

NEW YORK JEWELERS TO QUIT MAIDEN LANE

District Has Been Home of Gem Business for 80 Years.

New York.—No more diamonds will be stolen from Maiden Lane by "gem bandits" after next spring. Police learned that no ambitious plots for fortunes in pearls, rubies, rhinestones or amethysts can be carried out there and there. Not that there won't be any robbers left to operate, but there won't be any gems to operate on.

The diamond district is moving uptown. Maiden Lane, for more than eighty years the home of the watch, diamond and jewelry trade, will become just plain Maiden Lane in a few months. Firms which have been established in this street for more than fifty years have made arrangements to move to a new center in Forty-seventh street.

There has been a gradual exodus from Maiden Lane for some time, following the general trend northward of both wholesale and retail trade.

But there has been no concerted movement until the present one, arrangements for which have been perfected during the last year.

The pioneers among the dealers who moved up town settled on Fifth avenue. Now the others virtually will take possession of Forty-seventh street from Fifth avenue to Sixth avenue. This will tend to concentrate the shopping centers of all types in one district, taking into account the northward movement of department stores as well as jewelers.

"Wizard" of the Treasury Is Only 24 Years of Age

Washington.—A. W. Gregg, of the bureau of internal revenue, only twenty-four years of age, holds the position of special assistant to the secretary of the treasury. He is a tax expert and a wizard at figures, his duties consisting of advising the secretary with regard to tax matters. He has been connected with the bureau since March, 1920, and for a time was connected with the office of the solicitor and was chairman of the special committee on appeals and review. Later he was chairman of the committee on the revision of the revenue act. Mr. Gregg was in the army during the war and is a native of Palestine, Tex.

Cop Emulates Solomon; Geese Pick Out Owner

Fairfield, Conn.—Tony Moddett, who recently lost a flock of cherished geese, got a tip to look for the missing birds in the chicken coop of George Vasco, a neighbor. He did so and found the coop full of geese.

Ascertaining that he recognized the geese and the geese recognized him, Tony started to take them away. George objected vehemently and finally called Policeman Bennett, who listened to the arguments of both sides and rendered a decision that the birds should be turned loose. The decision was executed and the geese promptly made for Tony's house, cackling in delight or terror, according to the varying interpretations of Tony and George.

"Sure, them ducks belong to Tony," announced Bennett, eminently satisfied with the vindication of his decision, but George is threatening a civil suit to get the geese back.

U. S. Eats 45,093,892 Bunches of Bananas

Washington.—Every man, woman and child in the United States ate two-fifths of a bunch of bananas during 1922, or at least the total number consumed, if divided equally among the entire population would have given each that amount. During that year 45,093,892 bunches of bananas were imported into this country valued at $19,145,911.

This country also bought abroad during 1922 around 111,065,000 pounds of lemons, 34,712,185 pounds of figs, 53,606,000 pounds of dates and 21,437,820 pounds of currants.

English Roads Safe

London.—There was only one railway accident in England involving loss of life during 1923, according to the Railway Gazette. This was at Diggle in July, when two passengers were killed. Since the beginning of the present century there have been two years—1901 and 1908—without a single fatality to passengers. In only three years have more than five people been killed, and in twenty-three years the number totals seventy-three.

Just a Suggestion.
Speaking of books printed in America, it is much better to have that legend shown on the reverse of the title page than at the end of the volume where it so often makes an anticlimax. A novel's last page will sometimes read like this: "She pressed her lips to his." Printed in the United States of America.—William Lyon Phelps, in Scribner's Magazine.

WILL TRAIN 40,000 BOYS NEXT SUMMER

War Department Gives Plan for 1924 C. M. T. C.

Washington.—War department plans for the 1924 summer training camps made public recently disclose that forty thousand students between seventeen and twenty-four years old will be enrolled throughout the country for instruction at the citizens' military training camps, which open in all army corps areas August 1.

These camps are an extension of the Plattsburg idea of 1915, favorite Americanization plan of Theodore Roosevelt. They offer a thirty-days' course in outdoor training to volunteer candidates who can measure up to the moral and physical standards set by the War department. All expense is borne by the government.

Instruction is divided into four groups, designated as the basic, red, white and blue courses. In the basic course, only the elementary drills are to be taught, athletics and citizenship studies receiving the principal attention. But students in the advanced classes may specialize in infantry, cavalry, engineers or other branches of the service.

As a result of experiments at the 1923 camps, important changes, to go into effect in the camps this year, appear in the War department announcement. Advanced students, who have attended previous camps, will go into the ranks with the regulars, drilling, hiking and shooting alongside seasoned veterans. These youths, however, will occupy quarters and take their meals with the main body of C. M. T. C. candidates.

Reserve officers, who are specialists in various fields, are to be called to active duty for much of the nonmilitary studies this year, the troops of the regular army being used largely for drill instruction and field maneuvers.

By arrangement with Secretary Weeks, the Military Training Camps association has undertaken to launch a nation-wide campaign to bring the benefits of a course at the C. M. T. C. camps to the attention of eligible youths.

Young Girl Evangelist Converts Thousands

San Francisco, Cal.—Udine Utley, eleven-year-old girl evangelist, conducted her first big meeting in San Francisco. The child has been preaching for six months and has made thousands of converts. She is a blue-eyed, golden-haired, a laughing, rollicking youngster, like any other little girl of eleven, and yet from her lips fall such phrases as: "The main points of my commission are three in number: Salvation, divine healing and baptism of the Holy Spirit."

"I firmly believe in the doctrine of the immaculate conception—in the virgin birth." "I'm a fundamentalist as opposed to the school of modernists—the latter don't accept every word of Holy Writ, whereas the fundamentalist says each line of the Bible is literally true."

How to Make Cut Flowers Last.
If you wish to keep expensive roses any length of time, after the first day in cold water, cut stem to first joint and dip end in boiling water about one inch up, then put in cold water immediately. Remove to vase with cold water to which a little salt has been added.—Designer.

CLAIRE DEVINE
A stunning blonde with "Jig Time," the big musical show at the popular Gayety twice daily all next week.

HERE COMES "JIG TIME"

Claire De Vine With Moran & Wiser Head Great Show at Gayety.

Many rare and colorful stage pictures and musical numbers are said to be magnificently presented in "Jig Time," next week's mammoth revue at the popular Gayety theatre. In two acts and seventeen scenes, it is one of the most pretentious offerings in Columbia burlesque. A talented company, that while new to the patrons of burlesque, has won approval in musical comedy, vaudeville and the cabarets, furnishes the entertainment of the piece.

This aggregation of talent is headed by Claire DeVine, a statuesque beauty who acts as both prima donna and comedienne of the piece. In the star's immediate support are such luminaries as Moran and Wiser, former vaudeville and musical comedy headliners, whose act in a hat shop is said to be one of the rare novelties of the theatre; the Dancing Donnellys, two of the cleverest dancers seen in some time; Artie Mayo, noted as one of the best dialect eccentric comedians on the stage; Helen and Agnes Harrington, dainty girls who do a twin specialty of sweet song and captivating dance, and Jimmie Lake, who is both an excellent actor and writer of musical plays.

The hand picked beauty chorus of "Jig Time" is said to justify all the glowing advance reports that have preceded it. Not only does it possess more than its share of comeliness, but its members are capable of doing much greater things on the stage than their present positions afford them opportunity of doing.

In one scene the choristers are given individual specialties to perform and they acquit themselves in a most creditable and satisfactory manner. Nor have the fair maids of the ensemble been neglected in the way of wearing apparel, the costumes being especially exquisite in their blending of color, design and fabric.

Henry Dixon and Jimmie Lake are both the producers and the authors of the show, Mr. Dixon having also staged the book. The numbers have been put on by Ben Bernard, accredited with being extremely expert in this line of work. James Madden is the composer of many tuneful and jingly melodies.

Sunday's matinee starts at 3:00.

BETHEL A. M. E. CHURCH

Rev. Frederick Divers, Pastor.

There was another increase in attendance in the Sunday School and church services the past Sunday. There was a good attendance at the morning service. The pastor delivered the third of a series of sermons on Revelation, dealing with the churches at Pergamos and Thyatira, which was well received.

Rev. R. F. Eweing, conference evangelist, was present at the evening service and gave a splendid message. Next Sunday is the first Sunday in the month and we are expecting a high day. Don't miss the Pageant February 12th!
