PHILIPPINE REVOLT IS BIG

Rebellion Much More Serious Than Has Been Generally Recognized.

REBELS WRITE THEIR OATHS IN BLOOD

Woman Disclosed the Original Plot of the Natives in the Confessional and the Priest Divulged the Secret.

SAN FANCISCO, Oct. 19.-Advices by the steamer Peru from Singapore and Hong Kong state that up to September 27 the rebellion in the Philippine islands is much more serious than has been generally recognized. It is said that the reports of revolutionist defeats sent out by Spanish officers have been greatly exaggerated, and that so far the rebels have more than held their own in the struggle for independence. It is stated that the revolution is now beyond the control of the Spanish authorities, and that unless reinforcements are sent to Manilla immediately the Spanish forces are in danger of final defeat. The rebels now hold the province of Cavite, are well organized and have 3,000 rifles. There are many natives among the Spanish troops and the officers are afraid to take native regiments into the interior because their levalty is doubted.

The Hong Kong Press says editorially that there is no longer room for the least doubt that affairs in the Philippines will in a short time assume the proportions of the Cuban rebellion. The natives are deter-mined. As each rebel signs an agreement he writes his name on his arm with blood and swears vengeance against the Spanlards. The story of the original plans for striking the blow is a most serious one. For a long time the natives have been conspiring to overturn the government, and it was finally decided to make a strong attack on the 15th of July. Governor General Blanco was to have been murdered by one of the natives on that day, and it was arranged to suddenly swoop upon the body of officials who attended the funeral, kill as many as possible, then ransack the town of Manilia and take entire possession of the place. It is due to a woman that the diabolical plot was discovered. In the confessional she disclosed the plot to the priest, who divulged the secret. The arrest and imprisonment of many natives plainly indicated that the priests were cognizant of the arrangements, and then, toward the end of August, the fighting commenced in real earnest. From that time up to the middle of September, the date of the latest news, there were repeated bloody conflicts between the government forces and the na-

The Manilla correspondent, under date of September 2, says that the Spanish troops defeated the rebels on August 31. The writer serm:

Eight rebels killed at St. Mesa; counted six or eight at San Juan, besides those on the Spanish side. The bodies (rebels) are being left out unburied to rot. Over 100 of them, some say 170, were shut up in a small room under the bastions of San Schastian Intra Muros Monday night. No ter; one small window. Fifty-four found dead in the morning. For three hours last Friday the United States and Spain were on the brink of war and the threatening situation was only relieved when the Spanish authorities ignominiously backed down and allowed the Vigilancia to proceed to sea with Fernandez still on board. A letter received here from a correspondent in Havana, who is close to Consul General Lee, gives a dramatic account of the epi sode. According to the letter, when the Vigilancia put into Havana the Spanish authorities demanded the surrender of Senor Angel Fernandez, a Mexican on board the The Spaniards alleged that Fernandoz was not a Mexican, but a subject of Spain. Captain John McIntosh of the Vigilancia refused to surrender Fernandez. Then the Spanish authorities told McIntosh that immediately summoned a cabinet ouncil and while this council was consider ing the matter the Vigilancia began to weigh anchor. The Spanish officials on board procated, but Captain McIntesh said, in vigorus language, the letter states:

"D-n your objections, my ship has been cleared; my consul has told me to go to sea. I am going and I dare you to try to prevent me. Get off my ship!" And with that the Yankee roughly shoved the Spaniards into the waiting boats and the Vigilancia, flying the stars and stripes, started for the mouth of the harbor, which is commanded by the guns of Morro castle. All was excitement in Hayana and the quays and housetops were lined with hundreds of persons who expected to see the Vigilancia fred upon. Consul Lee himself watched the Vigilancia through a glass. Meanwhile signals were being exchanged between Weyler's palace and Morro castle, and in the latter place were signs of great excitement. Slowly the Vigilancia entered the mouth of the harbor and then it was noticed the gons of Morro were turned on the ship. The Vigilancia repeatedly signaled Morro castle: "I am going to sea," but no answer came from the fort until the vessel was in blue water and the Spaniards ran up the signal which means "Goodby." It is said Weyler is furious over the de-parture of the vessel and Consul Lee's course. It is stated Weyler ordered the commandant of Morro to sink the Vigilancia, but that at the last moment he yielded to the entreaties of his cabinet and counter-manded the order. The episode caused more excitement in Havana than anything since the beginning of the war.

His throat has been troubling him ifficulty tonight. His address was as fol of this multitude that the case of McKinley against Bryan has been arguing itself. You have been through so much since 1892 that you proceeded to discuss the question fron your standpoint. You can realize very lit tle, perhaps, what is involved in the prin-ciples of either currency or tariff—at least, there are as many orators upon the one side as there are upon the other. But you can all of you understand that in 1892 we were all of us reasonably prosperous. Your memories are not so short that you cannot recall the fact that the men who, in 1892, promised you if you will go wrong you would have a great time, and be very happy; be-sides that, the very same men who told you sides that, the very same men who told you this are now telling you if you will follow them once more you will be happier still. In other words, when the democratic party was all together and had some good and sensible men in it, we were led by the majority of them into a swamp and quagmire and, now the best ones having left it, they tell us they will lead us to the land of promise and that the besternly services will ise and that the heavenly Jerusalem will descend. Certainly if it reaches where they are it will descend very heavily. Therefore, I say this case argues itself. If these men have been wrong upon a subject which has been discussed for about 100 years, how in the world can they be right on a question that has not been discussed until after the dreadful crime of 1873. If they can be wrong after 100 years of education, what will they be another stop of twenty minutes will be made after twenty years? You know this is a there. Two years ago we squarely settled down on the subject of protection. We declared by our votes and our actions that we were in favor of it, and we were only waiting for the time to get rid of these men who had imposed upon us. You want not only to do what you ordinarily do-register and vote talk to your neighbors; you want to to the fellows in the next ward, to the lows in the next congressional district and you want to make it warm for the community; and, as far as I can judg you do not need my advice to that effect. LCOMB HAS DONE FOR LABORERS

Large Assemblage of Workingmen Listen to Discussions of Political Issues-Free Silver Would Be Rulnous to Them.

The rally of laboring men at Karbach hall last night proved to be one of the most significant meetings of the local campaign. The audience was composed almost exclusively of men who toil and it filled the big hall to the doors. There were men from the shops, from the railroads and from nearly every industrial catablishment in Omaha. Many of them brought their wives with them and they listened to the speakers with an interest that showed how thoroughly they realized the importance of the issues that were discussed. The speeches were distinctively from a labor standpoint and that they appealed to the common sense of the auditors was indicated by the applause which continually grew more frequent and enthusiastic.

The Continental Drum corps entertained the crowd while the people were distributing themselves through the hall and waiting for the arrival of the speakers. K. S. Fisher called the meeting to order and introduced the Webster Campaign quartet, which sang a couple of selections and received the usual enthusiastic encore. E. M. Hiff was the first speaker and his speech was a stirring and effective presentation of the interest of the laboring man in this campaign. He said: TROUBLE WITH LABOR MOVEMENTS. TROUBLE WITH LABOR MOVEMENTS.

Ladies and Gentlemen: It is something more than a year ago since I first addressed in Omaha a distinctively labor meeting, and I am glad tonight to have the pleasure of again facing my fellow workingmen and saying to you, what I said then, what I believed then, and what I am confident of—that the great difficulty in the labor movement in the past and at the present time is not the war as between the employer and the employe, but as between the malcontents and he who neither employs nor cares for those who are employed. Something of a sensation was created at the republican national headquarters this afternoon by the receipt of a publication, now being circulated in pamphlet form, from the South Omaha Daily Sun of October 1 and 3. 1836, which supports Bryan and Sewall, viciously attacking the members of General Alger's party of old soldiers. The article refers to the generals as a "carload of old bummers called generals now touring the country at the expense of 3 Hanna, 'telling the people how to vote' and generals may be a seed to the proposition.
