"AUNTIE" KEPT HER SEAT UP FRONT

A Street Car Incident Which Shows a Change of Sentiment Caused by the War.

By Madree Penn

It happened in "Ole Virginy." Down in Richmond one day last June—when "big Bertha" was bombarding Paris and sent the reverberations clear across the Atlantic—that this old Colored "mammy" boarded the street car, on which I was a passenger, waddled her way up front, leisurely placed her huge bundle in the seat, and sat down beside it.

Soon the street car conductor came to her and said: "You'll have to move to the back of the car."

She looked up at him and then out the window and said nothing.

He repeated his statement sharply, harshly commandingly. Slowly and leisurely she replied: "I ain't gwine to move nowhere. I've got two sons over yonder in dem Frances now fighting to make dis yeah world safe for democracy. I've done bought dem stamps and one of dem bond things what yo' gets yo' money on way pretty soon, and I've done paid ma nickel for dis yeah seat, and heah I sets, so go long wid you."

Just at this juncture one of the white men who sat behind her said: "That's right, Auntie, don't you move you just sit still; I've got a son over there myself."

Red of face, the conductor looked over the car. From the expression on many faces there were many who seemed to be of the same mind as the speaker. Grumbling his disgust the conductor walked back to his post; and the old Colored woman sat and calmly continued her gaze out the window.

COLORED NURSE AT $30 A DAY

Colored Woman in Nevada Gets Profitable Influenza Case.

Winnemucca, Nev.—Thirty dollars a day for waiting on a family was the wage at which a Colored woman was hired here by a Basque sheepman to go to his ranch near McDermitt, on the Oregon line, all the members of his family being ill of influenza. The sheepman had tried in vain to get help nearer home and, failing, came to Winnemucca. There were a number of cases of the disease here and that, together with the fact that many people are afraid of contracting influenza, made it difficult to find a woman to go. The Colored woman was offered $20 a day. She said it was worth $30, and without any further parleying the Basque man consented to pay it.

RED CROSS IS LIKE A SHIP OF RESCUE

Always Travels in Troubled Waters and Answers Every Cry of Distress.

REST OF WORLD IS TOO BUSY

Christmas Roll Call Gives Every One a Chance to Take Part in Rebuilding Our Broken World.

The American Red Cross is perhaps like nothing so much as a staunch and loyal ship in a storm. It goes its way with senses tuned to catch any cry for help. And when that cry comes, it drives instantly and without fear straight to the place of distress, in flood and fire and disaster. Just as the ship braves the perils of tumbling seas and hazardous rescue work. And, again, like the ship, it STANDS BY till those endangered are helped to safety.

Meanwhile the rest of the world, busy with its own problems, hurries home during these times of storm and stress, and draws down the blinds.

At least that is the way it has been in the past. But now comes the Christmas Roll Call. And it is a privilege, not a pest. It has no preferences. It plays no favorites. It makes no exceptions. It summons every man, woman and child in the country. It holds out to each one the blessed opportunity to ride on every Red Cross ship of mercy, to speed with every Red Cross train of relief that encircles the earth on their errands of mercy.

The only way for anyone to escape the possibility of some time having to accept CHARITY from the Red Cross is to become ONE with the Red Cross. For terrible calamity may come to us all. The money wealth of the Belgians was as nothing when they were stripped of clothing and food. And that feeling of oneness with the organization that our men on the other side have had during the war was not merely a great, but was the GREATEST, factor in enabling the Red Cross to give the efficient aid that it did.

Let us remember what Mrs. Margaret Laing, canteen worker in France, told about our boys who came out of the hospitals without money:

"Sometimes they would be able to make up a few cents between them," she said, "and sometimes they did not have anything. They would hang behind those who could pay. And they would look at the food so wistfully that it made one fight back the tears. The only way we could get them to take what they needed and craved was by saying: 'You know, boys, this was all paid for by your own people at home.' Then immediately their attitude would change and they would say: 'Why, yes, my mother' or 'my sister gives to the Red Cross.' And then how they would pitch in."

We are proud, we Americans. We do not want something for nothing. And here is our glorious opportunity to take the rest of our nation by the hand, and with all pride and dignity insure ourselves of our own help in time of adversity.

This Christmas Roll Call gives everyone a chance to be a "Dollar Man." And most of us can be one right at home. For by joining the Red Cross now and paying the dollar we become as actively engaged in the great work as if we were giving all of our time to it. We are merely making our dollar substitute for those of us who are too busy to give all of our time to the Red Cross.

Some of the great achievements of the Red Cross have been told over and over, until the facts may seem old to you. But on this occasion they are worth telling again. We should not forget, for instance, how the women of this nation, like our first Colonial mothers, turned suddenly into great manufacturers and made garments and supplies worth $50,000,000 last year. Nor let us forget how $111,000,000 was sent into the devastated countries during the time while men and women, giving their time for nothing, went with those dollars to see that they were used in the way they were most needed. And the American Red Cross sent medicines and anesthetics to the hospitals of France when they were almost unobtainable, so that our boys and their allies might have some relief from the torment of their wounds, and a chance at ultimate recovery.

There are so many things to tell that it is impossible to spread the whole story in this limited space. But each worker will know. For the letters that have come from the boys in the camps "over here" and from the fields "over there" have been full of the reasons. Ask the mother of any boy who was imprisoned behind the cruel lines where food was scarce even for the enemy army, but who got his 20 pounds of biscuits, pork and beans, cocoa and other good, wholesome things, every week.

The roofs are at hand everywhere. The reasons are manifest. Everyone should become a member of the widest, best and holiest crusade the world has ever known. Membership in the Red Cross should be more universal than taxes; as universal as the public school, public opinion, or our own public government.
