

Friday Makes Appointments.

The Friday appointments: Water commissioner and sewer inspector, $600 a year, August Brummond. Street commissioner, $60 a month, W. D. Uecker. Police force, appointments to be made at next meeting. City attorney, $400 a year, H. F. Barnhart. City physician, to be named later. Board of public works, to be named later. City engineer, A. J. Colwell. Chief of the fire department, appointment held up pending action of the department.

A partial list of appointments presented by Mayor Friday to the council last night were approved without opposition. W. D. Uecker was named as street commissioner after the council at the request of the mayor had provided that that official's salary should be $60 a month instead of $120 a year. W. H. Winter, councilman from the First ward and former county commissioner, was honored with being elected president of the council, a position which last year was held by Julius Degner. Two names were presented to the council, Mr. Winter nominating P. F. Dolin and Mr. Craven nominating W. D. Uecker. The ballot stood four for Winter and three for Dolin. In thanking the council Mr. Winter paid tribute to the Fourth ward councilman whom he had inadvertently sidetracked from the presidency.

Ask People to Be Good. A new council never starts on its career in Norfolk without formally asking the people to be good. The new council last night did not stray from this time honored custom. Here are a few of the reforms they declared for: No ashes and leaves in the nice gutters which the street committee had fixed up last year. Like-wise no bicycle riders on the sidewalks in nice weather. Also arrests for the boys who persist in jumping on moving trains near the uptown depots. Also a street cleaning for Norfolk avenue gutters. Mayor Friday said that in his opinion the city had been entirely too easy on outside property owners in making them live up to city ordinances and rules enforced against local property owners.

Council Proceedings. Council met in special session April 12 at 2:20 p. m., Mayor Sturgeon presiding. Present, Councilmen Schwenk, Winter, Craven, Kaufman, Degner, Fuesler and Dolin. Absent, Hibben. The election returns were canvassed with the following results:

Table with 5 columns: Name, First Ward, Second Ward, Third Ward, Fourth Ward, Total, Majority. Lists names like Sturgeon, Hartner, Craven, etc.

On motion of Winter, seconded by Blakeman, that the matter of opening Hayes avenue be left to the public works committee. The mayor instructed the street and alley committee to investigate and report on the matter of straightening the walk on Fifth street. Moved by Winter, seconded by Blakeman, that Mr. Krantz turn in the amount collected for material sold to city treasurer. Carried. Moved by Dolin, seconded by Blakeman, that the mayor appoint a janitor for the city building at a salary of $10 per month. Motion lost. On motion of Fuesler, seconded by Coleman, it was voted that the present janitor be paid $10 per month until different arrangements were made. The mayor appointed Thomas Farage janitor until further arrangements were made. The appointment was confirmed on motion of Winter, seconded by Fuesler. On motion of Craven, seconded by Winter, the council voted to adjourn until Thursday evening, April 22, at 8 p. m.

here. The banquet lasted until 2 o'clock this morning. Among the speakers were: James Britton, Wayne, who spoke on "The Third House," meaning the lobby; P. H. Bright of the normal school; C. A. Randall, on "The Eleventh Senatorial District;" George W. Wiltse on "Democratic Allies;" Tom Walling of Wakefield; John Kuhl of Cedar; J. J. McCarthy of Ponca on "Northeast Nebraska."

Ran Into Nail; May Lose Eye. Atkinson, Neb., April 14.—Special to The News: Harold Kirkland, a lad aged about nine years, ran into a post from which a bolt extended and nearly lost his eye, Tuesday noon. The child had been down town during the noon hour, as he is a boy from the country, and while playing on the way to school ran into the post, which stands in the road a few feet east of the Walrath & Sherwood lumber yard. A man near by picked him up and he was carried to the office of Dr. Douglas where the eye was dressed. Hopes are sustained that the eye may be saved. The posts were used to hold a gate for an advertisement. Farmer Badly Hurt. Chris Jennings, an elderly farmer living about two miles northwest of Atkinson, was hurt Tuesday afternoon. While getting a load of hay he over-balanced and fell between the horses and they immediately started to run. Mr. Jennings was thrown under the wagon and one wheel ran over his body, bruising the shoulder blade quite severely. Emory Kirkland, a neighbor boy, caught the team and went to the meadow where he found Mr. Jennings. He was brought to town for treatment, when it was found that no bones were broken. Death of Mrs. Ulrich. Word reached Atkinson last evening that Mrs. Mary Ulrich of Stuart died Tuesday afternoon. The Ulrich family lived for several years west of Atkinson on a farm. About a year ago they moved to Stuart where they have resided since. McAllister's Eyes Operated On. Neligh, Neb., April 14.—Special to The News: Councilman-elect W. L. McAllister of the Second ward, was compelled to leave the first of the week for Omaha to receive treatment for his eyes which have been a great source of trouble to him for some time. A message to his home folks yesterday afternoon stated that an operation had been performed in the morning, and that he was getting along nicely. An Easter Wedding. Neligh, Neb., April 14.—Special to The News: Justice of the Peace John M. McAllister has the distinction of performing a marriage ceremony on Easter morning. The contracting parties were John A. Smith and Mabel E. Streeter, two of our most respected young people of Antelope county, who reside near Clearwater. The couple were united in marriage in the parlor of the beautiful home of Mr. McAllister in the western part of the city. Material at Yankton Now. Yankton, S. D., April 13.—Special to The News: Awaiting time when the condition of the ground will permit actual work on the Yankton, Norfolk & Southern railroad and the bridge at this point, Contractor Johnson is devoting his time to preliminary work in connection with the building of the bridge and line of track from the city to the bridge site. Several cars of material including ties, piling, tools, hoists and pile drivers and other equipment are in the local railroad yards and bills of lading in Mr. Johnson's possession show that several carloads of heavy timber are on the way from the lumber districts of the northwest territory. This will be used in the construction of the temporary pile bridge over which the material for the permanent structure will have to be conveyed to the scene of operations. Mr. Graham, who had the contract for the grades and culverts from this point to Norfolk when the road was proposed a score of years ago and who had the grades completed prior to the Pierce defalcation which caused the stopping of work at that time, has been in the city and was busy getting his affairs in shape to transfer to the new corporation, Mr. Graham having come into possession of the right of way and grades through the inability of the former promoters to compensate him for his services. Mr. Graham and Mr. Yullie left for Norfolk via the Nebraska city at which points Mr. Graham recorded transfers to his claim on these properties to the new corporation. The prospects for the early completion of this road are better than ever before and citizens of Yankton are confident that work this time has advanced to such a stage as to almost insure the road. Many workmen including a camp of Italians are on the ground ready to go to work when the late spring will permit. Two Filings Are Rejected. Gregory, S. D., April 13.—Two filings have been rejected by the land office so far in the progress of selection of the Tripp lands. The first is that of William Kaicher, a veteran of the civil war, from Battle Creek, Mich., who registered through C. M. Rose of Dallas. It was rejected because the signature on the registration blank and on the power of attorney were not the same. Mr. Rose has designated the land desired and taken an appeal to the department for a decision. The other case is of a different character. J. H. Masters, holder of 619, registered twice on the same day at Dallas. When it was discovered by Judge Witten he wrote the applicant offering to accept a correction if it was an error, but Masters made affidavit that he did not register twice, but when the registration slips were sent to the postmaster of his town, he saw them and acknowledged the signature on both, but offered no explanation. He had not yet put in an appearance. A Sensational Train Arrest. A sensational arrest on the Northwestern passenger train between Monowi and Lynch, when Sheriff W. H. Sutton of Greeley and Albert McNide a deputy from Ord secured the man suspected of stealing the herd of fifteen horses near Butte, was witnessed by several Norfolk people. The prisoner's name was given as Will Burnett. Trained Through Norfolk. The two officers trailed Burnett through Norfolk, having spotted him in Council Bluffs. The alleged horse grabber has a prominent birthmark on his left cheek. After watching their man closely in Norfolk, the two officers followed him into the smoker. The sheriff sat opposite the suspect. Nearing Lynch McNide came in and said "It's all right," to Sheriff Sutton. The two stepped over and grabbed Burnett, one at each arm. "Young man, stand up," they commanded. Burnett was searched and a revolver taken from him. The suspect is said to have served a term in the penitentiary before for horsestealing. Most of the fifteen horses stolen were sold near Ord. Fisherman Up Against It. Clearwater, Neb., April 12.—Did the new game and fish laws passed by the last legislature carry the emergency clause? Published reports have failed to state, but if the emergency clause does apply then there is an interesting question for someone to answer who is acquainted with the whys and wherefores of the latest fish law. It is not exactly clear to the average fisherman why the closed season has been pushed along till June 1, in the case of black bass while pickerel can be caught lawfully with hook and line during April and May as heretofore. But the state legislature has ordered it, and in the case of the fisherman, whether they understand why or not it is "Theirs' not to make reply! Theirs' not to reason why! Theirs' but to do and die!" Hence, since pickerel can be caught during April and May and black bass not until June 1, if not this year at least every year hereafter, what is the angler to do who goes pickerel fishing with a spoon hook made especially to attract pickerel—what is this innocent and law-abiding angler to do if a black bass takes the liberty of grabbing the hook before it is lawful for him to do so? Suppose the poor man does not know he has hooked a bass and swings him high and dry and lands him on the ground so hard that he breaks his back, or suppose the cruel hook tears the bass's delicate mouth or penetrates the eye and injures him for life—what shall the fisherman do who would be blameless in the sight of the law, should he throw the injured or expiring bass back into the water? Wouldn't a member of the legislature himself, if he caught a bass under the above conditions be justified in taking him home and frying him for supper? Before this year Clearwater fishermen were not troubled much by black bass as they seldom got farther west than the Neligh mill dam. People up this way had to be content with bullheads, sunfish, sloppy, slimy carp till you couldn't rest, and an occasional pickerel athletic enough to vault the Neligh dam. However it is an ill high water that blows nobody good, and while Neligh housewives have been resurrecting old kerosene lamps and cleaning smoke, greasy lamp chimneys the while blessing old John D. for inventing standard oil and the Elkhorn river for knocking the stuffing out of their dam electric light system, would-be fishermen west of Neligh could hardly wait till the 1st of April before straddling their fish-poles and galloping out to round up the maverick bass or pickerel that had slipped through the hole in the dam. They did well, however, in holding back their enthusiasm as no cases of illegal fishing before the 1st of April were reported except the hint thrown out by the Neligh Leader in March that certain parties in that metropolis had best watch out and quit their selling fish. A word to the wise should be sufficient—don't try selling fish to an editor before the open season, just slip him one on his way home and all will be well. Results have been rather disappointing but there has been some improvement, whereas last year the proportion of game fish to fishermen was about one to seven, indications so far this year would seem to point that there will be no less than one fish to every three fishermen not counting carp, bull-heads and sunfish. Now the question is, is it lawful for a man to take home and eat a bass caught out of season when he went fishing for pickerel without any intention of catching black bass? Editorial note—H. B. 224, the new game law, did not carry the emergency clause. Jess Kinnan Gets 10 Years. Neligh, Neb., April 13.—Special to The News: District Judge A. A. Welch overruled the motion for a new trial in the case of the state vs. Jess Kinnan at the court house here yesterday morning. He sentenced the defendant to a term of ten years in the state penitentiary. A transcript has been ordered by Kinnan's attorneys which signifies that the case will go to the supreme court. The court ordered Sheriff Miller to keep the accused in the county jail for at least ten days, and if the transcript is delayed to hold him for thirty days. Arrest Creates Real Sensation. Butte, Neb., April 14.—Special to The News: Sheriff Sutton of Greeley arrived in Butte with William Burnett as a prisoner charged with stealing fifteen head of horses from Hugh O'Neill on March 27. The evidence is very strong against him as he is said to have been very bold about it and to have driven the horses into Chambers and tried to dispose of some of them. Burnett came very near buying some of them. Burnett claimed to be the owner of a big ranch up west some place. The boldness of the deed made them unsuspecting until they received a copy of the reward offered by Sheriff Hall of Holt with a description of the horses stolen. Sheriff Sutton then set out to find his men and located this fellow in Norfolk Sunday morning. A Gun Play. He shadowed him until he got into Boyd county where he wished to take him off the train and stepping up to him drew a six-shooter and told him to surrender. Burnett made a quick move for his gun. Sheriff Sutton and his assistant were too quick for him and after considerable of a struggle they succeeded in handcuffing him. When searched he was found to have a 32-20 strapped on him and shells with steel jackets to fit the gun in every pocket and another big gun in his satchel. Burnett Bros. are well known in this country, having lived here for many years and are at the present time engaged in the livery business in Bonesteel, S. D. Sheriff Hall came over and took his prisoner to Holt county yesterday. Served Six Years in Pen. O'Neill, Neb., April 14.—Special to The News: William Burnett, the man arrested on the train between Lynch and Monowi Monday, for driving off thirteen head of horses from Hugh O'Neill's pastures on March 29, was brought to O'Neill yesterday by Sheriff Hall of this county and Sheriff Sutton of Garfield county. He was placed in the city jail and will probably have a hearing in county court Wednesday or Thursday. Burnett is said to have had two companions in the raid, but they have not been apprehended. The horses were all recovered between Chambers, in this county, and Burwell. The bunch is valued at $1,300. Burnett has a prison record. He was sentenced to the penitentiary for six years in August, 1902, by the district court of this county, for horse stealing. He has been out about a year and is said to have an interest in a livery barn at Bonesteel. He is said to be the chief thief and the only one of the three whose name appears in the formal complaint filed in county court, the other two being designated as "John Doe and Richard Roe." The complaint states that the thirteen head of horses are the property of Mamie C. O'Neill. Affects All Fraternal Orders. Lincoln, April 14.—Following the decision of the supreme court in the case of the Royal Highlanders in which it was held that fraternal insurance orders must have a representative form of government, State Auditor Barton announced that the ruling will be strictly enforced against all orders of that kind. He notified the order of Ben Hur of this determination, at the same time expressing the hope that the ruling will be applied with at once, without further action on his part. He further stated that in case he found it necessary he would take the matter up with the insurance departments of other states and try to secure united action. Omaha Druggist Help Up. Omaha, April 14.—An unmasked man entered the pharmacy of J. H. Green at the corner of Park avenue and Pacific streets at 11:10 o'clock last night, stuck a pistol in the proprietor's face and helped himself to the contents of the cash drawer, about $30. He also took Green's watch. The police have a good description of the holdup. Indians Are Indicted. Sioux Falls, S. D., April 14.—The Grand jury returned new indictments. Several indictments in addition to those heretofore reported have been returned by the United States grand jury, which convened in Sioux Falls on Tuesday of last week, and which has not yet completed its work. One of the indictments was returned in the case of Will Jackson, a colored man of Mitchell, who is charged in the indictment with having carried on the business of a retail liquor dealer without having first paid the special government tax. A second count in the indictment charges him with failing to post a notice showing that he had paid the tax. The offense is stated in the indictment to have been committed between January 3 and 16 of this year. When arraigned, Jackson entered a plea of not guilty. Henry Stelta was indicted on the same charge as in the case of Jackson, the offense in his case having, it is charged, been committed between January 13 and 15 last. Stelta entered a plea of guilty. Philip Swift Bear, Blue Eyes, Catch the Enemy and Samuel Rainbow, Sioux warriors, were indicted on the charge of having introduced liquor into the reservation. When arraigned, Swift Bear entered a plea of guilty. The petit jury for the present term of federal court reported today and the trial of cases now has commenced. It is expected the trial of cases will require the remainder of the week and all of next week at least. It was stated to the court by Judge Frank R. Atkins, attorney for Wagar, that one most important witness for the defense could not reach Sioux Falls until Wednesday, and accordingly Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock was fixed as the time for the case to be called for trial. The case against John Q. Anderson, former member of the state legislature and R. H. Somers, Jr., who were indicted by the federal grand jury at Aberdeen last November on a charge of rustling cattle belonging to white-men, which were being grazed on the Indian reservation, by consent of all attorneys in interest, was today continued until the October term of United States court in Sioux Falls. Owing to the prominence of the principals and the nature of the charge, the case has attracted wide attention in the central part of the state. These Indians are from the Rosebud reservation and it was upon this reservation that the liquor is alleged to have been introduced. Mrs. Wooster Revives Divorce Suit. Central City, Neb., April 14.—When it was thought that the divorce case brought by Lillie W. Wooster against her husband, Charles Wooster, had been settled and that the parties would eventually be reconciled, the first action brought in the district court having been dismissed, Mrs. Wooster, through her attorney, Finley Howard of Grand Island, has filed another suit, slightly altering the allegations set forth in the first petition. The prominent charge in the first petition was that Wooster was very cruel to his wife and that he would not let her sleep for days and nights at a time because she would not declare to him that she loved him better than her God. The principal charge in the second petition is that Wooster repeatedly threatened to commit murder if he was compelled to live with his wife any longer, but whether the murder was to be committed upon his wife or upon himself the petition does not state. The new petition also alleges that when the plaintiff married the defendant she had $1,200 in money, which she turned over to her husband to use in liquidating the indebtedness on his property and in buying more property, and she asks this fact to be taken into consideration in the awarding of alimony and the setting up of their affairs. The new petition contains the general allegations of the first one. Atkinson Items. Atkinson, Neb., April 14.—Special to The News: Mrs. A. D. Havens went to Omaha Saturday morning to spend Easter with her sister, Mrs. Clarence Walrath, and her son, Howard. County Superintendent Florence Zink of O'Neill was in Atkinson Friday and attended the Utile Delci club which met at the home of Mrs. Charles Godell. Miss Zink read a paper on "Art," which was interesting and helpful to the club. Mrs. Corbett entertained their guest. Horace Moss is erecting a fine new concrete house in the eastern part of town. Lewis A. Miller returned home from Allen, Neb., Thursday, having been in the employ of Dr. J. L. McDonald's drug store the past two years. His plans are to finish his pharmacy course at the Creighton university of Omaha this fall. Mrs. Charles McShane of Hammond is spending Easter week with friends in town. For Another Chautauqua. The proposal of the Midland bureau of Des Moines to hold a second Chautauqua in Norfolk this summer has been accepted by the Norfolk Commercial club on condition that the business interests of the city are friendly to the project and are willing to meet the expenses incident to furnishing the chautauqua grounds and lighting and policing the same during the chautauqua. The Commercial club has been considering several chautauqua proposals. It was yesterday afternoon that the directors voted to accept the Midland offer provided that the money for the grounds could be raised. To this end a chautauqua committee was authorized, Rev. Edwin Booth, Jr., to be chairman. President Killian obtained additional time in which to name the committee. Last year's chautauqua, the first held in this city, was put on by the Midland people. The sale of 500 season tickets was guaranteed last year but no guarantee is asked this year. The first chautauqua held in this city last year was considered a success locally. FIFTY DOLLARS FOR BABY BOY. First Child Born at New Jewish Hospital Gets Cash Prize. New York, April 14.—Fifty dollars just for being born is the reward received by a baby boy the reward arrived yesterday at the new Jewish maternity hospital in East Broadway. The hospital authorities had promised $50 to the first child born in the institution, and Mrs. Rose Epstein was the first to receive a visit from the stork. Threatens Murder; Suicides. Aberdeen, S. D., April 9.—Ray Wilson, aged thirty-five years, married, committed suicide at Columbia, near here, by sending a bullet through his right temple. Wilson had been drinking, and went to the home of William Whitney, a neighbor, late at night and, after threatening to kill the Whitney family, fired a shot into his right temple, dying instantly.

The proposal of the Midland bureau of Des Moines to hold a second Chautauqua in Norfolk this summer has been accepted by the Norfolk Commercial club on condition that the business interests of the city are friendly to the project and are willing to meet the expenses incident to furnishing the chautauqua grounds and lighting and policing the same during the chautauqua. The Commercial club has been considering several chautauqua proposals. It was yesterday afternoon that the directors voted to accept the Midland offer provided that the money for the grounds could be raised. To this end a chautauqua committee was authorized, Rev. Edwin Booth, Jr., to be chairman. President Killian obtained additional time in which to name the committee. Last year's chautauqua, the first held in this city, was put on by the Midland people. The sale of 500 season tickets was guaranteed last year but no guarantee is asked this year. The first chautauqua held in this city last year was considered a success locally.
