

Engleman's View of It.
Norfolk, Neb., Oct. 4.—Editor News: I have been reading the letter of Mr. Aldrich in reply to Mr. Metcalfe, and, like Mr. Aldrich, I have no use for Dablmansism, and I believe this to be the sentiment of thousands of democrats in Nebraska. And while I am opposed to prohibition on principle, and further for the reason that it has proved an absolute failure where it has been tried. It confiscates thousands of dollars worth of property, which is practically useless for any other purpose. It creates a system of spies who make merchandise of their oath, and their appetite grows by what they feed upon. The present liquor laws of Nebraska are about the best that could be devised, and all it needs is to enforce them. If the present law cannot be enforced, then you cannot hope to enforce a prohibition law. If we would be honest with ourselves we might profit by the experiences of the past and ask ourselves the question, "Has prohibition been a success in states where it has been tried?" and the answer is most emphatically, "No." Many prohibition people like the prohibition question to the slavery question and they hope that by continued agitation to finally succeed in wiping out the liquor traffic, but in this they are mistaken for all human nature revolts at slavery and human bondage, while thinking men look upon the taking of a glass of beer as entirely innocent. Mankind believe in temperance, but not in prohibition. Christ did not attempt by force to control man's appetite, and man has failed wherever he has tried it. I think it was unfortunate that Shallenberger was defeated, but all the same I want to predict that no matter who is elected this fall, we shall find that prohibition is a plant that will never bloom in Nebraska. Respectfully,
J. C. Engelman.

Car Fell on Chest.
Pierce, Neb., Oct. 5.—Special to The News: Dr. L. R. Pheasant of Pierce was killed in an automobile accident at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon six miles north of Pierce.

He had driven down a fairly steep hill and had crossed the culvert. As he started to ascend on the other side, he evidently tried to turn to one side to avoid a bad place in the road, the wheels on one side mounting a sharp embankment and on the other dropping into a washout in the road.

Tracks show that the car skidded for about three rods further and then turned over an embankment four feet high. Dr. Pheasant was pinned under the car, which was lying across his chest. Death must have been instantaneous. It was believed the base of the brain had been fractured, as blood was flowing from the nose.

The dead physician still held a cigar in his mouth, indicating that he did not even gasp after being struck.

Dr. Pheasant was found by Mr. Krahnke, who drove up behind with a team. Krahnke got Mr. Cooper, a neighbor, to help lift the car off and found the dead man underneath.

In the meantime Mr. Cooper telephoned in and Dr. Frank Salter went out to the scene of accident, but found the man dead. Cooper and Dr. Salter brought the body to town and took it to the local undertaking rooms.

A Son Three Days Old.
Dr. Pheasant was a son-in-law of Thomas Chivers, having been married four years ago. He is survived by Mrs. Pheasant and a baby boy, three days old.

Dr. Pheasant has lived in Pierce about seven years. Since he resided here, he has gone to Paris once to take a post-graduate course in medicine.

He was about 32 years old and had been practicing for about five years. He was well educated and a successful practitioner. His father, S. G. Pheasant, postmaster of Osceola, Neb., has been notified.

Dr. Pheasant was a member of Norfolk lodge, No. 653, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. About five years ago he lived in Norfolk for a short time, later returning to Pierce to resume his practice there.

At 250 Watermelons.
Humphrey, Neb., Oct. 4.—The annual watermelon party given by Miss Nora Condon was held in the Condon park Saturday afternoon. The park was open from 4 to 6 o'clock and in the meantime over 200 melons were consumed. About 250 guests were present.

Boy Aged 12 Stole Wheel.
Twelve-year-old Lee Cornell, son of Mrs. Fred Cornell of South Fifth street, who was arrested late Saturday night when he returned from church with his mother, by Constable John P. Flynn, for stealing from beneath the stairs of the Nebraska Telephone office a bicycle belonging to Dwight Sprecher, son of G. T. Sprecher, declares he took the bicycle because he believed it to be the one which was stolen from his brother some time ago. He admitted, however, having sold it for $1.50 soon after taking it.

The bicycle, which is valued at about $10, was left by young Sprecher near his father's office on his way to school early last week. When he returned the bicycle was missing. Constable Flynn traced the theft to young Cornell, who admitted at once to having taken it.

The boy's father gave bonds Saturday night and a trial was held at 9 o'clock Monday morning.

Lee Cornell was fined the costs of the prosecution against him, amounting to $5.50, in Justice Eiseley's court Monday morning. He admitted taking the wheel, but insisted that he believed it to be the property of his brother.

HASKELL CASE MOVES FAST.

Jury Secured to Try Oklahoma Governor for Defrauding U. S.
McAlester, Okla., Sept. 27.—Quick action attended the opening of the trial of Charles N. Haskell, governor of Oklahoma and others in the Muskogee town lot cases here. Within a few hours a jury was secured and the government announced its readiness to proceed.

S. R. Rush of Omaha, special assistant to the attorney general, and District Attorney William Gregg will make the opening statement. The charges against Albert Z. English and F. B. Severs, both of Muskogee, who were indicted jointly with Haskell, were nolle prossed, the government contending they will be tried under another indictment.

Under the federal indictment to be tried immediately, Haskell, R. W. T. Hutchins, an attorney, and Clarence W. Turner and Walter R. Faton are charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in the sale in 1902, of about 600 town lot sites in Muskogee.

The Safe and Easy Way is the Best
To do housework thoroughly takes time and strength, but there's no need of using more of either than is actually required. Save a little of both. Half an hour saved here and there makes a big difference at the end of the day. Throw away all your old-fashioned cleaning compounds that contain caustics, acids, alkali sand grit. Use Old Dutch Cleanser for all the things for which you formerly used scouring bricks, washing powders and scouring soaps. You know what these things are—the cleaning, scrubbing, scouring and polishing you usually dread. Try Old Dutch Cleanser. See how it digs down and brings forth a spotlessly clean surface with half the work you ordinarily put into cleaning. Then you'll know why Old Dutch Cleanser is the favorite with millions of housekeepers.

Kansas City Commission Men Are Fined, Then Fine is Suspended.
Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 4.—Half an hour after Judge E. E. Porterfield had dissolved the Kansas City Produce exchange and fined three of its members an amount of $8,500 yesterday the court set aside both the order and the fines.

When the first court action was taken none of the defendants to the suit had a legal representative in court. Within a few minutes after Judge Porterfield had fixed the penalties however, W. H. Cowherd, attorney for the exchange, appeared and made strenuous protest against the actions that have been taken. He said he did not understand the time for the hearing of the case had been set for yesterday. Judge Porterfield then set the cases for hearing this morning. It is understood the companies will ask Judge Porterfield to appoint a commission to take evidence in the cases and substitute a recommendation to the court.

Fines assessed were: The Armour Packing company, $7,500; W. L. Grush Commission company, $500, and Hurlst Produce and Commission company, $500.

Had the court desired it might have ordered the Armour company to cease doing business in this state. For years the custom has been for the exchange to meet daily at a local hotel and fix prices on foodstuffs. A few months ago nine members of the organizations were indicted, charged with operating a trust. Later Prosecutor Conkling made a civil case of the charges.

Mrs. George Mather Hurt.

Mrs. George Mather is suffering from painful injuries to her head, shoulder and thigh as the result of being thrown from the carriage in which she was driving to church at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The horse attached to the carriage ran away when becoming frightened at the noise made by a steam engine and grading outfit being brought here from Battle Creek.

Mrs. Mather had just reached the corner of Ninth street and Hayes avenue, and, being aware of the coming of the engine, turned into the yard of G. A. Kuhl. The horse became unmanageable and ran into the street where the carriage turned over on its side, throwing Mrs. Mather onto the hard ground. The carriage was badly damaged. Mrs. Mather was picked up unconscious and taken into the Burrows residence, where two physicians looked after her injuries and pronounced them not serious. No bones were broken.

Those in charge of the grading outfit had taken precautions and had sent a man in advance of the outfit to warn people driving horses to be on their guard.

Former Dakotan Killed.

Sioux City, Ia., Oct. 4.—Don E. Johnson, who lost his life in the Los Angeles Times horror, was well known to the printing fraternity of northwestern Iowa and South Dakota. He was born in Cherokee, Ia., where, until the early 80s, his father, Eli Johnson, was editor and publisher of the Cherokee Enterprise. With the settlement of Hyde county, South Dakota, Eli Johnson disposed of his Cherokee newspaper, and, taking his family with him, located at Highmore, where he established the Highmore Herald. Upon reaching manhood the son, Don, went to Pierre to follow his trade as a printer. His attractive personality and convincing manner soon won him a place in the councils of the populist-democratic party, and aided him in securing a portion of the state printing contract in 1896. Later he was employed for some months in the composing room of the Sioux Falls Press, and at a still later date was for a short time a linotype operator on the Sioux City Journal.

TO DECIDE LORIMER POINT.

Committee to Determine Whether Broderick Shall Testify Now.
Chicago, Oct. 4.—The Lorimer investigating committee was expected to decide when it convened today whether the testimony of state Senator John Broderick shall be heard now or given before the committee after his trial in Sangamon county where he is under indictment for bribery.

Broderick faces a charge of having bribed state Senator D. W. Holtzlaw of Iuka to vote for Senator William Lorimer and with having paid him $2,500 for so doing. His testimony on the alleged transaction is wanted before the senatorial committee. His counsel, Attorney Thomas Dawson, told the senators yesterday that Broderick was willing to testify but that his counsel objected to cross-examination on specific details of what passed between himself and Holtzlaw for fear it might prejudice his defense. Chairman Burrows declined to limit cross-examination and Broderick was withdrawn subject to a definite decision today.

Minority Leader Lee O'Neil Browne it is understood, is to report before the committee and the Broderick ruling may be extended to him should he make a similar plea.

West Point Dahliman Club.

West Point, Neb., Oct. 4.—Special to The News: A Dahliman club has been organized at West Point with J. F. Kaup as president, O. H. Zacek secretary and E. M. Von Seggern as treasurer. The membership consists of 200 voters, each of whom, regardless of party affiliations, has pledged himself to vote for Dahliman. When it is considered that West Point is a republican city, polling a little over 450 votes, and usually rolling up a republican majority of 150, it can very readily be understood that the movement in favor of Mayor Jim is very strong. It is confidently predicted by his friends that Cumming county will go 1,000 majority for the Omaha candidate.

Neligh for Legislature.

West Point, Neb., Oct. 4.—Special to The News: W. T. S. Neligh of this city will be a candidate on the republican ticket for representative from the Fifteenth (float) district. The district comprises Cumming, Thurston and Dakota counties. Mr. Neligh was not a candidate at the primaries, not having filed, but a number of his friends inserted his name on the ballot, thereby nominating him. At the urgent solicitation of his friends he has consented to let his name stand. He is the eldest son of the late John D. Neligh, the founder and father of the city of West Point, and is a man of affairs, of a pronounced practical character and has demonstrated his ability very strongly in shaping the municipal affairs of this, the city of his birth. The district, normally, is republican by a small majority, therefore his friends consider his chances for election very good. His democratic opponent is Felix L. Gallagher of Rosalia, formerly deputy sheriff of Cumming county.

HUSENETTER'S POSITION.

Republican Executive Official Makes Appeal for Funds.
Lincoln, Oct. 4.—At the conclusion of the republican state committee meeting last night Chairman Husetetter made a vigorous appeal for funds. After telling of the work the committee was doing he said in substance:

"Our only available funds so far have come from the few candidates at the state house. Those who composed the majority of our convention and placed a county option plank in the platform have neglected so far to contribute any part of the expense money with which to prosecute the campaign."

"You realize this campaign has been particularly heavy and difficult on account of a large number of voters having been alienated by the adoption of the county option plank and it has increased our expenses in the prosecution of the campaign."

VACCINATION KILLS BOY.

James Little Rubs Off His Scab and Lockjaw Appeared.
Springfield, Mass., Oct. 4.—Compulsory vaccination is held to have caused the death of James Little, 5 years old, of lockjaw. The boy was vaccinated three weeks ago to comply with the law which makes vaccination a prerequisite for admission to the public schools.

The irritation resulting from the vaccination prompted the child to rub or scratch the wound, which became infected with tetanus germs. Pronounced symptoms of lockjaw appeared and though the boy was promptly taken to the Springfield hospital and given anti-toxin treatment, he died after forty-eight hours' agony.

Says Line Comes Here.

Omaha World-Herald: That the directors of the Nebraska Transportation company, with offices in the Range building, have decided to build two electric lines from Omaha, is stated by C. W. Baker, manager of the company.

One of these lines is to run to Sioux City, ninety-six miles, through Nebraska. The other line has Norfolk for its objective point, and the distance is also ninety-six miles.

The company will build a double track from Omaha as far as Elk City, twenty miles out. There the Norfolk line will branch off to the northwest, and the Sioux City line to the north, each having a single track.

Temporary arrangements have been made, Mr. Baker says, and construction will begin as soon as arrangements can be completed.

Survey of the route between Omaha and Fremont is finished and right-of-way secured. The line starts in Omaha at Elmwood park, where it is to connect with the Omaha system. Further details of the project and its financing, Mr. Baker says, he is not ready to make public beyond that an engineer party is in the field and will run the lines between Elk City and Norfolk and Elk City and Sioux City.

MASSACHUSETTS POLITICAL WAR.

Democrats Are in a Row, But Republicans Are Harmonious.
Boston, Oct. 4.—Machinery for the two political conventions here is being set by the republican and democratic state committees—with ease by the former, but with some difficulty by the latter.

As there is no contest among the republicans for places on the ticket, convention officers or for platform planks, the state committee's work is simple. But with three aspirants for the head of the ticket and three others who want the second place, the democratic state convention is having its troubles, although there seems a disposition by candidates to compromise on disputed points.

Convention officers were named by the democratic state committee some days ago, but James H. Vanev of Watertown, candidate for the nomination of governor, has protested against what he claims is too insecure a representation of his supporters on committee places. Mr. Vanev and the other aspirants for governor, Charles S. Hamlin and Congressman Fass, declare themselves satisfied with the outlook and confident of winning.

NEW MEXICO CONSERVATIVE.

Constitutional Convention Won't Put in Prohibition Law.
Santa Fe, N. M., Oct. 4.—New Mexico's constitutional convention met at noon in the hall of representatives in the capitol. Thomas B. Catron, former delegate to congress, called the convention to order and after Rev. Julius Daraches, chaplain of San Miguel church, the oldest church in the United States, had asked for the "seven gifts of the holy ghost" to descend upon the 109 delegates, the oath of office was administered by Judge John R. McFie of the New Mexico supreme court.

Charles A. Spehss of Las Vegas was elected president. His selection signifies that the conservatives are in control of the convention and that the initiative and referendum and prohibition will not be written into the constitution but that the organic law will be a purely fundamental document as desired by President Taft. George W. Armijo of Santa Fe, a rough rider, was elected chief clerk. The convention consists of seventy-one republicans and twenty-nine democrats.

The convention will be in session sixty days.

Two Boys Held Up.

Lloyd Taylor and Forest Emery complained to Chief of Police Marquardt Monday morning that they were held up and robbed of a watch by two masked bandits near Pasewalk's grove on South Fifth street at midnight Sunday night. To the chief of police one of the victims declared he believed the bandits to be two young men with whom they associate, and declared they might be able to identify the robbers. It is said that two shots were fired at Emery when he ran from the robbers during the holdup. When commanded to throw up his hands Taylor is reported to have concealed a small purse containing $5 in bank notes in his sleeve while the robbers took from his pockets a watch valued at about $5. Both of the robbers had revolvers, which they used as if accustomed to them, according to the report given to the police authorities.

He Was Hurt at Football.

Two years ago this fall in a game of football in Norfolk Louis Thompson, son of a well known Norfolk traveling salesman, J. T. Thompson, and at that time a member of the Norfolk high school football eleven, injured a rib. Yesterday he started out on the road with his father, just recovered from an illness of almost two years, during which his life was at times despaired of. He has gained twenty-seven pounds since he was operated upon last July and the diseased rib taken out.

Not until July of this year, after he had lain ill at home for eighteen months, did the young man find out really what was the matter with him. Various theories were advanced for his long suffering until he went to a hospital at Dubuque, Ia., where the surgeons found a decayed rib and removed it. Football, the surgeon said, was the cause.

From weighing 108 pounds, when operated on, the convalescent patient now weighs 135, and is feeling fine. During his illness Mr. Thompson spent some of his time at sketching cartoons, developing remarkable talent along this line, and he may follow up that art. His recovery has been the source of gratitude to a
