

PROFITS IN THE BY-PRODUCTS.

Packers Claim to Make Only 3 Cents Profit on Each Dressed Beef.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—By-products yield 97 per cent of the profits in the packing business, according to figures given by William D. Miles, formerly general manager of the Armour Packing company of Kansas City, who concluded his testimony in the trial of the ten Chicago packers. He gave the company's net profits for 1909 as $202,878.18 in the dressed beef department, based on a slaughter of 204,820 animals.

An analysis of the figures given by the witness showed that the company made but 3 cents profit on dressed meat of each steer killed, while the fat of each animal yielded a profit of 42 cents. The profit on hides was 37 cents a head and 18 cents profit was obtained from the glue manufactured from the hoofs of each steer. Special Counsel Sheehan spent several hours in an effort to compel the witness to admit that those figures were obtained by bookkeeping methods devised by the packers, but was unsuccessful.

It warns them of the fate of Louis XVI and Charles I.

Yuan Shi Kai has notified the legations that order has been restored on the northern railways and that normal conditions would be resumed at once.

The new republican cabinet appointed at Nanking comprises some of the ablest men in China. It is confronted with the task of maintaining order in the provinces which have revolted, and in some of these, especially Szechuen, the conditions approach those of anarchy. In Szechuen the British consul and foreigners have been compelled to leave the capital.

SAYS T. R. IS WILLING.

Curtis Declares Roosevelt is Joining for Nomination.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Sumner Curtis, Washington correspondent of the Record-Herald, says: "Washington not only has become convinced of Col. Roosevelt's willingness to accept the republican presidential nomination this year, but is of the belief that the former president is encouraging the anti-Taft movement that involves the use of his name. There have been important developments in the situation recently.

"One of the most significant of recent happenings was the action of the progressive convention, dominated by the LaFollette forces at Columbus, O. The adoption of resolutions that did not endorse LaFollette's candidacy for president, but which specifically linked the name of Roosevelt with that of the Wisconsin senator is interpreted in some quarters as a preliminary move in the direction of uniting the progressives around the Roosevelt standard.

Abbot, president of the Outlook company of New York, with which Mr. Roosevelt is associated. This statement is made in the Local Press, a weekly newspaper published here, the home of Mr. Abbot. If Mr. Roosevelt is ever elected president again, according to Mr. Abbot, it will not be because he wants the office, but because the country wants him to perform a certain job.

QUEER LOSS OF MEMORY.

Prominent Iowa Merchant Has to Be Introduced to Mother-in-Law.

Ottumwa, Ia., Jan. 5.—When Jacob Marsh, a prominent merchant of Richland, Ia., came to Ottumwa yesterday he had to be introduced to his mother-in-law and friends of many years standing. He did not even know the real estate agent who recently sold a valuable farm for him, and with whom he had been in close consultation for many months. He said he had no recollection of ever having lived on the farm.

Marsh greeted his mother-in-law as a total stranger, though he admitted he recognized his wife and friends. Life for the last twenty-two years, he says, is a blank, but many incidents prior to that time are as fresh in his mind as if they had just occurred.

This case followed an operation recently for the removal of a tumor caused by a blow Marsh received twenty years ago while employed in a grading gang in Iowa City. His first words while recovering from the influence of the anesthetic were: "See the sneak run," referring to the man who had assaulted him.

STORIES MUST COINCIDE.

Government Not Satisfied With Certain Testimony on Packers.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Witnesses for the government in the trial of the Chicago packers charged with criminal violation of the Sherman law, if their testimony on the witness stand is in variance on material points with that given by them before the federal grand jury, may themselves face an inquiry.

William D. Miles, former manager of the Armour Packing company at Kansas City, who was called by the government and whose answers to certain questions have been unsatisfactory to the prosecution, testified against the packers before the federal grand jury. At least three other former officers and employees of the packing firms who testified before the grand jury will be called as witnesses in the trial tomorrow. It was reported that counsel for the government would make a careful comparison of Mr. Miles' testimony in the trial with the statements he made before the grand jury and that if any important discrepancies are discovered the prosecution may ask Judge Carpenter to act in the matter.

Damage Estimated at $100,000 Done There by Midnight Blaze. At midnight the blaze was under control.

The fire started in the store of H. J. Gutman and company, from an undetermined cause, and soon destroyed the stock there and that of Abe E. Levi and company in the same building. It then swept to the four story establishment of Schwartz and company and leaped to the Baldwin store. Damage to the latter is mostly from water. The Schwartz company is the heaviest loser. Officers of the company say it will be $200,000.

LOOKS FOR A "DARK HORSE."

Norman E. Mack Expects One to Win Democratic Nomination. Washington, Jan. 5.—Norman E. Mack, chairman of the democratic national committee, believes that proverbial dark horse will be chosen to head the next democratic presidential ticket.

Mr. Mack arrived here today from New York to complete arrangements for the national committee meeting to be held here Jan. 8, when the time and place of the democratic convention will be selected. He limited comment of the chances of the various presidential aspirants to an admission that he expects a "dark horse" to win.

Mr. Mack said that he did not think the committee would recommend any change in the method of electing delegates to the convention. The proposed presidential primaries, he declared, would involve prohibitive expense. Denver, St. Louis and Baltimore are the leaders in the fight for the convention, according to the chairman, and each seems to have a chance to win.

The committee received from Senator Pomeroy of Ohio acceptance of an invitation to speak at the Jackson day dinner on "Backeye Democracy."

SAYS PRICES WERE FIXED.

Miles, formerly general manager of the Armour Packing company at Kansas City, continued his story of the operations of the old packers' pool this morning when the trial of the ten Chicago packers charged with criminal violation of the Sherman law was resumed before United States District Judge Carpenter. The government is preparing to introduce a mass of documentary evidence in support of its contention that the packers violated the law by fixing the price of fresh meat and apportioning the volume of business on a non-competitive basis. Most of this evidence consists of letters sent out by the alleged combination of packers at different times. It is expected that Miles will not conclude until late in the day. The government may call Ferdinand Sulzberger of Schwarzhild & Sulzberger as its next witness.

Verdigré is Growing.

Verdigré, Neb., Jan. 4.—Special to The News: Verdigré, the beautiful village thirty-four miles north of Norfolk, on the Winner branch of the Northwestern railway, can look back with pride to the many improvements made within its borders during the year just drawing to a close. A beautiful two-story bank building 25x50 is the most imposing. The bank is known as the Nebraska State bank and all of the stock but a small fraction is owned by members of the Schreier family. Emil Schreier, a prominent farmer, is vice president. Vincent Schreier, a land owner and storekeeper of Knoxville, is a director and A. V. Kouba, who was formerly cashier of the Knox County bank, is the cashier of the new bank. The authorized capital is $50,000. The next building of importance is the brick office building recently completed for Dr. E. H. Kucera. This building is 25x50 and has five large rooms; it is elegantly furnished and it is a model of neatness throughout. The doctor was elected coroner at the recent election. A butter and cheese factory was established here during the summer by local men at a cost of $5,000. The products of this establishment have been in such demand that it is impossible to keep up with the orders. It will be impossible to enumerate the number of elegant residences which have been constructed during the year, but we must not fail to mention the homes built by Joseph Kirka, T. A. Tikalsky (two), Frank P. Pavlik, Frank Jironsok, August P. Pavlik, John Beran, Henry Fagan, J. L. Hawk, Miss Pavolka, Charles Jemelinko, Joseph Laposh, Vac. Miller and Joseph Gotsinger. One of the most important improvements, and one for which the people prayed for many years, has just been completed and now Verdigré can boast one of the finest water works systems of any town of its size in the state; its cost was nearly $7,000. The year 1912 will witness still greater developments than any year since the town was incorporated, every member of which is a live wire. The Northwestern railroad is negotiating for the purchase of a gravel pit here and if the deal is consummated, which it more than likely will be, it will mean not less than thirty more families to become permanent residents of our village. Every one here has his shoulder to the wheel, and the slogan is 1000 people before 1913.

FREEZE TO DEATH IN KANSAS.

Ness City, Kan., Jan. 4.—The mournful howling of a dog led to the discovery near this city today of the body of E. Taylor, a farmer, who had fallen from his wagon on the way to market and frozen to death by the roadside. Taylor's team was found by farmers yesterday wandering about the country. A searching party was organized. They had traveled over miles of drifted country roads when they came upon Taylor's dog shivering beside the snow covered body of his master. Taylor left a widow and five small children. At least four persons are known to have frozen to death in this section of western Kansas since the heavy snow and cold wave came a week ago.

Current report has been in evidence the past two days that the capital stock of the Atlas will also be increased. This report was not confirmed nor denied by the cashier, R. S. Payne last night. Getting into Grand Portage the vessel had to break six-inch ice for ten miles.

Two Chicken Records Broken.

Almost 600 chickens, an estimate made by officials of the Northeastern Nebraska Poultry association, are now in the show room and are competing for ribbons in the respective classes. There are more than twice as many birds at this year's show as there were last year, and the first day's attendance record of visitors was also broken Wednesday. Show Superintendent E. I. Custer and Secretary Hawkins of the Commercial club finished their work Wednesday night, and Judge Southard commenced the scoring Thursday. Show Secretary H. B. Dixon is one of the busiest men at the show. This secretary has all in shipshape the ribbons placed by Friday night. Electric lights in the show room are so well arranged that visitors at night have as good a view of seeing the birds as the early comers during the day. John Freythalder, who last year won prizes with his silver spanned Hamburgs, is not a chicken exhibitor this year. Mr. Freythalder's chickens, he says, are sick. He was one of the early visitors at the show, and discovering a pen of Indian runner ducks took advantage of this variety and now has a pen of the waddlers up for competition. Wednesday afternoon was a busy one. The out-of-town shipments came in fast, and the officials for a time were swamped with work. With the arrival of about 200 birds, the chicken feed gave out, and there was a great demand for food for the competing chicks. Among the new variety of chickens not seen at the show last year are the black orpingtons entered by Grover Mayhew; modeled Anonas, from C. A. Nelson of Lindsay; H. P. Stone's pearl guinea hens; Andrew Mapes' white guinea, and the partridge cochin exhibited by Mrs. J. D. Sturgeon, which recently arrived from Alabama. South Sioux City or Lindsay may get the special badge premium to the birds coming the longest distance. The Rhode Island reds are the most strongly represented birds in the show, and in this class there will be some lively competition for ribbons. There are seventy of this variety of birds on exhibition. With fifty-nine buff orphingtons on hand, this fowl also promised great interest in the race for ribbons. In this class the birds which won prizes at Fremont and Sioux City are competitors. Fifty-eight barred rocks are the third largest class. There are forty-five white orpingtons and forty-one white wyandottes. Those five varieties constitute only about half the number of birds exhibited.

Among those who have entered the show with exhibits are: J. J. Lick, Emil Moeller, Mrs. Hagel, Burt Mapes, Andrew Mapes, F. E. Davenport, George Schmude, J. S. Mathewson, Grover Mayhew, E. S. South, Mrs. Burr Taft, Mrs. J. D. Sturgeon, Mrs. Joseph Laube, Gorham Lizer, E. I. Custer, W. P. Logan, M. L. Black, Jay Hight, John Freythalder, C. L. Anderson, G. F. Bilger, Mrs. G. W. Fowler, H.
