

PROVIDES EMERGENCY MONEY.

Wisconsin Congressman Has Measure to Tidy Over Stringencies.

Washington, March 25.—Non-interest bearing treasury notes to the amount of millions of dollars may be issued by the secretary of the treasury, whenever, in his discretion, the business situation requires it, if the bill recently introduced by Representative Weisac, of Wisconsin, becomes a law.

The notes, which are to be in denominations of $5, $10 and $20, and are to be legal tender for duties, public and private, until the time named by the secretary for their redemption, are to be redeemable whenever the secretary of the treasury thinks the necessity for them has ceased.

LOOKING FOR STOLEN GIRL.

Los Angeles Man Says if She is Found There Will Be Story.

Los Angeles, March 25.—Mystery surrounds the motive for the following personal advertisement in a newspaper:

"Would like to communicate with people who had a girl by the name of Pearl, stolen in Chicago eighteen years ago. Address, P. O. box 441."

Gilbert Woodill, of this city, admits that he inserted the advertisement, but refuses to give any further information.

IOWA FARMERS FOOL HENS.

Chicago Egg Dealer Says So, But He Cannot Make Dupe of Judge.

New York, March 25.—Paul Mandeville, a Chicago dealer in eggs, sued H. Kock & Co. of Newark, before Judge Helsley and a jury in the circuit court at Newark Saturday for $322, the value of a carload of eggs. The charge was that Iowa eggs had been ordered, but Missouri eggs were supplied. The jury returned a verdict for the defendant. On the witness stand the plaintiff said: "In Iowa the farmers have a scheme whereby they fool the hens. They make them lay two eggs a day instead of one. This is the way they do it: They turn on the electric light about 2 o'clock in the morning. The hens think the sun is up and get busy. When they have laid the lights are turned out. Then, of course, when daylight actually comes they lay another. On this account the eggs come smaller in size."

TUBERCULOSIS WITH INDIANS.

But Warriors Would Rather Have Firewater Than Cuspidors.

Guthrie, Okla., March 24.—"Great White Father heap big fool. Give big Injun thing in which to spit. Why don't he give war chief firewater? Ugh!"

Thomas Chief Man-Afrail-of-the-Spook spoke in reference to the edict of the bureau of Indian affairs that the noble red man must cease expectorating wherever and whenever he so desires and, instead, must confine himself to the use of government-provided cuspidors.

The Indian affairs experts believe that tuberculosis is destined to exterminate the Indian, and the government has outlined a plan of sanitation among them.

In the olden days, when the Indian was permitted to roam at will, he managed to avoid consumption, but since the advent of houses and clothes he has had a difficult task to keep clean.

Especially is this true as to his expectoration, and as a result tuberculosis has been playing havoc with the rapidly thinning race.

ADMIRE ROOSEVELT'S NERVE.

Companion on African Trip Tells His Opinion of Ex-President.

Memphis, Mich., March 24.—"The only good thing about the Roosevelt expedition is the ex-president's nerve. Any man who is compelled to wear glasses while shooting should never hunt big game."

Thus declared Fred Stephenson of Memphis, now in Mexico, who is to be Mr. Roosevelt's companion during the African hunt.

"From what I know of Roosevelt as a hunter, I have no fear of going after big game with him. Why, if that man is about to stop the charge of a tramp elephant and his glasses suddenly become cloudy, he'll coolly wipe them before taking a shot at the angry beast."

Mr. Stephenson made above statements in letters received today by a relative. He will sail for Mambassa, from Vera Cruz, April 15, and meet the ex-president's party on their arrival.

HAY HIGH PRICED.

Rise in Price of Land Makes Hay Scarcer Than Ever.

Sioux City, March 25.—Hay is from $1 to $1.50 a ton higher than it was a year ago. The price has made this advance in the last three weeks, and there has been a noticeable shortage. The condition is due both to the setting of the lands formerly used for hay and to the storm conditions that have kept down farm deliveries.

"I look for the hay market to continue strong until the new crop comes in the first half of July," said William Slaughter, of the Akron Milling company, who has just returned from a tour of the hay lands around O'Neill, in Nebraska, and in South Dakota.

"We can't tell what conditions will be after the new crop comes in, but I think the market until then will run from $1 to $1.50 a ton higher than a year ago. The present shortage is due to the bad weather conditions which have made it impossible for the farmers to haul their hay, but the setting up of the lands is having a more permanent effect. The development of the country is making these lands too valuable to be left to wild hay. We must look to the sandy lands in western Nebraska for a large part of our supply. There has been a strong demand lately. Dakota City recently ordered three cars from us, whereas they used to grow a great deal of hay across there on the bottoms. Up north-west of Vermillion, where they once had such a quantity of hay, they say that they will from now on have to ship it in. The land is going under cultivation rapidly. Sections from which we could get any quantity of hay five years ago do not now produce a ton. Out O'Neill way there is plenty of hay, but the western demand, Colorado in particular, has been the heaviest ever known, and has cut down the surplus that would have come to this market."

Man, Charged With Murder, Fails to Receive Any of Wife's Property.

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 23.—A man made shortly before death by Mrs. Mary E. Ryan, who, together with her daughter, Mrs. Nellie Rehan, was recently shot and killed by her husband, John (Posey) Ryan, and just found, makes considerable change in the disposition of her $15,000 estate, and may leave Ryan without means to conduct his defense on the charge of murder.

According to the instrument Ryan gets only $1 and the remainder of the estate is bequeathed to her two sons, Eugene Clouser of Thermopolis, Wyo., and Franklin Clouser of Guerneville, Wyo., and her daughter, Mrs. Rehan, whose portion will now go to her husband.

Mortgage Raiser in Snowdrift.

Carroll, Neb., March 23.—While digging away a snowdrift of the blizzard of several weeks ago, D. A. Michael, a farmer, uncovered an old hen that was still alive. Although very thin from exposure and lack of food, she commenced to hustle for something to eat and, this want supplied, she appeared to be as happy as any hen.

FOR A LATER INAUGURAL.

Constitutional Amendment Will Be Introduced in Congress This Session.

Washington, March 23.—Northwestern governors, senators and representatives have joined in the movement to change the date of the inauguration of the president from March 4 to the last Thursday in April.

Among those who have expressed themselves in favor of fixing the inaugural for the third Thursday in April are the following:

Representatives Stevens, Steenerson, Tawney, Nye, Minnesota; Cooper, Cary, Davidson, Esch, Kopp, Kuster-Gronna, North Dakota; Martin and Burke, South Dakota.

A constitutional amendment will be offered in congress at this session fixing the date of the inaugural later in the spring than at present. The third Thursday in April is quite generally favored.

Norfolk Alone in Its Class.

Ainsworth Star-Journal: The writer spent two days in Norfolk last week, in company with George B. Campbell, cashier of the Citizens State bank, in attendance on the fifth annual meeting of the State Association of Commercial Clubs. We have not room this week to say more than that Norfolk is the best city of its size in America and that means the world; that the people know how to entertain their guests and that especially the ladies of that queenly city know how to spread a banquet that can reach the heart of any man—through his stomach. All north Nebraska is proud of Norfolk.

Rattlesnakes Kill Stock.

A plague of snakes following the recent high water has resulted in the loss of livestock in several localities in and around Norfolk.

Gus Wegener, a farmer living some two miles out of Norfolk, lost a valuable colt. Wegener discovered the yearling in the agony of death, the cause of which proved to be a rattlesnake bite on the neck. The animal did not live over a few hours. The high water had driven the snakes towards the surface and the lure of the warm day brought the crawling creatures forth. Several striped garter snakes were killed by boys.

Two Other Farmers Suffer.

Two other farmers in the same vicinity have been similarly unfortunate, one losing a horse and the other a cow.

There is a small knoll on the Wegener farm that is suspected as the "den" and a close watch is being kept in the hopes of exterminating the deadly reptiles before they do further damage.

Several rattlesnakes were killed in the bottom last year but Mr. Wegener states that though he has lived in the vicinity for many years he has never so far seen the species on his farm.

TUESDAY TOPICS.

The city council will meet this evening.

Otto A. Voget, leader of Voget's Concert orchestra, goes to Neligh March 26 to give a violin concert.

Norfolk people who believe in weather signs and who were certain that the arrival of spring and the new moon on last Sunday would prove a storm bearing combination, were disappointed this morning when they were forced to admit that there were no signs of even a belated storm. Elmer Cook, a son of L. T. Cook of this city, is ill with an attack of appendicitis at Elba, Neb., and may undergo an operation. In any case it will be at least two weeks before he is able to return to Norfolk.

"Kid" Jensen is back from Omaha. E. Graham of Creston was in Norfolk yesterday.

W. J. Stadelman arrived home from Humphrey last evening. Miss Fale Burnham is home from a brief visit in Madison.

Emil Fechner was up from Stanton to visit Norfolk friends.

John Koenigstein is back from a business trip to Boyd county.

Fred Haase was in Norfolk on his way from Battle Creek to Stanton.

Herman Strelow of Long Pine has been in Norfolk on a visit with his son, George Strelow.

Among the day's out of town visitors in Norfolk were: Mrs. J. Roth and daughter, Niobrara; E. G. Von Seggern, Wayne; F. F. Sebastian, Madison; E. H. Mason, W. E. Van Pelt, Bloomfield; P. M. Montgomery, Pilger; D. E. Terpin, Bonesteel, S. D.; Charles Jones, Niobrara.

Ex-Congressman J. J. McCarthy of Ponca and a party of men from north-east Nebraska were in Norfolk yesterday on their way to Gregory, S. D., to bid on the land offered at the government land sale beginning Wednesday, J. F. Flynn, E. B. Kauffman and others went up from Norfolk.

James Peters is up from Lincoln on a short visit.

Mrs. Leach and Mrs. McNeely arrived home last evening from Omaha. John Krantz and family are back from an eastern trip, which included visits to New York and Washington.

Mr. Krantz shipped a carload of horses east and met with such success that he will buy more horses for the eastern market.

Mrs. S. F. Erskine left at noon to attend a meeting of the state board of the Nebraska Federation of Woman's clubs in Lincoln.

Field Agent Newkirk of the Lincoln Dwelling House Mutual Insurance company was in Norfolk yesterday visiting G. W. Evans.

G. Braley, representing the independent telephone interests, was in Norfolk today calling on business men in the interests of the long distance lines of the independents.

Judge James W. Witten, who has charge of the Tripp county opening as well as the government's auction sale of Gregory county unoccupied land beginning Thursday, was in Norfolk Tuesday on his way from the east to Gregory, S. D.

Ben Bechtel is now working in a drug store in Shenandoah, Ia.

Miss Edith Estabrook has accepted a position in the sales department of the A. L. Killian store.

A large flock of geese passing over Norfolk Tuesday morning resulted in several hunting parties being promptly declared "on" for the next few days.

Madison Chronicle: We are pleased to note that County Attorney James Nichols, who has been quite ill for the past week, was reported considerably better Monday evening.

In the reorganization of the Humphrey Electric Light and Telephone company at Humphrey, Monday afternoon, C. J. Garlow of Columbus, was elected president, W. J. Stadelman of Norfolk vice president and secretary, and J. E. Hugg of Humphrey, treasurer.

C. F. Haase is the candidate for police judge on the Democratic ticket. Henry Haase, who was the convention nominee, declined the nomination with the result that the central committee placed the name of C. F. Haase on the ticket. Mr. Haase is a retired farmer and is connected with the farmers' elevator.

Thomas Odiorne, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Odiorne, sustained a badly broken leg as the result of being fallen on by his horse during the forenoon. He was riding the horse when the animal slipped and fell, carrying the rider underneath. It is the right leg that is broken and the fracture is said to be an unusually severe one.

Definite word relative to the Carnegie library is expected to be received this week. It is now some time since a communication has been received from Mr. Carnegie. The library plans submitted to Mr. Carnegie were approved with the suggestion that the plans were alright provided the building could be erected for the $10,000 provided.

Clad in a light overcoat of greenish hue and with his popularly inclined whiskers trimmed down to a Democratic beard of the southern type, former State Senator Hale of Atkinson, the north Nebraska man who might have been governor instead of Shallenberger, was in Norfolk Tuesday and informed his friends that aside from his Atkinson ranch, which rests lightly on his shoulders, he was again largely out of business. Senator Hale, who last fall withdrew from the Democratic primary contest for governor, declared that he was also out of politics.

Dr. J. H. Mackay, chairman of the city Democracy, is a hero. At personal risk he extinguished a fire on the second floor in the building occupied by the Hayes jewelry store. The second floor of the building is occupied by the offices of Dr. Brush and Dr. Mackay. It was during the noon hour that a gas tube breaking in Dr. Brush's office sent a flame of gas against the door, which at once caught fire. Dr. Mackay had been called to his office and was the first to discover the fire. He extinguished the incipient blaze, burning one of his hands as well as his coat. That was why the city chairman appeared with a bandaged hand.

Taking a position against William Jennings Bryan on the "tainted money" issue, Rev. Edwin Booth, Jr., pastor of the First Congregational church, left at noon for Crete where as a trustee of Doane college he will favor the acceptance by the board of trustees of the Carnegie pension fund. The state legislature at the demand of Mr. Bryan, disregarded the wishes of most of the friends of the state university and declined to permit the state school to be brought within the list of educational institutions whose professors will benefit by the Carnegie pension fund. The same question is now coming before the denominational schools of the state, and the board of trustees of Doane college being the first to meet, interest centers in their action in the matter. Mr. Booth believes that favorable action would have no other effect on the school than to provide a needed fund for men and women who have grown old in the service of the cause of education. The meeting of the Doane board is the mid-year meeting. While in Lincoln Mr. Booth will attend a Congregational conference and a banquet given by the Congregational club of Lincoln.

Shoots Eagle in Cuming County. West Point, Neb., March 23.—Special to The News: W. C. Smith, nominee of the citizen's party for city treasurer, has declined the nomination.

A resolution has been passed by the city council to submit to the voters at the spring election a proposition to vote bonds to the amount of $4,000 for the purpose of purchasing the lots adjacent to the city hall and using them for a park.

Much cottonwood lumber has been cut in Cuming county during the past winter and shipped to points in the western part of the state and used in the erection of farm buildings on the farms and ranches of Cuming county people.

John Luedert, while hunting near Bancroft in this county, shot and killed a large eagle which measured six feet, four inches from tip to tip of wings. This is the first eagle shot in Cuming county for many years.

Assaulted Man With Whiskey Bottle. Walthill, Neb., March 23.—Lizzie Johnson Raymond, a Winnebago woman, has been bound over to the district court for assault upon John Grant. It is alleged that Lizzie hit Grant in the eye with a whiskey bottle a few days ago on a train coming from Sioux City. It is feared that Grant will lose the sight of the eye.

Judge Would Stop Slander. Norfolk justices may form a society for their own protection against the criticisms of lawyers trying cases before them.

Justice of the Peace George Lambert, fairly boiling over with indignation, appeared in the justice court of Judge Eiseley yesterday and asked for the arrest of Attorney J. C. Engelmann for "slander."

Justice Eiseley refused to comfort his rival from the Bishop block save with words of cheer. The warrant was not forthcoming. Justice Eiseley prevailing on the judge from across the way not to insist on the matter.

Eiseley Meets Engelmann. A little later in the day Justice Eiseley meeting Attorney Engelmann informed the latter how he, the city hall judge, had stood between the lawyer and a constable. The attorney is reported to have congratulated Judge Eiseley on his recent renomination for police judge and to have complimented him warmly.

"That's all right," replied Judge Eiseley, "but I have heard things and I warn you that you must cease to slander Justice Lambert and you must also stop slandering me."

That was more than the lawyer could stand and in vigorous language he painted the city hall judge as a stumbling block in the way of Norfolk justice and declared forthwith for a house cleaning in local justice courts.

Another Home Burglarized. Another Norfolk home, making four within two days, was burglarized during the night. The home of Frank Kayl, 609 South Fourth street, was entered between 7 and 9 o'clock last night and ransacked. Nothing was missed excepting a purse containing about 15 cents. Other money in the house escaped the search of the burglar.

Mr. Kayl and his mother left the house at 7 o'clock. When he returned at 9 the house had been entered. It is thought the burglar watched his opportunity.

Entrance was effected through a kitchen window, another window apparently having first been tried.

Mr. Kayl is the pressman in charge of the big perfecting press which prints The News every day.

Valentine Republican: Sheriff Roser returned Wednesday with Homer Crane and George Loomis, whom he arrested sixty miles south of Merrim, having in their possession nineteen head of horses, fourteen of which were stolen from Mrs. Montauq, on the Rosebud reservation, north of Merrim, last Sunday. Bat Dubray, a half breed Indian, is under arrest at Pine Ridge agency, and will be tried on the charge of having run the bunch of horses into the state and delivering them to Crane and Loomis for $5 a head. The fact that the prisoners claim to have bought them from the Indian at $5 a head, when there are horses in the bunch worth over $100, together with the fact that they accepted and drove them out of the country after dark, are conditions that don't fit well in an honest and legitimate transaction. Crane and Loomis are young men, twenty-four and twenty-five years of age, and reside at Mullen. They made no effort at resistance when arrested. The date for their preliminary hearing has not yet been set. It is reported that there will be other arrests in connection with the deal, which may be the means of breaking up a gang of horse thieves in this part of the country.

Robbers Take Safe and $320. Ewing, Neb., March 23.—Special to The News: During the night robbers drove to the farm of J. E. Bauer, a well-to-do German farmer living four miles southwest of here, and stole a small safe containing $320 in German gold and all his valuable papers.

Bloodhounds are said to have been sent for to trail the robbers. Tracks indicate that either a buggy or a wagon drove up to the house and that the safe was bodily lifted into it and carried away.

Local parties are believed to have done the work, as it is apparent the robbers were well posted.

There is no clue thus far as to the thieves. The victim is about seventy years old. The safe was in a little house built near the family dwelling.

LOSES FINGERS IN CORNSHELLER.

Man at Lindsay Catches Mitten in Gearing of Machine.

Lindsay, Neb., March 23.—Special to The News: Frank Helmann, living in the St. Bernard neighborhood, lost two fingers and sustained a badly mangled wrist in a cornsheller. His mitten and sleeve caught in the machine. His hand may have to be amputated.

Hurt in Runaway.

Lindsay, Neb., March 23.—Special to The News: Dave Regan, aged fifteen, sustained a broken arm and was badly battered and bruised in a runaway accident. He is getting along nicely except that he still sees double, has paralyzed the sixth cranial nerve.

Caucus at Lindsay.

Lindsay, Neb., March 23.—Special to The News: At the citizens' caucus held here Dr. J. H. Tobkin and G. M. Van Ackem were nominated to succeed themselves as trustees of the village. It is not known as yet whether they will have any opposition.

Knocked from Load of Hay.

Lindsay, Neb., March 23.—Special to The News: Bernard Menaher had a bad fall from a load of hay, sustaining a severe contusion of the nose and a sprain of the elbow joint. He was unloading hay into the barn when the wind blew the forkful he held against him, throwing him to the ground. Fortunately he escaped being knocked under the horses feet by a very narrow margin.

Little Girl Breaks Down.

Neligh, Neb., March 23.—Special to The News: Little Alma Moore, the seven-year-old child witness against Jess Kinnan in the case of the state against Kinnan, broke down completely on the witness stand in cross-examination last evening, becoming hysterical, was excused from further testimony at that time.

Kinnan is the man who came near being lynched near Oakdale when the little girl first told her story. The parties reside six miles from Oakdale.

This is the most important case before the jury at this term of court.

The state is represented by the county attorney, Judge Harrington of O'Neill and O. A. Williams of this city. The defense has Jackson & Kelsey of Neligh and William V. Allen of Madison. Present indications point to a long drawn-out affair, and every inch of ground contested by both sides.

The crime with which the defendant is charged, is alleged to have been committed October 28, 1908. A large number of witnesses are being examined, and in order to hasten the case through this week, the court is holding evening sessions.

John McAllister's Son Very Ill.

Neligh, Neb., March 23.—Special to The News: The six-year-old son of John McAllister is dangerously ill with pneumonia.

ONLY ONE TRUE VERSION.

Don't Believe One of These Yarns About African Hunt, Says Roosevelt. Oyster Bay, March 23.—Theodore Roosevelt, in his own sweet time, will tell all about his African hunting trip (at $2 a word) and any enterprising newspaper man who attempts to anticipate him is a faker, pure and simple.

Ex-President Roosevelt made this plain today. He intimated that any correspondent caught snooping around the same part of the dark continent as that in which the hunt is to be held will be kicked out of camp and clear into an Ananias club without ceremony. Only the official $2 a word version of the hunt must be accepted by the American public as containing a grain of truth, and until that appears the public must wait with bated breath to learn whether the strenuous former president is impaled on the horn of a fierce rhinoceros or has knocked the horn off with his big stick.

Porter Found in New Mexico.

Butte, Neb., March 24.—Special to The News: Sheriff Coleman returned Monday evening from Tucumcari, N. M., where he found C. E. Porter, the city marshal of Anoka, who unceremoniously left a couple of months ago owing the Anoka National bank for money they had advanced him to buy a carload of cattle.

The cattle were marketed in Omaha a short time before his departure but no settlement was made to the bank.

When arrested Porter was plowing his land, having secured a good home stead ten miles from Tucumcari, and was greatly improving the place. He accompanied the sheriff without a word. His eleven-year-old son was with him and he was preparing to send for his family. Porter is now in the county jail at Butte awaiting trial.

Norfolk and the Convention.

Lincoln Trade Review: The annual meeting of the State Association of Commercial Clubs was held in the city of Norfolk, Monday and Tuesday of last week. The Norfolk Commercial club, of which organization A. L. Killian is president and J. D. Sturgeon is secretary, had all preparations for the meeting well in hand, and the club did everything to make the meeting successful in all particulars. The closing banquet held on Tuesday evening, tendered complimentary by the Norfolk club, was in all particulars one of the finest things of its kind ever held in the state. The banquet was served by the ladies' guild of the Episcopal church and over 225 were seated at the tables. The four speakers at the banquet were: Interstate Commerce Commissioner Clark, Governor Shallenberger, General Manager A. L. Mohler of the Union Pacific railway, and Prof. E. W. Hunt of the University of Nebraska. It was a memorable occasion and a fitting climax for the annual meeting of the State Association of Commercial Clubs.

Omaha Trade Exhibit: An Omaha business man who has attended banquets by the score, says he never has heard such excellent after-dinner speeches as those delivered at the banquet which closed the meeting of the State Association of Commercial Clubs at Norfolk last week.

Central City Record: In company with B. E. Hart, the Record editor, went up to Norfolk the first of the week to represent the commercial club of Central City at the state convention of commercial clubs held in that place Monday and Tuesday. The program was quite an interesting one, and the banquet tendered the guests Tuesday evening by the commercial club of Norfolk was a hummer, and one on which they may justly congratulate themselves. On the list of toast respondents were Governor Shallenberger, A. L. Mohler, Prof. E. W. Hunt of the state agricultural department, and E. E. Clark member of the interstate commerce commission, and some able addresses were given.

Raided St. Edward Drug Store.

Albion News: Deputy Sheriff Galvian with W. H. Longnecker and Al Higgins as special deputies, went down to St. Edward Monday morning and made a raid on A. D. White's drug store. It required but a short time for them to locate a quantity of liquor stored away in a closet in the wall.

The collection which consisted of a large quantity of whisky, alcohol and malt was brought to Albion and stored away in the county jail for safe keeping. No arrest was made at the time as Mr. White had been called to Excelsior Springs, Mo., but a few days before by the death of his eldest daughter. This is not the first time Mr. White has been before the courts on a similar charge.

FLIES WITH TWENTY-SIX MEN.

Count Zeppelin Makes a Record With His New Dirigible Airship.

Berlin, March 24.—Soaring like a mighty bird, Count Zeppelin's dirigible airship, Saturday, made a word's record for weight-carrying.

The huge dirigible ascended, bearing Count Zeppelin, with ten aeronauts and fifteen soldiers. Never before has an airship made a successful flight with a crew of twenty-six persons. A great throng witnessed the ascent. The airship's flight covered 150 miles, and the dirigible was in the air four hours.

When descent was made, military experts were enthusiastic and unanimously agreed that the record flight brings nearer the practicability of Zeppelin's airships as troop transporters.

The comparatively great weight carried also convinced the military men that the airship can carry an equal weight of explosives.

Kaiser Wilhelm was officially notified of the record trip and immediately telegraphed his delight at its success. Especially was the kaiser pleased at the proof that the airship will inevitably be an important factor in future wars.

TAFT'S DOCTOR IS ANTI-FAT MAN.

Major Edie Won Fame by Helping Many Affected by Corpulency.

Washington, March 24.—The selection of Maj. Guy R. Edie, U. S. A., to be physician and surgeon to the president, is a distinct official recognition of the Society for the Promotion of Anti-Fat. Maj. Edie is the man who has evolved one of the most effective formulas for reducing the flesh ever known in Washington. He conceived his anti-fat remedy while he was in charge of the army dispensary in this city. When it became known that Maj. Edie had conceived a successful and harmless plan of getting rid of the fat, he was sought by many officers. His fame spread and he was especially popular with the galaxy of "fat colonels," for whom President Roosevelt prescribed the riding tests.

The story goes that Secretary Taft learned of Maj. Edie's success and followed his directions to the extent of putting off a score of pounds. If at the end of his four years in the White House, President Taft should look like the late John J. Ingalls, the reason for it may be traced to his medical adviser.

Kinnan Trial Nearing End.

Neligh, Neb., March 24.—Special to The News: The Kinnan trial at times is stated as making good progress, and it is said that possibly the case may go to the jury late this even-

PRINT BY REQUEST.

Recipe Easily Prepared at Small Cost, and Many Swear By It.

Mix the following by shaking well in a bottle, and take in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. A local druggist is the authority that these simple, harmless ingredients can be obtained at nominal cost from our home druggist.

The mixture is said to cleanse and strengthen the clogged and inactive kidneys, overcoming Backache, Bladder weakness and Urinary trouble of all kinds, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease.

Those who have tried this say it positively overcomes pain in the back, clears the urine of sediment and regulates urination, especially at night, curing even the worst forms of bladder weakness.

Every man or woman here who feels that the kidneys are not strong or acting in a healthy manner should mix this prescription at home and give it a trial, as it is said to do wonders for many persons.

Sturgeon Makes Business Change.

J. D. Sturgeon is to withdraw from the retail mercantile and music business in Norfolk in order to enter the real estate business in this city. Mayor Sturgeon
