The News, Established 1881. The Journal, Established 1877

THE HUSE PUBLISHING COMPANY W. N. Huse N. A. Huse,

President. Secretary Every Friday. By mail per year, $1.50.

Entered at the postoffice at Norfolk, Neb., as second class matter.

Telephones: Editorial Department No. 22. Business Office and Job Rooms, No. H 22.

Many people shorten their days by lengthening their nights.

With that European war cloud gone it is time for Castro's army to loom up large on the horizon.

time at each carnival raise the biggest howl about hard times. As fringes are in style at Paris, the man with the frayed trousers ought to look pretty swell for once. The Harmon presidential wave strikes shallow water when it gets as far west as the river Platte. The query is being made "Who owns the streets?" It is evident that the street loafer thinks he does. Mayor Gaynor says that no saloons are open in New York on Sunday. The mayor evidently isn't thirsty. If the advertising men had met in ance about baked beans would never have existed. One of our exchanges gives it as its highest idea of human luxury to be able to "get tired sitting round the house all day." A Chicago doctor recommends yawning as a daily exercise. Says it promotes health. He must read the Congressional Record.

Chicago is doing a lot at building no doubt remain a mighty handy place to keep the potatoes in.

As New Jersey has a law against wearing the feathers of song birds. no woman can safely wear a rooster's feather while in that state.

A woman has been appointed examiner of the government mint, and now deafening. the goddess of liberty on our coins will have her hair properly curled.

who met the queen while in London

While prosecuting the magazines, we wish the government would get after them for using old-fashioned comic valentines for cover pictures.

Think of Medicine Hat with a temperature of ninety-four degrees. That was a fact last week. Must be trying to establish a reputation as a summer

President Taft is supposed to censure Dr. Wiley, but the lemon will probably be a very little one deftly concealed in the middle of the fruit

Standard Oil is split into thirtythree companies, and how the consumer will feel if he has to pay for multiplying the bookkeeping expenses by thirty-three.

ing mother-in-law.

Rear Admiral Bowles says a hostile fleet could destroy New York City in an hour, but they dassent do it if they saw the national guard lined up on Manhattan beach.

of theoretically destroying the battleships in the war game, but somehow example of fair play instead of an exthey are not satisfied with being fed ample of small-caliber land agent on hypothetical bacon.

Jaeger Schmidt may be able to get for a Paris newspaper, but could he walk two miles to the office from his home in the suburbs?

As the reapportionment bill increasing the size of congress by forty-two will only benefit forty-two men and their families, there was no general popular demand for it.

Upton Sinclair, the novelist, was arrested for playing tennis on Sunday. We hope it does not become illegal to throw Mr. Sinclair's books into the waste basket on Sunday.

The democrats think they have the hull of the President Taft in a cavity, but the voters are looking for statesmen that spend their time building bridges instead of digging cavities.

Speaker Champ Clark may have lost $1,000 in lecture dates by the extra session, but it was worth that to swipe Uncle Joe's steam roller and run it over the old gentleman.

The validity of the two cent fare urgent demand of the new laws is being tested in Ohio, Indiana the country for free pap decide to be carried for nothing.

New York business men complain ecause the hurdy gurdies distract the ttention of their clerks. Thus the fine arts make but slow progress against the spirit of commercialism.

The farmers of the country produced one hundred million dollars worth more stuff last year than they ever did before in any one year. No wonder they are buying automobiles.

If reciprocity brings with it a larger prosperity for the people of the United States, William Howard Taft will be re-elected president by a sweeping majority regardless of who opposes him.

Good roads have long been regarded as an index to the civilization of a The persons who have the biggest nation. It is complimentary to this generation that it is contending more and more for better public highways.

> The Georgia "ad men" treated the convention at Boston on watermelon, and from the appearance of the delegates, it was seen that they are very clever at filling space in more ways than one.

The importation of champagne and diamonds has fallen off heavily. This indication and other signs of the lack of the long green on the part of the lobster, forecast a hard winter for the chorus girl.

Delays are dangerous-even in Canada. Laurier knows it. That is why he has put the question of reciprocity Boston before, this far reaching ignordirectly up to the people. There is every prospect that it will carry by a very large vote.

> The president of Haiti has fled from the capital with his rifle on his shoulder. Until it is learned whether he carried the treasury in his pocket, it tivation, the Rosebud and Pine Ridge will not be known whether the revolution was successful.

Judge Levine of the Cleveland police court sentenced a young offender to open a savings account, the other day, model tenements, but the bath tub will as a tonic for moral upbuilding. Sounds like a sane kind of sentence for a certain class of young sports.

> Representative Underwood of Alabama called William Jennings Bryan a liar on the floor of the house and his remarks were received with great applause. The harmony in the democratic party constantly grows more

It is estimated that there is being spent in this country at the present Several of the American travelers time more than a million dollars a day for the improvement and mainagree that she did not ask them to call tenance of roads. If this money is spent wisely and the roads are built under careful and skillful supervision it means a splendid investment for the people.

> And now it is reported that Miss Catherine Elkins is about to be married. This announcement has been so repeatedly made that her marriage would be a great surprise. Moreover it would be another blow to the news columns of the daily press should Miss Elkins really follow Col. Roosevelt, "Uncle Joe" Cannon, and other stars of the first magnitude where the daily searchlight of publicity wouldn't reach

The department of justice at Wash ington promises to keep busy in its war against illegal trusts. It has over 1,000 complaints which are to be in vestigated and many suits will result. The Taft administration hasn't made One advertising manager told the much noise about what it was going convention to deal with women shop. to do but it has steadily sawed wood pers as if each was their mother, but against the unscrupulous combinations some merchants amend by substitut- in business and is more and more giving them to understand that they must obey the provisions of the Sherman law or quit business altogether.

The state of Minnesota is not acting very decently in the case of the man who bought "school land" and found that it was water. Minnesota sold that The crews of the submarines boast land under misrepresentation. And a great state like that ought to set an trickery. If the man didn't get what Minnesota was supposed to sell him, he ought to have his money back. A around the world in thirty-nine days great state is in small business when it has to fleece its private citizens.

> Secretary Stimson is taking hold of his new work in the war department vigorously. Last month's visit to the canal zone to note the progress of the great work there, was most satisfactory. He also paid a visit to Porto courtesies with the Cuban government. the nearest points under his superthe work on the wreck of the Maine. which is going on satisfact though it will take which it is 'Y The passage by congress does r tle all our commerc Canada, the most imi ing of which is the pa schedule. Probably this sion of congress would been called had it not b to be thankful that the public did not fight in Canada against reciprocity on satisfied customers. many grounds, and it is still uncertain what they will do with the measure. Meanwhile the demand here for immediate action on this particular schedule grows stronger daily. The ule independently of anything else.

VICTIMS OF THE DROUTH. The fact that there are at present Norfolk, driven here from drouth stricken regions in search of work, bridge." shows the wisdom of the organization of the Board of Charities, which was created in Norfolk some months ago. In fact, even that organization is unable at present to cope with the situation, and greater membership and more funds will be required, if it is to succeed in providing relief for the destitute within the city's limits.

THE "RAIN BELT."

A good many pretty well informed people will tell you right today that the Rosebud reservation, and the Pine Ridge country, are "out of the rain belt.

Their mythical theory will be badly shattered by publication in The News of today of the government records showing that the Rosebud reservation out near Rosebud agency, north of Valentine, has actually had more rain during the past five years (the government figures only give five years' record for that region) than the state of Nebraska.

The older a country becomes, and the longer its acres are cultivated, the better use can it make of every drop of rainfall that it gets. A new country will bake where an old country will more easily form a mulch and preserve its moisture.

But with a little age and a little cullands are apt to open the eyes of a good many people, when it is considered that they get fully as much rain, on an average, as Nebraska does.

CANADIAN ELECTIONS. The dissolution of the Canadian parliament, and the order for an election to choose its successors, to come September 21, must impress Americans as an exceedingly speedy way of settling an electoral contest. Imagine an attempt on the part of our politicians seven weeks! With us the preliminary fight for delegates to the national convention is hotly under way a year in advance of the election. Indeed, wire stringing and pipe laying are well advanced at a date two years in advance.

to conduct a presidential campaign in

The typical Canadian is a calmer creature than we. He may have a uninteresting to the more high strung have been put up to him by the dem-American. But he is thereby enabled ocrats and their insurgent allies. The hysterical panics about election results that are characteristic of Amer- and abroad, and trying to get at the ican business men.

The Canadian system of irregular elections would hardly work among cur nervous people. Our capitalists would be paralyzed by seeing the shadow of possible political disasters always just ahead of them.

TRUTH IN ADVERTISING.

The necessity of literal, exact truth for successful advertising, was given a foremost emphasis at the meeting of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America at Boston the past week. One speaker declared amid applause that a code of ethics for advertising could be made out of just one word. that word to be "Honest." To this, he said, might be added the Golden Rule.

devoted energy of a host of the brightest men in our country. They have pretty thoroughly learned the principle that the only way to build a successful business is on the foundation of the satisfied customer.

The dissatisfied customer is not an asset. In fact, he is very much of a li- ble. ability. Any business man of keen perceptions would far rather that such a customer should never have entered his establishment. The slight profit that may be made off the stuff he bought is far more than offset by the left-handed advertising that he suplies to his friends to vent his dissatis-

The only way to secure a satisfied customer is to represent goods precisely as they are. If the goods have defects, and the nature and extent of This puts him in personal touch with injure the goods for his purpose, but vision. He inspected the progress of to make a saving in price. He boasts of his bargain to his friends, and aut the faults, to show how es-> er would soon have dissined silent about them. In ever believe that he many cheats and trade that the his advertis-

The NorfOlk Weekly News-Journal and Illinois, but the stockholders ought There is going to be a determined and wins a community of permanently

TOGO. Admiral Togo, commander of the trap. Japanese naval forces in the campaign that annihilated the Russian fleet in democrats lost an opportunity to win one of the greatest sea fights of hismuch deserved public appreciation tory, has just landed on our shores. when they failed to act on this sched. It may be safely predicted that little after dinner speaking will be secured from this great commander.

When Togo got off his sick bed to respond to his country's call to fight some thirty odd cases of destitution in Russia, he remarked characteristically "I shall be well when I get on the

When the minister of war said to him ir a historic interview, "I have the honor to announce that it is the august pleasure of his majesty the emperor to confer on you the honor of the command of the united fleets of Nippon," he expected a response of our city. some elaboration.

But Togo just said: "I shall execute your order." Then the two dignitaries sat around like awkward and blushing school boys for a few mo-

It was feared that he was not in harmony with the ideas of the government. But his true attitude of mind came out later when he gathered his notoriety just now is to file your canwell to our wives and children in a done. pleasant feast-and to life." Under that impassive and taciturn exterior was all the resolution and defiance of of drill easier, down at the uni. death of the mystic oriental temperacalled a great master of human na- so excited about. ture. It is a current proverb that he controls his subordinates like the fingers of a hand. He preserves his nerve in perfect poise under the most critical strain, and abhors defeat as nature abhors a vacuum.

Togo was one of the young Japanese who studied abroad, and received his naval education on the English training ship Worcester. There ish naval life.

His true force of character came out the public. the day in 1894 when he fired on Chinese transports carrying soldiers to Korea under the British flag, precipitating the China-Japanese war. He felt that in a few moments the fate of his country had to be decided by him, anyhow, if it can't bring rain? and he was ready to answer with his life if a mistake were made. Our garrulous American temperament has much to learn from this silent man of TAFT SHOULD VETO THEM. ertain routine passivity that seems the grandstand revision bills which to attend quietly to his business more only logical thing to do, now that we months in a year, without falling into have a board of tariff experts investi. men-whether they be fishermen or matter from a scientific rather than await the report of that expert tariff cine.

board before taking action on revision. The insurgents have been howling experts to get at tariff schedules on a strictly scientific basis. This is just what President Taft is trying right now to do, and the board of experts line. Their investigation into the congress meets next December the report will be ready and revision can be entered upon with a clear, intelligent understanding of what ought to be done. Intelligent revision on the hit- honestly own to fall out, so that now The profession of advertising has or-miss plan is just as impossible now within the past decade attracted the in the hands of the democrat-insurgent coalition, as it always has been in the to have any hair at all. past in other hands. The revision bills passed by this alliance might have the political effect of satisfying the clamor against the wool schedule of the Payne bill, but it wouldn't be one whit more intelligent or defensi-

President Taft has already declared that the wool schedule is unjustifiable. He has declared for downward re vision of it. But he wants to go about the work scientifically and with some intelligent understanding of how far down the revision should extend. And he should have the support of the American people in that sane desire.

The democrats are shrewdly attempting to make political capital out of the situation. With a majority in the house, they saw opportunity to these defects are fully explained by stir up a noise over the wool schedule, the seller, the customer is never dis- which had already been conceded even Rico, to San Domingo and exchanged satisfied. Often he rather enjoys the by Taft as a bad spot in the present it; and it is a dirty trick. defects, as he feels that they do not tariff law. The democrats planned to pass the bill in the house and thought have been the means of enabling him the republican majority in the senate would defeat it, thus giving them a chance to cry out that their efforts to bring tariff revision had been smoth- him. ffing they were, compared ered by a "trust owned" senate. And uction that they made pos- the insurgents, hearing outcry against the wool schedule and not being in the habit of standing by their repubdefects, even had the lican president when they could make grandstand political capital for themif he bought the goods selves, voted with the democrats and passed the bills in the senate, thus > putting the matter up to Taft. If the insurgents had been sincere in their demand for a non-partisan, scientific tariff board and an intellihis goods gently framed tariff bill, they would and upheld the president in his desire scarce that probably you will not find to take no action until such a scien- them during your short life. tific report could be rendered. But it was a charce to make political clap-

If it has been impossible in the past to make a tariff bill intelligently without scientific data, then it is just as impossible now and to make a ter rific gash in the wool schedule, with out getting at the true facts of the industry, would be just as indefensible as any tariff fraud ever enacted.

AROUND TOWN.

This Was Tactful. Imagine a man's state of mind, just after he'd taken out the fifth tack of the week to puncture a tire, when his wife up and asked him, in all earnestness, to bring home a box of tacks.

Morning, Togo, old top. Welcome to Good Man he was.

Somehow, we just can't get over feeling good about that rain last people's promises to a candidate. Wednesday night.

What sort of English do they use ments, saying nothing, until Togo in Ohio? A press dispatch from that impertinence with a single look. And clumsily bowed himself out in silence. state says: "The death list may grow larger." Could a death list "grow" as all, if it didn't grow "larger?"

One of the cheapest ways of getting officers in a final banquet. On the didacy with the secretary of state for table before them was a dagger, a sa- president of the United States. But cred sign in Japanese symbolism. you'll have to hurry, for it's going to Said Togo, "We have just bade fare get stale awfully quick. It'll be over-

Now that there's to be no more war, maybe the Rah Rah boys can get out

Now the dove of peace has puc In spite of all this reticence, Togo is tured that war cloud that Europe got

The presidency of Haiti isn't much surer than aeroplaning.

The Union Pacific railroad officials belong to the Ananias club, if the Norfolk depot proposition is any guide.

West Norfolk is still paved with good intentions.

The North Fourth street crossing is he seemed like any of the common-still dangerous to life and limb-and place nice fellows that abound in Brit- will be until the railroads are compelled to keep a flagman there to warn

Speaking of rain-

It's getting the habit. But what's a chautauqua good for,

But speaking of having a button off our shirt-it's bad enough any time. but it's worse when you're playing a match game of golf. To have the shirt front fall open just at the instant you're about to make a stroke, and to President Taft's plain duty is to veto in that goldarn shirt and make you dub the ball - say, that's what you might call tragedy.

Ever notice in the pictures of sportsgating the cost of production at home marksmen or golfers or baseball stars -that they always have a jolly, contented look about them? It's a pretty good scheme to have some athletic difrom a sentimental viewpoint, is to version for a hobby. It's good medi-

Try climbing a fifteen foot swing for years for a non-partisan board of rope, hand over hand, if you want to know how stale your muscles have got. It'll make you sore across the stomach for four days.

are this moment at work along that been awfully slow about it, but Norfolk will forgive them if they'll really be completed in a minute. By the time new depot this summer, as they say we leave this world of sin and sorrow they will.

> when rats have gone out of style the women have to wear switches in order How many names will the Ad club caused what little hair they really did add to that Norfolk avenue paving may stray. Everything he says is petition?

ED HOWE'S PHILOSOPHY.

Three or four dull days in succession cause business men to become panic stricken.

When a woman with a family is on the street at noon, the people are as shocked as when a reliable old married man comes down town after sup-

When a girl begins to look like her mother, it is a sign of age.

Country town storekeepers complain that customers are becoming scarcer, and traveling men more numerous. Do you "talk" about your friends on slight provocation? A good many do

Most men claim that they have done a great deal" for the town in which they live. But nowhere will you find a man who does not owe the town in which he lives more than it owes busted and will turn away disgusted

We're all more or less disposed to neglect much that is practical and sensible, and devote time to Higher Walks where we cannot possibly get footing. Some fools are smarter than others:

indeed, some fools almost have sense. The Wise Men do not know it all contrast, have practiced what they preached them opportunity; but they are so ship.

veryone knows a little.

People never become so old that it loes not hurt them to be scolded.

In this country, we always live well in the present and we diet calamity for the future.

A man regards his newspaper as he does his wife; something to be found fault with, and something he never entirely approves of.

What Great Wrong should be righted next? We should have at least two grinding at once.

No one would listen to you talk i he didn't know it was his turn next.

We Americans have a way of wor rying a man into his grave by abusing him unfairly and then telling what

A candidate's promises to the people are not any more worthless than the

I have great admiration for the we man who can repel inquisitiveness or most women can do it.

Don't show your nerve by running the risk of losing your life; show it by quitting dangerous habits that are shortening your life. You eat too fast; brace your nerve and quit it.

are lazy, but because they are care less. Carelessness is the greatest American sin. A man frequently says: "I can't do it all." Intimating that those with whom he is associated put more on his shoulders than he is able to bear. Any man who will tell his wrongs will exaggerate them.

Most men are poor not because they

Did you ever repeat a compliment for yourself that you didn't exaggerate it a little?

When you invite anyone to your house, they always say, "Don't go to any trouble." But they expect you to.

There is no get-rich-quick scheme equal to a poor girl worrying a rich A man always thinks he can do better than he does do. The real necessities of life are inexpensive; it is the extra frills that cost money.

The man who never attempts to sing at any other time, will break out when in a picnic wagon.

in a big town, it doesn't follow that a man from a little town can get it. UNCLE WALT.

Because there is plenty of business

The Flight of Time. The summer's swiftly gliding by, it ouldn't well be fleeter; and soon we'll cease to curse the fly, and howl at the moskeeter. A few more busy, hust ling weeks, and summer will be over! The frost will sparkle on the leeks, the sandburs and the clover! The sun behind the wintry clouds will sulk, its task forgetting; and we no more in wilted crowds will tell how hard we're sweating. And when the snow has hid the flowers, which now the fields are thronging, we'll talk of golden sum mer hours with tears of idle longing. And that's the way we all are built; our heads are made of leather; in summer, when our collars wilt, we long for wintry weather. And when the The Union Pacific and M. & O. have fires of winter burn, when come the snow and blizzard, we wish that sumquestion will be thorough. It cannot get down to brass tacks and build that gizzard. I sometimes think that when we'll weary of the harp and crown and of the snowy pinions, and seek a they had more hair than they had, has fane dominions. UNCLE WALT.

Before and After. It is really rather funny how the man who's burning money finds a legion of admirers any place that he witty; all the johnnies in the city gather round him to adore him while there's wealth to throw away. When he grows exceeding frisky in the gilded home of whisky, e'en the barkeeps make confession that he has a wealth of charms; and the peelers, evidently, love him, for they treat him gently, when his feet become entangled and he falls into their arms. O, the world is soft and tender to the lavish money spender and he thinks that people love him for his merits and his face; but when all his wealth is melted, he is hustled, he is pelted, and the barkeeps calmly kick him from the portals of their place. And the people who were smirking when his money he was jerking, call him names that hurt his feelings when he seeks a helping hand; and the haughty cops surround him, draw their little clubs and pound him, load him in the hurry wagon, and he's fined to beat the band. All the friends you gain by blowing money where the booze is flowing are not worth a cent a dozen-they're not worth the half of that; they will shake you when you're when, to buy a little fodder, you attempt to pass the hat.

After Attell's Scalp.

Kansas City, Aug. 8.-Tommy Dixon, Kansas City featherweight, has been matched to fight Boyo Driscall in Memphis, Tenn., Monday night, according to an announcement today by Jimmy Hirst, Dixon's manager. Driscoll is now in Memphis, training. After the Memphis bout Dixon will go to New Orleans to take part in an elimination contest in which the win-There are a few men who will not ning featherweight of the six entered take advantage of you, if you give will fight Abe Attell for the champion-

SATURDAY NIGHT

THE MOTHERHOOD OF GOD. Text, "As one whom his mother com-forteth, so will I comfort you."-Isa. lxvi,

- Jane W. Atlanta . The Sandy and A. o. "But what's the use, pastor?" a woman telling of troubles even her husband did not understand said to me. "It's just the same, even God is a man!" But she was mistaken. We only call God "him" for lack of a better term. There is no sex with Ged nor with angels nor with us in the world to come. However, I can understand how craving of human heart yearns for motherhood in religion. I can readily comprehend the grip which a great church has on the masses by its veneration of 'the Virgin Mother." She's the embodiment of divine grace and compassion. To the understanding heart the Word of God is a warm letter of affection from a mother to her child. Does it point to God's sheltering love? Then it shows the hen and her flock of little ones. There's a sound of alarm to the scattered brood. Danger's near. There is a quick call, a fluttering of tiny wings, a pattering of feet to a trusted refuge. There's a picture for the sinner flying for refuge, a symbol of open gates of heaven for human soul when terrors of night of eternity are coming

Why as a Mother?

Oh, because a mother's love is so different! I've seen nurses at children's hospitals cuddle up their little charges. Beautiful, but not quite mother love. They weren't their own. When a regiment was leaving Buffalo for the Spanish-American war I saw at the armory a woman step out and kiss a stalwart young fellow. As they marched off the little woman swooned away. "That was Bill's mother." Bill died in the fever camp at Chickamauga. Every time I left for college my widowed mother stood at the doorstep and waved goodby till I was out of sight. Sort of provoked me. No use making such a fuss. "Don't be impatient with me, my boy. You're all I have in the world to live for." 'Twas a mother I saw sitting by the prisoner at the lawyer's table all day long. It was she who sat with dry eyes and agonized face when the jury brought in its verdict. Her lips the last to kiss him through grated bars before his execution. Poor mother! She brought him into the world, nursed him at her breast, mothered him through every spell of fevered sickness. She knew him better than any one else. No wonder she would believe in him against every lawyer, judge and jury in the world. That's like God. "He knoweth our frame; he remembereth we are but dust." "The mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting the motherhood of God!

Beeking and Forgiving.

The crowd gathers on the street corner. Big policeman has little sobbing child in his arms. "Is she hurt?" "Was she run over?" "Naw, nobody hurt. She's lost. Her mether 'll be along in a minit." "Here a penny, baby." No penny wanted. "I want my muvver!" Suddenly a woman hurries into the crowd. "That's my baby!" Every one's heart thumps. The big policeman pushes her off coolly. "How do I know that?" "How? I guess actions will tell!" Baby arms are outflung. "Oh, mamma," the curly head cried, "I fought I had losted you." "Can you tell now?" "I guess you'll mer would return, to thaw our frozen do," beams the officer. The crowd cheered and laughed and cried a little the fathers and mothers in it. Hum! What did that woman say? "Actions will tell." Say, brother, can the world Wearing rats to make it look as if chance to amble down to these pro- tell whether you belong to God or not? Ever read the parable of the good shepherd and the lost sheep? That's God seeking men. And God's forgiveness is like a mother's. Boy goes wrong, disgraces family. Father says: 'Let him go. He's made his bed; let him lie in it." He's lost his job; his friends cut him on the street; his father will not let his name be mentioned in the house. Who is it gives him food and money secretly? Who is it holds no grudge and forgives as freely last time as first? Ever read the Bible, my wayward friend? It'll grip your heart in the tenderest place. "Him that cometh unto me I will in nowise cast out." "Though your sins be as scarlet"-that sounds like a mother saying, "No matter what you do or where you are, remember your old mother is your friend."

> Forgetting Mother and God. I have sat in parlors when my heart ached. "Mother's busy." I could hear the footfall of that poor drudging mother. Never mind. Some day pilgrim shoes will be loosed from those tired feet. The shadows will gather in that home. It's mighty doubtful if the angels will count the number of expensive floral designs when the crowd has left the cemetery. Is your mother dead? Now in heaven? Motherless forever? Remember how she pinched and scraped for you? "No, I still have her." Then go home and put your arm around her. Give her a real, living, warm kiss. Tell her that you love her, that she's the greatest mother God ever made. Insist on her having a nice bittof pin money every week. It's only part of what you owe. Some day you'll give your good right arm to have the chance. And her God? Well, you can afford to tie up to your mother's God. You'll want to be with both some day.

What used to be called-sometimes derisively - "bargain hunting" has evolved into the practise of intelligent buying. The advertisements make it