Events of the Week in Norfolk

The reception given by Mr. and Mrs. George Benedict at their home west of town Friday evening, September 4, on the occasion of the marriage of their daughter, Hazel, to Mr. Harry Wadd, was largely attended, over one hundred guests responding. The popularity of the bride and groom was well attested by the many handsome presents received. An orchestra and danc- ALDEN'S NAME FILED FOR PUR ing were features of the evening. On last Sunday at Pasewalk's grove the St. Johannes church of Norfolk held its first mission fest, an event which was very successful and which was attended by several hundred people. In the morning two eloquent addresses were given by Rev. Mr. Kartenstein of Wayne and Rev. Mr. Geusechen of Leigh. In the afternoon a forceful address was given by Rev. Carl Martin, the local pastor. The Norfolk band furnished the music.

Misses Dorothy Salter, Merle Blakeman. Mabel Odiorne, Clare Napper and Marion Maylard, Thomas Odiorne, Carl Luikart, Leroy Gillette and Donald Brige formed a jolly party who enjoyed an all day picnic Monday out where the Elkhorn and Northfork rivers meet. Miss Mellie Bridge chaperoned the crowd.

A company of ten young people drove to the Yellow Banks on Monday where they enjoyed a picnic. Dorothy Rudat, Floy Faucett, Letha Blakeman, Katherine Witzigman, Carrie Thompson, Lowell Erskine, Ralph Luikart, Warren Beeler, Claude Ogden and Louis Thompson were in this party.
