If you have anything to dispose of, a Want Ad in The Monitor will sell it.

Mrs. Alphonso Wilson, grand lecturer of the Missouri jurisdiction, O. E. S., returned Sunday from attending the silver jubilee of the order, which was held in St. Louis, the last week in July.

Miss Madree Penn gave an interesting lecture in Grove M. E. church Thursday evening, July 29th, under the auspices of the Odd Fellows. Miss Penn's subject was "The Challenge of the Task." The topic was most thoughtfully treated by the young speaker.

St. Philip's annual Sunday School and parish picnic will be held next Wednesday afternoon at Miller park.

G. W. Jenkins and family have removed from 2416 Patrick avenue to 2209 Seward street.

Mrs. Dorris Thornton and children of 2818 Miami street left Thursday morning for Nebraska City for a brief visit with her sister, Mrs. Mary Fields. From Nebraska City she will go to Red Oak, Ia., to visit her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Goodlow, who are prosperous farmers there. She will return home about September 15.

The Rev. G. G. Logan, pastor of the Grove Methodist Episcopal church, left Tuesday night for Manhattan, Kan., to attend the district conference.

Dr. and Mrs. J. B. F. Shaw of Meridian, Miss., en route home from the California exposition, stopped over in Omaha recently for a brief visit with relatives. Mrs. Shaw is a sister of Mrs. G. G. Logan.

Mrs. Esther Moore of Lorain, Ohio, arrived in the city Tuesday and is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. B. Brooks, who has taken the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Volney Carter, 2819 Miami street, for a few months.

The Owl Club gave a private ball Monday night at Peterson's Hall, in honor of several out-of-town guests. The honor guests were Miss Frances Shaw of Quincy, Ill.; Miss Walker of St. Louis; Miss Marjorie Malone of Topeka, Kan., and Miss Hazel E. Wilson of Chicago.

Ellis Cartwright, an expressman, of 2312 North Twenty-eighth avenue, died at his residence Thursday with pneumonia. The funeral was held Friday afternoon from St. John's African Methodist Episcopal church, of which deceased was a member. The Rev. W. T. Osborne officiated. G. Wade Obee was the undertaker.

The Fontenelle Real Estate Company, with offices at Thirteenth and Farnam streets, has been organized by some of our enterprising young men. May success attend it.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE MONITOR.

The union picnic of Zion and Mount Moriah Baptist Sunday schools was held at Elmwood Park Thursday. The day was ideal and a large number of people, young and old—no, there were no old people present, because every one was young that day—attended. There was an abundance of good things to eat, and everybody had a good time.

St. John's African Methodist Episcopal Sunday school took several street car loads of people to Lake Manawa for their annual Sunday school picnic Thursday. This is always an anticipated event and the attendance this year was a record breaker. The children, parents and friends passed a most delightful day and returned home tired out, but happy. It is reported that some of those present crowded in their sleep at daybreak Friday morning. Can you blame them?

The First Regimental Band went to Marysville, Mo., Wednesday morning to play for the Emancipation celebration, which was held there August 5th.

GOT RESULTS.

The following message came over the phone the other day: "Please take out my advertisement and collect, for we have rented the house. I think your 'ad' did it."

Another message: "Don't run my want 'ad' this week. It has been answered and I've got some one for the place."

Another: "One issue was enough. The house is rented. I'm tickled over it."

Does advertising in The Monitor get results? The above messages answer the question.
