Treat, charged with the murder of Thomas Grafius at Shelton, has been accorded his freedom by a jury in the county court, and as long as he lives within the bounds of the law he can run at large. The case grew out of a divorce, a marriage and a feud. Treat's wife secured the divorce last spring and married Thomas Grafius. Treat brought suit and secured judgment against Grafius. The feeling between the men grew more acute and at last terminated in the shooting of Grafius on July 5. Later he died. The coroner's jury pronounced his death due to liver trouble and not to the gun wound.
