FAMOUS WASHINGTON JURIST WHO DIES EULOGIZED

(By The Associated Negro Press.) WASHINGTON, D. C., May 19.—The United States branch Police Court of Washington, D. C., presided over by Judge Hardison recently adjourned out of respect to the memory of Attorney John A. Moss, who died a few days ago. Attorney Moss was among the first Negro lawyers to take up practice in the District of Columbia.

Ricks, Judge Hardison paid tribute to the man who had been regarded as a landmark of the District Courts. "He was a man of notable events, and a man out of the ordinary," the Judge stated. "Moss was a living monument of a time that had passed away. He was a pioneer of his race. Moss was a man of unusual attainments and had a great breadth of view. I can appreciate the sentiments voiced by the preceding speakers."

One of the men among the armed force was a special county officer. The white men were arrested on a gambling charge, tried right there by the Negroes, convicted and fined. After each had given up all he held he went free.

All was well until local police detectives were advised. They arrested Gus Green, special officer, and Luther Fox, who claimed he had been "deputized" and charged them with high-way robbery.

HAD BROUGHT ANOTHER LOAD

Colored Tobacco Grower Knew What Was Expected of Him, and Had Come Prepared.

A colored man from Kentucky drove to a loose leaf tobacco sales warehouse in one of the Indiana cities on the Ohio with a load of tobacco.

When he received his sales slip and weights he noticed the customary bank check was missing.

Approaching the cashier he said: "Look here, boss, where is my money for this here tobacco? The sales sheet was consulted.

"It's like this: the expenses for weighing, unloading and commission for selling your tobacco amounted to more than the tobacco was worth. You still owe us just 50 cents," explained the cashier.

"Well, that's all right, I guess, but I ain't got a cent with me."

"Then next time you are coming over the river, just bring along a chicken with you and we will call the deal square."

Within a week the colored man appeared in the office with two chickens, one under each arm.

"Here are the chickens."

"Sure—but you didn't have to bring two of them, one would have paid the bill."

"Yes, boss, but I've brought another load of tobacco."—Indianapolis News.

STRUGGLES ALONG ON $80,000

University of Pennsylvania Law Student Who Receives Huge Income Lives in Modest Fashion.

"Wanted, a stenographer of unimpeachable character, experienced in shorthand and taking dictation, who will be willing to devote her Sundays to indexing and preparing the cases of a struggling law student at the University of Pennsylvania."

This is the model of stenographic ability required by the university's richest student, John Jeffries V of England, who is "struggling" only in so far as his law work goes, for he came to this country with the mere trifle of $80,000 a year on which to live, says the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Jeffries, who is a second-year student, already has one stenographer, but his earnest delving into the intricacies of Blackstone and his ilk require more assistance and he is now looking for a suitable young woman to add to his staff.

The young Englishman, who is the fifth direct descendant of John Temple, governor general of Ireland, and has three cousins in the house of lords, is popular among his classmates, who declare that he is quite democratic, in spite of the burden of his wealth. He lives quietly and unpretentiously, and nothing in his mode of living seems to indicate that he spends even a half of $80,000 allowed him.

Japanese Remain Buddhists.

That 80 per cent of the Japanese living in the sugar plantation camps of Hawaii never have been touched by Christian propaganda, and that American plantation owners, managers and others who have helped support Japanese Buddhist missions, "did a foolish thing, if ever man did," were two of the statements made by Rev. Ulysses G. Murphy, representative of the American Bible society, in a recent address at Honolulu.

Rev. Mr. Murphy also said that the elder generation of Japanese living in the plantation camps, owing to their isolation, are forty years behind their native country in thought and understanding of modern conditions.

Any attempt at Americanization of the Japanese in Hawaii which leaves untouched their home life and fails to recognize that the key to the problem is the Japanese language schools is foredoomed to failure, Rev. Mr. Murphy declared.

Almost Had It.

One of the Terre Haute ward schools was having a contest in seeing which children could learn the airs of a number of standard songs so they could tell their names when they heard a few bars of the melody played.

After "Home, Sweet Home" and "Old Black Joe" had been played several times the teacher put on the record "Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms." It was played a few minutes and she began to look expectantly at the children.

Then a fair little youngster looked triumphantly up from the list of songs he had in his hand. "Oh, it's that believe me in tears all about your charms," he hazarded.—Indianapolis News.

Would You Believe It?

The game of croquet does not develop experts and enthusiasts to the extent that golf and tennis do; but more people play it and more wood is consumed in providing the balls, mallets and stakes than in the production of golf clubs and tennis rackets combined, says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington. The entire playing outfit of croquet is made of wood except the arches, and sometimes these are of bent wood.

Some Large Emeralds.

One South American country has produced an emerald of 630 carats size and claimed it was the largest emerald in the world, and then learned that fields in the Ural mountains have produced emeralds that weighed six and three-quarters pounds, while the South American stone weighed only one-third of a pound. The six and three-quarter pound emerald was among the crown jewels of Russia, and its location now is unknown.

RACE ATTORNEY

CREATES SENSATION
(By The Associated Negro Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 19.—Charges that Negroes are denied equal protection in the courts of Georgia and deprived of their property by legal processes were made in a brief filed in the Supreme court by J. E. Sistrunk, a Negro attorney of Atlanta, Ga., who represented himself as acting for several complaints of the same race in suits involving Atlanta real estate valued at about $150,000.

Declaring that during the last eighteen years he had occasion to bring "several cases of action into the Supreme court of the Atlanta circuit," Sistrunk asserted that "in every case petitioner has been denied the benefit of the process of law and denied the right of property without due process of law."

Announcement

I regret very much the death of my partner, Alex Martin, in the M & S Garage. I have been associated with him day and night since the first day of March (when we opened our shop). Never a cross word passed between us. I found him an upright and honest man as far as business was concerned. And on the 26th of March he moved into my father's and mother's home to room and board until our shop got on paying basis, so he could get a room some place else. He was moved from our home to the University Hospital May 8th, died May 11. I felt the loss of him so, I thought I would sell out. But when I became reconciled, I said if I ever expected to be a man and run a business this was the time, as we had just commenced to work up a good business. So the shop will be open. I have hired a good mechanic, that can care for any kind of car and I still solicit your patronage, and I will assure you, we will do our best to please you, and give you terms that are reasonable. I also want to thank my father's and mother's friends for coming to my assistance when I was about to have trouble in settling up the share my partner had in the shop, and especially Mr. James G. Jewell.
