CATTLE MEN MUST MOVE WEST

Within Four Years the Raw Prairie in Tripp County of Today Will Be a Garden Spot Such as Gregory County is Now-Activity in the Air.

Dallas and Gregory, the two towns on the Rosebud reservation which CARPENTERS BUSY AT GREGORY have beeen selected as registration points for the Tripp county opening, will begin this very day to hum with lively activity in preparation for the forthcoming land rush.

Tents Will Spring Up. As in the days of the Gregory county rush, tents will spring up and a white city of canvas will picturesquey dot the prairie.

Gregory and Valentine and O'Neill will have a broad white sign, "Notary," ance of the Rosebud country, is up in front of it. There will be a hundred and one for the forthcoming Tripp county land

Gregory and Dallas Crowded Now. Gregory and Dallas are crowded to the guards with people right now who have been living in anticipation of this opening. Many of them drew homesteads in the Gregory county rush and are conducting business enterprises The races were the main feature now. Some have come in to do business during the rush and to draw homesteads or buy relinquishments. A relinquishment is worth a couple hundred dollars. Four Years From Now.

Four years from now Tripp county today a virgin prairie, will be as pretty an agricultural a region as is picturesque Gregory county today. These million acres of land will be dotted with comfortable houses, big barns bursting with grain, and thoroughbred live stock-just as one may see today in Gregory county.

When one sees in Gregory county what has been done to a prairie which four summers ago, it taxes the imagination of man to picture what that
