Two New Ball Teams.

Proving that the unlucky number "13" held no alarm for them, thirteen members of the Norfolk Ad club held a special meeting last night. There are now 165 members in the club, with prospects of 200 very soon.

In the near future there is to be a ball game and the proceeds are going into the treasury of the Ad club. Secretary Hawkins of the Commercial club was present at the special meeting Monday evening and declaring himself captain of the Commercial club baseball team, he challenged the Ad club team to a game which will take place on the driving park diamond after the Fourth. Secretary Cabanis was elected captain of the Ad club team and the challenge was immediately accepted. S. G. Mayer has agreed to pitch the game for the Ad club and F. A. Beeler is to act as flinger for the Commercial.

The proposition of holding a horse fair in connection with the race meeting met with favor from members present. The question of this fair is to be the feature of the next meeting. Secretary Hawkins of the local race committee reports that entries for the Norfolk races are coming in very nicely.

The football game between the Omaha and Norfolk high school which is to be played here on October 7, was endorsed and the local team is to receive the support of the club.

Detectives Subpoenaed.

Washington, June 27.—Further testimony intended to show that Edward Hines, president of the Chicago Lumber company of Chicago, played an important part in the election of Senator Lorimer and was interested in the senator's election, was today given to the senate committee investigating the election by W. S. Cook, a lumberman of Duluth, Minn. Mr. Cook acknowledged his bitterness toward Mr. Hines and declared he had never felt very friendly toward him.

"I know his way of doing business," he explained. "Hines has a way of going about business that I do not think is honorable. When he wants to buy timber he gets an option and then goes around trying to hurt the credit of the seller."

"Cite an instance," challenged Attorney William J. Hynes for Mr. Hines.

"John Mellon of the Alliger Smith company of Duluth," retorted Cook.

Three detectives who are said to have been employed to shadow Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester company and star witness at the present inquiry, were "ditched" today in a novel way by Mr. Funk. Oiled Road Big Success.

After two extremely heavy rains, an inspection was made of the new oiled road south of this city. "It is better than ever," says County Commissioner Taft. "You would not know it rained on the road at all."

So great an improvement is the oiled road after a rain that farmers have passed enthusiastic comment on the new improvement. After such rains as fell here Saturday and Sunday night, farmers report that it has often been impossible to drive over some portions of South Thirteenth street. After the recent rain, however, automobiles and farmers in heavy wagons drove over the oiled road as easily and comfortably as if they were driving over the paved section of the city.

One farmer's wife, living some distance south of here, inquired of County Commissioner Taft if he cannot have the road oiled as far as her farm. "The oiled road is such a convenience," she says, "there is no dust and the rain has no effect upon it."

The rain has made the oiled road 20 percent better than it was before, the inspectors say. It has packed harder than ever and the sandy spots which were oiled look as good as the spots which were clayed.

Hawkins Breaks Several Ribs.

Three ribs broken, possibly four, one rib is torn loose and the spine badly wrenched.

This is the verdict Dr. Waters passed on Secretary A. W. Hawkins of the Commercial club, who fell down a few steps in front of the C. J. Fleming drug store shortly after noon. Mr. Hawkins walked out of the store with his hands in his pockets when his feet slipped from under him and he fell heavily on his back. Friends standing near by helped him to his feet, and the accident was passed off as a slight one. Mr. Hawkins was able to walk to his rooms at the B. T. Reid boarding house, but the pain became so intense that he visited a physician, who found the fractures. The injured secretary was put in bandages and was able to walk to his office.

Neligh Cellar is Flooded.

Neligh, Neb., June 27.—Special to The News: More than three inches of rain fell in Neligh and vicinity early yesterday morning, possibly being the heaviest rainfall in three years. A large number of cellars were flooded in different parts of the city.

The barber shop of Joe Clair, which is located in the basement of the Neligh national bank, was given a coat of more than four inches of mud and water that forced its way through an opening made a few days previous from a four-inch water main, that had been removed and a smaller pipe put in its place. It required the services of a couple of men during the forenoon to clear up the floor and furniture.

The high wind that preceded the rain did little or no damage to the crops in this immediate vicinity. It was reported during the early part of the forenoon that a heavy hail storm had visited Elgin during the night and that crops were badly damaged. Local telephone service was not crippled here, but it was impossible to get connections over the long distance lines.

Mr. Denker narrowly escaped by the assistance of his 14-year-old girl. At the time of the accident the whole Denker family was in the big new house about fifteen rods away.

The loss is about $1,200, with about $290 insurance on the furniture and building.

Farm House Demolished.

West Point, Neb., June 27.—Special to The News: Sunday night's storm was cyclonic in character. From latest advices from outlying districts the devastation was greater than in town or the immediate vicinity. In town the wind tore big trees from their roots, overturned small buildings and broke innumerable branches from ornamental and forest trees and did general damage to the gardens and lawns of the homes of the city. The storm struck West Point at 12:15 and continued for one hour with unabated violence. South of town it appears to have had greater destructive power, the farm house, barns and outbuildings of Edward Draho, living six miles southeast of the city, having been completely swept away. The second storm struck the city about 3 o'clock and finished the work that the first blast had left undone. The streets are strewn with debris, fallen trees, boards and everything of a loose nature which was in the path of the storm. A barn 60x160 feet on the farm of George Reeson west of town was moved completely from its foundations, carriages and buggies were lifted up by the wind and thrown in every direction in the neighborhood of Crowell, nine miles south of this place. The dwelling house of ex-Mayor Sontzenheim, the former executive of the city at West Point was badly damaged.

To Protect Jews.

St. Petersburg, June 27.—The ministry of trade is negotiating with the ministry of interior with a view to the temporary suspension of the order of the governor of Tobolsk, Siberia, prohibiting Jews attending the fair at Tyumen. If the ministry of the interior does not grant this concession the other ministry will take the case before the council of ministers. Premier Stolypin holds the post of interior as to the present action, was taken following a telegraphic appeal by the board of trade for the exclusion of Jews from the business. The premier recognizes that the order of the governor of Tobolsk is in accordance with the letter of the law, but the law has never been applied vigorously.

Wreck Being Cleared Away.

Throughout the night section crews, brought from every station along the M. & O. line from Emerson, worked steadily clearing away the wreck of freight train No. 13, which went into the ditch three miles this side of Hoskins Monday morning. The wreckage, it was said, would be put to one side and all work was centered on pulling the tracks back into place on the roadbed.

Awaits Arrest in Auto.

To have a man for whom he had a warrant, wait for him in an automobile, was the good streak of luck which Constable John Flynn of this city encountered at Pierce Monday afternoon. Charles Hamilton, stepson of G. W. Woodruff, who Sunday created a disturbance in the Union Pacific restaurant, which resulted in the stepson receiving a hard right on the nose, bringing blood, was not satisfied with the warning given to his stepfather by Chief of Police Marquardt. He took it upon himself to swear out a warrant, charging that Woodruff had unlawfully and feloniously beaten and struck his mother, Mrs. Sadie Woodruff, who has been ill. Constable Flynn telephoned the Pierce authorities to locate Woodruff and upon his arrival at Pierce he was surprised to find Woodruff waiting for him with an automobile, and Attorney O. S. Spillman ready to defend him.

"I'm looking for you, Mr. Officer," said Woodruff to Constable Flynn. Here is my automobile. Step in and we will drive to my attorney's office and then to Norfolk."

The three arrived here late Monday evening and Judge C. F. Eiseley continued the case until next Thursday.
