Grath, set the mark at 52 feet 11 inches. In the 100-yard dash Gwynn Henry, the Texas sprinter, starting from scratch, negotiated the distance in 10 seconds.

A BOIL ON RYAN'S LEG. Alarming Reports Concerning New York Financier Are Set at Rest.

New York, May 27.—Alarming reports regarding the illness of Thomas F. Ryan were set at rest today by a bulletin issued by his physicians stating: "Mr. Ryan has been suffering from a boil on the leg, which prevented him getting around. It is hoped he will be out shortly. There is absolutely no evidence of any kidney or constitutional trouble."

No Calliope With Circus. Campbell Bros. circus arrived in the city after midnight and at 11 o'clock a. m. the parade was witnessed by a large throng.

The usual concessions that follow a circus were in evidence, with the snap shot photograph machines, prettier colored balloons, stick-pin souvenirs, etc. The paved section aided the circus people wonderfully and the gilded wagons and elephants made a fair looking parade over the new brick.

The show carries the usual number of elephants, camels, and monkeys, but less horses. It was noticeable that the animals were looking very much poorer than the usual circus animals but members of the show explain that a long stay in the south with poor feed is the cause of the showing.

The Olney grounds were again the scene of a city of canvas. Four large tents for the horses, a big mess tent, three small side shows, a few small concessions, the large side show and the big circus tent compose the show outfit.

Chief of Police Marquardt had out several extra policemen and the city was well guarded from any annoyance on the part of the usual followers of the circus.

LOS ANGELES DOCTOR ON 7,500 MILE TRIP.

Answering "Hurry" Call to Rome to Attend the "Prettiest Girl."

Dr. James J. Choate of Los Angeles, who is making a "hurry" call to Rome at the cable request of Mrs. A. S. Browning, a wealthy Los Angeles woman, sailed from New York on the Mauretania on May 24.

Dr. Choate got the message on May 17. He was ready to leave on the 10:30 a. m. train May 18. His only luggage is a grip containing a Sunday suit and four shirts among other garments.

He reached New York May 22. On May 29 he will land in London. He will arrive in Paris the same day and that night catch the Simpson express, which will land him in Milan the following morning.

It is twelve hours from there to Rome, and if he makes all the connections he will have consumed fifteen days from the time he left Los Angeles.

The distance is approximately 7,450 miles. "About the prettiest little girl in Los Angeles is sick in Rome calling for me, and a doctor always responds to the call of duty," said the doctor.

"The girl is Mildred Browning, and her family have been my patients for twelve years. Her father is a retired business man and an invalid himself. He is in Los Angeles now. They are wealthy and sensible citizens. When Mildred was graduated a few months ago from the Marlborough school at the top of her class her mother gave her a trip abroad as a reward."

Mildred and her mother left California in the middle of March as members of an annual touring party directed by a Mrs. White, a Los Angeles woman. They sailed from New York about April 1, and all the news we had from them was of the happiest nature until the cablegram the other day telling us of the illness.

"I don't know what the trouble is, but I suspect Roman fever. Of course, I have never treated this special form of fever, but I feel that I can help the girl all right. Anyway, I'm hurrying there as fast as the trains and boats will take me."

TRIP FOR PAULINE.

White House Cow Will Be Among Attractions at Milwaukee Show. Pauline Wayne, the White House cow, is to have a trip. It is not a trip abroad now in a newspaper voting contest nor yet a transfer such as the state department, under whose windows she grazes, gives its officers.

Pauline Wayne is going home to mingle again with the common herd, so to speak, and compete for prizes on her native heath.

President Taft hesitated not a moment when the proposal was made to him. The idea of getting the aristocratic Pauline originated in Iowa and culminated in Wisconsin. Out at Waterloo they planned to invite Pauline to the dairy show. In Wisconsin they heard this, and A. S. Cannon, secretary of the International Dairy Show association, to meet in Milwaukee in September, made a fervent appeal that Pauline be allowed to go to Milwaukee and not to Waterloo.

He did not like the name of the town anyhow. It reminded him of Napoleon. Mr. Cannon won. President Taft has consented, and Mr. Taft will have the first entry in a dairy show by any president since the time of Thomas Jefferson.

BULLFIGHTING DOOMED.

Maderists Will Also Abolish All Forms of Gambling in Mexico. Gambling and bullfighting are to be abolished in Mexico by the Maderists when they come into power, and race track betting is doomed, too, according to Abraham Gonzalez, who is slated for provisional governor of Chihuahua. He said:

"As is our president, so am I against gambling and bullfighting. All gambling concessions made after Nov. 20, the date the revolution began, will be canceled. All concessions made before that time will be honored by us, but at their expiration no more will be granted. This applies to both gambling and bullfighting. We now are investigating the keno and poker rights in Juarez."

As Madero is against gambling in every form, the national lottery and all gambling rights eventually may be abolished.

God and I.

[The rather remarkable poem, or fragment, given below is taken from a volume published recently in London, entitled "The Pillow Book." No author is given credit, and search has so far failed to find one. A thought so striking, so well expressed and so much a part of the philosophy of many high minds ought not to remain long anonymous as to authorship.]

God and I in space alone. And nobody else in view. "And where are people, O Lord?" I said. "The earth beneath and the sky overhead And the dead whom once I knew?"

"That was a dream," God smiled and said. "A dream that has ceased to be true. There were no people, living or dead. No earth beneath and no sky overhead. There were only myself and you."

"And why do I feel no fear," I said. "Meeting you here this way? For I have sinned I know full well. And is there heaven, and is there hell, And is this the judgment day?"

"Nay, those were but dreams," the great God said. "Dreams that have ceased to be. There are no such things as fear and sin. And you yourself—you have never been. There is nothing at all but me."

FIVE DROWN AT TOLEDO.

Seeking Relief from Torrid Heat of the Afternoon. Toledo, O., May 29.—Two more persons, making five in twenty-four hours, were drowned here yesterday as a result of trying to escape from the torrid heat.

The government thermometer at 2 o'clock registered 95.3 degrees, the hottest for this time of the year here for forty years, almost to the day.

A thunderstorm broke over the city last night, bringing a light rain and heavy wind, much to the relief of the sweltering citizens.

TO GROW CAMPAIGN FUND.

Acres of Cotton to Furnish Oklahoma Socialists Money For 1912. The Socialists hope to carry Oklahoma in 1912, and they purpose doing it by growing cotton. William Crawford owns a tract of land near Muskogee. He has turned over five acres of this to the Socialists. They have plowed and planted it to cotton. This work is contributed free of all cost by the local Socialists. They will cultivate the crop, pick and sell it, and the entire gross receipts will be contributed to the state campaign fund for the next election, which will be in 1912.

This plan, which is being followed all over the state, is likely to create a tremendous campaign fund. Five acres of cotton ought to bring $250. The shortage of funds always has been the great handicap of the Socialist party.

But the cotton patch product is not all. Following the request of leaders, individual Socialists where there are no local organizations are setting aside the gross receipts of one acre of land or one steer, one hog or some other live stock which will be sold and the money given to the campaign.

Mrs. F. M. McNeely.

Mrs. McNeely leaves a husband and four children—Sidney, Mino, Frank and Phillip, all residing in this city.

TO HUNT FOR LOST CITIES.

Yale Expedition Will Invade the Jungles of Peru. The Yale scientific expedition to Peru, recently authorized by the university corporation, will leave New York June 8. There will be six men in the party, three of them members of the Yale faculty, headed by Dr. Hiram Bingham.

Ten years ago Professor Bingham visited Choquequirra, one of the "lost cities" of the Incas—lost because they have been swallowed up in jungles. He hopes on this expedition to find more of these cities.

The work before the expedition is divided into three parts. There is the archaeological work, of which the problem is how far the Incas held sway. Then there is the pathological problem, the study of the diseases of the region. Lastly the scientists will make a detailed survey of a section of Peru, "an old round reconnaissance of the country, archaeologically, geologically, biologically and geographically."

The expedition will visit Mount Copacuma, which some geologists say is the highest mountain in the Americas.

By agreement with the Peruvian government any buried treasure which the expedition finds will be turned over to the authorities.

TELEPHONES FOR RANGERS.

Adopted as an Aid to Fighting Forest Fires. Rangers in the national forests will be supplied with portable telephone sets with a special flexible wire which can be easily and quickly run along the ground to isolated places in the forests. The telephones will be of use in summoning help to prevent a repetition of the disastrous conflagrations in the northwest of last August.

The adoption of these telephones is the result of experiments made since last summer with sets similar to those used by the signal corps.

Prevention of large fires has been furthered since last year through lengthening trails and extending permanent telephone lines. When the fire season arrives an extra force of rangers will protect the isolated parts of the forests, laying their telephone lines along the ground as they go. Metal boxes containing the fighting telephones, together with a supply of food, have also been distributed along the many trails where they will be easy of access.

WOLGAST DEFEATS BURNS.

Seconds Throw up Sponge at End of Sixteenth. San Francisco, May 29.—Ad Wolgast is still lightweight champion of the world. He demonstrated this very effectively in a one-sided contest with Frankie Burns of Oakland at the Eighth street stadium here. The contest was easily in favor of the champion from the very beginning. Burns was beaten so unmercifully that Jack Perkins, his manager and chief second, threw a towel into the ring as the bell rang for the commencement of the seventeenth round, signifying the defeat of Burns.

Butte Team Wins Pennant.

Butte, Neb., May 29.—Special to The News: The Butte high school ball team won the second game from Gregory, thus making them a clean slate, having never lost a game in the entire race for the pennant. The eighth and last game was pulled off on the Gregory diamond and was a hotly contested one. A large crowd was in attendance and enthusiasm was at the highest pitch. The teams are evenly matched and it again took extra innings to decide the game and at the end of the battle of ten rounds apiece Butte had five tallies to Gregory's four. Thus the Butte boys now hold the pennant of the championship of the northwest and are ready to play a like aggregation of high school boys from any town in Nebraska or adjoining states.

BRYAN STILL NOT A CANDIDATE.

Confers With Politicians in East, But Won't Discuss Meeting. Washington, May 29.—William J. Bryan, during a brief stay in Washington, last night held a conference with Representative Burton Harrison of New Jersey and about twenty other politicians. The participants in the conference would not discuss its purpose. In an interview Mr. Bryan, on being asked about the rumors that he might be the next democratic nominee for president, said:

"I am not a candidate and will not be; leave me out of it." He refused to express his choice between Woodrow Wilson and Champ Clark or to confirm a report of his opposition to Gov. Harmon of Ohio.

Little Girl Found Near Death in Mud.

Stillwell, who lives about twenty miles south of here, wandered away from home some time Thursday afternoon and was lost all night and until late the next afternoon, when she was found lying unconscious on the shore of the lake where she had evidently fallen over a little bank. She was found lying with her head in the mud at the edge of the lake in an unconscious condition due to exposure and worn out from wandering. She was revived and securely is all right.

WHY STOVALL'S WORK IS POOR

Cleveland's First Baseman Is Peculiar Victim of Playing Beside Lajoie. For several seasons Cleveland fans have been asking, What is the matter with George Stovall? These fans demand that the club get a first sacker of the caliber of Hal Chase. The Naps' management has tried out many men on the initial bag in the last few seasons, but all have been sent back to the minors, and Stovall still continues to be guardian of the initial station.

The real answer to the question asked by the fans is short. One word of six letters, L-A-J-O-I-E, answers it all. George appears to have suffered from working beside one of the greatest players in the country for several years. It is a peculiar case of a star ball player spoiling the fielding ability of a mediocre one.

Stovall perhaps covers less ground around first base than any other first sacker in the American league, and all because for a number of years he has been working beside the peerless Lajoie, who not only covered all of his own territory, but also a good portion of Stovall's.

Any Nap fan will tell you that Stovall's greatest weakness is going to his right after a grounder. He simply can't get over the grounder.

Stovall isn't naturally a shirker; he's a good, hard worker, and he has plenty of baseball brains, but he is getting fearfully weak in fielding. Going to the left he is as good as any of them, and he has made some remarkable catches. He is just unfortunate in that he has had to play beside one of the most wonderful players in the game.

CRAWFORD IN GREAT SHAPE.

"Wahoo Sam" Playing a Wonderful Game For the Tigers. When the last season drew to a close it was the general opinion that Sam Crawford, the Detroit American league hitting outfielder, was on the down grade and that this would probably be his last season in a major league. Today Crawford is leading the American league batters with an average considerably over .400, and he is playing a better game of ball than he ever has played before in his long career.

There is no doubt that a player of Crawford's disposition would be affected by any misunderstanding he might have with a teammate, and his quarrel with Cobb undoubtedly threatened to end his days of usefulness to the Detroit club. But the difference between this wonderful pair of hitters has been smoothed over, with the result that Crawford and Cobb are playing great ball these days and are really responsible for the brilliant
