and yellows. The more interesting effects will be luscious black velvets, bronze French Crepes, slate greys, and other unexpected hues in surprise fabrics.

By far the outstanding and most distinguishing features about the new roses you will be wearing are the size and use to which they are put.

Gone is the little rose or the cluster of roses that used to perch upon milady's shoulder, and cause so much distress as to which shoulder it should rest on. In its stead is the single, huge rose which may be used to glamorize a stole, peek out of a pocket, rest on a belt to accentuate a tiny waistline, or to peep out from such unexpected places as a peplum or a drape.

Inspiration for the designs of the new roses has come from many sources. There is a "Tudor rose," copied from the coat of arms of Queen Elizabeth, an angora rose in chalk white with black velvet leaves and stem which create a new interpretation of the "furry" look, and a black and white accent.

It might be well to remember the rose when shopping for gifts, for surely few gifts can offer so much beauty at such relatively small cost.

Jumbo Roses Bloom Everywhere In Fashion

"The rose by any other name is just as sweet," and in any color it is just as pretty, and in almost any place it is as appropriate fashion-wise.

Yes, the artificial rose is blooming again in the garden of fashion. The huge, jumbo variety is expected to show up in profusion during the holiday season and flourish until spring.

Flowers have long been used as an aid to feminine allure, whether in their natural state, or in the more lasting, but less fragrant artificial form.

The flowers you will be seeing and wearing ere long have surpassed even the most imaginative horticulturist's dreams for a super breed; for only in the minds of America's accessory designers, and through the medium of silk and velvet could we hope to get such brilliance and variety of color and such jumbo sizes.

Colors will be bright, often in naturalistic tones of pinks, reds

Corn Bread Stuffing—Traditional As Thanksgiving!

Try Corn Bread Stuffing this year in the roast chicken or Thanksgiving turkey and you'll be serving your family food that's truly traditional. Cooking with corn meal is one of America's oldest customs.

At Thanksgiving time, more than any other season of the year, we are mindful of our country's early settlers. Their struggles were legion, with survival depending in large measure on their food supply. While the men went in search of bird, game and fish, the early homemaker concerned herself with the precious corn friendly Indians had taught them to live by.

Today, it is an easy matter to select a fine turkey or roasting chicken at the local market and to mix up a batch of corn bread for stuffing the bird. Corn meal still is a staple food in the American kitchen, and today, as yesterday, good cooks herald corn bread stuffing as more than a tradition. They like its texture, its taste, and its resistance to sogginess.

Your Thanksgiving bird will be "well-dressed" with its corn bread stuffing.

Roast Chicken with Corn Bread Stuffing

- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 3/4 cup bacon fat or melted butter
- 6 cups stale corn bread
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 3/4 teaspoon poultry seasoning
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 egg, well-beaten
- 3 to 4 1/2 lb. young chicken, ready-to-cook weight
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Brown onion in fat. Crumble corn bread coarsely and combine with remaining dry ingredients. Add egg, fat, and onion. Toss together until well mixed. Season cavity of chicken with 1/2 teaspoon salt. Stuff chicken, skewer, brush skin with melted fat, and place on a rack, breast down, in open roasting pan. Roast at low temperature (325°F.) 3 to 3 1/2 hours. Turn breast up after 2 1/2 hours of roasting. Baste occasionally with melted fat. Yield: 6 servings.

Actors Equity Assn. To Get Award Dec. 2

NEW YORK (ANP)—The Actors Equity Association isolated for its first race relations award by the Committee of Inter-Racial Relations of Christians and Jews, Tuesday, Dec. 2, at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel here.

Noble Sissle, president of the Negro Actors Guild, announced that the award will be made to Actors Equity for breaking discrimination in many Washington, D. C., theaters.

"The greatest victory for our own group," stated Sissle, "was won when the Actors Equity Association broke down race barriers of the National theater in Washington by refusing to let their members play the theater until Negroes were allowed to sit in all parts of the house."

W. C. Handy, composer of the fabulously famous "St. Louis Blues," is treasurer of the Negro Actors Guild. Other officers are Marian Anderson, and Leigh Whipper, both vice presidents.

ers is comprised of Banner, Dawes, Morrill, Scotts Bluff, Sheridan and Sioux counties. With the exception of Sheridan, all counties are also open to doe hunting.

Hunters are reminded that rifles delivering less than 900 foot pounds of energy at 100 yards will not be permitted nor will full metal-cased or incendiary bullets. Shotguns are prohibited.

This year's group of hunters will be shooting to break several records established in past hunts. The record weight of a buck—hog-dressed weight—is 225 1/4 pounds and was taken in 1950. A buck scaling 322 pounds before dressing was checked in at Bridgeport in '49 and probably would have been the largest on record if it had been hog-dressed.

The deer with the largest antler spread, 41 3/8 inches, became a trophy during the '50 hunt.

Permits have been placed in the mail for all successful applicants and must be carried by each hunter at all times during the season.
