

NEW TACK ON CITY LIMITS

RESOLUTION MUST BE PASSED BY CITY COUNCIL.

FILED WITH DISTRICT COURT

Instructed That the Ordinance Was Not the Legal Method of Expanding the City Limits of Norfolk, a New Move Will be Made.

The city council will have to take another tack in its annexation program. The general annexation ordinance introduced and passed through two readings by the council two weeks ago was Thursday evening declared by Acting City Attorney Bart Mapes to represent a wrong course of procedure. The council was informed that the situation, instead of calling for an ordinance, under the state statute required a resolution instructing the city attorney to bring annexation proceedings in the district court under petition of the council against the property in question.

A number of residents of outlying districts registered in the annexation ordinance were present at the meeting of the council Thursday evening as remonstrators against annexation. They were represented by Attorney Jack Koehnstein.

After the opinion given by the acting city attorney on the status of the annexation proceedings the remonstrators did not deem it necessary to present their case, though several typewritten remonstrances were filed with the city clerk.

To follow up the new course it will be necessary for the council to pass a resolution outlining the annexation petition which the city attorney is to file with the district court at Madison. This action will probably be taken in a short time, possibly in time to permit action by the district court at the coming term of court.

There is a disposition on the part of the city administration to give the remonstrators reasonable time to present their side of the matter and bring individual cases up for review. It is thought that a fuller understanding of the matter will remove many of the objections which some of the remonstrators entertain.

One important feature connected with the situation is the fact that the property annexed will not have to pay taxes or interest rates on improvements made and bonds voted previous to annexation. And after annexation they could reasonably expect to have a just percentage of city improvements made in the suburban districts.

A HERO LOSES HIS LIFE.

Attempts to Remove Handcar Which Was Obstructing Track.

Watertown, S. D., Oct. 21.—Attempting single handed to remove a handcar that was obstructing the track in front of the westbound Rock Island passenger, Soren Sorenson, a section laborer, was instantly killed. Believing the train to be very late, the section crew left their car on the track, and the train came upon them unawares. A curve shut out the engineer's view. All of the crew with the exception of Sorenson ran, but he stuck to the car until the engine was close upon him. Finding that he could not remove it, he ran, and was about ten feet from the car when the engine struck it and knocked it against him.

MARVIN HUGHITT PLEASED

DELIGHTED WITH NEW PIERRE-RAPID CITY LINE.

IN SPECIAL OFFICERS' TRAIN

President of the Chicago & Northwestern, With Other Officials, Passed Through Norfolk Enroute to Chicago From South Dakota.

For the second time within a few months President Marvin Hughitt of the Northwestern railroad passed through Norfolk. With him were other officials and directors of the road. General Superintendent Braden and Division Superintendent Reynolds of Norfolk accompanied the party in their special train.

President Hughitt and party had come down from the northwest, having made the trip over the new Northwestern line from Pierre to Rapid City, S. D., and the president was enthusiastic in his impressions of that country, tributary to Omaha.

"We found our new line a success, said he, "and we found it running through a splendid country; a fact which we appreciated when we run it there. But that country is growing. I was much impressed with the number of little settlements between Pierre and Rapid City. They are composed of thrifty, well-to-do people; just the sort of people any country is fortunate to secure as pioneers, for they will develop the country just as rapidly as its resources will permit. I think that every little line has a future as an instrument of settling up and building that country. And all that will redound to the advantage of Omaha, for Omaha is the gateway to that section of country."

President Hughitt and party had gone from St. Paul over into South Dakota. With him were vice presidents E. E. Osborn of New York, H. R. McCullough and J. M. Whitman of Chicago; Directors Kimball of Boston, Fargo of New York and Byram Smith and E. C. Carter, chief engineer of Chicago; Assistant General Freight and Passenger Agent Walters of Omaha.

these officials of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha; Vice-president Clark, Traffic Manager H. M. Pearce, General Superintendent Robinson of St. Paul. All these were in the original party and they were met at Rapid City by Engineer of Maintenance A. A. Schenck of the Omaha road and S. M. Braden, general superintendent of the Northwestern at Norfolk, and C. H. Reynolds, superintendent at Norfolk. At Omaha the party was met by R. H. Ashton, general manager of the lines east of Missouri river. The special train, which consisted of five cars, arrived over the Northwestern at 5 a. m. and left for Chicago shortly after.

METHODIST RECEPTION

COMPLIMENTARY TO PASTOR AND PRESIDING ELDER.

ABOUT 200 WERE PRESENT

The Annual Reception Given by Members of the Methodist Church of Norfolk, Was Held for Dr. Ray and Dr. Tindall Thursday Evening.

A reception in honor of Dr. C. W. Ray as pastor and Dr. D. K. Tindall as presiding elder of the Norfolk district, was held Thursday evening at the Methodist church. Over 200 people attended the reception, which was informal in character.

The reception to pastor and presiding elder is an annual affair in the First Methodist church of Norfolk following the fall assignments of ministers at the north Nebraska conference. As a result of having received a new pastor this year, special interest was attached to the greeting extended Thursday evening.

Addresses of welcome were made by C. E. Doughty and W. R. Hoffman, to which the guests of the evening responded. C. S. Hayes presided during the reception program.

Light refreshments were served during the evening.

WILL GET HIS RACE.

Zilmer of Stanton Will be Accommodated, But Must be Patient.

Battle Creek Enterprise: Wm. Zilmer, the Stanton sprinter, who last week issued a challenge to Ed Losey of Battle Creek through The Norfolk News, has placed a check for fifty dollars with that paper as a forfeit for his appearance, the amount to constitute his share of the stake in case the race is run. Mr. Zilmer says that he has now done his part and that the rest is up to Losey. He is ready to face the starter at any time the Battle Creek lad may name, but stipulates that the meeting occur not later than October 25.

George W. Losey, who makes all of his son's racing engagements, says that Mr. Zilmer will get his race, although arrangements cannot be made to pull it off as soon as October 25. For men who know Mr. Losey this is sufficient. He has never yet been known to hedge on any proposition, and if he says that he and his son can not be ready to race by a certain date, it means that there is good reason for the position he takes. For the benefit of the Stanton people, however, it may be well to state that Mr. Losey is the democratic candidate for sheriff of Madison county and neither father nor son can take time at present for a sporting venture. Moreover, Ed Losey has been suffering for a week past from a wound in his foot, caused by stepping on a nail. Obviously a man cannot keep in condition for a race when his training is interrupted in this way.

In this connection Mr. George Losey also makes the very pertinent suggestion that when it comes to the fixing of the place and date for the proposed race he will have something to say. Among other things, he is likely to insist that Battle Creek be the place, inasmuch as the previous meeting was held at Stanton.

INJURED BOTH HIS LEGS

SLATER HAS TWELVE FOOT FALL OFF NEW DEPOT.

BROKE ONE, SPRAINED OTHER

Slater Weighing 230 Pounds Slipped Off the New Roof at the Northwestern Passenger Station Which is Being Built, and Was Hurt.

When William McGinnis, an Omaha slater, fell from the new depot roof Saturday afternoon he paid a heavy penalty for his weight. McGinnis registers 230 pounds on the scales and when he fell down the slippery roof though he lit on his feet at the end of a twelve-foot fall, his legs gave way beneath him.

McGinnis smashed one of his legs and sprained the other. The broken leg represented a very severe fracture of both bones.

McGinnis was employed by the National Roofing company and was one of the men engaged in slating the roof of the uptown depot of the Northwestern. When he slipped on the roof Saturday he shot over the eaves to have his fall of some twelve feet arrested by a cement platform.

The injured man was taken to the office of Drs. Bear and Pilger, where the fracture was reduced. Sunday McGinnis was accompanied to Omaha by Dr. W. H. Pilger.

McGinnis is married. He had been in Norfolk the greater part of last week.

IN FAMILY OF ROOSEVELT

DR. YOUNG'S SISTER GOVERNESS AT WHITE HOUSE.

FAMILY GLAD OF HER RETURN

A Sister of Dr. G. A. Young, Superintendent at the Norfolk Insane Hospital, is Much Loved in Family of the President.

The family of President Roosevelt is said to be happy over the return of Miss Young, their governess. Miss Young is a sister of Dr. G. A. Young of Norfolk, superintendent of the Nebraska insane hospital at this place. Reference to Miss Young is made in a special dispatch from Washington to the St. Louis Republic, as follows:

Mrs. Roosevelt, her daughter, Miss Ethel, and youngest son, Quentin, at present the only members of the presidential family in the white house, are thoroughly enjoying the bracing days of autumn in taking daily excursions and jaunts out into the suburbs and country.

Early in the day—much earlier than when the president is here, for he is kept at his desk by the press of public affairs until late in the afternoon—the first lady of the land, and one or both of her children, drive to the outskirts of the city where they mount their horses. They go far into the country, sometimes spending the whole day there, returning at nightfall, and are glad, indeed, for the little rest which the drive back to the white house gives them before dressing for dinner.

The family is very happy over the return of the governess, Miss Young, who was Mrs. Longworth's governess, and who coached all the children in their early days in their lessons, the languages, and music.

She was with them in their New York home before they came to Washington, and has been absent only a few years, in fact only since Mrs. Longworth made her debut in society and Miss Ethel was enrolled in the National Cathedral school, and the boys all in their various schools.

Now she has returned to finish off the second debutante in the Roosevelt family.

FRIDAY FACTS.

E. B. Kauffman has gone to St. Paul, Minn., on a short visit with relatives.

Col. Frank Hanlon of Omaha is in the city over night to attend a directors' meeting of the Norfolk National bank.

Geo. Brooks, the Bazile Mills magnate, and Tom Hughes, traveling passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific, of Omaha, were in town over night.

George H. Smith of Fort Madison, Iowa, is in Norfolk on a visit with his son, R. C. Smith, and daughter, Mrs. A. N. Anthes. Mr. Smith will remain in Norfolk through the holiday season.

Among the day's out of town visitors in Norfolk were: G. A. Wilkinson, Burke, S. D.; George H. Brooks, Bazile Mills; Gus Raek, DuBois; J. E. Douglas, W. E. Reed, Madison; E. B. Cook, Hastings; Misses Mary Nichols, Winnie Applegit and Daisy Giersdorf, Belgrade.

Norfolk Odd Fellows in attendance at the grand lodge meeting in Omaha this week returned to Norfolk yesterday and today. Those present at the grand lodge meeting from this city were: James T. Wolfkeld, C. E. Doughty, S. D. Robertson, Ray Hayes, George Beels and John Purviance.

E. P. Weatherly was in Creighton Friday.

Dr. Schemel of Hoskins was in Norfolk Friday on his way to Scribner.

Mrs. N. A. Rainbolt is in Omaha on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Rainbolt.

D. Mathewson is in Sioux City. He will probably return to Norfolk Saturday evening.

C. C. Firkins, now of Creston, Iowa, but for several months manager of the Bennett piano store in this city, left at noon for Omaha after a brief visit in Norfolk. "Oley" Firkins is now tuning pianos in Iowa.

Congressman Boyd of Neligh passed through Norfolk Friday noon, returning home from a visit to his constituents in Niobrara and other north Nebraska towns on the Bonesteel line. Congressman Boyd will leave the last week in November for Washington.

Miss Inez Kyner of Omaha is in Norfolk on a short visit, coming to this city from Dixon, where she accompanied the remains of her mother for burial. Mrs. Kyner, many years a resident of Norfolk, died as a result of an operation in an Omaha hospital.

Congressman Moses P. Kinkaid of O'Neill passed through Norfolk Thursday evening, returning to the "Big Sixth" after a visit to Omaha on personal business. Although some congressional representatives of Nebraska have gone to Washington early, Congressman Kinkaid is going to remain at home until after the November election.

The Nebraska university football team will play the Minnesota university at Minneapolis Saturday afternoon.

A little daughter of Carl Uecker, living northeast of Hadar, died Thursday as a result of measles complicated by pneumonia.

City Treasurer Haase, who has been ill with what is thought to have been a slight attack of typhoid fever, will hardly return to the cashier's desk at the Citizens National bank until next week.

Councilman S. W. Garvin, just home from a trip through Iowa and Kansas, says that Nebraska corn is as fully matured as any corn he saw on the trip. North Nebraska has had harder frost and while the southern corn was a little earlier Mr. Garvin thinks that Iowa, Kansas and north Nebraska corn fields will be entered about the same time by the huskers.

South Eleventh street have petitioned the city council to extend the Eleventh street sewer lateral one block farther south, affording them an opportunity to connect with sewer district No. 1. If their petition is granted at the next meeting of the council the Eleventh street lateral will extend a block and a half instead of half a block south of Norfolk avenue.

Chief of Police Flynn has got a "raise." At the time the anti-fee ordinance placed his salary at $70 a month there was a general feeling that Norfolk was trying to get efficient police service too cheap so the councilmen Thursday evening amended last week's ordinance by increasing the chief's salary to $75. On account of the idea of a "merchants' police" not having found general favor Night Officer Kell will perform the extra service and draw $60 instead of $50 a month.

The Wednesday fire that destroyed two barns just south of the Lincoln school building is ascribed by the police to six Norfolk school boys who attend the Lincoln building. To the Chief of Police Thursday afternoon the lads admitted that they had set fire to a celluloid collar in the alley when returning home from school Wednesday noon. The police believe that this may explain the fire of the early afternoon but as the boys were thought to have been entirely innocent of any intention of wrong doing no action was taken against them.

The bad money game, worked to the limit in north Nebraska, has been transferred to the green fields of South Dakota. The "wild cat" twenties were dropped all along the main line of the Northwestern in this state until the territory had been pretty thoroughly covered. In Vermillion, S. D., the bad money swindler posed as a minister. A dispatch from Vermillion says: "A well dressed fellow representing himself to be a Methodist minister in attendance at the annual conference being held here attempted to pass a counterfeit $20 bill at one of the stores here today. Before the police officers were notified the fellow had made his getaway and has not been seen since. The counterfeit was payable by a bank in Georgia."

The Faucett-Carney Candy company of Norfolk will have its first Christmas tree next December. All of the world nibbles candy during Christmas week and the Norfolk candy factory is busy preparing for the rush of its first holiday season. Holiday orders have been coming in to the factory for some time and holiday shipments to dealers will begin by the first of next month. The prospects of a good holiday business are such that the candy company expects to increase its working force for the new season. Christmas candy will be put away in a great variety of Christmas boxes, in sufficient variety to keep pace with the present American demand for novelty. Candy manufactured in Norfolk will be sold in boxes running from quarter-pound to ten-pound boxes. Candy dealers make their greatest demand for holiday candy from Nov. 1 to Dec. 10. Fifty-one people are said to be on the present pay roll of the local candy factory.

PIERRE LINE COST.

Rapid City Rate Hearing Continued to Sioux Falls for October 31.

Rapid City, S. D., Oct. 19.—The South Dakota railroad commission, after a two days' session here, adjourned to meet in Sioux Falls, October 31. There were two representatives of the Burlington, Northwestern and Crouch lines present, while the Milwaukee was not represented. Complaints were heard and the tariff schedules discussed, but nothing definite was accomplished. The business men of the city appeared before the commission and presented their grievances.

A. C. Johnson, of the Northwestern, stated that the road between Pierre and Rapid City had cost $30,000 per mile and the bridge $1,200,000. This fact was cited to show that for the present it would be impossible to lower the rates.

BONESTEEL GETS WATER

DIGGING OF TRENCHES WILL BEGIN MONDAY.

COST TO BE ABOUT $15,000

A Well Sixteen Feet in Diameter and at Least 100 Feet Deep Will be Dug. Capable of Supplying 250 Gallons of Water a Minute.

Bonesteel, S. D., Oct. 19.—Special to The News: The work on excavating for the mains on the water works extension in this city will commence Monday. The material has arrived and the piping is being distributed about the city in the course of the proposed route. A gang of workmen will arrive from Sioux City Saturday or Sunday and the work will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. A large well sixteen feet in diameter is now being dug and it is to be at least 100 feet deep and to be capable of supplying water to the amount of 250 per minute. C. Haakinson & Co., of Sioux City are the construction contractors and Frank Mace of this city has the contract for the well. It will be a great improvement for the town and it will place Bonesteel in better position than ever to care for the thousands of people who will visit it next summer during the rush for land in Tripp county. The improvement will cost in the neighborhood of $15,000.

TRUTH ABOUT POOR FARM

EXTRA WORK WAS PUT UPON COMMISSIONER HARDING.

BEST INTERESTS OF COUNTY

Untrue Statements Have Been Made Regarding Supervision of Madison County Poor Farm—Every Transaction Clean Cut and Business Like.

Battle Creek, Neb., Oct. 16.—Editor News: My attention was called to an article published last week regarding Commissioner John H. Harding.

To the best of my knowledge, and I ought to know, that article is not true and is misleading in many respects. It was no seeking of Mr. Harding's that he should have the supervision of the poor farm alone. I was at the meeting of the county commissioners when the two new members held their first session and know positively that Mr. Malone moved and Mr. Taft seconded a motion to place this arduous task on Mr. Harding, and I know that he objected to it at the time but the vote carried.

Mr. Harding little realized at the time what a load had been taken off of their shoulders and loaded onto his. Now this accounts for all transactions being done at the farm by Mr. Harding and it is well known to the people of this vicinity that the stock-buyers are few. Mr. Broehler, Mr. Hogrefe and Mr. Preece are, or have been, headquarters for those wishing to buy or sell stock. Now to my knowledge there has never been any stock sold here that the highest cash price has not been asked and bids have been positioned until other parties were seen in an honest endeavor to get and do the best possible. Now, take that matter of the steers mentioned. Among others who looked at these same steers with the intention of buying was Mr. Frank Sobotka, Mr. Lyman, Mr. Chas. Sprout, Mr. Preece and Mr. Hogrefe. They were yearling past and we took the best offer and Mr. Hogrefe got them by the head and not by the pound. When they were delivered I saw them weighed just as accurately as cattle are ever weighed and had there been a three or five per cent shrink as is usual the cattle brought more than they would by weight at the price offered. Mr. Harding has always insisted and labored to have the farm earn every dollar it possibly could and know what that dollar was spent for.

Very Respectfully,
C. D. Johnson, Steward.

COACH FROM SIDE LINES?

THAT IS ACCUSATION MADE IN MINNEAPOLIS.

AGAINST THE NEBRASKA COACH

A Newspaper Photographer Who Was Trying to Catch a Snap Shot of the Cornhuskers' Coach, Says Cole Kept Moving in Queer Ways.

Young King Cole was a merry young soul. A merry young soul was he: Did he coach with his head? Did he coach with his arm? Did he coach with a crooked knee? Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 21.—A staff photographer on a local newspaper wrote after the Nebraska-Minnesota football game:

One of my assignments yesterday was to catch a snap shot of King Cole, coach of the Nebraska team, while the game was in progress. It was a hard assignment. When I identified Cole, Nebraska had the ball and it was just the time when expert advice was necessary. It was a tense moment, but Cole was so active that a good photograph was hardly possible. He was doing sort of a turkey trot, raising one foot after the other in rapid succession. So I waited.

As the game progressed I noticed that at crucial moments Cole was possessed by some odd form of activity. Three movements, oft repeated, were particularly noticeable—the turkey trot, a quick knee bend which might bring him from an erect to a crouching position three or four times in as many seconds and a pose which was remarkable for its unnaturalness. Any of the positions he assumed was so unusual that it made him conspicuous from any part of the gridiron.

My films were getting scarce and so I snapped Cole only in the freak attitude which he so often assumed. Some of the spectators at the game saw me making the photograph and said they had been watching the queer actions of the Nebraska coach. They wondered if he was coaching from the sidelines and were inclined to accuse him of violating football rules and ethics.

I wondered, too.

WOMAN FOR TREASURER?

MISS RAYBURN A CANDIDATE IN WAYNE COUNTY.

WOMEN TREASURERS ARE RARE

While Women Are Frequently Elected as County Superintendents, They Are Seldom Put into the Office of the County Finances.

Will Wayne county smash precedent and place in a woman in the county treasurer's chair?

The Wayne woman who will be a candidate for the treasurership either on the democratic ticket or by petition is Miss Zetta Rayburn. If Judge Welch's decision, holding names "written in" on primary ballots to be legal, is sustained then Miss Rayburn's name goes on the democratic ballot.

Women in north Nebraska are frequently elected to the office of county superintendent but election to the treasurership would be an exceptional honor. Miss Rayburn has been employed in the county treasurer's office in Wayne for sixteen years.

In coming out in support of Miss Rayburn the Wayne Democrat says: Do not believe for a moment that it is the purpose of the Democrat to say ought detrimental of the character and business ability of Chas. Beebe, republican candidate for county treasurer, for we all know that even a suggestion that Charley was not all right and a yard wide would fall on stony ground. Neither can any one point the finger of disqualification against Miss Rayburn, for sixteen years of hard, faithful labor has proven the lady's true worth. Wayne county could not put up two more capable candidates for this office; we are all agreed on that proposition, or at least should be, and the only consideration is your personal preference and which is the more entitled to your vote and support. Politics and all considered the Democrat would be a "brute" not to do all it can do decently for Miss Rayburn, and we believe the voters of Wayne county will do the gallant thing by the lady and show their appreciation of her capabilities by electing her to this office for the next four years. No other deduction can be made than that she is entitled to it and worthy of the honor by all that is fair, equitable and just, as between man and woman.

NORFOLK AT HORSE SHOW

FINE PRIZE HORSE NAMED FOR THIS CITY.

IN HONOR OF S. F. ERSKINE

W. H. McCord Named One of His Handsome Horses in Honor of a Prominent Commercial Traveler of This City—Won Three Prizes.

Norfolk won honors in the Omaha horse show. "Norfolk" is a handsome horse owned by W. H. McCord of Omaha. The animal was named "Norfolk" by Mr. McCord in honor of S. F. Erskine of this city. Mr. Erskine has for years been one of the most prominent commercial travelers in the state, being with the McCord, Brady company.

This horse "Norfolk" is an honor to Mr. Erskine, who named him, and to Norfolk, the city in whose honor he was named. For "Norfolk" has won three prizes during the horse show week. The last prize won by "Norfolk" was the second prize for the runabout class. The prize was $50. On the previous day he had won two prizes, including one first prize.

RUN DOWN AT CROSSING.

Osmond Merchant Probably Fatally Hurt by Northwestern Train.

Osmond, Neb., Oct. 21.—While crossing the railroad track in a buggy near town shortly before 8 o'clock, Herbert Becker, a merchant of this town, was struck by the evening Great Northwestern passenger train from Sioux City and received injuries from which he may die. At a late hour this evening Mr. Becker had not regained consciousness.
