

WHEN ALL IS DONE

When all is done, and my last word is said,
And ye who loved me murmur, "He is dead,"
Let no one weep, for fear that I should know,
And sorrow too, that ye should sorrow so.

When all is done and in the oozing day,
Ye lay this cast-off hull of mine away,
Pray not for me, for, after long despair,
The quiet of the grave will be a prayer.

For I have suffered loss and grievous pain,
The hurts and hatreds and its world's disdain;
And wounds so deep that love, well-tried and pure,
Had not the pow'r to ease them or to cure,

When all is done, say not my day is o'er,
And that time might I seek a dimmer shore,
Say rather that my morn' has just begun—
I greet the dawn and not a setting sun.

—Dunbar.

More Soap and Less Water.

Because they use too much water and too little soap women do not get the same dazzling whiteness in their washed clothes as do the United States marines, a sergeant of the marine corps told a party of society women visiting a battleship.

"The eye paining brilliancy of our white clothes is due to the fact that we wash with our heads as well as our hands, and we let soap do its proper share of the work.

"Just enough water to thoroughly wet the wash is sufficient," the sergeant continued, "and the less water and more soap one uses the whiter the washing will turn out."

The visitors seemed greatly impressed with the lesson given them in an art that is dear to every woman's heart.—Philadelphia Record.
