MISS COTTRELL PRESENTED IN MUSICAL RECITAL

Miss A. Eleese Cottrell, who recently was given her bachelor's degree in music at Howard university, was presented in recital at Zion Baptist church, last Thursday night by the Welcome Circle of the church. The audience was much smaller than the talented young musician deserved. However, what it lacked in numbers it compensated for in appreciation. Miss Cottrell presented a well-balanced program which pleased her audience and in which she showed herself to be a pianist of ability. Her numbers included the Moonlight Sonata by Beethoven; May Night by Palmgren; The Old Musical Box by Gossens; Nocturne by Chopin; Pol-naise No. 6 by Chopin and Rigoletto Paraphrase by Liszt. Miss Cottrell also contributed four vocal numbers: The Song of India by Rimsky; At Dawning by Cadman; Deep River by Burleigh, and I'm So Glad Trouble Don't Last Always by Burleigh. Miss Cottrell appeared to a better advantage in her piano numbers than in the vocal selections. She is a young musician of good promise, who by diligent work can make a high place for herself in the musical world.

SUNDAY VISITORS DAY AT CAMP GIFFORD

Fifty Boy Scouts have been enjoying a ten days' outing at Camp Gifford. Sunday is visitors' day when parents and friends of the boys are invited to visit them. The item given to The Monitor last week erroneously stated that last Sunday was to be visitors' day. That was a mistake. It is this Sunday and it is hoped that a good number will go down to the camp.

Stuart and George Clayton. The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chairman at some suitable date.

BETHEL A. M. E. CHURCH

Rev. Frederick Divers, Pastor. The attendance was unusually good Sunday morning. There is that continuous growth which is characteristic of stability exhibited in the growth of the church. The pastor preached at the morning and evening service. The Sunday school was largely attended, and the auxiliaries of the church are taking on new life. There was a splendid report made by Mrs. Aaron Bowler who headed a committee that gave a lawn social during the week. The Mothers' Club, the Stewardess' Board, each had announcements for entertainments. The carnival association has been organized, with Mrs. Ella Roe Jackson as head, and will foster a two nights' carnival at 2422 Lake street, September 1 and 2. They will serve dinner from noon on Labor Day at popular prices.

LUSTER PRICE ADMITS PERPLEXITY

Luster Price, collector for The Monitor, who is a star track man for Central high school, admits that it is harder work RUNNING after delinquent subscribers than it is to win honors on the cinder track. "Some of these people keep you running back and then don't pay you when they tell you to come. Gee, why don't people pay, something at least, for that would help, when they tell a fellow to come? And that's not all; some people, after you have trusted them for a year or two, tell you that they ordered the paper stopped. A fellow certainly learns a lot of things in trying to collect for a colored newspaper. How can a fellow earn enough to help him through school working on commission when so many of these birds keep you running and running and running, and then won't pay? Luster admits his perplexity. Can you blame him?

DEATH OF OTIS SHIPMAN

Otis Shipman, one of Omaha's most substantial and highly respected citizens, died at Rapid City, So. Dak., last Saturday morning after a five weeks' illness. His wife and two daughters, his father and brother, Leslie, were at his bedside when he passed away. Mr. Shipman, when he left Omaha in June to be gone for the summer on a large grading contract was the picture of health. A few weeks after reaching Rapid City he was taken to the hospital where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. Other complications were discovered and physicians gave little hope for his recovery. In spite of all that medical skill, careful nursing and devoted attention by his wife could do he passed away. He was brave and cheerful until the last. The body was taken to the old home-stead near Norfolk, Nebraska, where he was born October 4, 1882, and where his father and other relatives live, for burial. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon from the undertaking chapel of Johnson and Thenhau, attended by a large concourse of friends, who had known him from childhood, and several friends from Omaha. The pall bearers were neighborhood boys who have seen him grow to manhood. Rev. John Albert Williams officiated and interment was in Prospect Hill cemetery. Many beautiful floral offerings were sent.

Mr. Shipman is survived by his widow, two daughters, Thelma and Madeline, his father, a prosperous farmer of Norfolk; four brothers, two sisters and other relatives.

Advertising Talk
A hen is not supposed to have
Much common sense or tact,
Yet every time she lays an egg
She cackles forth the fact.
A rooster hasn't got a lot
Of intellect to show,
But none the less most roosters have
Enough good sense to crow.
The mule, the most despised of beasts,
Has a persistent way
Of letting folks know he's around
By his insistent bray.
The busy little bees they buzz,
Bulls bellow and cows moo,
The watch dogs bark, the ganders quack,
The doves and pigeons coo.
The peacock spreads his tail and squawks,
Figs squeal and robins sing
And even serpents know enough
To hiss before they sting.
But man, the greatest masterpiece
That nature could devise,
Will often stop and hesitate
Before he'll advertise.
Merchants who are wise
And want our people's trade
Use THE MONITOR to advertise
And thus their fortune's made.

IT PAID HIM TO ADVERTISE

One of the most persistent advertisers in the history of success was Robinson Crusoe. He knew what he wanted—and he put up an advertisement for one. He flung a shirt on a pole, at the top of his island, that, in the language of the sea, was plain to every sea-faring man. The circulation was small—there was no other medium but Crusoe kept at it, despite the fact that he got no inquiries for a long time. He changed his copy—as one garment after another was frayed out—and in the end got what he wanted. Suppose Crusoe had taken down that signal after a time and declared—"Advertising doesn't pay," where would he and his story be now? Put up your signal and keep it there. Crusoe advertised under very discouraging circumstances. You've got a sure thing—it is only necessary to have the patience, persistence, and pluck of Robinson Crusoe—and the good ship "Better Business" will soon tie up "longside your pier."—Baltimore Afro-American.
