

PLAN RACE MEETINGS.

President Caley and Secretary Ryneanson Re-Elected.

ANNUAL CIRCUIT MEETING HERE.

Neligh, Stanton, Pierce, Creighton, Madison and Norfolk Represented. O'Neill Drops From the Circuit—Albin Raps at the Door Gently.

With O'Neill dropping out and with Neligh, Pierce, Stanton, Norfolk, Creighton and Madison represented, the annual meeting of the North Nebraska Short Shot Racing circuit was held Monday afternoon at the Oxnard hotel.

The circuit towns were represented by the following delegates, President Caley presiding: J. S. Hancock, Stanton; W. W. Cole, Neligh; H. H. Mohr, Pierce; P. M. Barrett, Norfolk; F. J. Beckmaster, Creighton; J. L. Ryneanson, Madison.

The old officers were unanimously re-elected soon after the gathering met.

ROSEBUD GIRLS WANT MEN.

Two Fair Claimholders Not Satisfied With Suitors They Found in Dakota.

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Help! Here's a new wall from the Rosebud reservation in Tripp county, South Dakota. It is aimed at Chicago bachelors. Girls are in distress. There are two of them. They want husbands, and by the way of dowry have 160 acres of land each.

These girls, Rose Freeman, who is but eighteen years of age, and Blanche Bates, four years her senior, were the first of their sex to go to the reservation after winning claims. They yearn for husbands.

So they have written a letter to Chicago, addressed to William Carroll, 178 North State street, vice president of the Rosebud club. They inclosed their photographs.

"We came out here to get land given us by the government and to find husbands that were good and kind and true," says the letter. "We found good, rich land. But we are homesome. We have suitors that would make girls east of us jealous as far as numbers are concerned. But

SCAVENGER ACT FOR BOYD.

County Commissioners Figure Up Year's Expenses.

Butte, Neb., Jan. 16.—Special to The News: The board of county supervisors are in their first regular session. N. H. Reed of Butte was elected chairman. The only new member on the board is Fred Hascho, a substantial farmer from near Spencer.

The time of this august body has been taken up in making an estimate of the expense of the county for 1909. They also passed a resolution adopting the scavenger act for Boyd county.

N. E. Gardner and wife returned from Boise, Idaho, and will again embark in the banking business in the reservation.

Alliance in the Fight.

Wanted, by the Alliance delegation, the 1910 freemen's convention.

Wanted, by the Fremont delegation, ditto.

The freemen's convention in Norfolk this week will be enlivened by a contest on the floor of the convention over the convention city of next year.

That Fremont will have opposition in plucking the plum was indicated by the arrival in Norfolk Monday noon of the Alliance delegation, active and convention hunting.

The Alliance delegation, the first of the visiting freemen to arrive, consisted of M. O. New, George Snyder, Joseph Baskins, F. D. McCormick, W. O. Barnes, W. S. Ridgell, Clarence Brunell and J. W. Guthrie. Mr. Barnes is chairman of the board of control.

Alliance has never entertained either the convention or the state tournament. This, they figure, gives them a claim ahead of Fremont. Alliance is a west Nebraska town of 5,500 people, its distance from the center of population may be against it.

For the Tournament.

It is understood that North Bend and Fremont will ask for the summer tournament.

Delegates Come Tuesday.

Delegates in considerable numbers will not arrive until Tuesday noon and evening. The first delegations will come in at 10:30 over the M. & O. A. band will meet this and all later trains. County Clerk E. A. Miller of Kearney, state secretary, will arrive Tuesday morning.

Cleland Will Speak.

The name of J. C. Cleland of Fremont was inadvertently omitted from the list of banquet speakers Saturday. He is an ex-president and has been called the "father of the state organization."

THIRTY BELOW AT CHADRON.

Some Cold Weather During Recent Drop in Mercury.

Chadron, Neb., Jan. 18.—Special to

The News: The ancient and wide reputation of Chadron's weather man for variant weather and sudden climatic changes is still a worthy fact for consideration. Falling down to 20 below zero, the mercury elevated to the height of 28 above in twenty-four hours, and the deep snow which yesterday was drifting rapidly under the persuasion of a cold north wind is now melting and forming gentle streams to please the fancies of the soft southern zephyrs. It is only hoped that the present conditions may remain long enough to allow the weary plumber to wade through the cellar lakes to mend the broken victims of the last "freeze."

Northwest Weddings.

Judge Bates at Madison Sunday married William A. Pruehar and Miss Emma A. Lestina, both of Madison. During the week licenses were issued to Lester L. Reed and Miss Pearl A. Stinson, both of Meadow Grove, and Harvey Kuhlerts and Miss Lena Rinkel of Battle Creek.

Sewer Question at Chadron.

Chadron, Neb., Jan. 18.—Special to The News: The sewer question is still the main issue in Chadron. The proposed cost, from the estimates offered by the city engineer, is about $16,500. It is probable, however, that bonds to the amount of $18,000 will be voted at the next municipal election.

Jensen Fights at Gregory Friday.

It is in Gregory, S. D., and not at Dallas, that "Kid" Jensen of Norfolk will meet Davis, the Rosebud fighter, next Friday night. A story from the Dallas News has created some confusion in this regard. The fight is one in which Norfolk ring followers are intensely interested and will take place at Gregory Friday.

To get the match Jensen had to agree to stop Davis in eight rounds. He will try to carry out the contract but even Jensen admits that he will have work ahead. Davis is the man who gave Jack O'Leary, late of Norfolk, the "knock-out" in two minutes. Jensen's friends have no idea that Jensen will duplicate this performance and look for the fight to be anything but a farce.

Jensen is at Burke, S. D., training for the match.

Maud in Fairfax.

Fairfax Advertiser: While shoeing a horse belonging to Jacob Benz, Saturday afternoon, Robert Weidner was thrown under the animal's feet and severely dealt with. After walking back and forth over "Bob's" prostrate form a few times, the animal in "Maud" fashion banged him against the side of the building. When Robert returned to consciousness, he found himself in a snowdrift in front of the shop where friends had carried him and were applying restoratives. It was two or three days before he was able to resume work and he still feels the effects of his unpleasant experience. Those who witnessed the accident say that Robert may be thankful that he was injured no worse.

A. R. LEE DIES AT BUTTE.

One of Boyd County's Oldest Settlers Passes Away.

Butte, Neb., Jan. 18.—Special to The News: A. R. Lee, one of Boyd county's earliest settlers, died at his home in Butte at the advanced age of seventy-eight years. He leaves a wife, one daughter, Mrs. Vargusson of Rock county, Nebraska, and four sons. Mr. Lee was an Odd Fellow in good standing.

The Boyd county board of supervisors today appointed the Butte Gazette the official paper for the ensuing year.

Lions That Roam in Custer County.

Ainsworth Star-Journal: Ever since the editor of the Star-Journal can remember about Custer county the mountain lion has never failed to make its appearance some where in that county during December of each year and to keep up its mauling depredations until the balmy days of spring should drive it away. Custer is a peculiar county, in that respect—much worse than Logan just west of it, where Jess Gandy roams at will, and where they go by sun time instead of by railroad time as the sun is so much nearer. If they could only get a sea serpent to go splashing up and down Mud creek in Broken Bow, surely their joy would reach no limits. Wonder what kind of booze they have over in Custer county, any way. Its effect seems to be marvelous at certain times of the year. This last one was seen near Oconto—seen by a commercial traveler who was driving from Oconto to Broken Bow. It was lying in the middle of the road, and when he approached, the animal got up with a murderous growl and slunk away—its eyes blazing the meanwhile like two full moons. The commercial club of Broken Bow is interesting itself in the matter and an organized effort will be made to run the varmint down. They say that Oconto is the only place in Custer that has saloons, but Broken Bow was always noted for handy and convenient drug stores.

Long Pine Business Change.

Long Pine, Neb., Jan. 18.—Special to The News: J. E. Kirkwood has sold out his interest in the Brown County Supply company to T. Hatch-kiss of Fremont. The business will retain the name of the Brown County supply company.

Went Shopping for a Husband.

Chadron, Neb., Jan. 18.—Special to The News: The citizens living in the vicinity of Deadorse creek report that Miss Clara Dean, one of their most prominent young ladies, left early Saturday morning for Chadron to do her regular shopping, but after waiting in vain for her return, her friends received the news of her marriage in Hay Springs, where she had gone for larger game than the Chadron shops afforded.

SUNDAY SHOW AT CLEARWATER.

First Sunday Night Show Plays at Clearwater.

Clearwater, Neb., Jan. 18.—Special to The News: Clearwater made her debut as a Sunday theater town last night. The Wyoming Girl company that played at the opera house Friday night and at Ewing Saturday night were so pleased with their reception here and the packed house, where standing room was at a premium, that they advertised to return and give a Sunday night performance. A farce comedy vaudeville of a distinctly moral tone was announced, but as Clearwater people have not become accustomed to the novelty of the Sunday night theater the house was not so crowded as at the Friday night performance.

Concert at Long Pine.

Long Pine, Neb., Jan. 18.—Special to The News: The Standard Male quartette rendered a musical program as the second number of the lecture course at the M. E. church. To say the entertainment was grand, would be putting it too mildly, as it seemed these gentlemen were as near perfection in the musical line as was possible.

Among the day's out of town visitors in Norfolk were: Otto Stroberger, Creighton; A. House, Spencer; R. Ruhlow, Pierce; H. Richardson, Wayne; Fred Weikle, Winside; A. E. Bard, Creighton; W. Mitchell, Plainview.

Otto Stroberger of Creighton, a director in the Battle Creek Mutual Insurance company, was in Norfolk yesterday enroute home from Battle Creek, where a meeting of that association was held. Other delegates from Creighton who were in the city were S. O. Campbell, Matt Jensen, Tom Dorsey.

Grand Island will be represented at the freemen's convention here by eleven delegates.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a social meeting at the home of Mrs. Nix Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Everybody cordially invited.

Charles Thompson of Oakdale, who is working for the Nebraska Telephone company installing telephones, will move to this city as soon as he can secure a dwelling.

At the annual meeting of the Norfolk Commercial club, at which time a child may deposit any amount from one cent up. Each child depositing is furnished with a card on which the teacher receipts each deposit as it is made. She keeps a book in which she enters the deposit and then turns the entire amount over to the superintendent who gives her a receipt for the total amount deposited with her. The superintendent then sends the janitor with the deposit to the treasurer of the board of education who receipts him for the amount. In this manner, each teacher keeps an account with the individual pupil; the superintendent, an account with each teacher; and the treasurer only with the superintendent.

A child desiring to withdraw all or any amount of his deposit can do so any Monday morning by presenting his check signed by the pupil himself and countersigned by the parent and superintendent. The amount drawn is likewise entered on the pupil's card and the balance carried forward so that the child can see at a glance the amount to his credit. The first deposit, amounting to $32.68, was made Monday morning, October 12. The deposit October 19 was $40.46 and so on until now there is in the hands of the treasurer $266.35 belonging to the school children. Of this amount $264.59 is invested by order of the board in school and county warrants drawing 7 per cent interest. The pupil will receive the entire amount of interest received which will be apportioned by the treasurer at the close of the school year, each child getting credit for his proportionate share of the interest determined by the amount of his deposit. During the three months, in which the system has been in operation only a small amount has been withdrawn, several of the children drawing their checks the Monday before Christmas, but not to any great extent. The amount deposited by the superintendent December 14 was only $6.39, but January 4 it again was up to $21.42, which seems to be an average weekly deposit. About 50 per cent of the pupils in the school deposit with their teachers, the percentage being largest in the lower rooms where possibly 90 per cent of the pupils avail themselves of the privilege. The percentage decreases as you go up in the grades, being lowest in the high school.

As before stated, the plan is not to get pupils to hoard up money, but to teach them to save. It also gives them some idea of doing business. The patrons of the school also take a great interest in the system, so there can be no doubt of the ultimate success of the project. Professor Gilbert, who has done so much for our schools in the short time that he has been here, explained the plan fully and ably to the pupils so that even the smallest tot in the schools understands it perfectly and can tell you all about it.

Leop year failed to give a good account of itself in Madison county. County Judge Bates' record shows that the marriages in the county were slightly less in 1908 than in 1907, despite the fact that the year just closed was supposed to have had the advantage of the leap year proposals. County officials have pointed out, however, that leap year proposals do not necessarily mean leap year marriages and that leap year will show results in a record list of marriages in 1909. The first two weeks of the new year witnessed seven marriages in the county.

Omaha Bee: The chairmanship of the executive committee of the Commercial club for the coming year lies between W. M. Burgess and W. H. Bucholz. It is certain that the chairman will be chosen from among the committeemen who have been re-elected and the choice among these is narrowed down by various circumstances to the two named. Burgess is thought to have the better chance. There are several others who would be likely candidates, but whose private affairs would render it impossible for them to serve. Either Edgar Allen, T. A. Fry or C. H. Pickens could have the position if he desired it, but it is declared that none of these does.

The biggest tax payer in Madison county, aside from the corporations, is believed to be a woman. It is Mrs. L. A. Stuart of Lincoln, president of the Madison state bank, who formerly lived in Madison and who has extensive land holdings in the county, who is reputed to pay more taxes into the county treasury than any other individual. It will be recalled that something of a stir was created in New York City, when it was disclosed that a majority of the ten biggest personal tax payers were women, the suffragettes at once seizing on the fact as a campaign argument. The biggest tax payer in the county is the Northwestern railroad, which pays $8,457.88. Next to the railroads come the banks. At least one bank pays as much as $200 a month taxes to County Treasurer Peterson.

Plain Facts on the Rosebud.

Chester Slaughter Tells Chicago Winners About Actual Conditions.

Chicago Tribune: Despite the announcement that a matrimonial bureau has been started in connection with their organization, members of the Rosebud association were none too enthusiastic over their prize winning when a meeting in King's restaurant adjourned yesterday afternoon.

Chester Slaughter of Dallas, S. D., was invited to explain conditions in the "promised land" in Tripp county, and when he finished talking some of the Chicago prize winners would have disposed of their holdings for a song, and others plainly indicated they would make no attempt to prove up their claims.

His talk was a rude shock to the old and young, married and single, good looking, and indifferent men and women assembled in the dining room, but all came away feeling satisfied that he brought information that could not have been gathered in any other way. It followed the reading of several letters from bachelors seeking wives to help share their burdens in the unsettled country. The letters had put the gathering in a good humor, and, although they seemed to be taken lightly several young women were seen to take notes, and Vice President J. I. Carroll said they would be referred to the matrimonial bureau.

"Now, don't think you are going to fall into a bed of roses out there," began Mr. Slaughter. "Conditions there remind me of the cartoon I saw in today's issue of the Tribune. Some of the women are bound to soil their hands and get cold feet. They are going to miss their steam heated flats, their theaters and all the other advantages they have in Chicago. In South Dakota it will be a case of bustle."

"In Chicago when you want a bath all that is necessary is to turn on the hot water faucet and you are prepared. On the reservation you will have to haul water for a mile and a half or so on a sled, and if you insist on that bath you can go to some pool and skim off the moss and other stuff, chase the water snakes away and plunge in. But out there one doesn't need to take a bath often."

"And say, when claimers tell you they will get you a claim on the line of a railroad they are handing you 'hot air.' There is only one railroad there and it merely touches the border of Tripp county. However, people are thriving, and a man and wife can live comfortably in a mud and plaster hut that can be built cheaply. The land eventually will become valuable, but it's going to take time, and its worth what the government is asking for it. But if your claim is numbered over

1,500 I would advise you to forget about your prize.

"Five thousand allotments of 160 acres each were awarded, but there are only 3,937 sections of that acreage altogether, and only about 1,500 of these plots are desirable land. If you are full of grit and will stick you will make out all right, but don't come out under the impression that you are entering upon a vacation."

Members of the association asked the speaker numerous questions regarding the Rosebud county, and his answers indicated that he is thoroughly familiar with it. Some of the places indicated as desirable by members he declared were sandy and of little value. An investigating committee soon will be appointed to visit Mr. Slaughter and have him show them over the property.

More information about the district was given in a letter from James V. Putney, owner and publisher of the Tripp County Journal, who seeks business, and, incidentally, a wife from the association. After telling how valuable his paper would be to the members of the association, Mr. Putney adds this:

P. S.—Women are a scarce article in this county and especially this town. There are only about three eligibles and one leaves today, we think to be married. Am a bachelor myself and need a helpmate, one who could help me in my business. Have more than I can do. The only available help I have is the minister, a young man, and he is protesting about not having enough time to study.

Could you put me in touch with somebody who would brave frontier life? It's no snap, and yet everybody is on an equality, and the air is pure. There is a dance every week, and prechelling on Sunday, no saloons running yet, and a nice class of people here. Do not suppose you are running a matrimonial bureau, but I would go halves with some one who would fill the bill.

Winside News.

The News: The Sons of Herman at their installation Tuesday night entertained their wives and had a big supper. The following officers were installed: Louis Thies, president; Carl Schneider, vice president; John Dimmel, secretary and Carl J. Wolf, treasurer.

Has the Winside burglar gone? It looks like it. The man suspected by the officers has moved away and since his departure not a burglary has occurred. Sufficient evidence was always lacking and he was never arrested.

Walter Gaebler has made it a rule to always eat dinner with his mother in St. Louis county, Missouri, on his birthday and last Sunday was no exception. Mr. Gaebler is a living example in contradiction of the alleged truth that "environments make the man" for he spent the first twenty-five years of his life in this Missouri county where only 200 out of 5,000 voters are of his political faith—Democrats.

The beaux have been busy in western Wayne county this winter and those who keep track of the "signs of the times" predict that many of the schoolmams are teaching their last term of school now and that the county superintendent will have his hands full the coming summer to get teachers enough to go around next fall.

Many farmers living in the vicinity of Winside will move between now and March 1 to homes they have purchased elsewhere. Charles Nydahl, C. E. Bensch, Ed Brugger, and George Van Rossum will go to Cherry county and Frank Todd, Chester Shirts, J. H. Husted, Charles Swihart and C. D. Jones to South Dakota.

Efforts are being made to secure a lighting system of some kind for Winside, something the town is badly in need of.

A furnace is being built in the M. E. church.

A Pythian Sisters' lodge may be chartered in Winside.

E. W. Tucker and Dan Carter, cashier and bookkeeper of the Merchants State bank, have started all their friends by rising every morning and walking two miles before breakfast. It was surmised that they would be completely "cured" after one trial but the grit and staying qualities of the young men seem to have been greatly underestimated.

CURES INDIGESTION.

Take your sour stomach—maybe you call it Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach; It doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and let you eat one 22-grain Triangule and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your stomach misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring; the Digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, gripping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness and many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is feeble, and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself, after your next meal, that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and brain eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapepsin.
