YOUTH WILL BE SERVED

Little Joe Marks Brings His "Youthful Follies" to the Gayety Theatre.

There will be a complete cessation of worries for those who take the advice of Comedian Joe Marks, star of "Youthful Follies", who has set aside the week starting Saturday matinee at the popular Gayety theatre as a period to "Laugh and Forget". This is the title of the main feature of his entertainment and with this message to convey he will "Say It With Girls" galore in smart musical numbers, dashing ensembles and lively scenes of scenic and sartorial attractiveness, according to the promise on which the Joe Marks appeal for public good-will is made.

With twenty-four girls in the chorus and several more principal actresses playing parts and leading vocal ensembles Marks claims the right to "refer to his offering as "giresque" entertainment. That deft twist of a more familiar classification for shows on the Columbia circuit promises to provide a "covering" description for all the frolics of "Youthful Follies" through more than two hours of entertainment.

Joe Marks will be mainly assisted by Eddie Cole in fixing the comedy standards of "Laugh and Forget". Marks will also contribute unique dancing interludes with May Leonard to accompany him. The "giresque" has been set in new scenery and chorus and principals have been furnished with attractive costuming, done in many changes, to make the picture colorful.

Specialists in liberal numbers will furnish vaudeville of the first-line variety. Kitty Garner in singing specialties; Hazel Alger, the leading woman of the show, in vocal contributions. "Happy Bill" Smith, eccentric comedian and parodist; Joe Marks and Eddie Cole, in character duolog, and Helen Lloyd, soubrette, are among the promised entertainers.

"Youthful Follies" is advanced as a musical show and in framing the details, special music has been set to original numbers. "I Wish I Had a Harem", "When the Clock Strikes Ten", "Lena from New Orleans" and "Life Is Just a Merry-Go-Round" are some of the special chorus ensembles that are listed in the advance announcements.

Tired shoppers' matinee at 2:15 daily all week. Sunday's matinee starts at 3:00.
