DR. VAUGHN ADDRESSES DU BOIS LITERARY SOCIETY

Dr. Vaughn, dean of the Theological Seminary of Western University at Quindaro, Kan., addressed the Du Bois Literary Society Sunday afternoon. Dean Vaughn highly endorsed the aims and aspirations of the society, stating that he was very much pleased with the literary work of the young people of the race, not only in Lincoln, but in general. He further stated that he was an advocate of higher education in all vocations of life; that education and wisdom were pre-eminently necessary to gain and maintain a position in the world. Knowledge, he said, is necessary to measure up, even in a financial way. He also pointed out the fact that although we were handicapped in some respects, we had an equal opportunity with that of any one. He further urged the discussion and reports on race questions in the literary, as conducive to fitting one's self for high work, and as the means of understanding the outlook better. He also pointed out the necessity of making the most of our opportunity for education and training, in order that we may be really competent in anything which we may undertake to do.

Messrs. F. A. and Wm. N. Johnson and sister, Mrs. M. Sherman Jones arrived in the city Monday from Chicago to attend the funeral of their father, Mr. Jackson Johnson, who died Sunday morning after many years of lingering illness.

Mrs. Delia Alexander suffered another paralytic stroke last week and is in a serious condition.

Mr. John P. Saunders is quite ill at his home on Rose street.

Miss Viola Walker underwent a surgical operation Monday and is doing fairly well.

Listen! All voters, men and women who registered, don't forget Tuesday November 2, is general election day.

Dr. E. R. Vaughn, dean of Western University, Quindaro, Kas., spent Saturday in the city and preached for the A. M. E. church, morning and evening. Many of his admirers attended the services.

Rev. C. A. Raulston arrived in the city from Lexington, Mo., last Tuesday and is aiding Rev. H. W. Botts in his revival meeting at Mt. Zion Baptist church, which is yet in progress with much success. Rev. Mr. Raulston is preaching sermons of much interest and very instructive to followers of the Christian religion. Large crowds have been attending all services. The Sunday services were of especial interest, as many who did not attend during the week were present. We predict great good will be done under the leadership of Rev. H. W. Botts.

A Hallowe'en entertainment will be given at Mt. Zion Baptist church Saturday night, October 30.

L. B. McGee has left the hospital but is not yet well by any means.

UNIVERSITY NOTES

Mr. Robert Kincaid of Pueblo, Colo., is attending the Union college. He is specializing in dentistry in the pre-medicine course.

Mr. Rotherker Smith is also attending the Union college. He is working for a degree of A.E.

Mr. Marcus Bradley, a student at Quindaro, was the guest for a week of Miss Marie Thompson.

Miss Mabel Scott spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott, at Beatrice, Neb.

The young peoples' Literary Society held a meeting Sunday afternoon at the St. Paul A. M. E. church. An excellent program was arranged by the students. Mr. Aaron Shakelford talked on the League of Nations. Many points were gained by all present. Mr. Richard Williams read a paper on "Co-Operative Work in the Society." The paper contained many helpful points for the society to gain. Miss Marie Thompson gave an excellent reading Dr. Vaughn, dean of the Theological school at Quindaro, Kas., who for sixteen years worked with young people gave an inspiring and uplifting talk which was greatly appreciated by all present.

The Du Bois Literary society held its first regular meeting at the A. M. E. church Sunday afternoon. After a short business session, a very elaborate literary program was rendered. The feature of the program was a reading rendered by Miss Marie Thompson, student of the Fine Arts College of the University of Nebraska. A large number of new members and visitors were present and all were indeed pleased with the work of the society.

With the second month of school well under way at the university, things are moving along exceptionally well. All students have settled down to earnest work.

The number of colored students enrolled in the university has increased to nineteen. George Patterson enrolling in the College of Agriculture, and Courtney Cooley in the College of Electrical Engineering.

Mr. John Huff, Hastings, will head the delegation from that place to attend the Shrine banquet on November 19.

Mrs. S. E. Gross and sister spent Saturday and Sunday in Kansas City, Kan., where they visited their mother.

Don't fail to vote next Tuesday.

Miss Gladys Easley entertained on Friday, October 22, at her home, and a large number of young people enjoyed games and dancing, led by Miss Frances Hill. William Holmes and sister, Lillian May, of St. Joe, were the guests of honor. Refreshments were served.

MORE CRAFTSMEN THAN UNSKILLED

By Arthur M. Evans.

Washington, Oct. 14.—American industry finds little solace in the occupational tables of 1920 immigration. Skilled labor and the professional ranks were increased by the migratory tide. But common, unskilled labor, the scarcity of which has given industry one of its hardest pinches and has helped send up the cost of living, was drained of 100,000 workers.

In the fiscal year, ended last June 30, more craftsmen entered America than departed. The same was true of doctors, editors, ministers, engineers, teachers, actors and other professional occupations. But in front of unskilled labor, which is at the bottom of employment for all other groups, was hung a large minus sign. This is how it ranks.

Alien Migration.
	Came In.	Went Out.
Professional	12,442	3,379
Skilled Workers	69,967	20,782
Merchants	7,341	4,984
Laborers	81,734	183,820

Short 3,000,000 Laborers.

A shortage of at least 3,000,000 in common labor, which is a basic factor in industry, is estimated by careful observers as the result of suspended immigration alone during the war years. On top of this the movement of common labor for the last three years has been outward. In 1918, 14,659 were admitted and 24,590 departed. In 1919, 18,251 came in and 74,114 went out. Adding the figures for the year finished June 30, 114,642 alien laborers arrived in three years and 292,524 went back, a loss to the unskilled labor market of 178,000.

This is exclusive of farm labor, which registered an increase, due to the importation of hands from Mexico for employment in the border states.

In the present tide, which has been swirling at Ellis Island since May, a larger percentage of unskilled labor is found among the arriving aliens. But as females constitute 40 per cent of the incoming aliens and males form 75 per cent of the outgoing, it will require a long time to take up the common labor slack at the present rate.

Increase 1,575 a Week.

The statisticians of the inter-racial council after examining the figures for nine recent weeks, estimate that the net increase of male aliens is now running at the rate of 1,575 a week or about 89,000 a year. Even if this figure were doubled or trebled, it would require years and years to replenish the common labor supply to a point where it will be fully ample once the industries begin hitting up a real pace again.

Invention of labor-saving devices will undoubtedly tighten some of the slack, but some employment experts think that despite an immigration which is losing at a prodigious rate the common labor problem will become more and more pressing the faster the industries work up toward capacity stride. One thing they say is that the literacy test, instead of keeping undesirables out of the country—most of the long-haired distributors speak and read two or three languages—is barring out many willing workers who are industrious although illiterate.

Gladstone and Homer.

Gladstone firmly believed that Homer was a real man describing historical events.

Coal in Saskatchewan.

The coal deposit at Lampman, Sask., Canada, is believed to be one of the best of its kind in the world, and one of the greatest assets of the province, according to the investigators who recently made an examination of the location. They estimated that there are 2,000,000 tons of coal in the two and three-quarter sections of land in which the coal is located.—Scientific American.
