

ROB HIM OF $50 SHAVE MOUSTACHE

ISAAC RIZAC, AN ASSYRIAN, IS IN HARD LINES.

VICTIM OF HIS CO-WORKERS

A Farmhand Who Has Been Threshing Near Norfolk Lost Coin and Lip Decoration—Sheriff Stucker Searching for Malfaider.

Isaac Rizac, an Assyrian laborer, who has been helping the farmers around the country thresh, has been robbed of $50 and had his moustache partially clipped off by some fellow laborers, who wanted to have some fun with Rizac, but finding the money, thought that they would make a haul.

Rizac is a very peaceful workman and at present is working on a farm eight miles northeast of Norfolk. The parties who robbed him are being hunted for by Sheriff Stucker of Stanton county. Rizac was in Norfolk Saturday and he surely presents a conspicuous personality. He was dressed in a long tailed coat similar to an evening dress suit and his trousers are long and baggy. He wears a small felt hat, drawn down over his eyes.

He is unable to speak the English language very fluently, but is a very agreeable person to get along with, as all the farmers for whom he works will testify.

MUSTACHE SHAVERS ARE IN COURT

ACCUSED OF ROBBING THEIR SYRIAN VICTIM.

CLAIM IT WAS ONLY A JOKE.

Fred Buss, Gus Martin, William Krause and Fred Rathenberg Were Arraigned in Stanton Charged With Robbing Rezk Dirgham of $50.

Stanton, Neb., Sept. 9.—Special to The News: Fred Buss, Gus Martin, William Krause and Fred Rathenberg, the "moustache shavers," were yesterday arraigned before County Judge Cowan on the charge of robbery made by Rezk Dirgham, the Syrian whose moustache they admit clipping. The three men pleaded "not guilty" and their cases were continued until September 28.

Dirgham claims that the four men visited his home in the northwest part of Stanton county after dark and called him out of his house, threw him down and clipped his moustache, took $50 away from him and maltreated him and a pig which happened to be about.

It is understood that the men charged with the robbery admit visiting the Dirgham place but claim that what they did was done as a joke, that no harm was intended and that no money was taken.

Rezk Dirgham, who is a Syrian, and formerly peddled through the southern part of Wayne county and the northern part of Stanton county, has at ways maintained a good reputation. He cannot talk English and is very eccentric in his appearance.

FARMER IN SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Mower Tongue Raises Him in Air and Throws Him to Earth.

Thrown from the seat of his lumber wagon by the tongue of a mower which had become unfastened, Fritz Schroeder, a farmer living a mile east of the city, sustained serious injuries Monday afternoon about 6 o'clock. Mr. Schroeder was driving along the east side of G. W. Schwenk's residence with a mower attached behind his wagon. He drove over a ditch and the mower, tongue unfastened, ran into the farm wagon.

When the tongue of the mower became unfastened it slid down the wagon and raised both Schroeder and the wagon seat into the air. Schroeder was hurled to the ground. His face was lacerated, his shoulder was badly sprained and two ribs on the left side were torn from the chest bone.

Dr. Pilger was summoned and the man was taken home. He was suffering intense pain and early in the evening internal injuries were feared. He was better today.

A Tale of an Ax.

Long Pine Journal: Considerable excitement took place on Main street near the pharmacy. A fireman from Norfolk has been paying attention to a certain man's wife and while the fireman was making a visit at the home of the woman her husband came and an exciting scene took place. The husband picked up an ax and the chase began. When the two men reached the drug store the man with the ax was about ten feet in the rear. Seeing that he was about to lose his game the pursuer threw his weapon and it went crashing through two of the windows in the hardware store. For the balance of the evening the fireman made himself scarce. When he ran into the drug store he was a badly scared man and the chances are that he will keep out of sight for some time, as it is understood that the husband intends to carve him, unless he gets a lady of his own.

THE HOT WINDS HELPED THE CORN

WARM SOUTH WIND BLEW OVER THIS SECTION.

MERCURY UP TO 98 IN NORFOLK

Corn in Its Race Against First Killing Frost Was Aided by the Hot Winds, Long the Foe to the Corn crop. Night Was Cool.

For once the hot wind was received with a smile. For hot breezes from the southland swept over this section Tuesday and the mercury in the thermometers bubbled and rose and rose and rose. And with the rising mercury the corn rose and ripened against the day of reckoning with the first white killing frost.

It was 98 degrees in Norfolk, according to the government thermometer—by far the warmest day of the fall. Once or twice during the summer the temperature has risen to 99 degrees. The wind, though it was hot, brought a certain amount of relief and Norfolk people did not fully realize just how hot it was.

Reports received at the headquarters office of the Northwestern showed that the average temperature over the eastern or Norfolk division was 95 degrees while the maximum temperature in the Black Hills division was 90 in the vicinity of Chadron. Reports received by the railroad officials, who are watching crop conditions closely, was that the hot winds had hurried along the progress of the corn crop and had been a benefit rather than a detriment.

A Cool Night. Tuesday was followed by the finest made night of the year, a full moon combining with the cooling atmosphere to make a delightful evening out of doors which most Norfolk people took advantage of.

HIGH SCHOOL IS GROWING FAST

ALREADY UP TO LAST YEAR'S ATTENDANCE MARK.

MID-YEAR PROMOTION STARTED

Estimated that Norfolk High School Will Have Attendance of 175 by Middle of the Year—Normal Training Draws From Away.

The Norfolk high school is entering on a period of exceptional growth. It is predicted that by the middle of the year the high school will have an attendance of 175 students.

The enrollment figures for the high school last night were 145—within three of the total number of pupils who enrolled during the entire school year of 1907-8 when the year's enrollment was 148.

Start Mid-Year Promotions. Mid-year promotions will be introduced into the high school this year. This system of promotions have been in effect in the grades for sometime but this year a class of twenty eighth-graders will step into the high school in the middle of the year. These pupils will enter on regular high school work. Save for algebra, German and Latin all of the first year classes will be open to them.

No Mid-Year Graduating Class. The Norfolk high school will not, however, follow the example of the big universities and introduce a mid-year commencement. The eighth grade pupils who enter the high school in the winter may complete their high school course in three-and-a-half or in four-and-a-half years. Nearly all will spend four-and-a-half years in the high school.

Normal Training Popular. The normal training course in the high school promises to be popular. It is attracting pupils from away to the Norfolk high school.

No one who is looking for real estate in this city fails to read and consider the real estate ads.
