEAR

SENATOR GAMBLE SAYS OPENING WILL BE THEN.

IMPOSSIBLE FOR THIS FALL

Senator Gamble Says That the Lands to be Thrown Open to Settlement Next Year Are Good Ones and He Expects a Good Crowd.

The opening of the Tripp county portion of the Rosebud reservation in South Dakota will not take place until next summer, according to United States Senator Robert J. Gamble of South Dakota, who left the Taft party in Norfolk yesterday afternoon and went to Yankton, by way of Sioux City.

"I had at first thought that the opening might come late this fall," said the senator, "but the department of the interior now says that there are so many allotments yet to be made that the county cannot possibly be thrown open before next spring or summer."

"I look for an immense rush for the Tripp lands when the reservation is opened. The land is good and the settlement of the tier of counties just to the north, along the lines of the new railroad extensions, has already caused a great influx of people into that region."

Senator Gamble said that there were great records made in South Dakota last year, as well as this, in the way of railroad development.
