GOVERNOR McKELVIE IS ENTITLED TO RE-ELECTION
 To the Editor of The Monitor: Since there are certain influences in our community working against the present state administration I fear it behooves me as a citizen to say something in rebuttal. It might be well for our voters to remember that our state for many years past has been sadly in need of a new capitol building, both for the reason of convenience and expanse of our growing state and also as we will all admit in the matter of appearance which goes a long way nowadays in our country. After examination we are informed that there is even no adequate space or vaults in which to keep the records which are so valuable to the public as we all know.

Another thing which might be called to the attention of the voters and especially to those that are opposed to our state administration is that our county and state roads have been improved materially and extensively under Governor McKelvie's administration and that also he has put in effect the code bill, which has and will be the means of saving this state more money than could be estimated as it has done in Illinois and other states, and that the code bill will also assist to free our state from the sale of undesirable and unprofitable securities, which has in the past been a detriment to our populace.

Governor McKelvie has fought hard for these true and profitable issues and has succeeded in putting into operation a state government which ought to be appreciated by every voter. While it is true that he is only human it cannot be possible that he do something in four years that others have tried to do in decades. The cost of all of these better things, which Governor McKelvie has worked for, of course, is great in the beginning, but we cannot get the warmth and comfort from any house without first building it. Of course we realize that the number who are opposing this present government is only small, but this letter is directed towards those few.

business at 2295 Seventh avenue.

Until now, if you purchased stock in any colored concern, and found yourself in a position which necessitated raising some money, there was no market-place or other means whereby you could sell any part of such stock.

Before the stock is admitted for listing, it is thoroughly investigated by the governors of the exchange amongst whom are some of our most prominent citizens. Their O. K. on the stock of any corporation is sufficient notice to the public that the issue is worthy of their support. In addition, a special reserved fund has been arranged for, whereby a market for such stock is always maintained and no delay occurs in getting the stock sold or a loan procured on same.

The Harlem Stock Exchange will stabilize colored business more than anything else that could ever happen. It will give colored investors more confidence in the stocks of their race and will prove a safeguard against unscrupulous adventurers and fake schemes that have well-nigh killed the investing spirit of our people.
