ALFRED JONES QUILTS CASTLE HOTEL

Alfred Jones, whom his host of friends among both races call "Al," retired March 1 from the management of the Castle hotel cafe, of which he has had sole charge for the past five years and made good. Mr. Jones occupied a unique position at the Castle, which has become famous for its excellent cuisine. When this hostelry was opened five years ago he was given a contract for the exclusive management of the cafe. He surrounded himself with an efficient crew, all colored, including bookkeeper and cashiers and successfully conducted this large and responsible business. Determined to make it a success Mr. Jones and his family worked from early morning until late at night. He was the first man on the job in the morning and last to leave at night. The work has been tremendously hard and he felt that in justice to himself he could not continue the pace, as the work was too confining. He has gone into the real estate business with his son, Alfred, Jr., and has opened offices in the Patterson Block. All his friends, and he counts them by the score, and The Monitor is among them, wish Al Jones the success he so richly deserves in his new business venture.

THE KAFFIR CHEMICAL LABORATORIES MOVING INTO LARGER QUARTERS.

The Kaffir Chemical Laboratories, incorporated, manufacturers of pharmaceuticals, drugs, medicines and toilet preparations, which worked quietly for several months incorporating and lining up its workers and resources, has been negotiating for a suitable building for a permanent home, sufficiently large to meet the demands of its business and conveniently located to trackage and the business center. These negotiations have resulted in securing a desirable location on North Sixteenth near Cuming street. The laboratories are moving into the Warden hotel property, 815-19 North Sixteenth street. This is a three-story modern brick building, 60x80, with three store fronts. The entire third floor is being remodeled and will be used as the laboratory. The first floor will be a display and city sales room and executive offices. The second floor will be remodeled and rented as offices to the business and professional men of the city needing such accommodations. This building will be known as the Kaffir Block.

As soon as the moving is completed and the firm is settled notice of the official opening will be given and inspection of the plant invited. This will be towards the latter part of the month.

PROMINENT OKLAHOMAN OMAHA VISITOR

William H. Twine, Attorney and Editor of The Muskogee Climber, Spends Several Days in the City.

William H. Twine, one of Oklahoma's most prominent and progressive citizens, is an Omaha visitor this week. He visits the city on business and is the guest of Mr. Sewell, 2620 Seward street. Mr. Twine, whose home is at Muskogee is an attorney and also editor of The Muskogee Climber. He was a pleasant caller at The Monitor office and dropped in to inspect the Kaffir Chemical Laboratories. Mr. Twine says The Monitor is one of his favorite exchanges, wide-awake and always on its job. He expressed himself as delighted with the outlook of Kaffir Chemical Laboratories and confidently expects it to become one of the big business enterprises of the country. Attorney-Editor Twine is a pleasant gentleman to meet. He renewed acquaintance with

Colored Commercial Club Bulletin

Watch this space each week for news, notices of meetings, etc., of the club.

The nifty button with monogram CCC which adorns the coat lapels of certain progressive citizens proclaims the fact that they are members of the Colored Commercial club, which has a membership of 100.

"Say, that button is a regular bullseye," remarked a facetious club member the other night. "You bet, it is," was the prompt reply. "It means that every one who wears it, is going to hit the bullseye in his business every time and it also means that when this club goes gunning for any worth while thing it's going to hit the bullseye."

A general meeting of the club was held at the Community rooms last Tuesday evening. In the absence of the secretary, A. P. Scruggs, H. J. Pinkett Thursday night with E. W. Pryor served as secretary pro tem. Although the extreme cold weather interfered somewhat with the attendance a good number were out and a wide-awake meeting was held. Some excellent practical suggestions were made by several of the members. The rotary movement was endorsed and is to be put into operation at once. A business directory of club members is to be prepared by the publicity committee so that this movement may be effectively carried out. Alfred Jones, chairman of the retail committee, announced that his committee was getting busy on its job and would have something worth while to report soon. A committee of five was appointed to prepare a program for a public meeting to be held early in April, when the club and its purposes will be presented to the public. The committee named was Walter Wynn, John A. Smith and Alfred Jones, Jr., H. L. Anderson and Frank Golden.

AN UP-TO-DATE GROCERY STORE.

If you want to see a well stocked, neatly kept, busy up-to-date grocery store, drop into the Star Grocery company at 2702 Lake street. The proprietors of the store are two courteous, wide-awake, progressive young men, Charlie Andrews and Arlander Brown, who are business from the ground up. They have a complete stock of groceries, attractively displayed and deserve liberal patronage.

The executive committee meets every Thursday night at 8:30 in the Community rooms.

What is the "Rotary Plan?" This: If Brown sells flour and White sells shoes, White will buy his flour from Brown and Brown will buy his shoes from White. Do you catch the idea?
