

MONDAY MENTION.

J. F. Flynn returned from Madison Friday night. Ben Brier of Oakdale visited Norfolk friends last week. Thomas Arthur, an attorney from Logan, Ia., was in Norfolk Saturday. Miss Grace Jackson and sister and Miss Irene Ellwood of Neligh were Norfolk visitors. Miss Edith Estabrook was the guest of Miss Belle Gillespie in Madison over Thanksgiving. J. A. Pauli of Kearney has been in Norfolk on a visit with his brother, P. Pauli, on his way to Tripp county to look over the homesteads, having drawn No. 1294. Among those who came from Pierce for the football game Saturday were: J. F. Rohn, C. McWhorter, A. McWhorter, R. Goff, A. Klug, G. Bartlett, H. Boyce, L. Mohr, W. Lea, A. Bechter, H. Hough, W. McDonald, C. Chivers, L. McWhorter, Spencer Adams. Miss Ethel Doughty is home from Inman. Harry Fuller of Osmond was in the city Sunday. George Schiller and family have returned to Central City. Mr. and Mrs. Gifford of Belden are the guests of T. M. Hall. County Attorney J. A. Van Wagenen of Pierce was in Norfolk Sunday. Judge Eiseley returned Sunday from a business visit of several days to Anoka. Mrs. Kimball Barnes of Omaha went to Madison for a visit after spending Thanksgiving in this city. Rev. H. Fricke returned to Madison Saturday afternoon, after conducting the funeral of the late Fred Schelly. Miss Edith Vileh has returned from a Thanksgiving visit to her sister, Mrs. Fred C. Marshall at Verdigré. Mrs. J. Hauptli and daughter, Miss Ella Hauptli, returned last evening from Omaha, where they visited Mrs. Hauptli's sister, Mrs. Carl Zuelow, who is still at the Methodist hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Willey and son, Glen Willey, returned home today. Mrs. Willey was absent three weeks visiting in Grand Island and Hastings. She was joined by her husband and son at Hastings, where they at Thanksgiving dinner together. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Melcher of Pierce drove overland Monday to visit Mr. Alan Marquardt and Louis Melcher. They intended to return during the afternoon, but remained rather than face the raw northern wind. E. P. Wilson, the Wayne superintendent, was over last week for a conference with Dr. O. R. Meredith relative to the Fourth district of the Christian church. The annual convention will be held in June at Craig. Geo. D. Donaldson of Mitchell, S. D., M. G. Bley of Plainview, H. L. Reams of Wayne and J. C. Newell of Wakefield, all breeders of note in their respective localities, came in Saturday to attend the colt show, remaining in town until Monday noon. Among the day's out of town visitors in Norfolk were: Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Cheney, Creighton; W. F. Lewis, Herrick, S. D.; H. H. Christenson, Stanton; Ed Stevens, W. S. Livingston, Madison; E. G. Edsen, Tilden; H. E. Reed, Madison; J. W. McCann, Dallas, S. D.; F. L. McNow, Winslow; C. S. Smith, Madison; C. H. Buckley, G. F. Johnson, Humphrey; A. S. Becklund, St. Edwards; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hertz, Oscar Kost, Fairfax, S. D.; C. E. Smith, Stanton; Miss Mabel O'Fallon, Pierce; A. P. Young, Battle Creek; Jess Van Norman, Pierce; S. S. Allen, Foster. Will Jay of Lincoln was in Norfolk Saturday and while here disposed of his interest in the Book Store to R. Hall. Howard Cornell while engaged in a wrestling match with Elmer Cook last week, too loose some of the ligaments of his knee. Little Edward Loucks is still improving. New laboratory fixtures for the high school building have arrived in Norfolk. Dr. G. A. Young one day last week gave a short address in Fremont at the tuberculosis exhibit. Phil Hull, who has been in the Methodist hospital in Omaha for some time, is said to be better. C. H. Stewart, recently elected county attorney of Pierce county, will move from Osmond to Pierce. J. J. Welsh, after having a light attack of typhoid fever, was able to be down town this afternoon for the first time in ten days. A national bank statement, showing the condition of all national banks on last Friday, has been called for by the treasury department. Rev. J. F. Poucher of the Stanton Methodist church will deliver one of the addresses at the Knights Templar Christmas observance. Mrs. Arthur Kaun, a daughter of Herman Welch, died Sunday morning at her home in the southwest part of Wayne county. The funeral will be held Tuesday noon from the house. Important work is being done on the county line road south of Norfolk, a three mile stretch is being worked over to give the people in a considerable section easier access to Norfolk. The three-month-old child of Bert Walton died Sunday. The funeral was held at 10 o'clock Monday morning at the home on South Fourth street. A short service was held by Rev. Roy Lucas, pastor of the Christian church. Conrad Bordt, living five miles west of Norfolk, was brought to Norfolk Monday morning to answer a charge filed by Elshet Schroeder, who accused Bordt of being the father of an unborn child. Justice Lambert bound the young man over to the district court under $500 bonds. A petition asking that Judge Williams, recently defeated for railway

Pierce by some of William's admirers and is understood to have been generally signed. Charles Bridge, who is attending school at Oberlin, Ohio, has been in a hospital for some days suffering from blood poisoning which resulted from an injury to his knee about two weeks ago. The knee was hurt in a bicycle fall. Miss Helen Bridge, a sister, has gone to Oberlin. The $25,000 damage suit of W. P. Ferguson against A. E. Cross and the officers of the University Place church, growing out of the removal and trial of Ferguson as pastor of the church, has been dismissed. Ferguson was charged with immoral conduct with Mrs. Cross. During the time he left the church and the time of his church trial, a period of several weeks, Ferguson spent most of his time in Norfolk as an insurance agent. The First Baptist church edifice has been furnished with new modern church seating, pulpit furniture, carpets and matting which adds very materially to the attractiveness and comfortableness of the interior of the building. This improvement has cost the church about $500 of which amount the ladies aid society has provided $150. The young people's society paid for the pulpit furniture and carpets. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gibson have received word from the instructors at the New England Conservatory of music, in Boston, that their daughter, Miss Lois Gibson, was the only member of a large class to receive a perfect grade in her final examination on piano playing. By successfully passing this examination Miss Gibson is enabled to graduate in three years, whereas the regular course is four years in length. Edward Funk of Warnerville, one of the men who has adopted a little boy out of the colony that were recently sent to Madison from New York, had the lad in Norfolk Saturday afternoon. The boy, Millard Bateman by name, had never seen a cow milked until a week ago, but now he's picking up the art himself. He is a bright looking little chap and likes Nebraska. His sister is in the Rowlett home and the two attend the same school. Miss Belle White, who has not left an invalid's chair for two months, died at 6:30 o'clock Monday morning at the home of her father, Abram White. Miss White has always had heart trouble following an attack of inflammatory rheumatism when she was fifteen years old. She was about forty at the time of her death. Short funeral services will be held at the home Tuesday afternoon and the body then taken direct to the cemetery. Miss White's father who survives her, was one of the pioneers of the west, a "forty-niner" in California in the gold rush days. The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock. District court was convened in Madison Monday afternoon by Judge Welch the early part of the afternoon being taken up with reading the docket. The cases of Herrick against the city of Norfolk, of Mrs. Bonney against J. W. Ransom and of the Edwards & Bradford Lumber company against Minnie Wegener were assigned for trial in Norfolk on January 6. Among the Norfolk attorneys present were: Jack Koenigstein, M. D. Tyler, M. C. Hazen, H. F. Barnhart, E. P. Weatherly, J. C. Engelman. The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed C. Engle has recovered from an attack of diphtheria. The little girl was sick only a week, rallying quickly under the constant care of her parents. This is the only case of diphtheria about which there is a certainty. A disagreement exists as to whether another little girl who recently died had diphtheria or quinsy. It is stated by a local physician that the little girl choked to death as the result of a gathering in her throat. The house was placed under quarantine by the city physician and health board as a matter of precaution. T. J. Hughes, the young man who surrendered himself to the Sioux City police with the statement that he had forged his father's name to a check in Norfolk, has been released. A year ago the young man was introduced to the Citizens National bank as W. B. Hughes. He wished to draw a check for $25 on a Wayne bank. "Call up and see if I am good," he said. The Wayne bank said that W. B. Hughes was good. The trouble was that the young man was not W. B. Hughes. The case was referred from Norfolk to President Toy in Sioux City, who visited the young man in jail the last of the week. Word received today is that the young man will not be prosecuted. Its no wedding bells for J. C. Summers of Omaha who passed through Norfolk one day last week on his way from Crawford to meet Miss Emma Carroll of Crawford, who had preceded him by a day. The wedding was to have taken place when they met in Omaha but up to last accounts they haven't met. Summers complained to the Omaha police that the north Nebraska miss had stolen his heart without giving adequate return. She not only took his heart but also his suit case and other property. Summers told the police that it was merely a matter of locating the prettiest girl of eighteen in Omaha. Slightly over five feet high, she has a wealth of golden brown hair, soulful blue eyes and complexion of peaches and cream. When she went through with her own baggage, and incidentally that of Summers, she was togged out in a white lace waist, gray skirt, long black locket with fur collar, hat with long black plumes and dainty black oxfords with brown tops. The Norfolk board of education, acting in conjunction with other school authorities, will ask the next legislative session that the law be amended to account as he graduates who are altain a police court to confer juvenile court powers on the police court. In this way the Norfolk school authorities expect to gain control over a number of boys who have for several years more or less defied the local schools. If the truancy law is brought to bear on these boys and they are forced into school it is soon found necessary to expel them again, the whole process working into the hands of the boys who do not want to go to school and who make trouble when they do go. With a juvenile court in Norfolk these boys could be placed on probation and required to make a weekly report to the court judge. The situation is a little different in Norfolk than in other cities of this size on account of Norfolk being the only town in the state with over 5,000 population which is not a county seat. The Nebraska law at present makes the county court the juvenile court. Several Hundred Are Drowned. London, Nov. 30.—An unconfirmed dispatch from Chee Foo, China, says several hundred were drowned in the collision of two unidentified Japanese passenger steamers. It is rumored that several English and Americans were aboard. The two boats came together in the fog. The Japanese government is endeavoring to identify the boats. Mr. Perdue's Selection. Mr. Perdue's selection for the deputyship is naturally pleasing to the school men of north Nebraska, with whom Mr. Perdue ranks high as shown by his election to the presidency of the North Nebraska Teachers' association and other honors. He has been in this county since 1895, was elected from Tilden and is now serving his second term. Mr. Perdue's new office pays a salary of $1,800 a year. Another advantage arises from the fact that his daughter, Miss Bess Perdue, will probably attend the state university. While Mr. Perdue has not announced positively that he will accept the deputyship, it is known that at this time he intends to take such a course. ARCHBOLD STILL ON STAND. Tells How Standard Swallowed Seventy Corporations. New York, Nov. 30.—John D. Archbold, vice president of the Standard, was on the stand today at the resumption of the federal dissolution suit told of the manner in which the Standard Oil company swallowed seventy corporations. An endeavor was made by the witness to justify the methods used. It is expected that Counsel Kellogg for the government will take the witness tomorrow for cross examination. Teachers' Meeting. Valentine, Neb., Nov. 30.—Special to The News: The East Cherry County Teachers' association was in session here Friday and Saturday and about fifty teachers have been present. There was a program both forenoon and afternoon on Friday with a big banquet at Dethel hall in the evening with sixty present at the banquet. L. C. Sparks of this city acting as toastmaster. A very interesting afternoon session was held Saturday. Miss Lulu Kertz, county superintendent, deserves a great deal of credit on such a successful session, as the arrangement of the whole affair rested with her. Many Buried in Mine. Pittsburg, Nov. 28.—It is reported that 300 men are entombed as the result of an explosion in a mine belonging to the Pittsburg and Buffalo company at Mariana, Pa. Officials Say 200 Men in Mine. Officials of the mine stated late this afternoon that there were 200 men in the mine at the time of the explosion. It is not known whether the explosion was due to powder or gas. Mine Burning. It is impossible to get a cage down the main shaft where the timber and wreckage are burning fiercely. Rescue parties are trying to enter the mine through the air shaft and through entrances of other mines. The rescuers, however, have a long way to go and it is feared they will find the way blocked by wreckage. Feared Men Are Suffocated. It is feared that the men entombed are suffocated. Crowds of relatives of the imperilled men are around the opening of the mine, women and children sobbing in grief. Officials are rushing a party of rescuers equipped with necessary tools, to the scene of disaster. The explosion carried a heavy cage out of the shaft and threw it 300 feet from the mouth. Two men on the cage were killed. One was decapitated. A fan house was partially wrecked and the fans stopped, shutting off the air supply. It is not believed that any of the entombed miners can escape. BOSTON SHOCKED. Earthquake Hits Studious Old Town. Boston, Nov. 28.—Early today an earthquake shock was felt here. It lasted ten seconds and was accompanied by rumblings. This was of the longest duration of any earthquake that ever was felt here. HEPBURN WILL CONTEST. Iowa Congressman Not Content With Reported Results. Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 28.—Congressman Hepburn announced today that he would contest the election of Jameson, Democrat, who is said to have defeated Hepburn. Hepburn refuses to accept defeat. U. S. COURTS AND RUSSIAN PLOTS. Attorney Seeks Contempt Citation Against Russian Witnesses. Chicago, Nov. 30.—Attorney Rigby for Russia in the attempt to extradite Christian Rudvitz on the charge of murder, asked Federal Judge Bethea for a citation of contempt against Martin Burrow, a witness who refused ful he will ask for similar citations against Lonsou Gorou and Adolph Nerman, witnesses who refused to give the names of others implicated. FUNERAL Fred Schelly. The funeral of Fred Schelly, largely attended by the friends made during some twenty-five years residence in this city, was held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from the family home at 109 North Seventh street. Members of the Sons of Herman and of the Fraternal Order of Eagles attended in a body. Funeral services were delivered by Rev. Edwin Booth, pastor of the First Congregational church, and by Rev. Mr. Fricke, of Madison. The ritual of the Sons of Herman was used in the services at Prospect Hill cemetery. The pallbearers were: C. F. A. Marquardt, August Brummund and John Weidenfeller from the Sons of Herman, and H. C. Matrau, W. F. Ahlman and E. M. Ziesche. L. M. Gaylord. Laid to rest in the cemetery in which he has for many years taken a constant and active interest as secretary of the Prospect Hill Cemetery association, L. M. Gaylord was buried Saturday afternoon under Masonic auspices. The funeral was held at the Methodist church at 2:30 o'clock. The sermon was delivered by the pastor, Dr. C. W. Ray. The funeral was very largely attended. The pallbearers, taken from the Masonic order, were: F. A. Beeler, G. N. Beels, G. T. Sprecher, W. H. Widaman, A. N. McGinnis and George A. Peters. Adelia Leu. The funeral of little nine-year-old Adelia Leu was held at 10 o'clock Friday morning from the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Leu. The funeral was private. The services were in charge of Rev. J. P. Mueller, pastor of Christ Lutheran church. The pallbearers were: Fred Leu, Fred Lehman, William Leu and Fred Nordwig. Mrs. August Druck. Mrs. August Druck was buried Friday afternoon, the services being held at the home at 1 o'clock and at St. Paul Ev. Lutheran church at 2 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. John Witte. The pallbearers were: Otto Zuelow, C. H. Krahn, Herman Winter, Henry Klug, J. W. Oertwich and Venus New. PRISONER BREAKS AWAY. Alleged Rosebud Horse Thief Tries to Escape Fairfax Jail. Fairfax, S. D., Nov. 27.—Special to The News: While Deputy Sheriff Morrison was giving Johnson, the alleged horse thief, an airing, the latter took advantage of and rushing past him made a break for liberty. Johnson ran across the street and through the veterinary barn, followed closely by the sheriff who it seems was unarmed. The fleeing prisoner was met in his flight by Liveryman Allen, returning from supper. Allen commanded Johnson to stop, and the sheriff coming up behind the prisoner was caught and returned to jail. New Department Store at Lynch. Lynch, Neb., Nov. 27.—Special to The News: Joseph Pravecek recently sold his store and building to Mr. Grant, who also recently purchased the Hoffman store, and an inventory is now being taken. It is understood that the Hoffman and Pravecek buildings, which stand side by side, will be connected by an arch way and a regular department store opened up in the near future. Messrs. Pravecek and Hoffman were the first two merchants to locate in Lynch. SATURDAY'S HORSE SHOW. Sam Kent Gathers in a First and Third, Frank Perry a Second. A large and interested crowd of farmers and horsemen attended the initial exhibit of high class draft horses held in Norfolk Saturday afternoon, this new feature in Norfolk being introduced by G. L. Carlson, a local breeder of Percherons and a graduate of an agricultural college. Preceding the showing of horses Mr. Carlson gave a talk, illustrated by charts, on hock and pastern conformation and the results of tests made by the British government and extending over a period of eight years to settle various questions regarding the draft horse. His hearers were interested to learn that seventy-six per cent of the pulling power of a horse was performed by the hindquarters, that belishes were invariably caused by defectively born or constructed joints, that a draft horse must have weight just as a locomotive to be capable of pulling a load must have weight. Mr. Carlson paid tribute to the men who had brought to perfection various breeds of cattle and horses. Among the exhibits was Nicolas, Mr. Carlson's prize winner Percheron, and a 2,240 pound imported mare that is said to enjoy the distinction of being the only draft mare in the United States that has produced a $2,000 yearling. The prizes, the competition being open to foals of Nicolas, were awarded to the following owners of colts: Sam Kent, first and fourth; Frank Perry, second and fifth; W. J. Kuebel, third; Ilgen brothers, sixth; George Benedict, seventh. There were twenty showing than was made at any county fair in the state this year. Next year it is proposed to offer prizes for draft foals the progeny of any horse in this or the four adjoining counties. Fifteen Years for Bank Wrecker. Pittsburg, Nov. 28.—William Montgomery, former cashier of the Alleghany National bank, who was convicted of looting the institution of more than $1,000,000, was today sentenced to fifteen years in the Western Pennsylvania penitentiary. Tripp County Townsites. Dallas, S. D., Nov. 30.—From a staff correspondent: Judge Witten, superintendent of the recent Tripp land drawing, arrived in Dallas again last night to take up the work of picking the government townsites. Judge Witten left Lawton, Okla., November 25. He broke his journey in Kansas City and ate Thanksgiving dinner with his mother. Townsites by Thursday. Judge Witten expects to complete the work of locating the government townsites in Tripp county Thursday. On account of a heavy snow here—three inches and still falling—he has decided to postpone the drive over the reservation until tomorrow. Supreme Judges Are Named. Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 30.—Special to The News: W. B. Rose of Lincoln, Judge Fawcett of Omaha, J. L. Root of Plattsmouth and J. J. Sullivan of Columbus were today named as additional judges of the supreme court by Governor Sheldon. W. B. Rose is deputy attorney general. He was chairman of the Republican state central committee two years ago, during the campaign in which Governor Sheldon was elected, and last winter was a candidate against Ross Hammond of Fremont for appointment as internal revenue collector for Nebraska. Judge Fawcett is a prominent Omaha attorney, at present one of the supreme court commissioners. J. L. Root is a supreme court commissioner. He was a candidate a year ago for judge of the district in which Plattsmouth is located and has been a member of the legislature several times. J. J. Sullivan is one of the most prominent Democrats in central Nebraska. He was formerly a judge of the supreme court. He is the only Democrat to secure a place under the new law. The appointments are made in conformity with the provisions of the constitutional amendment adopted at the last general election, enlarging the supreme court from three to seven judges. The constitutional amendment increases the salaries of the supreme judge from $2,500 a year to $4,500, and requires that all judges live in Lincoln. The Value of a Kiss. Judge Welch and a jury at Madison may be called on to determine the value of a kiss unlawfully taken. Mrs. Adrain Craig, suing George Benedict, values it at $10,000. And she wants to collect. Mr. Benedict, on the other hand, is alleged to have placed a value of forty cents on a kiss and a hug. For this and other alleged remarks he is sued another $10,000. This suit, which was filed in the district court at Madison last week, involves some of the most prominent families in Madison county and the occasion for the suit or any events which may have led up to it are generally regretted. The Craig and Benedict homes are west of the city. In Mrs. Craig's petition she recites that on the night of about October 10 Mr. Benedict came to her home in the absence of her husband and asked her to go buggy riding, which she did not want to do. Mr. Benedict is further stated, said that her husband was in Norfolk and that he wanted her to go to town and persuade him to come home. Other conversation along the same line is set forth, Mrs. Craig refusing to leave the house. Then it is charged that Benedict grabbed Mrs. Craig in his arms and kissed and hugged her. For this Mrs. Craig asks $10,000 damage. The second claim for $10,000 is based on alleged slander. Mrs. Craig charges that on or about October 20 in the presence of a prominent family of the neighborhood Mr. Benedict admitted that he had kissed and hugged her and moreover that he said that he would be willing to pay forty cents if Craig thought it worth that much. Other alleged slanderous remarks are also set up. Mrs. Craig is a young woman and her husband is one of the most prominent young farmers of this section. She is a daughter of Samuel Thatch, a prominent Madison county pioneer. Benedict is a successful farmer and a man of about fifty years. A daughter of his recently figured as the heroine in an elopement. Mr. Benedict admits the visit to the Craig home, but denies any wrong doing or any intention of wrong doing. Mrs. Frankie Craig's suit was filed by Attorney J. C. Engelman. The firm of Mapes & Hazen will probably be engaged by Mr. Benedict. The case was not filed in time to be heard at the coming term of court. Disagreement in Indian Whiskey Case. The first of the Niobrara citizen Indian liquor cases has resulted in a disagreement of the jury in County Judge Calvin Keller's court at Center. The charge was that John Forester, a Niobrara saloon keeper, had sold a half pint of whiskey to a citizen Indian, William Bear. The case was legislation against Indians who have severed their tribal relations. Some ten or fifteen cases have been filed against Henry Carney and John Forester, both Niobrara saloon keepers. The jury in the first case was out from 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon until midnight, when it was discharged. A case against Forester on the charge of selling whiskey to Dave Campbell, another citizen Indian, has been set for 10 o'clock Thursday. The cases are being prosecuted by County Attorney Berryman, assisted by Attorney E. A. Houston and Assistant District Attorney Lane of Lincoln, representing the government. Attorneys Fred Free of Plainview and H. F. Barnhart of Norfolk appear for the defense. Mr. Barnhart returned home yesterday, Assistant District Attorney Lane and three special United States agents also passing through the city. The case of the state rests on a state law which prohibits a licensed saloon keeper from selling liquor to minors, Indians, insane people or habitual drunkards. The attorneys for the defense at Center raised three points, that the Indian's citizenship made such discrimination unconstitutional, that the saloon keeper's license was not legally passed making him a licensed saloon keeper, and that he really had not sold the whiskey in question anyway. Mrs. Jarmer to Sue Boche. Herman Boche, if present plans do not miscarry, will be sued in a few weeks by Mrs. Frank Jarmer for the murder of her husband on May 1, 1907. Damages amounting to a good many thousand dollars will be asked for. Mrs. Jarmer will urge that through Boche's act she was deprived of the support of her husband. Attorney J. C. Engelman went to Madison today to start action before County Judge Bates to have Mrs. Jarmer named as administratrix of the Jarmer estate in order that the contemplated action may be brought in the district court. Jarmer left no property. His widow has supported herself by taking in washing. Herman Boche is well-to-do. Since his trial he has been living quietly on his farm south of the city, waiting the result of his appeal to the supreme court from the verdict of manslaughter returned against him on the charge of killing Jarmer. Hoarse coughs and stuffy colds that may develop into pneumonia over night are quickly cured by Foley's Honey and Tar, as it soothes inflamed membranes, heals the lungs, and expels the cold from the system. The Kleasau Drug Co. If a boy is healthy, he can make a clean room look in ten minutes as though a cyclone had passed through it. GUILITY OF COUNTERFEITING. Passing counterfeit money is no worse than substituting some unknown worthless remedy for Foley's Honey and Tar, the great cough and cold remedy that cures the most stubborn coughs and heals the lungs. The Kleasau Drug Co. "He is full of himself" is the way a woman recently described a conceited young man. And, by the way, isn't it well put? Foley's Urino-Laxative cures chronic constipation and stimulates the liver. Urino regulates the bowels so they will act naturally and you do not have to take purgatives continuously. The Kleasau Drug Co. There is a fairy tale told to the effect that a business man has twice been saved from the sheriff by his wife going down into her sugar bowl, and bringing out money she had saved by keeping a cow. MRS. McRAINEY'S EXPERIENCE. Mrs. M. McRaney, Prentiss, Miss., writes: "I was confined to my bed for three months with kidney and bladder trouble, and was treated by two physicians but failed to get relief. No human tongue can tell how I suffered, and I had given up hope of ever getting well until I began taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. After taking two bottles I felt like a new person, and feel it my duty to tell suffering women what Foley's Kidney Remedy did for me." The Kleasau Drug Co. Organize Against the Speaker. Springfield, Ill., Nov. 30.—Republican members of the lower house of the legislature arriving in the city today have organized against the speaker. One leader is declared to have fifty votes pledged. Forty-five are needed to control the caucus. Surrender by Telephone. Chicago, Nov. 30.—Two alleged counterfeiters surrendered by telephone to secret service men today. It is alleged that they have been passing spurious $5 bills. Three thousand dollars' worth, clever imitations, are said to have been confiscated. SHAH HIDES BEHIND COUNCIL. Persian Ruler Would Shift Blame for Broken Pledge to People. Teheran, Nov. 30.—The Shah today summoned a council of state with the idea of making it assume the responsibility of his repudiation of his pledge to call a parliament. The council consists of forty reactionary aristocrats. For Next Year's Championship. The 11 to 0 victory of the Norfolk second team over the Pierce high school Saturday afternoon at the driving park and the work of the junior eleven was encouraging to everyone who wants to see a championship eleven here next year. Norfolk won a touchdown in either half, playing like an eleven of veterans. Rex Beeler's work won special comment. Norfolk loses but three members of the first eleven next year, Lowell Eskridge at quarter, Hans Anderson at righthalf and Roy Hibben at center, graduating. The second team loses only Earl Lynde at quarter. And the material from the second eleven will
