NEBRASKA AND IOWA SUFFER FROM UNTRUE COMPARISONS.

Omaha, Nebr., March 17.—For making the statement that the per capita wealth of Kansas is $1630 greater than of any other state, the Country Gentleman, an eastern publication, dominated with eastern ignorant egotism, is being called upon by Nebraska and Iowa boosters to produce figures that permitted such a statement.

So far the publication has studiously ignored all requests of information, knowing that its figures are not true in any sense. The per capita wealth, both of Nebraska and Iowa, far exceeds that of Kansas; so much so, in fact, that the figures published look like deliberate misrepresentation. The figures for the three states are: Iowa, $3,539; Nebraska, $3,110; Kansas, $2,526. These figures are taken from the "Estimated Valuation of National Wealth," issued by the Bureau of Census, Department of Commerce, U. S.

NEBRASKA'S GREAT STORY IS TOLD IN THE MOVIES.

Omaha, Nebr., March 17.—A moving picture film, showing views of Nebraska and including all sections, is being used by the Bureau of Publicity to call attention to Nebraska and its resources. This reel, in conjunction with the Omaha reel, is being shown before convention bodies and as a result the state is getting a great amount of desirable publicity.

The Nebraska reel, prepared by the State Conservation Commission shows in a decisive and quick way the great industries and activities that have put the state to the front.
