CELESTINE SMITH GRADUATES

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Smith entertained Omaha's younger set, their parents and a number of other friends at one of the prettiest and most delightful dancing parties ever given in Dreamland hall, Monday, June 20, in honor of their daughter, Celestine's graduation from eighth grade.

Celestine is but 13 years of age and made a wonderful record at Lake school where she had the distinction of leading her class with 12 A's and two B's. She wore a clever little dance frock of pale blue taffeta, the bodice fashioned on plain lines and the skirt made slightly bouffant, with flounces of taffeta and tulle, finished at the back with a large taffeta bow, the work and gift of her father.

A number of out-of-town guests were present, among them Mrs. T.

H. Slater of Atlanta, Ga., Celestine's aunt for whom she is named, who made the trip at this time to be present at the party. Celestine was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents from a host of admiring friends. More than 200 guests attended.

TWO MORE MEN ARE SHOT BY WOMEN ONE DIES; OTHER LIVES

Mistaken identity led police Tuesday to record the death of the wrong wounded man and set the official machinery going Wednesday before the matter was straightened out.

Roosevelt Williams, Negro, 512 1/2 South Twelfth street, shot Saturday by his wife Mary, is recovering at St. Catherine's hospital. He was reported to have died Tuesday forenoon and his death was so recorded. But it was Louis Burton, alias Pat Patterson, alleged to have been shot by Mamie Hill, 2808 R street, who died Tuesday. A coroner's jury for Burton sat Wednesday afternoon.

The jury recommended that Mamie Hill be held. She surrendered Wednesday afternoon and Thursday was held to district court on a manslaughter charge.
