

Social and Other Activities Among the Gentler Sex

OMAHA WOMEN ARE ENGAGED IN VARIOUS OCCUPATIONS

Many Omaha women are engaged in successful occupations outside of the home. Of course there is no higher work for women than that of home-makers and mothers; no sphere of activity in which she can make her influence for time and for eternity more felt. However, modern life has called women into other spheres of activity, and they are finding themselves in many occupations. And in these they are meeting with success.

SUCCESSFUL MANAGER OF A SHIRT FACTORY

Mrs. Pearl M. Alexander is the successful manager of the M. E. Smith & Co. Shirt Factory No. 7, located at Twenty-fourth and Burdette streets, with which she has been actively identified since its organization. The factory manufactures work shirts and has the best record of any of the company's factories in this class of work. The output is sixty dozen completed shirts a day. Fifty girls are employed who average, by piece work, the basis upon which they are paid, $14 to $15 a week. Mrs. Eulah Hines is forewoman.

COMMISSIONER COLORED COMMERCIAL CLUB

Mrs. Grace M. Hutten has the unique distinction of being the commissioner of the Colored Commercial Club. It is believed that she is the first and only woman in the United States to hold such a position. She was educated in Omaha and the University of Chicago. She taught successfully in Iowa and Porto Rico. As commissioner she has done most effective work in connection with the free employment bureau and other activities, including the Boy Scouts. Recently Mrs. Hutten was offered the position of private secretary in charge of the Spanish correspondence of a prominent merchant, as she is a finished Spanish scholar. Mrs. Hutten declined this lucrative position because of her anxiety to serve her own people.

A MUSICAL ARTIST.

Mrs. Florentine Frances Pinkston, graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, is an artist of whom Omaha is justly proud. Mrs. Pinkston is a born teacher and has done wonders in raising the musical tone among our people in this city. Mrs. Pinkston is the daughter of Mrs. J. H. Crawford and was reared here. She began her musical education in Denver with Madam Azalia Hackley. Mrs. Pinkston leaves soon for a year's study in Paris. Her husband, J. W.

Pinkston, has enthusiastically supported his talented wife in all her plans of perfecting her musical education.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Roberts announced the engagement of their daughter, Madeline Zoe, to Mr. Ray Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Gibson, Tacoma, Washington, at a Sunset Supper, Saturday, July 30th, at seven P. M. The guests were seated on the porch where four prettily decorated tables had been placed. Miss Roberts is one of the most popular girls of the younger set. She seems to belong to all classes as she has endeared herself to young and old alike by her winning manner. She was born and reared in Omaha. After leaving High School Miss Roberts took some training at the Nicholas-Senn hospital, and is now the capable assistant at the Singleton Dental Parlors. She is a devout member of the Church of St. Philip the Deacon, where she is a member of the choir.

The guests at the supper were, the Misses Bernice McCaw, Margaret La-Cour, Eloise Wade, Otis and Cuna Watson, Darline Duvall, Carrie Gray, Annabelle Shepard, Lucie May Collins, Ethel Jones, Delores Johnson, Mesdames Ruby Webster, Anthonie Edwards Robinson, Ruth W. Killingsworth. No date has been set for the wedding.

THE DUBOIS DRAMATIC CLUB

Mrs. Cecelia Wilson-Jewell, is manager of the Dubois Players, the only organization of its kind in the state.

The company which includes John O. Woods, Andrew T. Reed, Pearl Alexander, J. R. Lemma, Eva Peoples, Cecil Alexander, Ruth Killingsworth, Jesse Peoples, Fannie Russell, John W. Griffin, Rae Lee Middleton, Edward Turner and Gerald Edwards, appeared successfully in "Under Two Flags" at the Boyd Theatre in 1919 and last year presented the five act drama "Testing Fire" at the Brandeis Theatre, playing to a capacity house, the door receipts from which were more than $1,000.00. They are planning to produce "The Price" this fall at the Brandeis Theatre, which will surpass all plays previously attempted.

BUSY HOUSEWIFE AND BUSINESS WOMAN

Mrs. Hazel Terry Lewis, who is a busy house-wife and the mother of two children, found time to take a four-years' night course in the Commercial High School from which she received her diploma recently. She is the wife of J. D. Lewis, an energetic and ambitious young business, whom she assists in the conduct of his business. Mrs. Lewis, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Terry, was born at Emporia, Kans., October 9, 1890. Upon the death of her mother in 1900, Hazel, then ten years old came to Omaha to live with two older sisters. Here she attended school and subsequently married.

STATE FEDERATION OF COLORED WOMEN'S CLUBS

The Nebraska State Federation on Women's Clubs was organized in Omaha, Nebraska, in 1905. Our number consisted of ten clubs. The object of this organization is to secure harmony of action and cooperation among all women in rising to the highest plane of moral and civil life. The Federation meets annually the fourth Tuesday in June in a city or town where there is a Federated club. The Colored women of Nebraska have done excellent work for their race. We have secured homes for girls and boys and old folks. We have helped the welfare work throughout the state. The Colored Women's Club has purchased a place and made a home for any colored dependent living in the state of Nebraska. At our last meeting which was held in June in Lincoln, Nebraska, we made our last payment on the home and received the deed. We hope to open it soon. Let's have more of our women join the club and work for the uplift of the race. Our aim is to have a club in every town in Nebraska where there are at least enough colored people to have ten women to organize. We realize that we are passing through a readjustment period and we as club women of the race must be up and doing and help to solve the problems that seriously affect our group.

Rev. M. H. Wilkinson left the city last Friday night for Chicago, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, and Williamsport, the latter where he pastored for five years. He went on a business trip and will be away about two weeks.

Mr. W. P. Wade, Mrs. Blanch Wade-Black and children left Wednesday for Wichita, Kans. and other points to visit her sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Briley.

Let us all strive to make Omaha a brighter and better city, and there is nothing that will do this better than to PAINT UP, and KEEP IT UP.

DON'T SAY "BREAD" SAY "BETSY ROSS"

When you order soap you don't call for just "soap"—you ask, by name, for the kind you prefer.

When you call for washing powder you ask for a certain brand.

Yet, when it comes to the important matter of bread—something on which the family health may depend—many people are careless in saying: "Send a loaf of bread."

Is the bread you and your loved ones eat, then of less importance than the soap you use or the washing powder you employ?

Bread is a food that plays an important part in every meal. All members of the family partake of it; children eat much of it.

Is it of no concern that the bread on your table should be of pure ingredients, made under clean circumstances and bear full food value?

All bread is by no means, alike. Take BETSY ROSS Bread, for instance. Here is a loaf scientifically made of carefully selected ingredients. It offers the maximum in food value for child or grownup.

You should call for BETSY ROSS by name. Only so can you be sure of bread that answers to your ideas of goodness and healthfulness.
