SAVE FAT OBTAINED IN PREPARING MEAT
 Obviates Necessity of Buying Butter and Lard.

Outline of Old-Fashioned Method of Clarifying Fats So That It May Be Used in Kitchen—Ice Chest Is Quite Handy.

Care used in saving and caring for all fat obtained from cooking meat in the home will save many a dollar which otherwise would have to be spent for butter, lard or other cooking fats. Fats derived from the cooking of bacon, ham, chicken, beef and other meats, should be kept, each in its own receptacle, to be used for different purposes.

Household specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture say an old-fashioned method of clarifying fat from the soup kettle, or from cooked meats, so that it may be used in the kitchen, is to add the cold fat to a liberal quantity of cold water, then heat slowly and let cook for an hour or more. When cold, the cake of fat is removed and the lower portion, which will contain the small particles of meat, should be scraped away and the white, clean fat saved. If the flavor or color, or both, are not satisfactory the process may be repeated several times. Another method, often recommended, is to cook a number of slices of raw potato in the boiling fat.

When an ice chest is used, fat in small quantities may easily be kept sweet for cooking purposes. If lard is rendered at home in quantity sufficient for a long time, it should be kept covered in tin or earthen jars, in a cool, dry place, as in a cellar or store-room.

CAPTAIN SAM BRADY AND HIS FAMOUS LEAP

Capt. Sam Brady was a member of a fighting family which made history on the Pennsylvania border during the Indian wars after the Revolution. Captain Brady's greatest exploit took place in Ohio. He had been captured by the Indians and carried to the Sandusky Towns, headquarters for all the Ohio tribes, where the savages prepared to burn him at the stake.

He was stripped, bound to a post and slow fires kindled around him, for the Indians hated him so much that they wished to torture him as long as possible. Brady was a powerful man and he strained at his fetters until they were loosened slightly. Then with a final effort he snapped the last bond, leaped across the barrier of flame and, seizing a squaw, pitched her into the fire.

Before the Indians could recover from their surprise, the scout escaped from the village and plunged into the woods, hotly pursued by hundreds of savages. Finally he came to the Cuyahoga river, near the present site of Kent in Portage county.

At this place the river flowed between steep, rocky banks, 22 feet across from side to side. The scout was trapped. There was no other place for miles up and down the river where he could ford it. The Indians were closing in on him and his only chance of escape was to try to leap across the chasm.

Brady could hear the savages yelling in the woods only a short distance away as he ran back toward them to get a good start. Then turning, he sped for the brink and putting all his falling strength into a final spurt, he sprang for the opposite cliff. His jump was a little short and he struck the bank a few feet below the edge. The Indians stopped in amazement, then as the scout scrambled up over the edge, they opened fire.

They wounded him in the leg, delaying his flight, and in a short time were on his heels again. He came to a lake and plunged in. Stooping beneath the broad pads of a water lily, he breathed through a hollow reed while the savages hunted in vain on the shores of the lake. They found his bloody trail to the water's edge and, believing that he had drowned rather than been captured again, gave up the chase.

Soon afterward Brady reached Fort Pitt in safety. He had many more thrilling adventures before his death on Christmas day, 1795, but his 22-foot leap across the Cuyahoga was the greatest feat of all.

BLAST WAS BEER, NOT TNT
 Chicago Home Brew Explosion Brings Bomb Squad Out and Alarms Neighborhood.

Chicago.—"The Oak Park Trust and Savings bank has been bombed."

This message to the police sent shotgun squads and all available policemen scurrying to the bank.

The building was surrounded and all persons in it held prisoners. The bank employees were in a panic. There had been a tremendous explosion but it had not been traced. The police investigated. In a flat over the bank occupied by August Schmidt, a clerk, they discovered destruction. The kitchen sustained the full force of the explosion, which came from a virulent batch of "home brew." The explosion aroused people in the next flat. They sent the message to the police.

Woman's Latest Venture.
 An engineering factory, organized, controlled, and managed by women, who also execute the orders at the lathe and in the foundry—that is the latest enterprise of the "weaker sex." It is one which deserves every success.

At the head of the firm, called Atlanta, Ltd., is Lady Parsons, the wife of the famous engineer and inventor of the steam turbine. The factory was started in the Midlands by 20 women ex-war workers. Good orders have already been secured, and Lady Parsons is convinced that these pioneer women engineers will be successful.

"There is nothing," she says, "that a woman cannot do when she tries."

GOOD SUPPER TOMATO SAUCE
 New and Appetizing Ways of Preparing Eggs While Cheap Add Variety to Menu.

Eggs are at their cheapest now, and new and appetizing ways of preparing them add variety to the menu. Here is a recipe recommended by the experimental kitchen of the United States Department of Agriculture:

2 cups of tomato pulp 1/2 teaspoonful celery juice (putry salt through a sieve), 1/4 teaspoonful pepper 1 tablespoonful butter per 1/2 cup 1/2 teaspoonful salt 3 tablespoonfuls flour

Make a sauce of the ingredients. Put one-half of the sauce in a baking dish, break six eggs, one at a time into a saucer and slide each egg into the sauce, taking care not to break the yolk. Cover with the remaining sauce and sprinkle three tablespoonfuls of grated cheese over the top. Put in the oven and bake until the eggs are set. Serve hot on toasted bread or with boiled rice.

PEACHES MAKE FINE BUTTER
 Found Quite Useful by Housekeeper in Spring When Jams and Jellies Are Running Low.

Springtime often finds the housekeeper's supply of jelly and jams in a depleted condition. When this is the case, peach butter made from canned and dried peaches may well come to the aid.

The following recipe recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture food specialists is delicious:

To each four pounds of dried peaches use two quarts of canned peaches. Soak the dried peaches in water several hours and cook until tender. Add the canned peaches and rub the pulp through a colander or wire sieve. Stir 2 1/2 pounds of sugar into this pulp and cook slowly, stirring often, for two hours, or until of the right thickness. Pack while hot and sterilize like peach butter.

GIVE ATTENTION TO CLOTHES
 Washing and Pressing of Linen and Cotton Suitings Can Be Done Quite Nicely at Home.

Cotton and linen suits can be pressed and laundered at home. Dust can generally be shaken from them, for they do not hold it as wool and silk do. Brushing tends to rub the dirt into cotton and linen fibers. Heavy cotton and linen suitings should be pressed on the wrong side or with a thin cloth spread over them. This makes them look more like new and prevents shine on seams and marks of the iron.
