Sunday, Easter 1949, the weatherman was very nice to Lincolnites by providing a warm day more reminiscent of Fall than Spring. Except for an occasional zephyr which threatened the loss of milady's new bonnet, the day was perfect for seeing—and being seen.

EASTER PARADE

Miss Barbra Kelley was noticed arriving in Lincoln Saturday morning wearing a trim navy outfit, a scarlet spring coat, and carrying a white leather bag big enough to put a hat in.

Among the smartest of the smart-looking teenager couples Sunday was Bettie Rose Huston, wearing a long red feather in her hat and a pretty gorgeous looking orchid—her first from Nate Casteel, who, by the way, was neatly dressed in navy blue.

Phyllis Holcomb was wearing an attractive chapeau Sunday.

Miss Gladys Casteel of St. Joseph, Mo., was a holiday guest of Peaches Winsfon.

Mr. Nathaniel Wolfskill, always dressed like a fashion plate, was impeccable in a white Fedora for Easter.

Hats that rustled with spring were noticed on Mrs. I. B. Colley, Mrs. Eva Smith, Mrs. A. Letcher, Mrs. Kathrine Huston—all had spring flowers. Of course there were many others. Mrs. Jewell Kelly was wearing a smart brown, straw off-face bonnet with some unusual feathers.

EASTER SERVICE ECHOES

The community sing at the Urban League last Sunday, April 17, was well attended. About 150 persons attended the program to sing Easter hymns and listen to a program that featured singing by the Hub of Harmony, the Hub quartet, Miss Winefred Winston, the Urban League glee club. Song leading was done by Misters Butler, J. Bookhardt and Hale.

Mr. Oscar Harriot, speaking on the significance of Easter urged the breaking down of selfishness and prejudices as inherent in the spirit of Easter. Charles Goolsby spoke briefly on the speculation, "If Christ had not Risen," deducing that "We would probably not be Christians." Rev. Moody and Rev. Brooks gave the benediction and invocation respectively. Miss Lois Bookhardt was pianist.

We hear that Miss Barbra Moody did a very nice job as program chairman for the children at the Northside Church of God.

Highlight of the young people's program at Christ Temple were talks by two young men, Delmar King who spoke on "The Doubting Thomas" and Arthur McWilliams on "The Definite Experience." Among the many visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Moore of Hiawatha, Kas.

At Quinn Chapel good music helped mark the day well. At the 7 a. m. union service singers from Mt. Zion Baptist church and the chapel choir blended voices in early morning harmonies. Miss Mary Sampson's contralto solo was classic in the anthem "Jerusalem" At the 11 a. m. service Vonna

Finley displayed her best voice in "Calvary" (Rodney) supported by the junior choir and the men of the senior group sang a stirring arrangement of the spiritual "Not a Mumbler Word," directed by Mrs. Hazel Wilson, among others.

VISITS AND VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Adams spent Easter weekend in Nebraska City with relatives of Mr. Adams. Sunday they motored to Omaha.

Mrs. Booker McDaniels and children, Booker and Patricia spent a few days last week in the city visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams, while Rev. McDaniels attended a business meeting in Memphis, Tenn.

Mrs. Anna Newton and daughters, Bettie Jo and Bobbie Jean spent some time in Chicago the past week, following a return from Leavenworth, Kas.

Mrs. D. L. Lilly, wife of the Rev. D. L. Lilly, presiding elder of the Missouri-Kansas district of the C. M. E. church, has been a charming guest at the James Fuller residence for about two weeks during her husband's official work in the city. Mrs. Lilly, herself a minister, delighted the Mary Bethune Literary and Art club at their meeting the Urban League March 31, when she attended as a guest of Mrs. Fuller. She expressed a very high regard for the people of Lincoln, Miss Lilly, a Californian by adoption, dropped a hint that Lincoln wouldn't be a bad place to make a home.

Noticed Mrs. Hazel Newstrom of Denver, Colo., among worship-

Recipe for Chinese Chow Mein

Saute 1/2 cup chopped onions and 1/2 cup chopped celery leaves in 3 tablespoons fat until golden brown; add 4 cups chopped celery and liquid from 1 can (No. 2) bean sprouts, drained, and simmer 20 minutes. Stir in 1/4 cup flour mixed with 2 cups water to a smooth paste, and cook until thickened. Add 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 3 tablespoons soy sauce and 2 cups cooked shrimp and simmer 15 minutes. Place one can (No. 2 1/2) Chinese noodles in shallow pan and heat in moderate over 350 degrees F. about 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve chow mein over noodles and top with 1 1/2 cups shredded cooked chicken and 2 hard-cooked eggs. Yield: Six portions.

Egg and Potato Scallop

2 tbsps. melted butter
2 tbsps. flour
2 cups milk
1 tbsps. minced parsley
1 1/2 tps. salt
Pepper
6 potatoes, cooked and sliced
4 to 6 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
1 cup soft bread crumbs

Blend butter and flour thoroughly. Add the milk. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add parsley, salt and pepper. Place alternate layers of potatoes and eggs in greased baking dish and pour white sauce over top. Sprinkle with bread crumbs. Bake in 375° F. oven 15 to 20 minutes or till crumbs are browned.

Pear-Topped Gingerbread.

1/2 cup boiling water
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup brown sugar
6 cup light molasses
1 beaten egg
1 1/2 cups flour
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. soda
1/2 tsp. ginger
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. cinnamon

Pour water over shortening; add sugar, molasses, and egg. Beat well. Sift dry ingredients and add; beat until smooth. Line an 8 inch pan with waxed paper. Fill with gingerbread mixture. Bake in a 350° F. oven for 35 minutes.

Cut in serving-size pieces, place half a canned pear on each piece of gingerbread. Serve with whipped cream.

Cooked celery adds a distinctive flavor to your meals. The tough, outer stalks of the bunch can be nicely utilized by baking in a casserole.

The next time you dust meat with flour before frying, try using pancake flour instead of the regular product.
