Sunday School Lesson

THE CONQUEST OF CANAAN

SCRIPTURE—Joshua 1-10.
Present-Day Application
By Frederick D. Jordan
Los Angeles, Calif.

Our lesson illustrated two very important facts. First of all Joshua's leadership was successful. He was able to go into the new land because the people willingly accepted that leadership and obeyed his instructions. They followed him as he went forward in their interest. Can you recall instances when the bishop appointed a new pastor and when he laid his program before his board? Instead of considering it, one after another either proffered ideas of his own, told the pastor what they'd always done, or how his program wouldn't work. Following leadership is absolutely necessary for a successful church program. The second point of emphasis is the loyalty to God of both leaders and people. Their complete dependence upon God was the secret of the success of their conquest. Difficulties are overcome more easily not only in our churches and institutions but in our personal and social lives if we depend upon God. Conquests that we, as Christians find ourselves involved in today will end in victory if we depend upon God. Complete dependence at all times means a successful life.

Paris in connection with his duties as a member of the United States delegation to the U.N. General Assembly, were the dinner guests of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt on Thanksgiving Day.

Along The Party Line

By Kathryn M. Lytle
5123 Maple Ave.
St. Louis 13, Missouri

It is time to take down the receivers and listen in once again. Yesterday I went down town to shop. Mother Lytle wanted a certain magazine and a few other things while I had to see one of Uncle Sam's representatives about some business. I caught the bus at 9:30 a. m. and arrived at my first stop at 10:00. I went into the famous Barr department store where 15 minutes and 125 bumps later, I caught sight of the magazine counter, only to find that the certain magazine wasn't on sale as yet. That assure you is the same results that I had all along. Guess it just wasn't my day.

When I arrived at the United States Court House I discovered so much red that first glance, I thought we were in holiday spirit. You have to have a college education in order to figure out how to get the elevator to stop on the floor where you want to get off. Oh yes, they have written directions but I had forgotten to bring my attorney along to decipher them.

I arrived home safely in time for supper, with nothing to show for my day but a worn disposition. It isn't that St. Louis is so big, it's just that there is so much of it. Sincerely

KATHRYN

Saddler Rejected

NEW YORK. (ANP). Sandy Saddler, featherweight champion, was rejected for military service here last week. Saddler served briefly in the navy—a month or two—and got an honorable discharge. The Draft Board found him unfit for service this time.
