Climate Changing?

Clearwater, Neb., Feb. 11.—Special to The News: Where are those people that have been asking of late years why our climate has changed—why we never have any more such storms as we had "those good old days"?

It was only recently that an article appeared in The News asking for reasons why we do not have such blinding, driving, drifting snows as the early settlers delight to tell about.

Such questions were surely answered with a vengeance last Tuesday even if a person didn't believe the blow of two weeks ago was the real thing.

Of course these storms cannot compare with the "holy terrors" lasting three days and three nights when "you couldn't see your hand before you," or for that matter after you either—those rip-roaring stem-winders of earlier days that we of a later generation can have no conception of.

Mrs. Galloway.

Neligh, Neb., Feb. 11.—Special to The News: The remains of Mrs. W. C. Galloway, who died at Omaha last Saturday morning, were placed at rest in the Oakdale cemetery, after a lingering illness that had existed since last fall.

Rev. Mr. Shacklock of Oakdale offered prayer, after which Rev. M. L. Holt of Neligh gave an extended and interesting history of the deceased, which recited to the early settlers of Antelope county.

The pallbearers were: A. J. Leach, Oakdale; J. J. Melick, O. A. Williams, E. E. Beckwith, J. C. Jenkins and E. T. Best of Neligh.

The floral offerings from this city were of an elaborate nature.

Break Into Furniture Store.

Neligh, Neb., Feb. 11.—Special to The News: The furniture establishment of Skinner Bros. was broken into Monday night from the back entrance. No goods were missed and it is the general supposition that the parties who entered the place figured that it was the postoffice. What the result may have been is only a matter of conjecture.

Entertain Bonesteel People.

Bonesteel, S. D., Feb. 11.—Special to The News: Mrs. F. W. Rathman, formerly a Bonesteel resident but now residing at Dallas, gave a house party last Friday and Saturday to a large number of her lady friends. On Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock an elegant four-course dinner was served and then the time was taken up till late in the evening with cards. Saturday morning the company was entertained at a delicious luncheon at 11 o'clock in time for those from out of town to take the noon train for home. Aside from Dallas friends, several were present from Gregory and the following Bonesteel ladies also enjoyed the hospitality of the hostess: Mesdames Charles Tienken, John Harms, A. E. Kull, A. P. Hendrickson, Ed Haakinson, and W. G. Hyer. The Bonesteel ladies returned Saturday afternoon having enjoyed every moment of their visit to the Gateway city.

Railroad News.

Niobrara Tribune: It is reported that the Northwestern railroad company is contemplating putting in a new steel bridge across the Niobrara river here this summer on account of turning the Bonesteel line into a main line track. The rumor also says that the company has secured a right-of-way across the remainder of the Rosebud reservation and will push this line through to connect at Deadwood, South Dakota, as rapidly as possible. It is a sure shot that Niobrara will see more railroads than one before many more snows fly.

STOCK LOSSES NOT SO HEAVY.

Meager Reports Indicate Cattle Fared Well.

ONE BIG RANCH LOST 27.

Report from Cattle Country in Holt County Says Storm Coming up Gradually Gave Stockmen Opportunity to Get Cattle Into Sheds.

O'Neill, Neb., Feb. 11.—Special to The News: It is the verdict of the "old timers" that Tuesday's blizzard wasn't as bad as the 1888 production. However, the snow and wind was fearfully and wonderfully made last Tuesday and O'Neill practically shut down activities for a day, except in the case of here and there a hardy one who had something that had to be done.

Roads are blocked in every direction and only those living near were able to get to town Wednesday. As near as can be learned there was no great loss of live stock in this county. The Elkhorn Irrigation Ditch company, who are wintering some 7,000 or 8,000 steers, report a loss of only twenty-seven head. No word has been received from other ranches farther south in the county, but it is believed their losses will not be out of proportion to the ditch company's as most of them are well provided with shedding and as the storm developed gradually the cattle had time to get to shelter.

Neligh, Neb., Feb. 11.—Special to The News: For over thirty-six hours this section of the state experienced one of the most severe blizzards ever in its history.

Electric light service of the city has been at a standstill since the storm and all business houses were closed before 6 o'clock Tuesday night.

The only service out of Neligh Tuesday was the dispatchers' wire to Norfolk. No telephone communication from this city was available.

At 8 o'clock the thermometer registered 6 below zero, with the wind blowing at fifty miles per hour. Drifts are banked up on the west side of Main street to the depth of seven feet. No public school was held and also that of Gates academy on account of the blizzard.

Lynch, Neb., Feb. 11.—Special to The News: Great drifts and banks of snow, blocked streets, and "no mails" all testified to the genuineness of the old-fashioned blizzard, that raged here the past two days. A light snow began falling, driven by a strong northeast wind. Toward the late afternoon the wind changed to northwest, bringing with it a heavier snow. At about 7 o'clock in the evening a big storm was raging, the wind blowing and piling the snow into drifts. All night the storm continued with no let-up Tuesday. No trains were run, school was dismissed and business generally suspended. Stock in the open with no shelter could not live, and it is feared the quail have perished. It is believed that it rivals any storm in this section of the country, and it will be several days before normal conditions are restored. One of the peculiarities of the storm was the presence of a great amount of electricity everywhere, noticed especially in the snapping of telephone and telegraph wires, and when touching a piece of metal, by the snap and small spark that would follow the action.

West Point, Neb., Feb. 11.—Special to The News: What was undoubtedly the worst storm of the winter raged severely throughout this section of the state, with great violence. Commencing with a slight snow and a sleety rain on Monday afternoon it developed, by night time into a veritable blizzard, one of the old time driving snows which Nebraskans imagined were things of the past. For thirty hours the wind blew a gale of at least fifty miles per hour—snow falling all the time in thick flakes and the wind sweeping everything before it in furious gusts. All travel and business was totally suspended, it being utterly impossible for residents of the outlying districts to get to town and dangerous for the town dwellers to go to and from the neighbors' houses. The local telephone service is in bad condition and long distance connections are out of the question—simply cannot be made. Telegraph lines were out of commission entirely. No fatalities or serious consequences of the storm have been so far reported.

Clearwater, Neb., Feb. 11.—Special to The News: Snowbound for two nights and a day; that was the fate of C. & N. W. towns west of Norfolk during Monday night, Tuesday and Tuesday night.

Not since the town of Clearwater was started has so long a time elapsed without a train going through from either direction.

It will be remembered that the blizzard of '88 tied up traffic on this line for less than twenty-four hours. The storm started about noon of one day and trains were running again the next forenoon.

After thirty-five hours without a train the whistle of the snow-plow engine at 9 o'clock yesterday morning was a most welcome note, and people who were in convenient distance hastened to the depot to see what the plow did to the great drift of snow lying across the track and the depot platform. To use a common expression "she didn't do a thing." Fastened to the front of a flat-car and pushed by a big six-wheeler the plow went through that snowdrift like a hot knife through a butter-ball.

One immense chunk of frozen snow crashed through the upstairs window into the living-rooms of the agent above the waiting room and landed on a bed.

How is that for snow-balling? But the lady of the house would like to remind the engineer of that train that such snow-balling is no laughing matter, for it proved the ruination of a fine new bedspread.

No rural mail was delivered on Tuesday. Yesterday morning carrier on Route No. 2 made a start, but after going about two miles and getting his horses down a time or two he turned around and came home.

Carrier on route No. 1 did not even start for an impenetrable drift that extended a hundred yards lay just out of town on the road north. It was not till the middle of the afternoon that some farmers coming to town assisted by a large gang from town dug a path through so that traffic could be resumed.

It is doubtful if either mail carrier can get through today, and if they do it will be with exhausted horses.

WOULD PROHIBIT FRATERNITIES.

Bill in Nebraska Legislature Would Cut Out School Societies.

Lincoln, Feb. 11.—A bill prohibiting fraternities and secret societies in the Nebraska state university and in all other schools in the state, was introduced in the house today.

POSTPONE OREGON TRAIL BILL.

Nebraska Legislature Indefinitely Delays Its Consideration.

Lincoln, Feb. 11.—The house today indefinitely postponed the bill appropriating $2,000 to mark the Oregon trail through Nebraska.

For the first time of the session the bill was passed in the house. Representative Clark of Richardson handed it to his Democratic brother, Taylor, of Custer.

A warm debate on the railroad bill which aims to regulate the size of trains and the number of men to a crew brought the trouble.

Clark has a bill of his own, which he wants to use to supplant for the one that has been under consideration. He was arguing at length on the subject, contending that the bill he has to offer represents the ideas of the railroad employees.

Taylor got the floor and turned in to "roast" the Richardson county man impugning his motive and charging that he had shown a disposition, in committee room and out, to act opposite to the principles of the party. Taylor declared flatly that Clark was not following out pledges of the platform on which he had been elected.

Clark jumped to his feet. Raising his voice, Clark impassionately cried: "It's a. a. . . lie."

Following this declaration, Taylor was silent. Members all over the house jumped up. There were cries of "Sit down, sit down." Clark did sit down.

NEW ORDER FOR NORFOLK.

Movement on Foot to Establish Ancient Mystic Order of Bagmen Here.

The Ancient Mystic Order of Bagmen of Bagdad—the "shrine" of the United Commercial Travelers of America—held a ceremonial session in Sioux City last Saturday, at which time about sixty candidates were conducted through the realm of Bagdad.

The object of the "shrine" is to take up the thread of fraternalism where left off in the initiatory ceremony of the U. C. T.; none but members of local councils in good standing are eligible to membership.

The Order of Bagmen was founded by Cincinnati members of the order of U. C. T. of A. in 1895, and is calculated to perpetuate the traditions of the first commercial travelers, the famous Bagmen of Bagdad, and with it carries a funeral benefit.

Three members of Norfolk council, No. 120, A. E. Chambers, E. C. Engle and Frank H. Beels went to Sioux City and passed through the ceremonial.

Zens Guild, No. 10, of Des Moines, sent their degree team in a special car with complete outfit of paraphernalia for this occasion. A buffet lunch and ball in the evening concluded the pleasures of the day.

A movement has been started by the three members in Norfolk to obtain enough applications to have a ceremonial session in Norfolk sometime in April. The Des Moines team has promised to come.

Banks Close Friday.

Norfolk banks observe Lincoln's birthday as a holiday this year, remaining closed during the entire day. This is due to the birth anniversary being the hundredth birthday of President Lincoln.

The postoffice will not observe the holiday. This is due principally to the congested condition of the mails owing to the recent blizzard.

Exercises will be held Friday in the Norfolk schools.

CUT SALARY OF CABINET JOB.

Reduced from $12,000 to $8,000 Per Year.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF KNOX.

Owing to a Question As to the Right of Senator Knox to be a Cabinet Member at Increased Salary, Under Constitution, Change is Made.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The senate committee on judiciary today concluded to reduce the salary of the secretary of state to $8,000 per year in order to enable Senator Knox to hold that position in the Taft cabinet.

Much discussion has been aroused over the question as to whether Senator Knox of Pennsylvania, chosen as secretary of state in the Taft cabinet, was eligible under the constitution to accept the office. Attention has been called to section VI, article 1 of the constitution, which reads: "No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he was elected be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the emoluments thereof shall have been increased during such time."

During Mr. Knox's present term as senator the salaries of all cabinet officers were increased from $8,000 to $12,000 a year. His term does not expire until March 3, 1911, two years after the time when his name would be sent by Mr. Taft to the senate for confirmation.

The only precedent recalled in a similar case was that of the late Senator Ransom of North Carolina, who was appointed by President Cleveland to be minister to Mexico, the emoluments of which office was raised while Mr. Ransom was a member of the senate. The comptroller of the treasury held that Senator Ransom could not become minister to Mexico.

IOWA FARMER MURDERED.

Lived Near Portsmouth—Skull Crushed by Unknown Murderer.

Portsmouth, Ia., Feb. 11.—W. J. Kruger, a wealthy farmer, aged sixty, living in the outskirts of this town, was murdered and robbed last night near his home by unknown persons. His skull was crushed.

$20,000 Fire at Rushville.

Rushville, Neb., Feb. 11.—A fire broke out in the mercantile store of Armstrong and Ward, and completely destroyed the store building of H. C. Dale; furniture store of J. M. Grubb; store building of M. P. Musser and that of Donald Brown. The hose company fought it from 5:10 o'clock until 7:30 and confined the fire to the block, although a strong northwest wind was blowing at the time. The loss is estimated at $20,000.

Shooting Affray at Beemer.

Beemer, Neb., Feb. 11.—During a fight at the Harder & Peterson saloon here about 2 o'clock, between Victor Peterson and John Smith, Smith pulled a gun and shot at Peterson, one bullet striking him in the forehead, glancing upward and out, making a dangerous wound. At this report, however, he has a good chance for recovery.

STATE HERD LAW DEFEATED.

South Dakota Senate Refuses to Grant Request of Homesteaders.

Pierre, S. D., Feb. 11.—Governor Vessey has sent to the senate the names of B. Fitzpatrick of Rapid City, A. B. Nelson of Pierre and Arthur Linn of Canton as members of the board of control of the soldiers' home, and the same were confirmed. The senate refused to grant a state-wide herd law which was being asked for by the homesteaders west of the river. Hare made a fight for the law, but was opposed by all the senators west of the river except Nigist.

A bill was introduced in the senate providing for a state flag, the design to be a blue field with a blazing sun in the center and the words "Sunshine State" in arc.

The house put in most of the session in committee of the whole discussing the state commission bill. The sentiment of the house so far as can be learned is not favorable to action along that line.

The house passed the bill for a depository of state funds.

Principal new house bills were a maximum freight rate bill by McDonnell; a bill reducing the maximum gravity of gasoline to be admitted into the state from sixty-eight to sixty-three, and a resolution memorializing congress to establish national parks in the South Dakota bad lands.

Mrs. Wright Convicted.

Devils Lake, N. D., Feb. 11.—Mrs. Mary Wright was found guilty of the murder of her stepdaughter last August and fixed the penalty she shall pay as five years in the state penitentiary.

Mrs. Wright is alleged to have killed the girl by choking her. She had smeared carbolic acid on the lips to give the impression that the girl had committed suicide. This led to an investigation, which brought startling disclosures.

Hollow Horn Bear of Rosebud in Indian Bureau Asking Annuitants.

Chief Hollow Horn Bear, who during the Dallas rush touched Judge Wilton for the "loan" of a "five" and found his own picture on the bill, is back in Washington asking for 50,000 copies of his picture on $5 certificates. The stay of Chief Hollow Horn Bear and his brother chiefs in the capital is treated as follows in a dispatch sent out yesterday by Washington newspaper correspondent:

An Indian who looks like real ready money has come to Washington. His name is Hollow Horn Bear, and he is the chief orator of the Rosebud Sioux tribe of South Dakota.

Hollow Horn Bear is reputed to be the handsomest and most typical Indian in the country, and that's why he looks like ready money. His picture adorns the $5 silver certificate. It was put there because the connoisseurs in Indian beauty regarded him as the finest Indian now extant.

Hollow Horn Bear is fifty-nine years old and as straight as an Indian ought to be. There is enough hair to make a mattress. In addition to being beautiful, Hollow Horn Bear is long with the "white man's game," as he calls the art of conversation. In truth, he has most white men lashed securely to the bowsprit and the ship sinking head on when it comes to the art of talk. He comes every once in a while to talk a few hundred thousand out of the store-headed bureau of Indian affairs. "That's what he wants on the present trip."

The bureau has been holding out on his tribe some $300,000 of money which the tribe thinks ought to be distributed to minor children. It represents part payment for the lands of the Rosebud reservation, the department maintaining that it would be a waste of the money to turn over their shares to the minor children. The law, however, provides for the distribution, and the Indians want the cash. Hollow Horn Bear hopes to take home about 50,000 copies of his picture on the $5 certificates.

Along with Hollow Horn Bear is a delegation of Sioux, one of whom is Chief Good Voice. Oddly enough, Good Voice is no orator at all; he grunts occasionally, but Hollow Horn Bear does the talking. Reuben Quick Bear, High Pipe, John Colombe, Eagle Horse and Stranger Horse are the others of the delegation.

Colombe is a thrifty aborigine. He owns more land than he can tell about. The government gave him 640 acres, his wife 320, and each child 160 acres, and Colombe has never got far enough in mathematics to be able to figure all he holds in the family. He lives on a twenty-acre piece at the corner of his estate, and rents the rest to white men. "White man works for me," he says disdainfully as he cranks up the carburettor of his auto; for he owns and drives a machine.

Valentine Society.

Valentine, Neb., Feb. 8.—Special to The News: The past week has been a busy one in society as there has been two very pretty affairs. The first given on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Levi Sparks was called a "little girls' party" as all the ladies present were dressed as little tots. The costumes were all fine. The dining room was very prettily decorated, with the large table full of such pretty children made a very pretty sight. On Thursday evening Mrs. T. C. Hornby gave an Indian pow wow, entertaining thirty-three ladies and gentlemen all dressed and painted up as Indians. The evening was spent in playing cards and dancing the Indian dances and the night air was pierced every once in a while by a war cry that would have done credit to any native. Charles Sparks as an Indian chief was a sure success and Mrs. Levi Sparks as a squaw was fine. While all the guests present were finely made up, the above two were credited as the best. A very pretty luncheon was served with the sandwiches shaped as tomahawks and cakes the same, with the ice cream in the shape of tepees and not to forget the dog soup. The whole affair was a success. The party was given in honor of Miss Van Arsdale of California, who is visiting here, and also in honor of T. C. Hornby's birthday.

Jap Press Stirring.

Tokio, Japan, Feb. 11.—The sensational press of Japan is pouring oil on the waters by publishing stories that the anti-Jap feeling has spread to other states, even to the heart of the country.

More conservative papers, however, still express confidence in the United States.

Pears Dead.

London, Eng., Feb. 11.—Andrew Pears, head of the Pears' Soap company, known the world over, is dead here, from heart failure.

Pears is a millionaire many times over.

He is a grandson of the founder of the Pears soap concern.

NO CHARGE YET AGAINST WOOD.

Older Brother at O'Neill Pending Investigation.

GOT TWO SHOTS IN FACE.

Charles Wood Claims His Younger Brother Instigated the Quarrel and Fired First—Older Brother Says He Only Shot to Frighten.

O'Neill, Neb., Feb. 11.—Special to The News: Charles Wood, the young man living in Swan township who got into trouble with his thirteen-year-old brother and was shot in consequence, is held in jail here pending an investigation of the case. Snow-bound roads, resulting from the storm of Monday and Tuesday, have prevented any one coming or going to the neighborhood of the shooting and the only information the authorities have is that given by the prisoner, who states his brother instigated the quarrel and did the first shooting and that he only shot to frighten the boy.

Two of the scattering shots struck him in the face but scarcely made a mark. No charge has been lodged against either of the boys. County Attorney Whelan says it is a case that demands attention but does not know what the nature of the complaint will be until he makes an investigation.

Bonesteel News Notes.

Bonesteel, S. D., Feb. 11.—Special to The News: Walter Peterson, who for the past five years has been connected with the Nye-Snyder-Fowler Co., at this point, has been given a salary boost and transferred to Burke, whither he went last Thursday to assume control of the company's interests at that point. He was very popular here, and the removal of the Peterson family from our midst is much regretted. The office here is now in charge of Guy Young, who has been an assistant for the past two years.

Mrs. H. R. Kenaston, wife of one of our local druggists, who some time ago took the pharmaceutical examination before the state board, has passed and received her certificate and is now empowered under the laws of the state as a mixer of syrups, squills and pills. Her credentials arrived last Friday noon and she has since been receiving the congratulations of her friends over her success.

The Jetter Brewing company of Omaha, is busy in the removal of its
