Miss Mae Barrett arrived home last evening from Chicago, where she has spent the past two weeks at Chicago wholesale millinery houses.

Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Bernard plan to move from Lincoln to Davenport, Ia. Mrs. Bernard was formerly Miss May Durland of Plainview and Norfolk.

Among the day's out of town visitors in Norfolk were: Mrs. H. C. Roe, Dallas, S. D.; W. W. Weaver, Madison; Oscar L. Wolf, Newman Grove; J. L. Burns, Creighton; H. Schwartz, Winnetoon; Mark O'Shea, Ed O'Shea, Madison; Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Barnum, Dallas, S. D.; C. P. Minterly, Omond; Earl Douthett, Winside; D. A. Sinclair, Butte; F. M. Anderson, Burke, S. D.; Charles Atkinson, Creighton; W. W. Young, Stanton; A. R. Olson, Wisner; John A. Ehrhardt, Stanton; F. J. Steinkraus, Pierce; F. Peters, Herrick, S. D.

J. C. Chamberlain, the real estate man who recently moved from Plainview to Norfolk, has taken office with J. C. Engelman in the Rudat building, over the Bee Hive Store.

Interest in the new Yankton, Norfolk and Southern railroad at Yankton is reported to be at fever heat. Many bets on the construction of the road are being made in Yankton cigar clear stores. The bridge over the Missouri river is one of the most important features to Yankton.

E. A. Bullock of Norfolk, who claimed to be in Omaha Saturday night when the interstate whist tournament was being played, took one of the hands to fill up a game and, with a strange partner, succeeded in winning second high score of the evening. Mr. Bullock is considered one of the best whist players in the state.

Charles Beiersdorf is back from a trip to Omaha.

C. L. Anderson has gone to Hartington on business.

Earnest A. Sporn and bride, formerly Miss Helen L. Wegner, who were married Sunday at Christ Lutheran church by Rev. J. P. Mueller, will live on a farm owned by the groom southeast of Norfolk.

Mayor Sturgeon has recovered from his recent attack of illness sufficient to be up and but for the weather would have been at his office this morning. Yesterday he resumed business duties dictating several letters over the telephone.

Paul Nordwig went to Omaha yesterday where he will be operated upon for appendicitis by Dr. Jones. He was accompanied to the hospital by Charles Beiersdorf. A telegram received from Omaha this morning stated that the operation had been successful.

The Degree of Honor lodge, which this evening observes its fourteenth anniversary in Norfolk, has issued a special invitation to members of the A. O. U. W., their wives and friends, to be present at the lodge party in Odd Fellows hall. Mrs. Mayme H. Cleaver of Neligh, grand chief of honor, will make a short address. The program begins at 8 o'clock. All members of the order are invited.

The independent telephone interests have just completed the construction of a long distance line through the reservation from Sioux City to Arlington. This construction consists of three copper and one iron circuit and will, it is announced, afford a very rapid, high grade service taking in the following territory: Homer, Winnebago, Rosalia, Walthill, Baneroff, Pender, Lyons, Oakland, Uehling, Craig, Hooper, Nickerson, Fremont and Arlington. This line gives the Norfolk automatic company in its long distance connections with through service to Omaha and Lincoln.

District court, which was to have convened at Madison at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, was delayed until after 3 p. m., by the failure of District Judge Welch of Wayne to make train connections here. The Sioux City passenger was over thirty minutes late and the Union Pacific declined to wait. Court Reporter Will Powers and Attorney M. C. Hazen, Jack Koenigstein, Burt Mapes, E. P. Weatherly and M. D. Tyler were at the depot to meet Judge Welch and took the morning train to Madison, where they were joined by the Judge late in the afternoon. Attorney H. F. Barnhart went down to Madison with Judge Welch. The latter expected to take the morning train to Center Wednesday, completing work there and returning to Norfolk in the evening.

Headed in this direction at this time is a fat lady, a thin gentleman, a lady with a flowing beard and another with a box of snakes. Perry & Smith, the north Nebraska circus people, have outfitted their sideshow. Also which is more important to them, they have picked most of their circus crew, performers and all, save the common laborers. Following the inserting of advertisements in show papers the successors of Lemm brothers receive over 400 applications for places, the letters coming from every station of life in the circus world. From these applications the personnel of the circus has been made up. One of the additions to the menagerie is a two-year-old camel purchased from the Sun Brothers' circus. A second advance car has been secured from Ringling Brothers. Three men who will be with the circus this spring have already come to Norfolk.

News Scores a National Beat.

Lincoln, Feb. 20.—Special to The News: The story published in The Norfolk Daily News yesterday telling of the league formed by leading Nebraska Democrats to force the retirement of Mr. Bryan from state and national leadership, has been confirmed in Lincoln today by various incidents and it now appears that The Norfolk News has given the United States a story of national importance and national interest, politically.

The dispatch from Norfolk, telling of the information that had come to The News, has been widely discussed around the capital building today. Inquiries from Chicago papers, which printed the story in full, giving credit to The Norfolk News, develops the fact that interest in the story is national in its scope.

It has been learned here today that Congressman Hitchcock and Governor Shallenberger are both ignoring Bryan constantly. It is said that Shallenberger ridiculed a part of Bryan's recent legislative speech. There are many signs of warfare.

Among other newspapers which printed the story upon which The News beat the country, was the Chicago Tribune, which took the entire story by telegraph last night. The story has been widely reprinted through Nebraska and the middle west.

MONDAY MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Albrecht have moved to Fremont, where Mr. Albrecht has secured a place in the grocery department of the Gumpert store.

West Point has engaged the elocution teacher of Fremont college to assist in training the high school students who have entered the West Point preliminary contest to determine who shall represent West Point at the north Nebraska contest in Norfolk March 31.

Among the day's out of town visitors in Norfolk were: Ida Holmes, Santee; Edith Ira, Lynch; R. G. McFadden, Gregory, S. D.; William Ray, Fairfax, S. D.; Ray G. Marrall, Lloyd Grotinsky, Joseph Grotinsky, Stanton; Oscar Nelson, Newman Grove; C. E. Hall, O'Neill; Mrs. Jenks, Ewing; J. G. Sanford, Gregory, S. D.; C. E. Fraser, Madison; Troy A. Bowen, Beemer; Andrew Mattson, Pierce; F. L. McNovan, Winside; P. M. Montgomery, Pilsner; Deputy Oil Inspector F. J. Pratt, Humphrey; C. H. Reed, H. C. Christensen, William Test, Madison; A. H. Corbett, Atkinson.

J. Hershiser is back from his Cuban trip.

Carl Reiche was in Madison on business Saturday.

Miss May Harrison spent Sunday with relatives in Meadow Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Stadelman returned Saturday evening from Omaha.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Russell of Tilden were Saturday visitors to Norfolk.

Miss Sophia Nethaway came up Saturday from West Point to visit with her grandparents until Tuesday.

Mrs. W. H. Bucholz and little son, who have been visiting Mrs. Bucholz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Rainbolt, returned to Omaha yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Braden returned Saturday night from a trip to New York.

Mrs. W. N. Huse was brought home Saturday from Omaha, where she had been in a hospital three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Rees returned Saturday evening from Blencoe, Ia., where they were called to attend the funeral of Mrs. Rees' mother.

Mayor Sturgeon is still confined to his bed.

A number of horses dropped into a sewer hole on North Eleventh street yesterday.

R. M. Pearsall, a printer who died last week, was buried Saturday in Prospect Hill cemetery.

The Northfork river, which has been very low for some time, has risen considerably since Saturday.

The pallbearers at the funeral of the late Phil Hul were: Ed Perry, R. M. Fraser, G. A. Kuhl, B. W. Caldwell, A. G. Nelson and Oscar Shriver.

One Norfolk woman had cause for near-profanity Sunday afternoon. Dressed in her best, she slipped on a crossing and fell flat in the mud and water.

Long Pine Journal. Alvin Parker and wife of Norfolk are visiting in town and have views of locating here. They were at one time residents of Long Pine.

Long Pine Journal: Joe Miller of Norfolk was a visitor in Long Pine this forepart of the week. He left on Tuesday for Johnstown where he intends buying the meat market.

Snow and colder. Norfolk people became alarmed Monday when snow began falling, fearing the drifts already standing might melt and cause overflow. The forecast for colder weather Tuesday, however, indicates that the drifts will be allowed to dwindle gradually.

Mrs. W. G. Baker, until recently matron at the Norfolk insane hospital, has accepted the position as matron in the Cudahy restaurant at South Omaha, and assumes her new duties this week. The salary inducement was a substantial increase over that connected with the hospital position, the new place offering $75 per month.

Mrs. Emma Pierce Cole of Omaha, who is president of the Nebraska State Federation of Women's clubs will be in Norfolk Wednesday afternoon. A reception will be given in her honor at the home of the president, Mrs. Meredith, from 3 to 5 o'clock. All members of the Norfolk Woman's club are expected at that time to meet her.

Word has been received in the city of the death of Mrs. Joseph Phillips in Idaho. No details are known. Mrs. Phillips formerly lived in Norfolk, her husband for a time being a cook at the Oxnard hotel. Mrs. W. J. Barnes left on the morning train for Hastings to stay at the home of her son, Charles Barnes, while the latter's wife went to Idaho in response to the death message.

With the return of O. G. Briggs, who for several months past has been acting as cashier for the Northwestern at Norfolk, to his farm near Creighton, several changes are now effective in the local uptown force. Anton Wilde, ticket salesman at the city depot, becomes cashier at the freight office. Leo Glidea is promoted to the ticket window at the depot. Carl Austin secures Glidea's place. Mr. Briggs continued to come down from his farm during the winter months at a time when help was needed in the local offices.

The Norfolk Long Distance Telephone company has won its contention that express companies must not discriminate in installing telephones, although the action settling this has come from the legislature rather than from the state railway commission, before whom the Norfolk company filed a suit against the local express office, a suit which was later withdrawn. The legislature, through both branches, has decreed that express, railroad and telegraph companies must maintain telephones in their offices, also providing against discrimination. The Norfolk company has contended that the local express office should use its telephone.

The Three Hadar bank robbery suspects, James Martman, alias James Morrison; James Riley and Harry Joyce, are now held in Sioux City by Sheriff E. A. Dwyer of Pierce county on requisition papers issued by Governor Shallenberger of Nebraska and honored by Governor Carroll of Iowa. Sheriff Dwyer, however, is prevented from bringing his men to Nebraska at this time on the executive warrant issued by Governor Carroll on account of habeas corpus proceedings brought in the district court at Sioux City by the attorney for the alleged robbers. There will have to be a hearing in the district court before the suspects can be brought over the state line.

Sioux City police circles are stirred over the charges growing out of the difficulty experienced by the Pierce county officers, Sheriff Dwyer and County Attorney Stewart, in getting the Hadar suspects. The whole affair is a repetition of the trouble experienced by Detective Malone of Lincoln recently when he went to secure the Miller & Palm robbers.

Sheriff Dineen of the Sioux City force says that the state laws need fixing, that the extradition statutes are a joke and that the police are wrongly blamed.

Police Judge Page of Sioux City, however, was up in arms when he read the Stewart interview given out in Des Moines. He roundly denounced the Nebraska attorney for "not keeping faith" in that he had sought requisition papers from the Iowa governor instead of coming to Sioux City Saturday for the preliminary papers in Page's court. Page warned the attorney for the suspects that the Nebraska men might try to spirit the three prisoners away on the requisition papers.

Kills Saloons at Hastings. Lincoln, Feb. 20.—The Nebraska supreme court today wiped out all saloons at Hastings, Neb., holding Councilman Alexander who tied the vote on the issuance of a license, thus allowing the mayor to cast the deciding "wet" vote, disqualified because of having signed a saloon petition and that the anti-saloon element, in effect, had a majority in the council.

HADAR HEARING MARCH 4.

Bank Robbery Suspects to Have Court Hearing in Sioux City.

The hearing on the writ of habeas corpus issued in Sioux City to prevent Sheriff Dwyer from taking the three Hadar bank robbery suspects into Nebraska on requisition papers has been set for March 4 at 3 p. m. by Judge Oliver of the district court in Sioux City. Sheriff Dwyer and County Attorney Stewart are back in Pierce, the habeas corpus proceedings means, accordingly at least ten days more delay.

Grand Jury at Neligh, Maybe. Neligh, Neb., Feb. 22.—Special to The News: Conway and Bogardus of this city purchased of John McAllister last week, the vacant lots north of the Allison block and intend as soon as weather permits to erect a brick building thereon, and occupy the same with a new stock of groceries.

It is reported that District Judge A. A. Welch, on the request of the county attorney, has decided to have a grand jury called for the next term of the district court. It has been many years that the necessity of such a jury in Antelope county was deemed advisable. However, some startling cases are looked for.

The following marriage licenses were issued by County Judge Wilson last week. John A. J. Penne and Charlotte McCain of Elgin; Fritz Hoffmann and Margaret Jekler of Creighton; Wilson E. Shannon and Sadie C. Brown of Ewing; Charley Neiderhede and Dora Wark of Clearwater; Gustav J. Hass of Wisner and Ida Kirk of Plainview; Jesse B. Mooney and Clara W. Wiehn of Elgin.

Spring Poem.

Walt Mason in Emporia (Kan.) Gazette: I dread the coming of the spring when flowers bloom and robins sing, and lamkins gambol on the lawn. The winter's good enough for me. I hate to think of planting seeds, and digging dirt and pulling weeds, and getting up at break of dawn to chase the cattle off the lawn. Of course the birds are mighty sweet, and budding trees can not be beat, and growing things are nice enough, and vernal breezes are the stuff; but I have always found it true that there's no time to note the charming things the poets quote.

Kansas Day.

Walt Mason: I have heard the voice of Kansas, singing on her natal day; I have heard her gentle whisper, and she blew my hat away; and she picked me up and rolled me cater-corner through the town, and she piled some sidewalk on me, hoping it would hold me down. She is singing, gentle Kansas, a melodious refrain; you may hear her dulcet warblings in the chimney, at the pane; you may see the haystacks flying in the ether overhead; you may know it is her birthday, you may watch her paint things red. Kansas, Kansas, gentle mother, I am glad you feel so gay, glad to see you up and coming on this festive natal day; but the way you're raising thunder causes an observant gent, to suspect that you've been fooling with a jug of two per cent!

Mason's Grief.

Walt Mason in the Emporia Gazette: I'd sing you a song about childhood, life's joyous and garlanded time; but I'm weary of ringing in "wildwood," and there's no other word that will rhyme. I'd warble of bright, sunny fountains, where water and music are blended; but I'd have to lug in a few mountains, or my lines wouldn't fit worth a cent. I'd sing of a life on the billows, where the dolphins and flying fish race, but I'd have to say something of willows, which would have nothing to do with the case. I'd sing of the moonbeams that quiver, like gems on the water at night; but I'd have to quote onions and liver, to make the verse twitler all right.

Neligh Hotel Changes.

Neligh, Neb., Feb. 22.—Special to The News: A Mr. Ellenwood of Atkinson will take possession of the Leonard hotel today. The same has been under the management of Geo. Bennett for the past two months. The new proprietor is an old experienced hand in the business and promises an up-to-date house in every respect to his patrons.

Lady Constance's Dance Shocking.

New York, Feb. 22.—Lady Constance Stewart Richardson, one of those many spectacular specialties is unconventional dancing, promettied in her bare feet today before an assemblage of three men and about 190 of the most fashionable women of this city.

She has been here on a visit for several weeks, having come to see Mrs. John Jacob Astor and other American friends, who witnessed some of her lively exploits in England, chief of which, perhaps, was the giving of public exhibitions of swimming and diving in masculine bathing apparel. She made England gasp many a time, and it is known that she created a sensation today, although the affair was kept very secret by the invited ones.

The affair took place in the studio of Emil Fuchs, an artist, in the Beaux Arts building in Bryant square.

One thing that became known concerning the dances Lady Constance gave was that her costume was a severely classical one, after the Greek mode, in which a filmy winding drapey is considered quite sufficient.

$50,000 Fire at Caveur, S. D.

Caveur, S. D., Feb. 22.—Fire Saturday destroyed $50,000 worth of business property here. Among the losers were: J. F. Costello, merchandise; Caveur State bank, postoffice.

Women Smoke "Cigs" at Banquet.

New York, Feb. 22.—When coffee cigars and cigarettes were served at the first annual dinner of the American Scandinavian society and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of the society, arose to introduce the first speaker at the Hotel Astor last night, four women sitting at a table near the speaker's table lighted cigarettes and smoked them with every indication of enjoyment.

Victim of an ex-Rosebud Homesteader.

Thomas G. Barnum, the stockman at Union killed in the Missouri Pacific wreck last week, was one of the men who "drew out" in the Bonesteel ranch. His number was 323. With his wife he lived on the Gregory county land the required time and proved up. Mrs. Barnum is a sister of ex-Congressman Pollard and a cousin of ex-Governor Sheldon. Barnum was a prominent farmer and stockman in Cass county.

LA FOLLETTE CAUGHT NAPPING.

As Wisconsin Man Talks With Friends, Senate Averts Filibuster.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Just a few minutes' earnest conversation with Gilbert E. Roe of New York in the luxuriousness of the archbishops in the senate marble-room cost Senator La Follette the opportunity to fight on the question of the senate committee assignments. Opponents of La Follette hold that his filibuster against appropriation bills is largely to call attention to himself and the poor committee assignments of younger senators.

Passing through the marble-room Senator Long of Kansas slept Messrs. La Follette and Roe in deep conversation. Long will not be in the Sixty-first congress, and it had been intimated that Senator La Follette had something to do with his defeat. When Long re-entered the senate chamber he whispered to Senator Aldrich. The Rhode Island man pulled a sheet of paper from his pocket and was recognized to offer a resolution which continues the senate committees as at present constituted until the next regular session next December.

When La Follette's friends had discovered what was going on and he rushed in the resolution was adopted.

REPRIMAND MEMBERS.

Honor of House Assailed by Conduct of South Omaha Members.

Lincoln, Feb. 23.—Unless Howard and Kraus, the South Omaha representatives who are accused of making speeches that incited the mob yesterday to attack the Greeks, can satisfactorily explain their conduct and prove their innocence they will receive a vote of censure from the house this afternoon. The feeling among members is that the honor of the house has been severely compromised by the conduct of these two members and several resolutions calling them before the bar of the house for explanation have been prepared.

House leaders, angered over what they call senate subservency to the corporations, announce today that they propose to amend the physical valuation bill to include the street railways and stock yards companies. Senator Ransom, the senate leader, is a regularly employed attorney of the stock yards company.

COL. COOPER ON STAND.

One of Defendants in Carmack Murder Case, Testifies.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 23.—Col. Duncan B. Cooper, one of the three defendants on trial for the murder of former United States Senator Carmack, was called to testify today.

He Froze to Death.

Lynch, Neb., Feb. 23.—Special to The News: The body of Elmer Chaff, aged twenty-eight years, was found near the Ponca creek, about fifty feet from Main street, where he perished during the storm of February 8.

This young man was missed after the storm and parties have been searching for him, fearing that he had been overcome by the storm. The young man came to town on Monday, February 8, and did his trading, sending out an express package, and afterward became under the influence of liquor. Refusing to be taken to the hotel, he wandered around town, several of his friends trying to prevail upon him to go to the livery barn or hotel to escape the storm, but this he refused to do. He was last seen about 11 o'clock.

After the storm he could not be found and it was feared he had perished. Since that time parties have been searching every conceivable place where he might have gone, and failing to find him, began to look in the large drifts of snow in the directions he was supposed to have traveled. Yesterday, word was given that he had been seen in the neighborhood of the creek and a party began the search there, where he was found dead, having frozen to death.

The remains were brought to the undertaking rooms of J. W. Newell, where they will await the inquest. The young man's parents live near Verdigris.

THIRD DEATH IN THAT BLIZZARD

One at Plainview, One Near Rapid City, S. D.

The finding of the frozen body of Elmer Chaff at Lynch brings the total of victims who perished in the last blizzard, in this vicinity, to three. One was a wealthy stockman at Rapid City, one was the farmer at Plainview, Henry Taylor, and this is the third.

Live Stock in the Rosebud.

Bonesteel, S. D., Feb. 23.—Special to The News: A pretty fair index of the wealth of a county is to be found each spring in the advertised public sales of those who are preparing to change farm locations. Much has been said and written about the wonderful advancement made by Gregory county since the reservation was thrown open to settlement. While it is true that possibly 50,000 acres of land is still unoccupied in this county, and will be thrown upon the market at the land office at Gregory March 25, to the highest cash bidder still the improved farms are subject of much comment by easterners who visit this section. Instead of long years elapsing before farm lands are converted from the raw prairie to the state of highest development, here in Gregory county the brief span of four years has been this remarkable development a reality.

Not only is the soil producing big crops, but the permanent improvements bespeak the zeal of a husbandry intent on making beautiful homes. To keep up with other pursuits, the raising of cattle, horses and hogs has taken front rank. Every farmer has made "a start" and not only is that start noticeable as to numbers, but the strains are also an eye opener. Pedigreed and registered stock holds sway over the old time "any old animal" of domestic raising.

The amount of stock being offered for sale under the auctioneer's hammer at the present time shows that our farmers will size up well with those of oldest and more matured sections where stock raising has come to be one of the principal industries. In a list of only seven sales which A. E. Kull has to cry in this section in as many days and here is the number of animals these seven farmers are offering for sale—horses, 95; cattle, 204, and hogs 230. As this is a list of only seven sales, by one auctioneer, and as there are no less than a half dozen "criers" in the county who have daily bookings extending well into March, it will be seen that Gregory county, the infant in South Dakota, is a full grown when prosperity and push is brought into the limelight.

Money, too, is plenty. It would seem, as your representative was talking regarding a sale held near Burke recently that netted about $2,500, when the statement was made that of the entire amount of bids received, only $45 was taken in hankable paper as payment for purchases—the balance was cash.

Gregory county farmers, Gregory county lands and Gregory county products are all right—the cream of the best.

Has Paralytic Stroke.

West Point, Neb., Feb. 24.—Special to The News: Ferdinand Remm, a pioneer settler and a well known contractor and builder, is lying at his residence suffering from a severe stroke of paralysis. Owing to his advanced age grave doubts are entertained of his recovery. He is a member of the Deutsche Landwehr Verein of Nebraska and a past president of the Catholic Knights of America.

PHILLIPS BLATT DEAD.

Lived in Norfolk in Early Eighties. Body Brought Here for Burial.

Phillips Blatt, father of William and Rudy Blatt of Norfolk and a resident of Norfolk in the early eighties, died Sunday at his home in McCook, the remains being brought to this city for burial Tuesday noon. The body was accompanied to Norfolk by Mrs. Carrie Simons of St. Paul, a daughter. Mr. Blatt came to Norfolk in 1881. He ran the first pop factory operated in Norfolk. Twenty-four
