

Neigh Down, Tilden is Up. Okdale, Neb., Sept. 21.—Special to The News: The Tilden ball team gave Mr. Bovee his bumps here yesterday afternoon in a game with the home team. Eleven clean hits and two hits of a scratchy order were made off his delivery, and Tilden won, 5 to 2. The visitors scored twice in the third off a base on balls and three hits and three times in the fourth off a base on balls and four hits. Bovee was given good support, Okdale's two errors costing nothing. Glissman caught a good game and worked hard. WILL COLE HAVE THE NERVE?

The Importance of the World's Series May Upset Young Flinger.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Many Chicago fans are wondering whether Leonard Cole, the lanky young pitcher of the Cubs, will have the stamina to stand the test of hard work in the coming world's series. To the man on the bleachers "King" Cole seems to be anything but a faint hearted person. There are those who think Cole is too young and inexperienced to stand the strain.

It is contended that the thought of the importance of the contests and facing a team like the Athletics before a crowd of probably more than 30,000 persons would upset the young flinger of the Cub staff. Such a thing is possible with a pitcher of Cole's experience and one who has never competed in a world's championship. But if his performance in league games is any criterion, he should not have any trouble in doing as well as he has done before.

Cole was asked recently if he thought he would be able to pitch with the coolness that he had shown up to date. He replied:

"I do not see where there's any difference in pitching in a world's series. Of course, the result is of more importance, but that should not make any difference with a pitcher. If Chance puts me in, as I hope he will, I will do just as I have done in the past. Perhaps I will be a little more cautious, as I have not seen any of the Athletic batters, and have not the least idea how they hit. But that should not make any difference to the pitcher who has the 'stuff' and nerve."

On account of his splendid work in the National League this season it is natural to expect that Cole will be a factor in the world's series, and he will, but it is not likely that Chance will rely too much on him.

The mainstay will be either Brown or Reulbach. They have had the experience of playing in world's series games and are noted for their coolness and nerve when it comes to a crisis. Overall would be counted in on that, too, but his arm is in such shape that it is doubtful if he will get an opportunity to work, unless his whip shows a great change for the better before the series starts. Overall is a hard man beat when he is in top form.

Jack Pfeister will be in condition before then and will be in fighting shape when called on for the series. Pfeister will be good for one game at least, and possibly more. Like Brown, Reulbach and Overall, he has had the experience of facing high class opponents in a world's series, and has an unlimited amount of pluck. That is one feature Chance likes about a pitcher, and he never hesitates to praise his staff on account of that.

Nice Points of Law Involved.

West Point, Neb., Sept. 21.—Special to The News: The regular fall term of the district court for Cumming county is now in session. The jury was empaneled yesterday morning and the case of Thiele vs. Carey is now on trial. This is a case of unusual interest as involving nice points of law. It is alleged the defendant received a deposit of money from a would-be purchaser of land and when the party appeared to consummate the deal the defendant refused to accept the balance of the purchase price or to refund the deposit already paid. The case has already been in the supreme court and was remanded for a new trial.

The following persons were admitted to full United States citizenship after a searching examination by the United States special examiner sent here for the purpose: Peter M. Sorensen, a native of Denmark; Frederick W. Sorensen, Denmark; Johann H. Siemers, Germany; Herman Helster, Germany; Hans Pedersen, Denmark; John E. A. Olsen, Denmark; Carl Jahnke, Germany; Gerhard Haserock, Germany; William Valeske, Germany.

BULL WINS A BATTLE.

Machine Belonging to a Nebraska Man Wrecked in Fight With Animal.

Elk, Neb., Sept. 21.—George Downey, living on a sandhill ranch three miles south of here, concluded that going about in a wagon was a bit slow for a rich rancher, so a couple of weeks ago he went to Omaha, and when he returned he rode in a splendid $3,500 touring car, paid for in hard cash.

For a few days the Downey car was the envy of the neighborhood, as it was the finest machine ever brought into Cherry county. Now, however, Downey is again riding behind a span of horses and the automobile has been consigned to the junk pile, where it will remain until numerous new parts can be secured from the factory. This all comes about on account of a collision between the automobile and a 6-year-old Hereford bull, the recognized boss of the Downey ranch.

The other day Downey cranked up the automobile and invited the men visitors to ride to one of the farthest away lots and look at the cattle. All went well until the lot where the Hereford cattle were grazing was reached. The gate to this enclosure was thrown open and Downey put on the high speed and as it steamed out toward where the bull was grazing he threw up his head, looked around and commenced to paw the ground. Downey yelled, but the animal took this for a challenge to fight and started toward the machine. Downey put on the big speed and the bull did the same. There was a crash and out of the dust and smoke that hung like a pall over the scene, the bull stood over the wreckage, pawing and bellowing.

Those Girls Played Ball.

Norfolk won an interesting and fast game of baseball on the driving park diamond yesterday afternoon from the Hopkins girl champion baseball players of the world by a score of 5 to 4.

All through the game the girls endeavored to wrest the victory from the Norfolk men, who showed no mercy after they had warmed up to the fact that they were playing against a strong outfit, including the shortstop and one outfielder, who were not girls but men, and first class baseball players at that.

Ada, the clever little girl twirler, was succeeded by Madgson, the man on second. Ada took Madgson's place and made good. She only pitched one inning, her "split ball" proving an easy mark for the home team. Madgson, on the other hand, was hard to find, although Krahn and Spitz both hammered him for a two-bagger.

Kelleher seemed out of sorts when he threw his first ball with a "kirk" in the box. He seemed puzzled and although he had his usual steam, the chaffing he got from Hattie as she marked time with both her feet and beat seemed to get on his nerves. Her single, however, awakened him and he was soon grinding away and found he needed all his cleverness. The girls with the combination of their men players were out to win.

Norfolk retired in the first inning without a score, the girls having chalked up one score to their record. They made another in the second with Norfolk following and tying the two and two score in the third. There was nothing doing then until the sixth, the little grounders having been gobbled up at first on both sides. Norfolk's score in the sixth was tied by the girls who, however, could not overcome the two runs in the seventh. They forced one in, making the score 5 to 4 in that inning.

The eighth was a zero on both sides and it looked bad for the Hopkins girls. Fat, whose girl name was not recorded and who played an able game in the center field, hit out a pop-up but this was taken up by Schelly on second. Then came Hattie with her regular fire of chatter at both pitcher and umpire. Two strikes were recorded against her, but she met Romey's last endeavor squarely, pulling out a three-bagger. The way she went around the bases would put to shame some of the Marathon runners. Her slide to the third bag was a record grandstand feature and she won much applause. Hull then popped out a grounder which Kelleher held for a moment and then put him out to Brueggeman, who came back to Miller to put out Hattie as she was sliding headlong for the home plate. This ended the game with Norfolk only one up. There was a little kicking on the part of the Hopkins men against the last decision of the umpire. They claimed Hattie should have been called safe at home, but they gave it up and marched to their private car which was enroute to Plainview, where they play today.

Base Ball Notes.

Brueggeman had a brand new ball uniform of red, but this the girl players did not seem to notice. They played baseball.

South had his off day. Could it have been the girls?

They say the girl player called Comp who played first was a man. One ticket seller confided to another that Comp wore a wig.

POOR CHILDREN LEARN TO ACT.

Little East Side Juveniles Educated in Art of Stageman.

New Idea Woman's Magazine: Down deep on the East Side, New York, there is a little theater that isn't a theater at all. It is an educational playhouse where shine theatrical stars just as bright as the ones along Broadway—the dream of all play people.

These stars during the daytime go to school or work behind typewriting machines, or add up long columns of figures, or watch mangling machines in the laundries all the day long. Only at night do they come out and twinkle merrily to lighten weary hearts.

Until the educational theater was organized, six years ago, the only amusements accessible to the poorest of the East Side were the nickelodeons, the penny arcades, the tent-class moving picture shows of the Bowery, Houston and Grand streets.

How to get the boys and youths, the girls and young working women to sidestep the insidious Bowery show; to have instead an evening of pure, clean enjoyment—that was the question.

After many weighty considerations it was at last decided to present a real play by wholly untrained working boys and girls. Then the educational theater was organized.

When a cast is to be selected the dramatic director lets it be known and applicants flock in. Sometimes as many as 500 apply for a place in a play that requires thirty members.

The admission to the performance is ten cents. This does not begin to defray the expenses, but that's not the idea—it's educational and commercial. That's the reason it's a playhouse and not a theater.

The boy, or much more the girl, who reaches that well known period in life's journey finds himself or herself richer in experience, and yet, to all intents and purposes, absolutely ignorant of the real seductiveness, the real dangers and pitfalls of the commercial stage.

Bryan Bolts Mayor Jim.

Lincoln, Sept. 21.—In a statement in which he declares that the crusade which he feels impelled to wage against the liquor interests of the state and nation overshadows a personal and political friendship of twenty years, William J. Bryan last evening announced he had bolted the head of the democratic state ticket in Nebraska, and would not support James C. Dahlgren for governor.

Mr. Bryan says he regrets that he is compelled to take the stand he does—his first departure from party regularity—but says he feels it his duty to do so because of the position taken by the democratic nominee on the liquor question.

Statement is Apologetic.

The statement, which in a way is apologetic in tone, does not indicate that Mr. Bryan will support the candidate of any other party, but announces that he is a pronounced advocate of county option and the early saloon closing law, both of which he insists are menaced by Mr. Dahlgren's candidacy.

Old Friends, Too.

"I regret this exceedingly for he has been a political and personal friend for twenty years and it would give me pleasure to speak for him if I could endorse the policy for which he stands, but he has chosen to make the liquor question the paramount issue and makes his appeal on that issue.

TAFT IN CINCINNATI.

The President Guest of an Exposition During the Day.

Cincinnati, Sept. 21.—President Taft will be in the hands of the Ohio valley exposition officials almost all of today. The major part of the time will be spent at the exposition grounds.

President Taft will be escorted to the exposition by a committee of exposition directors who will meet him at the home of Charles Taft where he is staying.

After an inspection of exhibits the president will be the guest at a luncheon. In the afternoon he will make an address in Music hall before the members of the Ohio valley improvement association and business men's club and other visitors.

The president will return to his brother's home for a rest. Early in the evening he will be escorted to the business men's club, where he will be a guest at dinner. Immediately after the dinner he will return to Music hall and witness the production of an opera.

"Pin-cho" the Right Way.

Madison, Neb., Sept. 21.—Editor News: In yesterday's paper you have a short item asking "how is Gifford Pincho's name pronounced?"

It was my privilege to have represented the Nebraska State Medical association as delegate to the National Conservation congress at St. Paul the first week of this month, and to have heard the name pronounced by ex-President Roosevelt, by Senator Beveridge, by John Barrett, Governor Eberhard, James J. Hill, Secretary Wilson and other notables, and it was invariably pronounced Pin-sho.

CLAIM SHERMAN STRONGHOLD.

Progressives Claim Majority of Votes in Vice President's County.

J. Bryan, who gave out a statement that he would not support the mayor in his gubernatorial campaign. In many respects the mayor's statement is more forcible than eloquent, and he closes with the declaration that "they will find out they have got hold of the wrong end of a red hot poker and will get the biggest trimming that has been given in this or any other state for many years."

The mayor's statement follows: "Mr. Bryan and I have been co-workers and friends, politically and personally for twenty years and during that time I have never wavered at any point along the line when his enemies assailed him, nor when he was a candidate for office.

"The position I take on the liquor question is purely democratic and follows the spirit of democratic principles which stand at all times for personal liberty and self government. The party has always stood for personal liberty and that is why I am a democrat.

Says People Back Him.

"The Slocum law of our state has been on the statute books for thirty years. It gives each city, town and village the right to vote saloons in or out, which means local self government. County option, which Bryan is advocating, enlarges the unit and takes from the people the right of self government.

"Mr. Bryan and his friends try to make it appear that this is a brewery fight. The primary election just held in Nebraska has demonstrated that the people of our state without regard to vocation, farmers, merchants and working men alike, have rallied to my support and gave me the nomination regardless of party, because they were opposed to summary laws.

"Wrong End of Hot Poker."

"I regret exceedingly that Mr. Bryan and myself must part company for a short time at least. When the votes are counted November 8 Mr. Bryan, the county optionist, and all of the people who are trying to force summary laws on the citizens of this state, one of the greatest in the union, will find out they have got hold of the wrong end of a red hot poker, because we will give them the biggest trimming which has been given in this or any other state in several decades."

No Alps Flight Today.

Brig, Switz., Sept. 21.—Although clear weather was reported from the other side of the Alps today, a fog that made high flying impossible continued here. George Chavez, the Peruvian, and Mr. Weymann, the American aviator, declare they will wait favorable weather before again attempting the cross-Alps flight over the Simplon pass to Milan, Italy.

SMUGGLERS HAVE POOR LUCK.

In Six Weeks Jewelry Worth 1/2 Million Have Been Seized at New York.

New York, Sept. 21.—That at least one-half million dollars worth of jewelry has been seized from the state-rooms of "amateur smugglers" arriving in New York aboard trans Atlantic liners within six weeks, was the statement made by Gen. Nelson H. Henry, the new surveyor of the port.

More than 50 percent of these gems were brought in by women, and an other 50 percent await final confiscation or adjudication at the customs stores.

In August alone more than $17,000 was collected on declarations of other jewelry and personal effects imported here by the "private rich," and in that same time General Henry found that two of his inspectors had been tempted by persons whose jewelry was seized in spite of the official warning from Collector Loeb's office that graft was a thing of the past. These two inspectors are now awaiting trial.

districts of Oneida county to support him for temporary chairman of the state convention. The delegates from the Second assembly district will oppose him.

Of the fifteen wards in Utica he carried ten. His own ward was captured by the progressives by almost 100 majority. Sherman carried twenty-five towns and wards in the county. The progressives have twenty-three. It has been impossible up to the present time to secure an estimate of the total vote in the county but the progressives claim that of all votes cast at the primaries yesterday they have nearly 2 to 1 in their favor.

Library is Now Running.

The new Carnegie public library in Norfolk is now open to the public.

Miss Lobdell, the librarian, is in charge of the institution every afternoon excepting Sunday and Monday from 2 till 6 o'clock, and every Monday evening from 7 till 9 o'clock. Already patrons of the library are beginning to take advantage of the books to be had.

The evening hours for Mondays were determined upon at a meeting of the library board last night, in order to accommodate those persons who were unable to get to the library during the afternoons.

The library furniture has not yet been received, but has been ordered. Mrs. George D. Butterfield is making a gift of a beautiful librarian's desk and Mrs. Sol G. Mayer has volunteered to make a substantial gift in furniture.

The new building is beautifully finished inside and will be a credit to Norfolk for a great many years to come. The board, in ordering furniture, has taken the attitude that it is economy to buy the very best on the market, even though fewer articles be bought each year.

It is probable that the name of Andrew Carnegie, and acknowledgement to him for his gift, may be inscribed upon a plate at the front of the library. At present his name does not appear, nor is it required that it shall appear on the building.

It is probable that when the furniture is installed, some sort of formal opening may be held.

Three new members of the library board have just been reappointed by Mayor Friday for three-year terms: Mrs. Fred Koerber, Mrs. P. J. Stafford, E. M. Huntington.

Plot to Kill Jap Ruler.

Tokio, Sept. 21.—A sensation was created by the publication this afternoon of the alleged discovery of a plot among his own subjects to assassinate Emperor Mutsuhito.

The startling story appeared in the Hochi Shinbun, which states that the plotters, who are now under arrest, certainly will be sentenced to death after trials before a special secret court.

This is the first time in the history of the country that the life of the sovereign has been plotted against by his own people and the fact known.

The Dentists Talked Shop.

From the time President H. E. Hardy delivered his address before the Northeast Nebraska Dental association, formally opening the annual meeting at Marquardt hall Tuesday afternoon, until late in the evening the large number of visiting dentists were kept interested.

The entire program was carried out after which the regular business was transacted, during which the election of officers for the ensuing year was held. This election resulted as follows: President, Dr. C. M. Burris, Randolph (last year's vice president); vice president, Dr. W. H. Mullen, Bloomfield; secretary, G. B. Baird, Fremont; treasurer, W. R. Hall, Battle Creek. The next meeting will be held in Norfolk.

After the election of officers the meeting was adjourned, the dentists and their ladies meeting at 7:30 in the dining room of the Pacific hotel, where they held their usual banquet. The dining room was taken up by the long tables, which held covers for forty-four guests. At each plate was a beautiful vase with fall flowers. Addresses by several of the prominent dentists were enjoyed during the banquet.

Following was the afternoon's program: 1—President's address, H. E. Snyder, Elgin. Discussion opened by P. T. Barber, Omaha, J. F. Daly, Wyaner.

2—"The Expansion of Plaster as a Cause of Misfit Dentures," J. E. Fickling, Plainview. Discussion opened by N. Matzen, Columbus, C. M. Burris, Randolph.

3—"Insertion of Proximal Fillings," R. L. Thomas, Pierre. Discussion opened by M. E. Eby, Hartington, W. C. Hastings, Newman Grove.

4—"Business," G. M. Mullen, Creighton. Discussion opened by W. M. Condon, Humphrey, C. S. Parker, Norfolk.

5—"Treatment and Filling of Root Canals," G. B. Baird, Fremont. Discussion opened by W. H. Mullen, Bloomfield, H. J. Cole, Norfolk.

6—Report of committee on educating the public, T. B. Heckert, Wayne.

7—Practical suggestions, one from each man present.
