

This document is a historical record of military units and their commanding officers from 1860 to 1914. It lists various regiments, battalions, and companies, along with their names, ranks, and service numbers. The text is in German and contains many names of individuals and locations.