GEORGE A. MAGNEY
Re-Elected County Attorney

Made a Costly Mistake.

A big commercial house in the middle west raised the salary of one of its officers to $40,000 a year.

The officer was greatly pleased. "Now my ambition is satisfied," he said.

Within two years the concern had found a way to dispense with this officer's services. It was done cleverly and smoothly. The man never suspected the real reason why he was released.

The head of the concern had overheard his remark. "We want no men in this business whose ambition is satisfied," he said. "When a man is satisfied, when he ceases to plan and fight for the future, we begin to lose money on him."—Woman's Home Companion.

Lame Ducks.

"What is a 'lame duck,' anyhow?" asked the man from back home.

"A 'lame duck,'" responded Congressman Hammfatt, "is a statesman who has been urged by his constituents to take his feet out of the trough."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Much Better Scheme.

"Darling, I love you so much I would gladly die for you."

"That's very nice of you, George, but it wouldn't do me any good. I'd so much rather you'd make a good living for me than a glad dying."—Baltimore American.

Mean Cat!

"Algernon called on me yesterday afternoon."

"Yes; he told me he had some time to kill."—Kansas City Journal.

good, he made a record as high as any man that ever held that great office, if not a little higher, and having done so, I should have continued him in it even if every white man in the United States had asked for his removal. It is worth, not birth that should count, wholly regardless of the nationality, creed or color of the man. I am proud of Mr. Anderson."

These words were greeted with tremendous applause in which Mrs. Hughes joined heartily.
