

FRIDAY FACTS.

S. R. Napper went to Sioux Falls. W. L. Meyer of Neligh was here. Walter Savidge has gone to Wayne. F. G. Auringer of Neligh was in the city. W. H. Kramer of Humpfrey was in the city. Kimball Barnes went to Madison on business. Miss Addie Grant has returned from Emerick. Mr. and Mrs. Leon Illinger of Elgin were here. E. P. Van Kirk of Brunswick was in the city. C. E. Burnham will go to Gregory on business. Spencer Butterfield went to Omaha on business. J. J. Clements of Madison visited friends here. Paul Wetzel is at LeMars, Ia., transacting business. Frank Pilger of Pierce was in the city on business. John Phinney returned from a business trip to Omaha. William Schelly of Benkelman, Neb., is in the city visiting relatives. Mrs. T. E. Odiorne has gone to Stanton for a few days' visit with friends. Mrs. Andrew Anderson and son Arthur were in the city visiting friends Thursday. W. J. Stadelman has sent word home from Chicago saying he will return Saturday. John F. Crosby, cashier of the Hoskins State bank, was in the city transacting business. Mrs. G. A. Miller and daughter, Miss Josephine Miller, of Hadar, visited with friends here. Richard Ingles, who has been here visiting relatives, has returned to his home at Sioux Falls. Word was received from former Congressman J. F. Boyd that he would reach Norfolk Friday night. W. H. Hutchinson and Miss Mary Pascoe of Peru are in the city visiting with the A. H. Hutchinson family. The Damasens commandery meets tonight for work. A large number of Norfolk young folks enjoyed dancing at the assembly of the Norfolk dancing school. L. E. Peugeole, who has been with the Bennett Piano company at Alliance for some time, has been transferred to the local branch of that company. Mr. Peugeole was at one time a piano salesman in Norfolk. T. G. Hight is reported quite ill. He has been suffering with inflammatory rheumatism for the past week. H. R. Ward is still in Council Bluffs, where the condition of his mother is not improved. She is gradually failing. George W. Thompson, lecturer, pleased a good sized audience at the First Congregational church last night. This was the second of the Woman's club series for the library fund benefit. A letter has been received from J. E. Haase, who is on his way to Texas in company with Charles Detersdorf on real estate business. Mr. Haase writes from Kansas City, reporting a heavy snowfall and cold weather. Miss Ethel Fairbanks left for La-Crosse, Wis., and upon her arrival there Saturday noon will be married to John Hanley, a printer who formerly worked here. They will live at La-Crosse. Miss Minnie Braasch and her sister, Miss Emma Braasch, report the loss of two valuable hat pins, which were stolen from them Friday night. It is not known by the ladies when they were stolen, but it is believed thieves took them while placed in a cloak room. S. T. Napper has received word from the United States marshal at Sioux Falls that he has been subpoenaed as a government witness at Sioux Falls. The fact that Mr. Napper is requested to bring with him to Sioux Falls books showing the first issue of cattle with the Rosebud brand, indicates he will be a witness in an important cattle case. Professor August Steffen reports vacation in the Lutheran German schools begins about December 23 and ends probably January 3. The board of directors will probably hold meetings this week to decide the definite dates of the vacation period. Programs have been arranged by both the Christ Lutheran and St. Paul schools and will be delivered at the schools before Christmas. A meeting of the chautauqua association will be held at Mapes & Hazen's office in the Mast block Monday night. All those interested in the chautauqua are invited to attend this meeting. Representative Gose of the Midland Chautauqua is expected here shortly to make definite plans for next summer's chautauqua. These plans, however, cannot be made, owing to the fact that there still lack a few pledges to be made. The Modern Brotherhood of America last night elected the following officers: President, J. M. Covert; vice president, Fred Krantz; secretary and treasurer, George H. Burton; chaplain, Mrs. Ed. Mullen; conductor, Mrs. George Mather; watch, Mrs. Monsterman; sentry, George Mather; medical examiner, Dr. Brush; trustees, Ed Mullen and J. Dignan. The officers will be installed the second Thursday in January, when the state manager is expected to be present. The automobile has of late been used for various purposes. While it is cited by automobile owners that the cold weather does not hinder them from running their machines, the bad roads are now the bone of contention. It is reported here that farmers used the fly wheels of the machines for churning butter, grinding corn and various other uses, which does away with power which had been furnished by sheep or dogs on surrounding farms of Norfolk. The latest use of the automobile was shown at Neligh some months ago by Manager Gilman of the mill there, when a gasoline engine running a cement mixer refused to work. Mr. Gilman took the tire off the hind wheel of his machine, attached a belt from it to the mixer, turned on the juice and business began. William Ahlman here has invented a skate sharpener which gets its power from the fly wheel of an automobile.

SQUAW WINS A DIVORCE.

Left-Handed Bear Cuts Wife's Hair. Team Included in Alimony. LeBeau, S. D., Dec. 10.—In a fit of rage, Harvey Left-Handed Bear assumed the role of barber, attacked his wife and performed a hair-cutting feat that left the squaw in a most humiliating position, socially, and in a nervous condition mentally and physically. Mrs. Bear was not called upon to mourn the death of a near relative, and because Harvey made her a mourner by reason of his "barbaric" act, Mrs. Bear came to LeBeau and instructed an attorney to file a suit for divorce. Some days ago, Harvey accused his wife of unbecoming conduct and brought suit for a divorce. He then went home, grabbed her by the locks and gave her a midsummer haircut. Both parties to the suit wanted a divorce and the court gave the decree to the squaw, together with the custody of the three cub Bears and alimony as follows: One bay team, wagon, harness, ten head of cattle and house and barn. The Left-Handed Bear allotment is directly across from LeBeau, and Harvey is now taking an inventory of his property preparatory to carrying out the mandate of the court.

STRIKES BARBARIC, THEY SAY.

Telegraphers Want Mediation for Their Grievances. Chicago, Dec. 10.—"A strike is barbaric, because it usually bears upon which side is the strongest. Mediation usually strikes the actual grievance." This statement was made by members of the union committee after the Order of Railroad Telegraphers had agreed to submit their demand for an increase of wages to mediation under the Erdman act. The controversy is between the officials of the Illinois Central railroad and the telegraphers employed on that line. The proposition for mediation was proposed to the telegraphers' union by officials of the railroad.

Kerosene Explosion.

Aberdeen, S. D., Dec. 10.—As the result of using kerosene to hasten the morning fire in the kitchen range, Gertrude Waurlich, aged 16 years, is suffering from severe burns on the face and arms. She is a student at the N. N. I. S. and makes her home with the family of Rev. C. Oertli, with whom her father was associated as assistant pastor until his death a few months ago. The girl has only been in this country six months and had not learned the danger of some American customs. Swygard Leaves Albion. Albion, Neb., Dec. 10.—Special to The News: W. B. Swygard has resigned his position as manager of the Alfalfa Meal Co. and has gone to Omaha to open a general feed business. Russ Williams succeeds Mr. Swygard as manager. Elmer E. Jorgenson of this city was married to Miss Irene Doty at the home of the bride in Odessa, Mo., last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Jorgenson will reside at Louisville, Ky., where Mr. Jorgenson is engaged in evangelistic work.

RYAN STOLE HER HUSBAND?

A New York Woman Will Sue the Financier for $100,000. New York, Dec. 10.—Mrs. Catherine Gilhooly, wife of Michael Gilhooly, confidential agent of Thomas F. Ryan, the financier, says that the divorce just granted to her husband was obtained through conspiracy and fraud and that she will institute an action against Thomas F. Ryan, demanding $100,000 damages for the alienation of Gilhooly's affections. Mrs. Gilhooly says that the first intimation she had that the decree had been made final last month was when she read the announcement in a paper a few days ago. She says Mr. Ryan was responsible for her husband deserting her and that the traction magnate has furnished Gilhooly with funds and even his own personal counsel, Alfred C. Joplin, to fight the suit. "The whole suit has been a fraud and conspiracy since the beginning," Mrs. Gilhooly said today. "If some of the lawyers and judges had their just deserts they would be in jail. When my husband was granted a divorce last August, naming an innocent priest, I was the most surprised woman in the world. I never had been called to give any testimony nor was I given a chance to put in a defense. Once in the hearing I was subpoenaed before Senator Ellsberg, who acted as referee. I was sworn in and then told to go home. I was never asked one question. I was told that it was not necessary to testify or put in any defense. "I have appealed to Mr. Ryan to send my husband home to me, but he has refused to help me. On the contrary, he encouraged him to remain away so that he could accompany him to Europe for six months each year. He told me that he didn't want to be bothered with my troubles. I hold Mr. Ryan responsible for taking my husband away. He was practically kidnapped just before Easter and has never been allowed to return home to get his clothing." Mrs. Gilhooly said that the priest, who was mentioned by her husband in the divorce papers, died about two months ago. The Gilhoolys were married fourteen years ago and lived together until last Easter. Mr. Gilhooly has been in the employ of Mr. Ryan for twenty years.

TO CHANGE INAUGURATION DAY.

March 4 is in the Bad Weather Season, the Objection Offered. Washington, Dec. 10.—A change in the date of inauguration of the president of the United States from March 4 to the last Thursday in April is strongly urged in the annual report of the commissioners of the District of Columbia presented to congress. In directing the legislators' attention to the necessity for a change in the date, the commissioners point out the inconvenience, discomfort and danger due to bad weather, especially calling attention to last inauguration day when many persons were made ill and many died as a result of the exposure to bad weather.

FINALLY RATIFY MARRIAGE.

Raise Daughter to Womanhood and Then Learn Marriage is Invalid. Lincoln, Dec. 10.—After twenty-eight years of married life and becoming the parents of a daughter now 23 years old, Millard F. Hascall and his wife, of Lincoln, discovered that the woman had never been lawfully divorced from her first husband. They called on County Judge Cosgrove and had the ceremony performed. This time it was a valid one, as less than a month ago the woman's first husband, Stephen V. Gerard, died. Details that were made public at the time of his death revealed to the Hascalls for the first time the fact that their union was invalid in the eyes of the law. Hascall is a contractor, and lived in Lincoln for a quarter of a century. She was a young girl, about 20, when she married Gerard. Differences arose and she returned home to her father. While there Gerard and his attorney visited her and induced her to begin action for divorce in a county in which neither was a resident. The decree was granted, and ignorant that it was invalid, she later married Hascall. Four lawyers were called into the case and they advised a remarriage. The couple will take no honeymoon journey.

ARREST BANK PRESIDENT.

Spensley, Business and Social Leader, Charged With Wrecking Institution. Mineral Point, Wis., Dec. 10.—Calvert S. Spensley, former president of the wrecked First National bank of Mineral Point, was arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Appleby and the two immediately left for Madison, where Spensley will be arraigned before a court commissioner and the hearing adjourned. Spensley is probably the biggest man in Mineral Point, socially, professionally and in a business way, and has borne an unsullied reputation. The indictment upon which he was arrested contains twenty counts, charging three distinct crimes; misapplication of the bank's funds, aiding and abetting Allen in making false reports to the controller of the currency. Several distinct offenses are alleged under each charge. The arrest of Spensley is a sequel to the alleged confessions of Philip Allen, the substance of which has already been made public.

HOW SHE ROASTS WOMEN.

Gertrude Atherton Says Men Want Sympathy in Their Affairs. New York, Dec. 10.—"Men today want their wives to be intelligent companions," Gertrude Atherton, the novelist, said. "While a husband may not care to discuss his business in his home, he is interested in a great many general questions, as men were not a hundred years ago, and he expects his wife to be capable of discussing them with him and to be able to interest him in the problems and affairs that make her own life. "Very young men are not conscious of these demands and very young women do not meet them. For they are urged to marriage by the call of the race, the insistent demand of nature to continue herself. But if a man survive this period without marrying he will seek an intelligent companion for a wife, not merely the first pretty girl he happens to meet. "If a woman wants to make anything of her life she must have a definite interest in it. A great deal of the unhappiness of American marriages is due to the wife's lack of interest and occupation. Formerly a woman had an entire house and a little garden to care for, and there were many more children to a family than there are today. But now the average woman lives in a flat. She has a servant to relieve her of the housework. "Her days are dedicated to idleness, thus to strange cults and isms. Why is it that so many wives have nervous prostration? Simply lack of interest in life, lack of occupation. "How many wives do you know who are really happy? They say they are happy, of course, but if you get to know them well enough for them to tell you the truth, you hear a different story. Haven't you often heard the most devoted wife say when her husband went away: "Thank heaven he's gone; now I can have a few days to myself." And this for no graver reason than because she would be free for awhile from growling about the meals or perhaps from suffering from his lack of the little refinements for which men care so little and women so much. "Everyone has an embryonic talent for something. Each woman should find out what hers is and develop it. I believe though that a woman who finds her work all absorbing should not marry. That is why I have never married again. "But do you know what I think is going to be the salvation of this country? The women's clubs. I don't belong to a club. You don't. We have our work and we don't need it. But for the women we were speaking of just now, the wives of the moderately well-to-do—just rich enough to have other women do their work and not rich enough to create other interests for themselves, clubs are wonderfully beneficial. They give balance and poise to those who might otherwise decent of the United States from March 4 to the last Thursday in April is strongly urged in the annual report of the commissioners of the District of Columbia presented to congress. In directing the legislators' attention to the necessity for a change in the date, the commissioners point out the inconvenience, discomfort and danger due to bad weather, especially calling attention to last inauguration day when many persons were made ill and many died as a result of the exposure to bad weather.

Madison, Neb., Dec. 10.—Special to The News: Otto Jacob Maurer, son of William Maurer of Spencer, Neb., and Miss Amelia Skala, daughter of William Skala of this city, were married by County Judge Bates. The happy couple took the evening train for Spencer where they will make their future home.

Dies in Dakota.

Sloux Falls, S. D., Dec. 10.—Special to The News: A nephew of General Wade Hampton, of civil war fame, died recently in a hospital at Spearfish and, as no relatives or friends could be located, the young man, whose name also was Wade Hampton, was buried in the Spearfish cemetery. The unfortunate young man had, it appeared, lived for some time at or in the vicinity of Spearfish, Wyo., directly west of Spearfish. Being taken with a serious illness he was taken by acquaintances to Spearfish and died at the room which had been secured for him at a hotel. It is believed that if the relatives of Gen. Wade Hampton can be located they will have the remains removed to the burial ground of this celebrated family.

A South Dakota Tragedy.

Sloux Falls, S. D., Dec. 10.—A coroner's jury which investigated the recent tragic death of Isaac Clark, an aged resident of Custer county, returned a verdict to the effect that the old man committed suicide by shooting himself with a rifle. A son testified before the coroner's jury that his father had threatened suicide at different times, and that in July last he made an attempt to drown himself while at Hermosa, but was rescued by his son and another man, who fortunately appeared upon the scene in time to save the old man's life. The rifle which Clark ended his life belonged to himself, and had been concealed for several days before the shooting, he having refused to produce the weapon when his son demanded to know where it was. The old man shot and killed himself about 1 o'clock in the morning, having quietly made his way from the house to a nearby gulch, where the deed was committed. The son heard the shot and, discovering the absence of his father from his room, secured the assistance of several other men and found the body of the old man lying in the gulch. The heavy rifle ball had entered the head close to his right temple and had completely shattered the upper front portion of the head.
