The Negro played well his part in signing up for the fourth Liberty loan bonds last Thursday. Every day sees dozens of Negroes paying for and receiving war stamps.

The Monitor has proved itself a reliable record of information, so much needed among our people. Large and glaring headlines are not what it depends upon to secure sales, but a thorough reading of fresh and carefully selected news worth knowing. We, therefore, ask every one who reads The Monitor to cease not to tell your neighbor about it and let him read it for himself. See H. L. Vincent, the agent for Fayette county, and let him talk to you about it.
